Edgewater's Edison Bldg. now in receivership

One of the largest residential buildings in Edgewater has slipped into receivership. The 223-unit Edison building at 5200 N. Sheridan Rd. Owners Spirit Investment and Bascom Group bought the giant eight-story art-deco residential building for $21.6 million in 2015 with plans for a major renovation.

The building was originally built as an Art Deco luxury hotel in the 1920s, and is a gateway to the Edgewater community. The building has detailed exterior limestone ornamentation, terra cotta tiled flooring, arched and Moorish style doorways with Solomonian columns, thick crown

Public meeting Feb. 17 on Rogers Park shelter

A Zoning Board of Appeals Zoom webinar regarding the proposed 10,000-square-foot, 72-bed men's shelter at 7464 N. Clark St. in Rogers Park will be held at 8:30 a.m. Feb. 17.

To join the webinar visit <https://us06web.zoom.us/j/87269207712>. The webinar meeting ID is 872 6920 7712, and the passcode is 252211.

Members of the public who cannot access the Zoom meeting via a computer or smartphone, may join the virtual meeting by calling the 312-626-6799. Then, when prompted, enter the Webinar ID (as shown above) and following additional prompts as appropriate.

North Side Housing and Supportive Services is seeking to open the new shelter. The organization needs a special-use permit to open at the site, a former medical office. A shelter at this location would expand the organization's capacity to help area homeless to get them out of a temporary housing and tents.

Questions on the rules can be directed to ZBA@cityofchicago.org.

North Side Housing has operated a men's shelter since 1984, first in a church in Lakeview before moving to the Preston Bradley Center in Uptown. This shelter would be a 24/7 operation, offering residents and drop-ins three meals per day; access to computers, laundry services, job search assistance, case management and transportation; and would serve as a heating and cooling center.

Aldermen, super-PAC coordinating under the radar

Illinois Sierra Club Chapter operates as political super-PAC, provides covert funding and volunteers for 'their' candidates

BY PETER VON BUOL

Among the surprises in this year's aldermanic campaigns has been the overt political influence of the Sierra Club, founded in 1892 by John Muir to protect the environment, but which is now a political organization which provides money and volunteers to its favored candidates in the city's ward races.

Late last year, with the municipal elections on the offing and candidates for local offices starting to announce their candidacy, this newspaper urged its readers to closely examine from where their local candidates were getting their funds and volunteers. With the end of Chicago's patronage army, and limited ability for people of average means to quickly generate large sums of campaign cash, there is now a lot of dark money and campaign staff support - with strings tied to it - that flows into the budding careers of emerging candidates for introductory offices from outside political groups.

There are many of these groups, but due to space constraints, this article will focus on one well-known entity.

Last December, the Chicago chapter of the Sierra Club endorsed 16 candidates for the Feb. 28th aldermanic races. Instead of just releasing a list of candidates who support causes the Sierra Club supports, the Illinois and Chicago organizations picked one candidate in 16 of the city's 50 wards and have been providing staffing and monetary support.

These candidates are Daniel La Spata [1st], Oscar Sanchez [10th], Vicko Alvarez [15th], Jeanette Taylor [20th], Jessie Fuentes [26th], Rossana Rodriguez [33rd], Bill Conway [34th], Carlos Ramirez-Rosa [35th], Andre Vasquez [40th], Paul Struebing [41st], Bennett Lawson [44th], Angela Clay [46th], Matt Martin [47th], Nick Ward [48th], Maria Hadden [49th] and Mueze Bawany [50th].

While the Sierra Club's political arm is designated as an IRS 527 organization (commonly referred to as a Super-PAC), these organizations are supposed to be issue-oriented. They can advocate tions, and one will find candidate names, dates, places and events.

What's surprising, is the overall lack of any supervision or policing authority in place to provide checks and balances, and enforce the regulations.

A recent email sent out by Ald.

provides information for its members to staff a weekly post-card writing session at the headquarters of 48th Ward candidate Nick Ward.

"Join Sierra Club members to write postcards to 48th ward residents to support our endorsed environmental champ, Nick Ward. We will meet at Nick's Campaign HQ," according to information posted on the organization's website.

That seems like pretty close coordination to us.

According to the Feb. calendar, the organization is providing volunteers to operate phone banks, to canvass the neighborhoods and to write post-cards for the candidates it supports.

To make sure there are enough volunteers available, these opportunities have been spread out.

"Join a phone bank every Monday with Sierra Club members and supporters to phone bank for 33rd Ward alderman and environmental champion Rossana Rodri-

ALDERMEN see p. 24

Andre Vasquez [40th] - and 15 other Chicago aldermen and candidates - are the beneficiaries of campaign help and funding from a Super-PAC that by law is not supposed to be closely coordinating with any individual candidates. But light supervision by elections officials provide no discernable checks and balances, nor do they appear to be enforcing the regulations.

and lobby for causes but according to IRS rules, they are not supposed to coordinate their efforts with political candidates.

And this newspaper has found a great deal of coordination with individual candidates going on. And frankly, it's not hard to find, just look over the published calendars of the super-PAC organiza-

Vasquez's campaign had the logos of both the Sierra Club and Vasquez's campaign with an invitation to "Canvass with Sierra Club and Andre Vasquez! Saturday, February 4th 11 a.m. -2 p.m. Join Sierra Club and Team Andre this weekend as we launch to canvass our 40th Ward!"

Our national reputation smashed to smithereens, we're not even "Second City," anymore

By Thomas J. O'Gorman

Holy Smokes. Calamity Jane Lightfoot really has gumption. The kind that sticks to your shoe. Did you catch the stunt she tried pulling in the Chicago City Council? You know the one where she gives ComEd a 15-year free pass to control the whole utility show. Council members felt that she was pulling a fast one. Imagine that. So they erupted. The battle is afoot now. Not since the bamboozle of the parking meter deal some years ago has anyone attempted the shenanigans that Calamity Jane Lightfoot has. No wonder no political veteran wants to remain in the City Council. But it does show all Chicago what the real problem is. Calamity's heavy-handed attempts at railroading issues through the Council. She should be run out on a rail for her ComEd dirty business alone. Think they've given some money to her losing campaign in exchange for beating opposing aldermen down? And getting that harebrained scheme past people of intelligence? Hey, take a look at the deal she made with Bally's to operate the city's first casino. Apparently the daughter of a contractor to build the casino has been named to run the mayor's campaign fund. I'm just sayin'. Now you get the full picture of her style of Calamity. Deadwood worthy. She must think the Council is like the Politburo in old Soviet Russia. Where no one could say "NYET." Well at least say it and live. She has a lot of Joe Stalin in her. And a smidge of Nikita Khrushchev for good measure. They're beloved figures at her Alma Mater, the University of Chicago. Home of woke philosophy. I was driving in the West Loop the other day and saw the headquarters for Tyson, the poultry folk, with that huge yellow brick 1930s-styled architectural design. Beautiful building. But not enough to keep the Tyson folk here in Chicago. Their view of Calamity Jane Lightfoot's Chi-town is in the rear-view mirror. Time for a strategic rescue plan is done. Over. Same goes for Boeing. Who remembers when they came to town? With all their talk about how great Chicago's schools were. And how great Boeing felt about moving to this thriving city. Elegant. Easy to get around. And a place to settle deep. Well, save some good-bye waves for them. They're gone. Things really went south. Our national reputation is smashed to smithereens. We're not even the "Second City," anymore. You can't sugarcoat this. Or the past four years of Calamity. Just saw that Citadel Financial's Ken Griffin wants to buy a huge historic mansion in the Miami area, and open it to the public. William Jennings Bryant's home in Coconut Grove. Gigantic. Elegant. And the right zip code. Well, Griffin will be saving a lot of cash, now, not having to bankroll the wokist Art Institute of Chicago anymore. Especially after taking his best paintings from the AIC with him to Palm Beach. Citadel hightailing it out of 312 is more than just a financial disaster for Chicago. It's also a deeply cultural tragedy. And a lasting personal loss for many people. Griffin works too hard and is too intelligent to give Calamity Jane Lightfoot another chance. Who in their right mind would want to stick around for the continued looting, carjackings, robberies, or endure the criminals who never have to go to jail? Calamity doesn't get a chance to make things right. Griffin gets sun, surf, Joe's Stone Crab House, balmy winters and civilized human beings to engage. We get Lightfoot. That's a Calamity. This is not the time to get sidetracked by the cosmetics of politics, or its fixation on gender, sexual preference, race or ethnic origins. For once I agree with the Chicago Tribune's endorsement of a candidate. Paul Vallas. The Mayoral election of 2023 is about the competence of the office. Does the candidate have the cognition to repair the damage that has been inflicted on Chicago?

