Runoff in 43rd Ward: Ald. Smith vs. Lindblom

BY JIM VAIL

In a wealthier part of the city, there will be a runoff for alderman in Lincoln Park between Ald. Michele Smith [43rd] and challenger Derek Lindblom.

Smith, a former prosecutor and Democratic committeeman, earned 38.7% of the vote, against venture fund entrepreneur and former Mayor Rahm Emanuel staffer Lindblom, who took 27.8%.

Smith is confident that she will win the runoff based on her support that topped a list of strong candidates.

In the primary race Lindblom tried to make a controversy out of a side job Smith once had before the 2015 election (which she won by only 86 votes). He accused her of not being a full time alderman because she earned $72,000 per year on the side, in a position provided to her by her top campaign sponsor.

Ald. Smith told an aldermanic forum held at DePaul Univ. in January that she gave back every penny and that she was and is a full-time alderman. She also stated that she was never a lobbyist for the arts foundation group that paid her for her legal services.

Smith also told the forum that Several Lincoln Park neighborhood and business associations will be co-hosting a 43rd Ward aldermanic run-off debate between incumbent Michele Smith and challenger Derek Lindblom, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Monday, March 25, at Steppenwolf Theatre, 1850 N. she voted against the mayor more than any other alderman and earned the respect of the mayor for taking her courageous stands.

However, Ald. Smith was still considered close to the mayor on many issues.

Uptown Ald. Cappleman heads to runoff with 44% of primary vote

BY JIM VAIL

Uptown Ald. James Cappleman [46th] surprised no one by earning 44% of the primary vote, distancing himself far above the crowded field of five candidates who challenged for his position in a suddenly dynamic part of the North Lakefront.

Cappleman will head to a runoff against opponent Marianne Lalonde, a 32-year-old scientist and community activist, who earned 18% of the vote.

Cappleman is quite confident in his re-election chances and he told this newspaper he couldn't imagine himself not winning a third term.

Unlike contested elections in the past, this one proved to be quite civil, which played into the hands of a veteran lawmaker who ran on a ticket to clean up the ward, move out the homeless who were squatting in various parts of the ward and give the green light to upscale development.

While his opponents campaigned hard, they couldn't stand up to Cappleman, who has strong support from businesses and developers in the ward. Even Mayor Rahm Emanuel sent him [and several other North Side aldermen] $20,000 for this race.

opening. And most of the ward is very happy to see less criminal and gang activity as high-end upscale residential units and luxury condos replace government subsidized housing.

His opponents – Lalonde, Erika Wozniak Francis, Angela Davis, Justin Kreindler and Jon Robert McDowell, were not able to capitalize on the one issue that concerns many in the ward – affordable housing.

Wozniak was backed by the Chicago Teachers Union (CTU) and held many fundraisers in the

Tunney runs away with 44th Ward race

The Chicago Cubs lost both ends of a double header Feb. 26 when their chosen candidates in the 44th and 47th wards both lost their respective races for alderman.

Showing that Cubs clout may not extend beyond the foul lines, neither of the Cubs candidates finished second in the races either.

In Lakeview, incumbent Ald. Tom Tunney easily won re-election in the 44th Ward after the Cubs tried to oust him from his post by funding Elizabeth Shydrowski's candidacy.

Tunney won outright with 64.44% of the vote and will not have to participate in a runoff election.

Austin Baidas took second place and received 25.14% of the vote, while Shydrowski brought up the rear with 10.42% of the vote.

Shydrowski wasn't nearly as well-funded as Tunney or Baidas, though most of her contributions came from Cubs-connected donors - including $15,000 from various Ricketts family members.

Martin and Negron to debate before runoff in 47th Ward

BY JIM VAIL

Matt Martin and Michael Negron will square off in the 47th Ward Runoff Candidate Debate 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Saturday, at the Davis Theater, 4614 N. Lincoln.

Martin received 39% of the vote, while Negron took 21.2% to advance to the April 2 runoff to replace Ald. Ameya Pawar, who did not run for a third term. Pawar is also now in a runoff to be City Treasurer.

The two candidates beat out seven others who ran in the crowded race that also saw the Chicago Cubs backing a losing candidate.