Does the candidate have the strength of character to shore up the urban bleeding? Does the candidate have the humanity to engage others in peace and stability, altering the disintegration now unfolding? Can the candidate see the brokenness all around us or is their vision blurred by their own achievement of political power? Chicago needs a healer. Not just someone to make us feel good. Not just someone to widen our political understanding of their America. Not just someone who wants Chicago to be its own nation by its independent thought, liberal ideals or urban self-awareness. Chicago needs someone who actually knows how to roll up their sleeves and work. Evaluate the conditions of life around us. Someone who understands the tragic effects of the downward spiraling of corporate life here. We need someone who is wise. Trustworthy. Not a thin-skinned scorekeeper. Someone who is calm, who can bring fresh corporations to Chicago. Someone with a financial vocabulary. Someone who can protect the innocents. Someone who can live with punishing the guilty. We need someone unafraid to tell the truth about what is really happening here. We need a peacemaker. A person of expansive understanding and reason. Not someone who enjoys the sound of their own voice. We need a person skilled in the ability to make change happen and raise the bar of excellence for all. Beholden to none. In debt to no one. No long history of political intrigues with scores to settle and debts to pay or favors that need to be paid back. We need a worker who will not trip over their own ineptitude. Or their sleeves. We need a leader in intelligent action, not someone who uses cheap excuses to justify big mistakes and lapses in judgement. Let's face it, by Chicago standards this mayor is an amateur. She'd never previously exercised any authority or leadership in an executive branch of government. Just the federal disorganization of the U.S. Attorneys Office. Where do you think you learn how to negotiate with a union? Or encourage municipal workers? Or find a solution to an urban crisis? Or anticipate public transit fiascos? Or strengthen law enforcement issues with your support of the Chicago Police?

That is what "successful mayoring" in Chicago is all about. It's not about implementing re-warmed wokism from the Univ. of Chicago. Or the suspicious distrust of fellow politicians learned while on the federal payroll. We won't heal with such shabby political leadership. Hopefully the cure is what the Mayoral Election is all about. Gumption is no alternative for wise leadership. That won't stick to your shoe. Chicago won't last if Calamity Jane rides again. We'll all be up in smoke.

I SPOKE TOO SOON: Hey Chicago — Victoria Secret (700 N. Michigan Ave. block) was just knocked over, and then Canada Goose followed in the early hours. Welcome to the (book vending) machine

Kilmer Elementary teacher creates fun way to reinforce positive behavior

Heart of the 'Hood
By Felicia Dechter

Nancy Wright may be a pre-school teacher at Kilmer Elementary School, but her recent project at the school displayed her utmost TLC for all its students.

Thanks to Wright, Kilmer, 6700 N. Greenview Ave. in Rogers Park, now has something I'd never even known existed: A book vending machine. A brand new, shiny one, filled with amazing reads such as "Diary of a Wimpy Kid," and "Pete the Cat," among many others.

It's very cool. It's awesome.

I was lucky enough to be invited to this glorious contraption's ribbon-cutting recently. I hadn't been inside Kilmer in decades, what a special place it is. I'm always happy to see a Chicago Public School [CPS] not only surviving but also thriving, and brimming with imagination and creativity.

Wright said she saw projects such as this popping up on social media and she wanted to create the same joy of reading for the kids at Kilmer as she had for her own, grown children.

"I started a DonorsChoose project for a book vending machine for the whole school, because I believe in the power one has when they pick up a book, especially at a young age," said Wright. "I read to my children every night, sometimes up to 10 stories a night."

"My children have not been without a book since they learned how to read," she continued. "Now, my son is a high school English teacher and my daughter has a degree in Journalism and is going to school for a Master's Degree."

"With that being said, I wanted to create a level of excitement around choosing that next great book," Wright said. "What better idea than having a book vending machine where they earn a token for exhibiting positive ROAR (Respect, Organization, Acceptance, and Responsibility) expectations which also coincide with some of our IB (International Baccalaureate) learner profiles."

Students will be able to use that token to choose their very own book, supplied from a variety of places (Nickelodeon already donated 400). Wright will continue to create DonorsChoose projects for new books, as well as reach out to individual donors and companies to ask for help in supplying them, "so we can put them in the hands of our students."

"Once a student has a token, they select a brand new book from the vending machine to be able to keep forever," Wright said.

The machine will serve between 700 and 800 kids, who now will get to start building their own libraries. I could go on and on raving about Wright's innovative venture, but since it has garnered a lot of praise from her fellow teachers, I'll let them do that instead.

"She is a very hard-working person and gives a lot to the school," said Beth Valente, a fifth grade Math teacher at Kilmer. "It's lovely to have something beyond the essentials. It expands our world -- a print-rich home is everything for kids."

Regular reading has both physical and mental benefits. It exercises the brain, reduces stress and improves sleep, literacy, concentration and the ability to focus, and so much more. Reading teaches empathy, and sharpens vocabulary skills. It takes us away and even if it's just for a few hours, we can escape into another world, a different time and place.

And these books won't just benefit the students that they're going home with -- their knowledge and stories will trickle down to siblings too. It's such a win-win project, for the school, and for the neighborhood.

"One thing I think is amazing is that Nancy really has her pulse on the community and knows what they need," said Wright's classroom assistant, Boni. "The amount of time she put into it is literally months and months. She's phenomenal. She really did something that touches the entire community."

As a member of that community, as well as an avid bibliophile and a product of the CPS, I give Wright an A+. And the same goes for all the teachers who are out there every day, working hard and thinking of ways to make our schools and our students even greater than they already are.

Many thanks, Mrs. Wright. We really appreciate this, and you.

Any bookworms wanting to donate can sign up to do so monthly or to make an individual contribution to Wright's DonorsChoose page: <https://www.donorschoose.org/mrs-wright111>. All donations that are made in the form of gift cards and monthly contributions will be applied to book projects.

For the birds... Lake View activist, artist, feathered friend lover, etc. Charlotte Newfeld's well-attended and poignant memorial late last month at Ann Sather was one for the books, and also the birds.

Several speakers spoke of their heartfelt memories of Charlotte, and Resolutions were presented in her name that were created by both Sen. Sara Feigenholtz and Ald. Tom Tunney [44th]. Charlotte's daughter, Julie Newfeld, called the Resolutions "a touching gesture."

The evening was also the launch of Friends of Chicago Nature [FCN], a nonprofit that's being created thanks to Charlotte's bequest to her "passion project," the Bill Jarvis Migratory Bird Sanctuary, in Lincoln Park at Addison and the lakefront. Julie said FCN will be primarily dedicated to the Sanctuary, "but there are also plans to branch out and provide support to other nature-related projects in Chicago. Please stay tuned for more information as the organization progresses," she said.

After the Celebration of Life, Julie sent her heartfelt thanks for those who attended and also those who couldn't be there in person but were there in spirit. "I was overwhelmed by the large number of friends who were in attendance and the outpouring of accolades for her," Julie said. "She would have loved every minute of it."

A memorial tree will be planted sometime this Spring at the Jarvis sanctuary to honor Charlotte. I can't think of a better way to do just that.

Just what the doctor ordered... Gold Coaster Dr. Ricardo Rosenkranz has brought what I imagine will be a mesmerizing new show, "Physician Magician," to the beautiful Rhapsody Theater, 1328 W. Morse Ave.

Is Chicago ready for a law-and-order Greek-American mayor?

The Home Front

by Don DeBat

As legendary 43rd Ward Ald. Mathias “Paddy” Bauler once said in the 1950s: “Chicago ain’t ready for reform, yet.”

The big question today? Is Chicago now ready for Paul Vallas, 69, a reform-minded Greek-American mayor?

This writer is endorsing and voting for Paul Vallas because I like the “law-and-order” platform, and several of my life-long friends are Greek-Americans.

Sam Sianis, 86, is the Greek-American owner and proprietor of the legendary, underground Billy Goat Saloon of Saturday Night Live fame. “Cheezborger! Cheezborger! Cheezborger! Chips, no fries. Pepsi, no Coke.” Sianis sponsored my Chicago Daily News/Sun-Times Hall-of-Fame softball team for decades. To sample a 1982 victory party, visit: “Royko at The Goat” at www.youtube.com/watch?

My family loves Greek food. With the loss of Santorini Restaurant, the Greektown neighborhood is shrinking, so we often venture to Psistaria Greek

Taverna in Lincolnwood.

We dine on flaming saganaki cheese, grilled octopus, stuffed dolmades (grape leaves), horiatiki salad, pastichio, baklava and other delicacies.

Since real estate is my beat, and politics is Greek to me, this writer reached out to his community of Greek friends to see what they think of Vallas. Here are their responses:

- “Anytime there is a Greek-American success, the Greek community is proud,” said Bill Sianis, son of Sam Sianis. “Greeks never forget their home, and Paul Vallas has been involved with different aspects of the City of Chicago for many years, so his heart is in Chicago.”

- “It’s about time a good Greek has a chance to clean up this town,” said Tony Chronis, owner of Player Sports, the master of softball-shirt lettering and embroidery on the North Side. “We recently got Alexi Giannoulis elected as the Illinois Secretary of State. Now is the time for a Greek mayor,” said Chronis, who was a football star at Lane Tech High School.

- “Paul Vallas is an expert administrator,” said a retired Greek-American former Chicago Public School teacher who taught during the candidate’s reign as CEO of Chicago Public Schools in the 1990s.

The former 16-inch softball pitcher, and baseball and hockey player at Lane Tech, was called “The Golden Greek.” He asked for his comments to be anonymous because he still is collecting a CPS teacher’s pension.

Vallas’ “law-and-order” plan calls for firing current Police Supt. David Brown and his staff. He would hire more cops, and initiate a Chicago Police Dept. “reserve force” of recently retired officers. Those ideas helped him earn endorsement from the Chicago Tribune. Vallas, a life-long Roseland, Bridgeport and Lincoln Park resident, has been endorsed by the Chicago Police union.

One key part of Vallas’ crime plan calls for making the Chicago Transit Authority safe and profitable again by creating a cadre of CTA police to boost ridership.

Vallas also is a consultant to the Fraternal Order of Police. His son, Gus Vallas, is a tactical cop in San Antonio, TX. In the line of duty, he, and two other policemen, shot and killed a 28-year-old African-American felon, who was fleeing them with a gun. Vallas has already spoken openly on this topic during the Mayoral race campaign.

In his 40 years of service, Vallas was director of the Illinois Economic Fiscal Commission, Chicago Revenue Director and Budget Director, so he may be the best Windy City bean counter on the ticket.

From the real-estate, crime and educational points of view, here are other strong planks in Vallas’ platform that he hopes will turn around the Windy City on several fronts:

- A “fast-track” plan to cap soaring real estate taxes to stop the exodus of homeowners to the suburbs and other cities and states.

In his 40 years of service, Vallas was director of the Illinois Economic Fiscal Commission, Chicago Revenue Director and Budget Director, so he may be the best Windy City bean counter on the ticket.

- A plan for the city to take ownership of abandoned apartment buildings, rehab thousands of units and transform them into affordable rental housing.

- To reduce fees, a program to phase out red-light cameras and speed cameras, and sewer and water surcharges.

In the area of education—Vallas’ great area of life-long expertise—he would:

- Decentralize the board of education, cut bureaucracy, and direct more funds to schools and classrooms. Now, only 60% of the money homeowners pay for schools actually get to the classrooms.

- Extend the school day and year, and give parents 100% choice to send kids to any school of their choosing—public, private or parochial.

So, who will win the mayoral election? The Home Front column recently held a séance with the late Nicholas S. Gouletas, Chicago’s condominium-conversion king from the late 1970s through the time of his passing in early 2021.

Gouletas, a Greek-born American who got his start selling encyclopedias door-to-door, would eventually become the grand master of condo sales—developing, marketing and managing more than 45,000 units valued at $12 billion in more than 100 buildings in 40 markets nationwide since 1969.

Always a visionary developer, Gouletas in the late 1990s submitted a detailed urban plan to Mayor Richard M. Daley to convert dozens of vacant office buildings in Chicago’s Loop to condominiums.

When this writer reached out to Gouletas in developer heaven, here’s what he hypothetically had to say about a Greek-American mayor:

“If Chicago would have elected a Greek mayor, the landmark Soldier Field—which originally resembled the Parthenon in Athens, Greece—would not have been remuddled to look like a flying saucer.”

Gouletas loved Michigan Ave. so much he resided in a condo across from Water Tower Place. If he were alive today, he would not be happy about once-swank Gold Coast shops leaving or going out of business because of crime in the streets.

Top CPS official may be violating Secondary Employment rules

Chief Operating Officer also dealing dope in Wheeling

BY PETER VON BUOL

Charles E. Mayfield, who serves as Chief Operating Officer of the Chicago Public Schools [CPS] and also operates a recreational marijuana store in the northwestern suburb of Wheeling, may be in violation of CPS rules against secondary employment.

As COO, Mayfield was required to submit a secondary employment approval form to CPS to obtain its approval.

According to information posted on the CPS website, "No Employee may engage in any Secondary Employment that is in conflict with the duties or demands of his or her Board employment."

As one of the highest-ranking executives at CPS, Mayfield is required to always be available. Therefore, it seems unlikely CPS would have given its approval. According to the CPS website, Mayfield had been required to get written approval from Pedro Martinez, chief executive officer at CPS, prior to operating his marijuana shop.

This newspaper has contacted multiple CPS spokespersons and the office of the CPS Inspector General. Over the last two weeks, neither office has yet responded to our questions.

According to information posted on the CPS website, as interim chief operating officer, "Mayfield is responsible for working closely with the CEO and other district leaders to ensure that the district's priorities and core values are reflected through the resources and services CPS provides to students, staff, and families."

Prior to his current position, Mayfield had worked as the Chief Procurement Officer for CPS, a position which paid him $180,000 a year, according to public records.

While Mayfield's current salary is not available, the previous COO earned about $230,000 a year.

Mayfield's partners include Ameya

Charles E. Mayfield

Pawar, who while alderman of the 47th Ward, had voted to approve the city's first cannabis shop. Pawar decided not to run for re-election in 2019 and late that year legally formed a partnership with Mayfield. Their partnership was incorporated as CESAM LLC. Mayfield is an Air Force veteran, and the company name may have been inspired by the acronym for the [Army] Corps of Engineers, South Atlantic Mobile division.

Mayfield's business partners at the Wheeling location also include restaurateurs Scott Weiner and Greg Mohr, whose Fifty/50 Restaurant Group operates 14 restaurants and bar concepts across Chicago. Among these is Roots Homemade Pizza, 2200 W. Lawrence Ave. which is located in the 47th Ward.

Crime along the CTA Red Line: Loop restaurants see most crime

BY PATRICK ANDREESSEN
Illinois Policy

Each restaurant in the Chicago Loop along the Chicago Transit Authority's [CTA] "L" system's Red Line averaged 1.2 crimes during 2021 and 2022, the most along the line. South of the Loop, there was less than one crime per restaurant.

The busiest route on the CTA's "L" system of elevated trains is the Red Line, with over 73,000 passengers a day covering 26 miles. The Red Line runs through the heart of Chicago from Rogers Park in the north, ranked as one of the five best neighborhoods in America, to the southern end at Roseland, recently marked as the city's deadliest neighborhood.

It serves as a barometer for the No. 1 concern in Chicago right now: crime. And the restaurants along the line serve as a way to gauge the public's and small business owners' exposure to crime.

Restaurants licenses were the second-most common issued by the city during the past two years. Studies show restaurants are key to strengthening communities while reducing local unemployment, plus yield the best data for industry-specific crime research.

But try to predict which restaurants in which part of the city are most likely to see crime, and conventional wisdom may fail you.

An Illinois Policy Institute investigation found restaurants serving the Loop reported 1.2 crimes per licensed retail food establishment in 2021 and 2022, the most in any region along the Red Line. Specifically, the Grand Station near Navy Pier saw more than double that rate: 2.34 crimes per eatery.

Crime was lighter on the South Side. The city data shows restaurants serving South Chicago ZIP codes from the Harrison Station down to 95th Street reported 19 crimes for every 20 restaurants.

A 2019 report from Social Science research similarly found higher levels of property and violent crime in communities were associated with both more businesses failing and leaving. Researchers determined these crimes discouraged new businesses from moving into the area.

Restaurants on the northern stretch of the Red Line saw even less crime: 31% less than their peers to the south. Those north of Grand Station up to the northernmost Howard Station called in only 13 crimes for every 20 restaurants.

Along the entire Red Line, Chicago restaurants reported four crimes for every five licensed locations near a station. The most common crime reported by these restaurateurs was theft, followed by battery.

The difference in restaurant crimes reported per licensed retail food establishment along the train line is largest when comparing neighborhood stops on the North Side to the South Side.