The other aldermanic hopefuls included social worker Eileen Dordek (14.5%) and Midnight Circus in the Parks' founder Jeff Jenkins (8.4%); while Cubs community relations manager Heather Way Kitzes, restaurant owner Gus Katsafaros, firefighter Thomas Schwartzers, physician Kimball Ladien and Chicago Public Schools music teacher Angie Maloney all failed to clear five percent.

Maloney fought to get endorsed by the Chicago Teachers Union who first endorsed Martin. After heated pro and con arguments were made at the teachers' delegates meeting last month, the union decided to pull its endorsement of Martin and declare itself neutral. [Disclosure, this reporter is CTU member.]

The union stated it made its original endorsement because Martin had the resources to win.

You can't kid yourself on the fifth floor of City Hall

By Thomas J. O'Gorman

Do you have a favorite actor whose career made movies great, but who might be a tad esoteric? Less well known, or at least an acquired taste? Or just selectively popular?

Perhaps someone who appeals to your more quirky side?

For me that would be Ronald Coleman. A fine British actor of the 1930s. 'The Prisoner of Zenda.' He's not everyone's cup of tea, but he and other actors like him are big in some circles. To their fans, suave actors like him are the giants of film. But perhaps too sophisticated for the general public. They are not as robust, you might say, as the John Waynes or Jack Nicholsons of the silver screen.

English Heritage, the organization that makes the decisions about placing historic interest plaques on the residences of famous Brits, didn't think Coleman was famous enough to mark the house in London where he had lived. He was one of 35 nominees who failed to make the cut.

Off the top of my head, I can recall seven such plaques here in Chicago. One commemorates the French Jesuit Pere Pierre Marquette, S.J., and the explorer, Louis Joliet. They spent the winter of 1672/73 encamped at a primitive river locale here, at what is, today, Damen Ave. and the Chicago River (2400 South).

Another such marker is at the intersection of Michigan Ave. and Wacker Dr. marking the site of the original 1803 settlement of old Fort Dearborn. The stockade fortress was Chicago for decades.

Then on Dearborn St., just north of Division, is a brownstone on the east side of the street where writer Ernest Hemingway lived just after his first marriage to Hadley Freeman. They spent their marriage in Paris in the 1920s. It's the stuff of legend.

Over on the 1300 block of Washington Blvd. east of Ashland Ave., on the north side of the street, a sign describes the present manufacturing plant as the site of Mary Todd Lincoln's house in the years after her husband's tragic 1865 death. A small sign at nearby First Baptist Congregationalist Church on Ashland Ave. commemorates the Lincoln Family pew.

The Newberry Library on Walton and Dearborn streets has a plaque near its entrance stating that it was once the site of the home of Mahlon Dickerson Ogden, the brother of Chicago's first mayor, William Butler Ogden. Mahlon's quick thinking back in 1871 saved the house from the Great Chicago Fire.

In Hyde Park, at the old football stadium for Univ. of Chicago, Stagg Field, under what was once the bleachers, scientist

Lori Lightfoot

Toni Preckwinkle

Enrico Fermi first split the atom on Dec. 2, 1942. A monument by sculptor Henry Moore denotes this site as the location of the first sustained experiment in nuclear fission. In the early days of World War II, it was critical to the great race known as 'The Manhattan Project.' The quest for an atomic bomb.

Chicago's most quiet "famous" person, the great Hollywood legend, Walt Disney, is remembered at his birthplace. He was born at 2516 N. Tripp in a home now renovated and restored. He and Mickey and Minnie are remembered with a plaque.

Unrelated, the Chicago Tribune placed some 80 "Markers of Distinction" around town dedicated to literary, religious, business and show business celebrities. Their list appears balanced racially, and gender sensitive with stars like Louis Armstrong at 421 E. 44th St., lawyer Clarence Darrow at 1537 E. 60th St., bandleader Benny Goodman at 1125 S. Francisco St., poet/historian Carl Sandberg at 4646 N. Hermitage Ave. and Chicago Symphony Orchestra founder Theodore Thomas at 52 E. Bellevue. There is a website that reflects good sense and modern understanding. But while a great start, it's not expansive or by any means complete.

Sadly the process, here, is vastly incomplete. We have no system to honor famous sites of well known Chicagoans. What we have is just hit and miss.

Who are we missing?