While restaurants around Grand Station reported the most crimes per eatery along the Red Line, those around the 69th St. Station in the Greater Grand Crossing neighborhood on the South Side reported the fewest at 0.31 crimes per restaurant. That's over seven times fewer crimes per eatery.

A May 2022 report from the Journal of Economics studying crime in Chicago found street and property crime reduce customer visits to local businesses. Researchers determined each property crime reported on a block led to 1.13 fewer visitors per month.

A 2019 report from Social Science research similarly found higher levels of property and violent crime in communities were associated with both more businesses failing and leaving. Researchers determined these crimes discouraged new businesses from moving into the area.

Experts found the closure of restaurants was also associated with an increase in nearby property crime and theft from vehicles. They saw this increase in local crime rates dissipated when restaurants reopened.

Analysis of business insurance rates in combination with city police data shows restaurant owners in ZIP codes with more

City creates new tree trimming policies

The Dept. of Streets and Sanitation [DSS] Bureau of Forestry has increased its tree trimming crews and will now move to a citywide tree trimming program beginning this spring.

Work crews will now trim all trees in one geographic area at the same time, hoping to create a more efficient process for residents, and for the proper maintenance of the overall urban tree canopy.

The City is no longer accepting individual tree trimming requests and any such requests received in 2022 have been moved to the new area tree trimming program. DSS is working to complete any requests still pending from 2021, and residents who submitted a trimming request in 2022 will receive a letter of notification on the new program.

The Bureau of Forestry hopes to operate in neighborhoods across the City every week. Trees will be posted with signage in advance of tree trimming.

Lyon's Den heading for Deleterious Impact Hearing

A man named Austin McAllister was shot and killed Jan. 1 outside a Ukrainian Village lounge while working as a bouncer. A week later it reopened. Now, after several weeks of requests made to Chicago Police Supt. David Brown and the Dept. of Business Affairs and Consumer Protection [BACP], The Lyon's Den Hookah Lounge, 2123 W. Division St., will begin a Deleterious Impact Hearing at 10 a.m. March 2, via Webex.

Ald. Brian Hopkins [2nd] submitted a Summary Closure request to Supt. Brown after the initial shooting incident occurred on New Year's Day, unfortunately the request was denied. With large public interest growing regarding safety concerns on Division St., CAPS and police officers held a joint meeting to discuss issues stemming from Lyon's Den Hookah Lounge.

"Frustrated with the lack of movement to close down the lounge, a group of neighbors began to petition the neighborhood to request further action from BACP and the CPD," said

Ald Hopkins. "BACP issued a Cease and Desist letter prohibiting Lyon's Den from charging a corkage fee or serving alcohol to its patrons. Essentially prohibiting the establishment from profiting from alcoholic beverages."

The CPD then referred the Lyon's Den to the Dept. of Law for potential prosecution under the Drug and Gang Ordinance because of criminal/illegal activity that has recently occurred on or about the property.

crime also tend to pay higher premiums to protect their livelihoods.

Restaurants on the South Side pay up the $507 more each year to ensure their business than the exact same restaurant located north of the Loop, according to Thimble. Eateries in the Loop paid up to $353 more annually.

However, this base rate does not include the business insurance premium hikes that come with reporting a crime. Nor does it include the direct costs some business owners absorb to avoid paying higher premiums.

Moreover, research suggests having more restaurants in a community contributes to lowering levels of local crime. Experts found they bring together community members to a common space, increasing community attachment and cohesion among neighbors while reducing local rates of violent and property crime.

Multiple studies conclude the higher earnings and stability associated with employment contribute to reducing community crime rates and recidivism. Small businesses play a key role in generating those employment opportunities, creating 64% of net jobs in Illinois between 2010 and 2019.

Chicagoans are right to worry about crime and the effect it has on local community growth. Even minor crimes leave impacts that reach far beyond the victim and often harm the neighborhood. Protecting restaurants and other small businesses means more jobs for residents, a greater sense of community and less crime overall.

The Lakeview Post Office has reduced hours over lack of heat

U.S. Post Office at 3024 N. Ashland Ave.

The Post Office at 3024 N. Ashland has “issues,” report neighbors, and those issues are in addition to the dark spiraling rabbit hole that the once-dependable and even lovable US Postal Service [USPS] is falling through these days.

The Rogers Park, Uptown, Near North, Lincoln Park, Ravenswood and Graceland stations also have issues... but this time it's the Lakeview Community.

Over the decades this newspaper has heard complaints from users of just about every Zip Code on the North Side.

The USPS location on Ashland is dealing with gas service issues that stemmed from a previous gas leak and now the station does not have sufficient heating. Because of this, the station has reduced hours, and is only open now between the hours of 11:30 a.m. and 6 p.m., provided the temperature does not drop to a degree where the building is intolerable to work.

Due to safety concerns, if the temperature drops, the employees are not allowed in the building.

To be fair, while the USPS motto states “Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night” will keep them from their appointed rounds, it says nothing about lack of natural gas or heat in the station offices. Far from living up to the Post Office motto we all learned in grade school Civics class, the USPS today may be one of the least dependable institutions in all of government.

In the past, American's once set their watches based on when the reliable postman did his daily rounds. Mail arrived six days a week, usually right around the same time each day. This newspaper is in the same boat as everyone else, and is now getting mail delivery on average perhaps three or four days a week.

There are few things more frustrating than arriving at your local post office during regular business hours just to find it's closed, or not getting your mail delivered with no explanation as to why. Because the postal service falls under the purview of the federal government, it is U.S. Rep. Mike Quigley who is catching the complaints this time.

But no Congressman in Chicago - from Rogers Park on down to South Shore - has been spared from citizen complaints over poor mail services, for maintenance and cleanliness of stations, and sadly even over a lack of any stamps to sell over the counter now and then.

And this newspaper has reported on the new bold and brazen trend for hold ups and armed robberies of USPS workers out in the field. Indeed, the same dramatic increase in quality of life crimes that make life worse for all Chicago residents these days, also plagues the mailman. We all suffer equally under our ‘new normal.’

Employee compensation makes up the vast majority of USPS's operating expenses (77% in 2020), but USPS is limited in how it can address these costs.

Quigley's office says they are working with the USPS to address concerns with hours and the staffing at 3024 N. Ashland. Those who would like to file a formal complaint may do so online at <https://digitalprf.house.gov/AddressAuthentication?id=IL05>. Quigley's district offices are at 3223 N. Sheffield, if you'd like to complain in person, or call 773-267-5926.

The big problem is that USPS is expected to be financially self-sufficient, meaning that it is supposed to cover its expenses through revenues generated from the sale of its products and services. However, USPS's revenues do not cover its expenses. And its expenses are growing faster than its revenues, in part due to rising compensation from Amazon, UPS, and Fed Ex, and benefits costs combined with continuing declines in volume for First-Class Mail due to email—USPS's most profitable product.

Employee compensation makes up the vast majority of USPS's operating expenses (77% in 2020), but USPS is limited in

Lakeview apartment building mail room 14 times in nine weeks

BY CWBCHICAGO

A Chicago man is charged with burglarizing a Lakeview apartment building's mail room 14 times last year, starting just five weeks after he was sentenced to probation for mail theft.

Patrick Slagel, 44, is charged with 14 counts of burglary and theft of mislaid property. You may remember Slagel. We told you about him in Nov. 2020 after he was allegedly found passed out on an Old Town sidewalk with a bag of stolen mail.

During a bail hearing on Feb. 11, prosecutors said Slagel targeted the mailboxes at 3130 N. Lake Shore Dr. in a wave of burglaries between late August and early October. Each time, he allegedly used a device to open a bank of about 35 mailboxes to steal mail.

High-definition security cameras recorded him committing the crimes on Aug. 29 and 31; Sept. 2, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 14, 17, 23, 26, and 27; and Oct. 6, prosecutors said.

Mail thief burglarized

The US Postal Inspection Service conducted the investigation, and they recognized Slagel from previous incidents.

Postal inspectors and Chicago police arrested him on Feb. 10 after he went to court for a routine hearing in another mail theft case, for which he is on probation.

He allegedly admitted to being a “jogger,” the slang term for people who collect bulk mail in theft scams, and to using postal service master keys that were either provided by relatives of USPS employees or were bought or stolen.

He allegedly told police that he had been directed to target the apartment building and to begin each raid with a specific mailbox. Prosecutors said he had two stolen credit cards in his possession when police arrested him, which is the basis for the theft charge.

Prosecutors said he was convicted of illegally possessing debit or credit cards in DuPage County in 2018 and Cook County in 2019. The Cook County case also involved mail theft.