Well, how about the 1st Chicago policeman killed in the line of duty, in 1853, for starters. Constable James Quinn. He's supposed to be buried in the Cardinal's lawn on N. State Pkwy. and North Ave. And further south, there's Catherine O'Leary of the Chicago Fire fame. Her "farmhouse" was at what is today 850 W. DeKoven St., the current site of the Chicago Fire Academy.

And of course, in 2019, we now have Jussie Smollett. Perhaps a plaque on the spot of his fake racial/sex attack could be a reminder to us all about how important the truth is. And also there's no commemoration on the loft-building that singer R. Kelly's been allegedly living in over in the West Loop. Both have put Chicago in the limelight recently. Quite the national reputation they have helped to build up for us. If you want to know how the rest of the world is viewing us just read London's Daily Mail online for a couple of days. Wow. What coverage.

Last week's municipal election has brought Chicago to a new moment of history, the mayoral race between two African American women. A significant juncture in Chi-town politics and culture. Farmer DuSable would be gobsommed. Could you imagine how Ida B. Wells would feel? Former prosecutor Lori Lightfoot emerged with a remarkable 17% of the vote. Cook County Board President Toni Preckwinkle garnered 16%. The two left their 12 opponents in the prairie dust. The April 2 election will be an opportunity to create a refreshed political landscape. Women are always an important infusion into the mix. And racially, we have a dramatic moment to savor.

The next month promises to be unusually potent for the city. Much recent drama has brought profound change in its path. Neither candidate holds current municipal office. Their success at the polls last week says voters want a change from the current low political climate. An exit from the doldrums of crime, shenanigans and old boy thievery. So I expect a fired-up four weeks and a realignment of the local political loyalties. It's healthy ... and it's about time.

Real Chicagoans know that no matter who is elected mayor, the city is a winner. You know what a great place it is. Truly toddling. Crime might be a serious concern, but we know how to dodge not only subpoenas, but the pot shots as well. We are grateful to have good coffee. Good burgers. Superb steaks. Great Italian cuisine. Jumpin' Mexican vittles. Smooth Soul Food and exciting layers of Asian cookery near at hand. Breakfast joints abound. We can still drive on our city streets without the horror stories they have in New York and Los Angeles.

We also know that no matter what kind of stranglehold local politicians holds us in, eventually

49th Ward ousts longtime incumbent Joe Moore

Come May 20, the 49th Ward will have a new alderman and here's wishing Maria Hadden the best of luck in her new, challenging gig. As I'm sure she knows, there is much work to be done.

Heart of the 'Hood

By Felicia Dechter

Just ask all the people who voted for Hadden.

Newcomer Hadden, who will make history by being the City Council's first openly-gay black woman, pretty much won in a landslide. At the Mayne Stage theater on election night, Hadden told her ecstatic supporters (which included her partner, Natalie Vera, and Hadden's parents), that she was "humbled for the opportunity to serve the Ward," and that she looks forward to being the independent progressive voice that she was elected to be.

So how did Hadden manage to unseat Moore in such a stunning victory? She ran a grassroots campaign and was like the tortoise in a race between the quick-moving hare, which would be Ald. Moore. Hadden slowly and steadily set up shop on Morse Ave., a street that is still trying to make a comeback as the thriving business district it once was. She whittled away at getting to know neighbors and the issues that faced them and that they were most concerned about. The more Hadden's Morse Ave. office was open, the more I saw folks going in to check her out.

I honestly didn't see Ald. Moore campaigning much. Maybe I just missed it. But I didn't see him knocking on doors or setting up special times/days to meet with constituents to allow them to voice their concerns. Not sure if he didn't feel it was necessary or why he didn't seem to push or really work hard to get re-elected to the job he has held for the last 28 years.

I think people also got tired of having an alderman who showed up to City Council committee meetings less than half the time. (From May 2015 to May 2017, the actual figure, according to illinoispolicy.org, was 34% of the time.) Ald. Moore sided with Mayor Rahm Emanuel a whopping 98% of the time too.

I hope Hadden does what she says. Issues she supports are all very necessary, and include: Development without displacement; championing the ward's local public schools; building a strong local economy; and centering community voice and transparency.