His public defender, Emily Motin, said he received several medals and honors in combat while serving in the Army for seven years. He regularly volunteers for the Veteran's Administration and supports his only child, Motin said.

Judge Ankur Srivastava ordered him to pay a $500 bail deposit to go home on electronic monitoring. But he won't be eligible for release until the judge overseeing his probation reviews the new developments.

Last January, he was charged with mail theft in Lincolnwood.

And on Nov. 6, 2020, Chicago police and paramedics found Slagel lying on a sidewalk in the 200 block of W. Menomonee with a bag that contained a USPS master key, 72 pieces of mail from a nearby multi-unit residential building, and a 7-inch crowbar, according to CPD records. He was charged with burglary.

Patrick Slagel

how it can address these costs. Employee compensation includes things like labor costs, retirement and health benefits, and more.

Their financial problems are real. Through 2020, USPS did not make $63.25 billion in required retiree and pension benefits. And USPS officials said the Postal Service has deferred some capital spending and infrastructure modernization efforts, like replacing its aging delivery vehicles, because of these costs. And the lack of daily delivery, general disarray, long lines to see a lone working clerk, and lack of cleanliness of the local stations is where USPS users experience those results first hand.

But what's old is new again. This newspaper recalls reading and reporting on U.S. Rep Sidney Yates 43-page report in 1997 about problems with poor planning, cost overruns and bad service with Chicago's mail when the Internet was still in its infancy and Amazon was but a scarcely-known 3-year-old online book seller.

In Yates' report, Chicago's Graceland station on Irving Park Rd. in Lakeview was singled out by name, with a focus on constituent complaints. “Our comparison of data... showed that the data provided were not informative about the causes of problems with mail service at Graceland or in Chicago,” the report concluded.

A thoughtful Lakeview resident today might want to call the post office at 773-248-8495 to confirm that they are open before heading over for a visit.

Investment advisor indicted for allegedly swindling clients out of $683K

A Chicago investment advisor has been indicted on federal fraud charges for allegedly swindling three clients out of approximately $683,000.

David Sheldon Wells, 32, of Chicago, was charged Feb. 7 with three counts of wire fraud in an indictment returned in U.S. District Court in Chicago.

According to the indictment, Wells worked as an investment advisor of Fifth Third Securities. In 2020 and 2021, Wells falsely represented to three clients, including two elderly men suffering from dementia, that he would invest their money in publicly traded companies. Based on the false representations, the clients sent him checks made payable to “Wayne and Stark,” which Wells claimed was a publicly traded company. In reality, Wayne and Stark was a shell company set up and solely controlled by Wells, the indictment states.

Wells used the clients’ funds for his personal use, including rent and unauthorized trading in high-risk options contracts, the indictment states. Wells lost or otherwise spent all of the clients’ funds, the indictment states.

Each count of wire fraud is punishable by up to 20 years in federal prison. If convicted, the Court must impose a reasonable sentence under federal statutes and the advisory U.S. Sentencing Guidelines.

Boys, ages 15 and 16, had a rifle and a pistol on the Red Line downtown

Two juvenile boys, riding the Red Line in downtown Chicago at 1 a.m., were carrying a rifle and a pistol when Chicago police officers stopped them for smoking on a train car, according to CPD.

The cops were patrolling the State-Lake platform Feb. 9 when they saw the boys, ages 15 and 16, smoking together on a standing train, Chicago police said.

While interviewing the teens, officers discovered that the younger boy was carrying a rifle and the other was armed with a “ghost gun” pistol.

Both boys are charged with felony gun violations.

Police did not release any other details about the teens because they are juveniles.

No charges expected for man who shot two dogs in Lakeview

No charges are expected to be filed against a man who shot two dogs in Lakeview, prompting a large Chicago police response on Feb. 7. CPD said in a statement that the 53-year-old man shot the dogs after they “continued to advance toward him in an aggressive manner” while off their leashes.

Police said a 45-year-old woman was walking the dogs in the 1000 block of W. Oakdale around 1:45 p.m. when they rushed toward the man as he entered the alley from a nearby residence. He stepped back, but they continued to advance, prompting the man to shoot them “in fear for his safety.”

Officers locked down the neighborhood after witnesses reported that a man shot two dogs and ran into a nearby apartment building.

A SWAT team searched the building, and officers contacted the man around 6 p.m. They determined that he was properly licensed to own and carry concealed firearms, the source said.

The dogs were taken to separate veterinary clinics, where one died, according to CPD.

Harriet Tubman Elementary School, 2851 N. Seminary, went on a soft lockdown as the incident began, but students were released after class.

Man charged with shooting woman on the Red Line

Prosecutors have charged a man with shooting a 30-year-old woman on a CTA Red Line train in the Loop last summer. A woman who allegedly encouraged him to shoot the victim was charged on Feb. 7.

Judge William Fahy ordered Bobby Noblin, 32, held without bail during a court hearing Feb. 8.

Noblin and Latrice Harvey, 25, followed the 30-year-old woman and her school-age son onto a Red Line train at State-Lake just after midnight on Aug. 27, prosecutor Sarah Dale-Schmidt said. The woman, Harvey, and Noblin all began arguing, and Noblin smacked the woman’s son in the face, according to Dale-Schmidt. She didn’t say what sparked the confrontation.

The victim hit Noblin, and a fight broke out, during which Noblin allegedly pulled a firearm from his waistband. At that point, the victim’s son and another witness ran from the train.

But Harvey cornered the woman on the train and repeatedly punched and kicked her until she fell to the floor, Dale-Schmidt said. Harvey allegedly continued to kick and punch the woman as she lay on the ground in a fetal position.

She then instructed Noblin to shoot the woman, Dale-Schmidt said. Noblin stepped forward and shot the victim in the knee at point-blank range. He then ran from the area, as did Harvey. CTA surveillance cameras captured the entire incident.

Dale-Schmidt said Noblin has four felony convictions in his background, four for retail theft and one for residential burglary.

His assistant public defender said he is looking for work after recently being laid off from a warehouse. The lawyer added that he has a four-year-old daughter he supports and regularly takes to church.

Harvey was also held without bail by Judge Fahy during her bond hearing. She and Noblin are both charged with attempted first-degree murder and aggravated battery by discharging a firearm.

Edgewater woman murdered man who tried to de-escalate knife attack

An Edgewater woman fatally stabbed a man who tried to calm her down after she attacked another man with a knife on Feb. 9, prosecutors said. Judge Kelly McCarthy ordered Isis Monae, 23, held without bail on charges of first-degree murder and aggravated battery with a deadly weapon during a bond hearing Feb. 12.

A 26-year-old man told police that he was in his car in the 5200 block of N. Sheridan around 11:30 p.m., waiting for his girlfriend to come out, when Monae climbed into his passenger seat and asked if he wanted to have sex.

He refused and began to get out of the car, then suddenly felt pain in his back. He quickly realized Monae had stabbed him, officials said.

Monae allegedly exited the car and began yelling and stabbing its tires with a knife.

As the man’s girlfriend came out of a nearby apartment building, she saw Monae chasing her boyfriend down the street and into an alley, according to prosecutors. He circled back, grabbed a hammer from inside his car, chased Monae, and struck her with the tool.

Prosecutors said that he lost his grip on the hammer, and Monae’s knife fell into a nearby bus stop.

The man and his girlfriend took shelter inside an apartment building, but Monae allegedly picked up the knife and began chasing the man again when he walked outside.

That’s when the other victim, a 21-year-old man, walked out of the 5250 N. Sheridan complex and tried to calm Monae down. She stabbed him one time in the chest, killing him, officials said.

Monae stabbed the first man’s car tires again and fled before the police arrived. Officers arrested her at a nearby McDonald’s later the same day after neighbors identified her as a suspect, prosecutors said.

A bystander recorded parts of what happened on their phone, and police say they found a knife in Monae’s purse.

During an interview, Monae allegedly told detectives that she was drinking but recalled that an “Asian guy” threw a hammer at her, so she cut his tires with a knife she found on the ground.

She also allegedly told police that “sometimes there is witchcraft done to me.”

Her public defender said Monae suffers from mental health conditions, including psychosis.

Former special forces soldier fights back after being slashed by a stranger near his Loop hotel

A 60-year-old man from out of town was slashed by a knife-wielding man near his Loop hotel on Feb. 7, according to a Chicago police report. But the attacker may have bit off more than he could chew because the victim is a former U.S. military special forces member.

The man and a companion were on Wacker Dr. just west of Michigan Ave. when the offender struck up a conversation around 7 p.m., police said. Suddenly, the stranger pulled out a knife and swiped it at the man, cutting the victim’s arm.