There are a few other issues I'd like to see dealt with in Ward

49, leading with its crime and public safety. And call me petty, but I'm hoping she also thinks about Ward equality -- I would like to see the richer parts of the ward be treated the same as the poorer areas. One example, which aggravates me every time I go by, is the Howard Street Beach playground. It is truly pathetic and there is not one activity there geared toward kids younger than five-years-old. In fact, little ones in the neighborhood call it Scary Park, due to its play equipment being frightening to play on. In a community where there are many families with young children, to build something like that was irresponsible and to me represented the "let them eat cake" attitude of those who allowed it. "This park is hardly a park and our neighborhood kids deserve better," were the words I heard from one community activist. In addition to there being nothing for babies and little tots to play on, the current play equipment is dangerous and even has warning stickers stating so. And that they're there, well, to me that's scary. But it's Howard St., right, so that makes it OK?

On the other hand, take the slightly less-expensive in cost but way nicer playground at the end of Albion St., down by Loyola U. where the homes are big and beautiful. That playground is amazing! Lots for tots and so much to play on. I will never understand how that abundant playground somehow cost less than the skimpy one at Howard St., but according to the Chicago Park District, it did. I'm still scratching my head over that one.

Mindfulness with low income/

On May 20, Maria Hadden will become the 49th Ward's new alderman.

resident of this city. Just don't overdo it on the low income, subsidized Section 8 housing please, if that's part of the agenda. Been there done that in this neighborhood.

Zoned parking -- There is scattered zoned parking in the ward. Many years ago, Ald. Moore said he did a study which showed that Loyola U. students only live and park as far north as Pratt Ave., and therefore, only the streets south of Pratt would be allowed zoned parking by him.

At that time, Ald. Moore also said that the lakefront streets were a gateway to the park so he really wouldn't do it for the blocks north of Pratt as they were not used by Loyola students. Huh? I really don't think Loyola students are his main constituents so that to me wasn't the wisest decision with Moore's voters. We understand the beach gets crowded and love living here anyway. We know people have the right to park there. But we are also the residents who live here day after day.

In his defense, Moore's funds for several years have paid for the parking lot at Greenleaf and the lake to be free of charge from 7 p.m. to 9 a.m. daily. But I'd like to see zoned parking like the rest of our ward's lakefront streets that Pratt and south of there enjoy. At the very least I'd like to see zoned parking during the hours that the park is closed, starting at 11 p.m. That would offer better safety for residents who come home late at night. And we definitely need that around here lately.

affordable housing... I am all for development without displacement and affordable and low income housing. From the age of 11 to 18, my family lived in low income housing and it allowed my single parent mother and her children to live in a decent place. I believe affordable housing should be available to every

There are a lot more issues facing the ward and Hadden will figure them out. Ald. Moore has pledged his help with the transition and on election night, when conceding, he stated: "I feel grateful that I've had 28 wonderful years doing a job I've loved." (Moore called his run "amazing" on a social media post and his son, Zach, also posted a noteworthy, heartfelt tribute to his dad on social media).

Ald. Moore did have an amazing run and I thank him for nearly three decades of service. Who knew that all those years ago, when I was at my neighbor's house at a coffee klatch with you when you were first seeking election, that you would have yourself such a long and productive aldermanic career? And although we've surely bumped heads here and there, I wish you the best of luck with your life, which will hopefully now be one of leisure and kicking back and enjoying your lakefront condo.

Here's to both the outgoing and the incoming aldermen in the 49th Ward. See ya around the 'hood.

Proposed rent control act riles Chicago landlords

A battle between tenant advocacy groups and Chicago apartment landlords is heating up in the Illinois Legislature surrounding a new proposed statewide Rent Control Act.

The Home Front
By Don DeBat

“While passage of the highly controversial HB-2192 is far from certain, it should serve as a wake-up call to property owners who will surely be surprised to learn how radical this proposed rent-control legislation is, and the lengths to which proponents of rent control—both in Chicago and in Illinois—are prepared to go,” said landlord advocate Mike Glasser, president of the Rogers Park Builders Group.

Under the proposed legislation, Illinois would be transformed from a state in which no local unit of government is permitted to enact rent control, into a state in which no unit of local government would not subject to enforcement of rent control, Glasser said.