But the victim, a former Army special forces soldier, dusted off his training and fought back. The offender ran off, and the victim called the police from his nearby hotel.

A CPD spokesperson said the victim declined medical attention. The suspect was described only as a Black male with a ski mask.

Good Samaritan pinned Blue Line groper until cops arrived

A Chicago man faces felony charges after he allegedly groped a woman on the Blue Line, only to be pinned to the ground by a good Samaritan who held him until police arrived. But the most serious charge Miroslav Horton faces is a felony for allegedly spitting in a cop’s face.

Miroslav Horton

Addison. The male passenger then stepped in to assist the woman.

Horton slapped him, prosecutors said, and the man took Horton to the ground.

Police arrived to find the good Samaritan pinning Horton to the ground. They took him into custody.

A 33-year-old woman told police that Horton, 24, grabbed her buttocks around 10 p.m. Feb. 10 at the Addison Blue Line station, 3622 W.

Concealed carry holder detained burglar at gunpoint in Wrigleyville

A Chicago man is facing burglary charges after a concealed carry holder caught him red-handed and held him at gunpoint until cops arrived, prosecutors said.

Tyler Hamlin

Tyler Hamlin, 31, already had two active felony warrants, and now he’s charged with burglary.

The concealed carry holder received a security alert showing someone was on his porch with a flashlight in the 3500 block of N. Fremont in Wrigleyville around 8:30 p.m. Feb. 6.

The homeowner went to his garage after the prowler walked out of camera range. Prosecutors said Hamlin was inside, having entered through an unlocked door.

The homeowner warned Hamlin that he had a gun and ordered him to show his hands while his wife called 911, according to officials.

“[The police] were here in about 45 seconds, and he couldn’t get out of the garage. I was standing in the door,” the homeowner told CBS2 before charges were filed.

Hamlin’s defense attorney said he has a bachelor’s degree in psychology and gender and women’s studies from UIC. He’s unhusbanded and unemployed.

Judge William Fahy said Hamlin could be released on electronic monitoring without posting cash bail in the burglary case.

But Fahy also held Hamlin without bail for an outstanding warrant in a criminal damage case for which he is on probation. Prosecutors said the criminal damage matter was initially charged as aggravated arson, but Hamlin pleaded it down.

Tarrese Dunmore (inset) mugged a shopper at Target, 1 S. State.

Target security detained man who mugged 81-year-old shopper in the Loop

Security guards are being credited with catching a man who mugged an 81-year-old victim inside a downtown Chicago store on Tuesday.

Prosecutors said the octogenarian was targeted as he walked out of the restroom at Target, 1 S. State, around 5:40 p.m. As he was walking, Tarrese Dunmore, 20, ran up behind him and grabbed a bag he was carrying, prosecutor Lorraine Scaduto said.

The victim struggled with Dunmore, who allegedly shoved the senior citizen to the ground, took his property, and tried to run away.

But Target security officers stopped Dunmore and held him until Chicago police arrived, Scaduto said. The store’s security cameras recorded it all.

Prosecutors said Horton spit in the face of a cop as they placed him in a squad car, resulting in a felony charge of aggravated battery of a peace officer. He’s also charged with two misdemeanor battery counts—one for allegedly groping the woman and the other for slapping the man.

Prosecutors said he has been charged with aggravated battery of a peace officer before. He pleaded it down to a misdemeanor.

Horton’s public defender stated during a bail hearing on Saturday that he has lived in Illinois for about a year after growing up in Ukraine. He is currently out of work.

Judge Ankur Srivastava ordered him to pay a $1,000 bail deposit to get out of jail.

Man fatally shot in Rogers Park

A 23-year-old man was shot and killed on a Rogers Park street corner Feb. 12, according to Chicago police.

Officers responded to the area of Clark and Greenleaf around 1:45 a.m. after 911 callers reported shots fired. A passerby discovered the victim lying in the 1700 block of W. Greenleaf.

The police said the man suffered gunshot wounds to his chest and leg. He was pronounced dead at St. Francis Hospital shortly after 2 a.m.

Few other details are known. Of-

Scaduto added that Dunmore told the officers something to the effect of “all I did was push him.”

Dunmore’s defense attorney said he has been looking for work after college for a year and a half.

Judge William Fahy told Dunmore he could go home on electronic monitoring by paying a $2,500 bail deposit. Dunmore is charged with robbery and aggravated battery of a victim older than 60.

He has no adult felony convictions, Scaduto said, but he was adjudicated delinquent as a juvenile for possessing a stolen motor vehicle, aggravated robbery, and retail theft.

Officers did not radio any suspect descriptions or witness accounts of the shooting. Police placed evidence markers next to about a dozen shell casings. An officer said they also found part of a handgun and a phone at the crime scene.

The victim is the second person to be shot in Rogers Park this year. He is the neighborhood’s first murder victim of 2023.

River North shooting leaves at least one man injured

At least one, and probably two, people were shot in a River North parking lot on Feb. 12, according to Chicago police and a source.

It happened next to the L tracks in the 300 block of W. Ohio around 11:54 p.m.

More than 15 shell casings were found in the area after a gunman opened fire, striking a 46-year-old man in his shoulder. Witnesses reported seeing cars speeding away and people running for cover.

EMS took the victim to Northwestern Memorial Hospital for treatment. Police searched the area for another person that witnesses said was shot. They did not find anyone else injured at the scene.

In these video grabs, a FedEx driver makes a delivery (left). Within minutes, a man wearing an Amazon jacket walks up with a package, then walks away with two packages — the one he arrived with and the one delivered by FedEx.

Package thieves, disguised as Amazon drivers have arrived

Bring on the drone deliveries

BY CWBCHICAGO

Package thieves, the bane of 21st-century living, are even skeezier than we imagined. Across Chicago, package-poaching porch pirates are dressing up as Amazon delivery drivers to make themselves look less suspicious.

The massive losses being experienced by Amazon and their client retailers will only usher in the arrival of the future: rooftop drone delivery to the home.

The thieves walk around neighborhoods and pretend to deliver packages to people's homes while wearing hats, surgical masks, and ski masks. But surveillance videos shared with this reporter in the last week show they're actually taking deliveries, not making them.

In one, a real Amazon driver drops off a package, records the delivery on her handheld, and then motors away in an Amazon truck. Less than 20 minutes later, a masked man in an Amazon jacket takes the packages.

In the other incident, a FedEx driver tosses a package onto a porch and snaps a picture of the completed delivery. Five minutes later, a ski-masked man wearing an Amazon jacket and carrying a package walks up to the porch. The package he's holding is a prop that makes it look like he's completing a delivery. What he's really doing is stealing the FedEx parcel.

A second thief was caught on another video in a different neighborhood doing the same thing about 10 minutes later.

Thieves have been known to trail delivery drivers so they can more easily swipe packages before the recipients have time to pick them up.

As usual, the best way to avoid having your goods stolen is to have purchases sent to local stores or lockers for pickup. Another option, if your boss agrees, is to have items shipped to your work location. Or, get out of the house and visit a local retailer and shop in person.

Drone deliveries by Walmart are already happening. Walmart has 37 stores set up for drone delivery to homes and businesses— six stores in Arizona, four in Arkansas, nine Walmarts in Florida, two in North Carolina, 11 in Texas, two in Utah and three in Virginia. Walmart says that more than 10,000 items are available for drone delivery and items can arrive as quickly as 30 minutes after the order has been placed.

Can Chicago be that far behind? And just think of all the double parking of delivery vehicles that will end once drone delivery becomes ubiquitous.

The challenge for drone delivery is how do you get items to customers quickly, cost-effectively, and—most importantly—safely, in less than an hour? And how do you do it in a way that can scale? It's relatively easy to use existing technology to fly a light payload a short distance that's within your line of sight, but it's a very different challenge to build a network that can deliver to customers across large communities.

Online retailers have hundreds of scientists, engineers, aerospace professionals, and futurists working to do just that. Amazon customers living in Lockeford, CA, and College Station, TX, received a small number of packages by drone just in time for Christmas 2022. They have become among the first to receive Prime Air deliveries from Amazon. So the future is not far off.

The maximum payload for Walmart is 10 lbs, and for Prime Air it's 5 lbs. And Amazon says that 85% of its shipments fall under that weight. "The drone will fly to the designated delivery location, descend to the customer's backyard, and hover at a safe height," Amazon says. "It will then safely release the package and rise back up to altitude."

Of course, once drones make a delivery, should we expect to see Amazon-clad crooks lifting ladders up to our rooftops landing pads?