HB-2192 was introduced by State Rep. Mary E. Flowers (31st). A similar bill was introduced in 2018 by State Sen. Mattie Hunter (3rd) as Senate Bill 3512. Rep. Flowers and Sen. Hunter represent areas predominantly located on the South Side of Chicago and in the South and Southwest suburbs.

In 2018, State Rep. Will Guzzardi (39th) also urged repeal of the state’s Rent Control Preemption Act, a law passed by the Illinois Legislature in 1997 which prohibits local governments from enacting rent-control ordinances.

Since there are currently no limitations on landlords demanding excessive or unfair residential and commercial rent increases, Guzzardi said this has led to “skyrocketing rents and encroaching gentrification of once stable neighborhoods” in Chicago and throughout Illinois.

In 2017, Chicago’s high-tech job boom has attracted more than 39,000 luxury apartment dwellers who earn $150,000 or more per year, according to a new report from RentCafe. That is more than triple the number of wealthy renters the Windy City had in 2007.

Some of the highlights of HB-2192 follow:

- Rent increases would be strictly regulated by six regional “Rent Control Boards” [RCB] covering all 102 counties in Illinois.

- The RCB’s would consist of seven members. Five of these members would be comprised of tenants, or individuals who work for tenants’ rights organizations. Only two members would be landlords or property owners.

“That’s 71% of the voting rights to tenants and their supporters, and 29% to property owners,” noted Glasser. “That would all but insure that tenants’ groups would have full control over these RCB

in perpetuity.”

- Rent increases would be allowed to occur “no more than once every 12 months.” Rent increases would be limited to no more than the “Consumer Benchmark” for the same 12-month period as set forth by the RCB for that region. The once-every-12-month rule would apply whether a unit vacates or not.

- Rent could only be increased by the amount of the Consumer Benchmark over the previous year’s rent. While the RCB will set which benchmark to be used, it is fair to assume that this benchmark will approximate the rate of inflation.

The proposed Rent Control Act also includes the following stipulations:

- A landlord must give 90 days’ notice of any rent increase and the percentage hike can be no greater than the “rent stabilization rate” currently in effect.

- The current rental rate would remain in effect regardless of whether a tenant moves out, or is displaced from the dwelling unit. The rent would remain the same for a new tenant who moves into the apartment, or ownership or management of the dwelling unit has changed.

- If a landlord has not increased the rent within 12 months before a tenant moves into the dwelling unit, the landlord may only increase the rent to the extent allowed by the rent stabilization rate currently in effect.

Regardless of the proposed rent-control legislation, apartment owners and managers argue that Mayor Rahm Emanuel’s dramatic property tax hikes combined with sharply higher water and sewer taxes, plus new garbage taxes are forcing landlords to raise rents to maintain thin profit margins.

Faced with a 28% real estate tax increase and substantially higher city utility fees in 2017, one Lincoln Park 4-flat owner was forced to raise rents 4% to 5.5%, or about $100 a month. Recently, the same landlord was hit with a 92% assessment increase that could lead to a skyrocketing 2018 tax bill, pushing rents even higher in 2019. In that the city, county and state are all now in dire financial straights due to underfunded pensions and high interest debt loads, North Siders should expect taxes to rise dramatically for the next decade or more from all levels of government. Indeed, it is not just high rents that makes a region unaffordable.

According to a new rental forecast by Integra Realty Resources, Chicago apartment developers and owners are bracing for a period of great uncertainty.

Ron DeVries, senior managing director of Integra Realty Resources, predicted that expected real estate tax increases, potential changes to affordable housing requirements, and the specter of rent control could push down the profitability of existing apartment buildings and new development.

That could lead to a slowdown in apartment construction, and likely push rents higher for downtown residents, DeVries predicted.

Meanwhile, some owners of apartment buildings in the city’s lakefront neighborhoods are scratching their heads and wondering if they soon will be required to go into the rent subsidy business like Uncle Sam.

Long-running Boystown youth shelter edges closer to moving to new Bucktown site

BY CWBCHICAGO.COM

The Crib youth shelter appears one step closer to leaving its longtime location near Boystown for new digs in Bucktown after a marathon meeting Feb. 27 with neighbors of the proposed new location.