Cops find identity theft and mail fraud mill operating inside Loop hotel room

BY CWBCHICAGO

Chicago police and US Postal Service inspectors are investigating a suspected identity theft mill found inside a Loop hotel room on Feb. 6, according to a law enforcement source.

Police initially responded to the Virgin Hotel, 203 N. Wabash, around 8:25 p.m. after the hotel asked to remove two men from a room on the 18th floor.

No people were in the room when Chicago police arrived, according to a CPD media statement, but a lot of other stuff was.

Police found checks, money orders, stacks of mail, computers, piles of fake identification cards, stolen ID cards, DNA tests, and key-cutting equipment, a CPD report said.

The discovery is the latest hit to the postal service, which has been targeted by armed robbers and mail thieves who feed a massive identity theft and check fraud network.

"Checks, credit cards, PPP loans, and identity theft are the new hustle in urban America," a law enforcement source told this reporter.

"Never put anything into the postal system unless you are comfortable with it landing in the hands of criminals instead of at its intended destination," advised another investigative source.

The mail theft problem has become so widespread that the US Postal Service has advised people not to put mail into its once-ubiquitous blue mailboxes after the last collection time.

Mail thieves might score a valuable package or an envelope containing a birthday gift card from someone's grandma once in a while. But experts say the real value comes from identity theft and check fraud mills, which use information from stolen mail to steal people's identities and checks.

Some crews specialize in altering and depositing checks, sometimes multiplying the face value of the note by many times its original amount.

A source said those teams often operate with the assistance of marginalized people who open checking accounts they do not need.

"The stolen $40 utility payment is changed to $4,000. The halfwit withdraws the money, and the account crashes," the source explained.

The source said they believe the postal service's problems are even more significant and widespread than the agency is letting on.

"They're reluctant to tell the truth to keep consumers buying stamps and keep citizens from using other means of delivery" like UPS or FedEx.

J.B. Alberto's helps throw world's largest pizza party

A Rogers Park Pizzeria helped throw the world's largest pizza party in January. J.B. Alberto's, 1326 W. Morse Ave., in Rogers Park has made history, in helping to break a Guinness world record for the largest pizza party. They also helped to raise money for the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Participating in serving over 900 pizzas Jan. 21 at an arena in Tulsa, OK, J.B. Alberto's teamed up with international experts to help host the world's largest pizza party.

Owner Tony Troiano was one of the 3,357 people to break the record. This new record replaces the previous record of 1,044 people in Rome in 2019.

Troiano has owned J.B. Alberto's since 1978, and at the event, he had to follow a certain set of guidelines (which included eating two slices of pizza and drinking eight ounces of water within 15 minutes) to help the team qualify as the world's largest pizza party.

Officially breaking the world record for the largest pizza party, J.B. Alberto's was one of the restaurants that provided slices at the event.

There was a proctor from Guinness there timing it along with 70 judges, one for every 50 people, to confirm each person ate the entire two pieces of pizza in the time frame.

They ended up raising $42,090 for the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

"One of the most difficult things at the event was getting everyone into the stadium with their two slices of pizza in the container and a bottle of water," Troiano told the Loyola Phoenix. "You can't touch it until we say go."

This wasn't Troiano's first time setting a world record. In 2017, he helped set the record for the World's Longest Pizza at 1,930.39 meters. Troiano said his most recent world record experience was a lot more enjoyable than his first.

As for who threw this record-breaking party? Well, that would be the members of the elite World Pizza Champion team, an exclusive invite-only group.

Letters to the Editor

Vote for the candidate you really want to be mayor

In the Feb. 8 newspapers, Thomas O'Gorman said "We all know who the frontrunners are and we know who is definitely not. Vote for one of the two frontrunners; otherwise you are wasting your vote."

I don't know who the frontrunners are. I'm voting for the candidate I really want to be mayor. If all voters do this, the results will show their sincerity.

This isn't like the Presidential election, in which the two frontrunners are the Democratic and Republican candidates. Reporters and election officials have no way to sort out all the votes between people who really wanted candidate XYZ to be elected, and people who voted for candidate XYZ because they thought their candidates ABC and JMT had no chance.

There may be a case to be made for ranked-choice voting in mayoral elections here. If there is, it's not going to happen this month.

Don't use an offensive pejorative

One of the entries for the "Police Beat" of Feb. 8 had a headline that was very offensive. It described the person who vandalized a memorial to a slain police officer by using the pejorative term "commie." This word was and continues to be used to hurt people, to intimidate, and to normalize a vocabulary of bigotry.

It is not illegal to discuss or teach about communism, nor is it illegal to be a communist. It is not illegal to run for political office as a communist or to vote for a communist.

Nor does Ms. Kochakian's misdemeanor crime, removing and tearing up a picture of the slain officer, for which she received a punishment of 2 years of probation and 100 community service hours, have anything to do with "her online presence" that you claimed, "indicates that she ... actively promoted communism in the city."

I believe the "journalist" who used the pejorative should be disciplined and should apologize; I also believe that such thoughtless and biased "reporting" harms the veracity of your publication.

It is ironic that in the same issue reporter Felicia Dechter wrote a very strong article about the inappropriate "cringe-worthy racist and anti-Semitic tweets made by 50th Ward aldermanic candidate Mueze Bawany." It would behoove your entire staff, especially whoever wrote the particular "Police Beat" in question, to read Ms. Dechter's story carefully, and to be very vigilant about the use of hateful language in the future.

Lightfoot silenced Burke

In writing that the next mayor of Chicago must bring change to the structure of our urban government Thomas O'Gorman notes that this should happen especially now that Ald. Ed Burke is out of the picture. A reason Burke has been silenced is that in the first city council meeting after Lori Lightfoot became mayor (after winning all 50 wards) she effectively shut Burke up as he was starting to talk some aldermanic nonsense.

It took her less than a half minute to silence him and he has remained silent, sitting close to the council exit door for these past four years. I have a tape of the mayor's effective scolding, delivered with biting humor, of Burke which I can happily send to O'Gorman. It is one of the mayor's finest moments.

Regardless if Burke is found guilty of financial misconduct and then imprisoned, being the laughing stock of the city council for four years will be his legacy.

No custard, no whipped cream!

Regarding your Feb. 8 article "Do you need some Paczkis [sic] to brighten up your day?" in last week's issue: Please get your facts straight about this delectable Polish pastry.

First, the singular form is paczek, and the plural is paczki. The letter "s" never appears in the word. Ever.

Traditional fillings are, in descending order: rose petal jelly, plum butter, strawberry jelly, raspberry jelly, apricot jelly. No custard, no whipped cream. And they contain very little filling, just a small amount injected through a little hole in the dough, which is not sliced in half. Not gobs of jelly overflowing from the sides.

Traditional toppings are either powdered sugar or a light sugar glaze. No icing, no sprinkles.

But you are correct that Delightful Pastries makes fabulous paczki, both traditional Polish ones and fancy ones.

In any case, whether the traditional treat or an exaggerated American version, I hope everyone had the chance to enjoy at least one paczek on Fat Tuesday!

POLICE BEAT from p. 8

But, about six minutes after the shooting, a critically injured man was dropped off at Lurie Children’s Hospital in Streeterville with gunshot wounds throughout his body. The person who drove him to the hospital did not stick around, and the victim was immediately taken into surgery.

The hospital notified Chicago police about the man at 2:30 a.m.

An officer who reviewed surveillance footage from the shooting scene said the gunman fled in a silver Infiniti sedan with Iowa plates. But no description of the gunman is available.

The shooting is the first of the year for River North, which had three shooting victims at this point last year, one at this time in 2021, and none as of this date in 2020 and 2019.

Two men shot in West Ridge

Two men were shot Feb. 12 while traveling in a car on the Far North Side, Chicago police said.

The victims were heading west in the 2700 block of W. Peterson when someone fired shots at them from another car around 9:22 p.m. They continued driving until they arrived at Swedish Covenant Hospital, where they sought treatment.

Chicago police said a 20-year-old man was in fair condition with a graze wound to his head, and a 21-year-old man suffered a gunshot wound to his right ankle.

Investigators found more than 20 shell casings at the crime scene, where bullets struck the windows of a restaurant and at least two cars. No other injuries were reported.

Editor’s note: CPD released a media statement that said the shooting occurred at 10:40 p.m., but radio transmissions show 911 callers reported the gunfire at 9:22 p.m.

Chicago police released these surveillance images of the suspects, which were taken at a gas station shortly after the robbery.

Chicago cops looking for two suspects in Boystown armed robbery

Chicago police are asking the public to help them identify two people (see photo above) who are wanted in connection with a recent armed robbery in Boystown.

A woman was robbed at gunpoint in the 700 block of W. Brompton at 8:39 p.m. Jan. 26, according to Chicago police. The robbers fled in a silver BMW.

About 12 minutes later, the two people seen in these surveillance images used the victim’s credit card at the Mobil gas station, 1234 N. Halsted, near Goose Island, police said.

Tips about the suspects can be shared with Detective Bilski at 312-744-8263. The case number is JG-130839.

CPD’s Lakeview-based Town Hall 19th District, which includes Boystown, has experienced a 67% increase in robberies this year compared to the same time last year, according to the CPD’s latest statistical report. Incidents are down compared to 2021 and 2020 but up 47% compared to 2019.

LEGAL NOTICE

COOK COUNTY REAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENTS FOR 2022

This publication constitutes official notice of the changes in assessment to all owners of real property in Lake View Township. The 2022 assessment changes as published herein are those determined by the Assessor of Cook County.

It is the duty of the Assessor to appraise all taxable real property in Cook County at its fair cash value as of January 1, 2022. Fair cash value is described as what the property would bring at a voluntary sale in the normal course of business or trade. The Assessor is required by law to assess said property in a fair and just manner.

The Assessor does not determine property taxes. Property taxes are determined by the spending needs and requests of municipalities, school boards, park districts and other local government agencies which provide public services to property owners. The Assessor's sole responsibility is to estimate the value of real estate property.

In Cook County, real property is classified according to its use. The classification system is used to determine the percentage of the fair cash value at which the real property is assessed for purposes of taxation. Accordingly, real property is assessed at only a fraction of its fair cash value, depending on its use and classification.

Changes in assessment for land and improvements are listed separately. The dimensions of the land are also listed:

A - Acres

B - Back Lot

N - Irregular Lot

S - Square Feet

Cook County uses a Permanent Index Number (P.I.N) system as a means to identify individual real estate parcels. The PIN consists of a 14-digit number. The first two digits identify the area or survey township; the second two digits identify the sub-area or section; the next three digits identify blocks.

Note:

Blocks are defined as follows:

Blocks 100 to 199 are located in the N.W. Quarter

Blocks 200 to 299 are located in the N.E. Quarter

Blocks 300 to 399 are located in the S.W. Quarter

Blocks 400 to 499 are located in the S.E. Quarter

The next three digits in the series identify the specific parcel or lot. The last four, (where applicable), identify individual condominium units, non-operating railroad parcels or leasehold's of exempt parcels.

Whenever possible, the assessment list will be listed by the street name and the street or house number of the parcel. However, the Cook County Assessor's Office official records rely on permanent Property Index Numbers (P.I.N.) only. No assessment of real property shall be considered invalid due to an incorrect listing.

If you have any questions regarding the assessment of real property you should visit the Office of the Assessor of Cook County, 118 N. Clark Street, Room 301, Chicago, Illinois 60602, or call (312) 443-7550.

New branch manager for Rogers Park Library

Matthew Genthe

The Rogers Park branch library has a new branch manager, Matthew Genthe. Genthe has been working in urban public libraries in Illinois and Michigan for almost three decades.

After earning his Master's in Library and Information Science, Matthew started his career as a librarian at Chicago Public Library. He worked as a children's librarian to open the Budlong Woods branch in record time. He was then promoted to lead the Music Dept., and later the Arts & Music Dept. at the The Harold Washington Library Center.

Genthe lives nearby in Ravenswood, and when he's not at the library, he enjoys spending time with his family, travel, and music; he also recently started building guitars at a maker space.

Instead, the owners have now turned the property over to a court-appointed receiver after ignoring building code violations and missing a loan payment in June, says Crain's Chicago. Reportedly its owner defaulted on a $43 million loan against the property.

Ares Commercial Real Estate lent Spirit and Bascom $40 million in 2018, most of that loan was sold off in 2020. Shortly after that, the city of Chicago sued the owners for reported building code violations. When those weren't fixed, it triggered a default under the loan agreement. When Spirit and Bascom also missed a required loan payment, they defaulted a second time, resulting in the law suit.

A judge appointed Chris Neilson as receiver for the property in Dec. 2022.

Data from the real estate data firm Co-Star Group puts the Edison at 91% occupied with rents ranging from $996 per month for a studio unit, up to $1,645 for a two-bedroom apartment, averaging to $1,241, or $2.29 per square foot for the building.

In the late 1880s, the Edgewater neighborhood was celebrated as a wonder, as the only electric lighted suburb adjacent to Chicago. The first practical incandescent light bulbs, invented by Thomas Edison during the same period, were put to use in street-lamps, and helped create the now iconic orange glow that emanates from the Chicago skyline. The light of Chicago became the building's inspiration, and Edison as its inventor, became the building's namesake. Seen from above, the footprint of the building is a perfect "E", which made "Edison" a perfect name choice.

guez. We will be at the 33rd Ward Working Families Office @ 3248 W. Montrose Ave.," according to information posted by the Sierra Club.

While the 7,500-member local organization claims to be committed to the environment, a quick perusal of its activity calendar shows only one non-political event for the entire month of February.

According to information from the office of the Illinois Secretary of State, the Sierra Club, IL Chapter PAC has as its stated purpose "to elect pro-environment candidates." As of Dec. 31, 2022, the organization has raised $96,260.

Sierra Club officials may claim its foundation and its SuperPACs operate as separate organizations, but these organizations share staffers, offices and websites. Also, 527s are supposed to advocate for issues, not candidates and Federal Election Commission [FEC] rules strictly prohibit coordination between a SuperPAC and the candidates. The website of the organization's Chicago branch and those of individual candidates provide proof of coordination.

Named endorsements of individuals in a crowded field - say perhap the 10 candidates now running in the 48th Ward - might also be signs of cooperation. "Sierra Club Chicago is proud to support exciting new candidates for City Council who have demonstrated outstanding leadership in their communities and a deep commitment to environmental justice," said David Teeghman, the Sierra Club Chicago Political Chair. "Our endorsed candidates include a community leader who went on a month-long hunger strike for environmental justice, a public school teacher, a solar developer, and more. We're proud to recommend them as Chicago's next elected leaders."

"As Chicago grapples with critical decisions about environmental justice and the city's plan to transition to 100% renewable energy, we need fresh perspectives in City Council," said Sierra Club Illinois Organizing Director Caroline Wooten. "Our second round of endorsements includes candidates with strong ties to their communities, powerful community organizing experience, and a deep commitment to a just and equitable future for all Chicagoans. These candidates will work to ensure Chicago is a leader on building decarbonization, clean transportation for all,

Attempts at enforcement, and the pushback

The FEC has in the past pushed back against non-profits doing political work. On July 31, 1984, the Sierra Club and its separate segregated fund, the Sierra Club Committee on Political Education [SCCOPE], filed suit against the FEC in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. The plaintiffs challenged the FEC's construction and application of 2 U.S.C. §441b in an advisory opinion the agency had issued to the Sierra Club on July 13, 1984.

The Commission rejected the two financing methods proposed by the Club for selling its goods and services to SCCOPE as part of SCCOPE's in-kind contribution program for federal candidates.

The Sierra Club asked the court to declare that:

- The election law permits the Club to provide goods and services to SCCOPE for use in SCCOPE's in-kind contribution program, provided: a) SCCOPE makes payments in advance to an escrow account or reimburses the Club within a commercially reasonable time, and b) the goods and services are purchased at fair market value.

- Section 441b violates the First Amendment by abridging plaintiff's freedom of association and by being unconstitutionally vague.

- Advisory Opinion 1984-24 is contrary to law and to the First and Fifth Amendments.

Plaintiff also asked the court to enjoin the FEC from commencing or continuing any enforcement proceedings designed to prevent SCCOPE from using Sierra Club goods and services for its in-kind contribution program.

In the district court's initial ruling on Aug. 11, 1984, the district court issued an order dismissing the suit. The court ruled that the case was "not ripe for its consideration because the Club had not exhausted the administrative remedies available to it before filing suit."

The Sierra Club appealed this ruling to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. The appeals court treated the Club's motion to expedite the appeal as a motion for summary reversal. In its order of Sept. 7, 1984, the appeals court granted this motion, reversing the district court's dismissal, and remanded the case to the district court for further consideration.

In the district court's second ruling on Oct. 31, 1984, the district court granted the FEC's motion to dismiss the suit. In its Nov. 5 opinion, the court upheld AO 1984-24 as a reasonable interpretation of the law's prohibition on corporate contributions, noting that "the Federal Election Commission is the type of agency to which considerable weight and deference should presumptively be accorded...".