It was standing-room-only at the American Legion, 1824 W. Cortland, where neighbors, Ald. Scott Waguespack [32nd] and leaders from the Night Ministry—Crib's parent organization—met for more than 2-1/2 hours.

The Night Ministry has already signed a 10-year-lease for three levels of a building at 1735 N. Ashland. They will be leaving their own longtime location at 4711 N. Ravenswood.

Current zoning allows for the operation of temporary housing on the building's first floor at 1735 N. Ashland. The Crib only needs to secure a special use permit from the city's Zoning Board of Appeals. Night Ministry will use the second and third floors for executive offices and other services that currently operate out of the agency's Ravenswood headquarters.

Ald. Waguespack said, "We are drafting a plan of operation with the committee and a one-year appeal process" that could take the issue back before the Zoning Board of Appeals if there are significant issues.

But, Waguespack added, his office is still taking comments on the issue before the board's March 15th hearing.

A History

Residents who live near the Crib's current home in the basement of Lakeview Lutheran Church, 835 W. Addison, have complained for years about sexual activity in their yards, feces, and condoms left on porches, and Crib patrons sleeping in vestibules and on decks after being denied entry to the facility.

Police reports show a woman being groped and forcefully kissed by a patron of the facility in 2014; fights in the street; a violent robbery parolee being sheltered in the facility; and a second violent robbery parolee being sheltered there, too. There were the iPad snatchers who ran to the Crib and got arrested while waiting to be admitted. There are the two Crib residents currently in jail for allegedly robbing a man at knife-point near the Belmont Red Line CTA station last summer. One of them was convicted of "accidentally" burning down a 126-year-old Boystown home in 2016.

But, all things considered, things have improved at the Crib since the Night Ministry closed the shelter for about a month in June 2017.

Erin Ryan, senior vice president for The Night Ministry, told The Windy City Times before the closure, "We have had a couple incidents in the space—it's a small space and tensions were high... We had a couple incidents that made us concerned for the safety of the residents. We want to make sure the space is safe and that we review our policies and the way that we use it."

After this reporter and news-

Ald. Waguespack said, "We are drafting a plan of operation with the committee and a one year appeal process" that could take the issue back before the Zoning Board of Appeals if there are significant issues.

paper ran a story last week about the Crib's possible relocation to Bucktown, one of the shelter's current neighbors was quick to offer her enthusiastic support for the shelter and its clients.

"I live a few doors down from the Crib on Addison," Lindsay Trew said in an email. "I interact daily with the residents, as I rent parking from Lakeview Lutheran Church."

"Going by the Crib is my dog's favorite part of his nightly walk," Trew said. "The Crib residents spoil him!"

The Crib is also "where a young man excitedly shared with me a book he was reading one night, and a month ago, a resident of the Crib helped me when my car was stuck in snow," Trew added. "These young men and women have been nothing but good neighbors to me."

MERCURY THEATER CHICAGO

Former Foster Ave. police station loses one theater group, has another interested in site

A new theater has expressed interest in the one-time police station, and now theater space at 1940 W. Foster Ave.

Griffin Theatre, long the named future tenant, is no longer planning to move into a former Chicago Summerdale police station. Since 2011, Griffin Theatre has tried to make the former police station their permanent home, but was not able to raise the funds needed to build out the property and make it work, despite getting the space from the City for only $1.

“While this is certainly a disappointment for the community and for Griffin Theatre, I am happy to report that another theatre is interested in the space,” said Ald. Pat O’Connor. “The new theatre expressing interest is a well known and well recognized theatre group, but while they are looking at the location and the renovations and costs associated with taking ownership and moving in, they have asked that we maintain their confidence. We are hopeful that this is a true fit.”

“The theatre is a non-for-profit organization that often collaborates with other non-for-profit organizations in the Chicago area such as Chicago Public Schools, Greater Chicago Food Depository, Illinois Farm Bureau, Misericordia, PAWS Chicago, and the USO.”

Chicago Tribune theater critic Chris Jones believes O’Connors’ statement holds a clue as to who will be taking over the site. He wrote that the USO, the nonprofit associated with the Dept. of Defense, has worked with American Blues Theater, 4809 N. Ravenswood. They now perform shows at Stage 773, 1225 W. Belmont Ave. Artistic director Gwendolyn Whiteside told Jones she had no comment about the plans.

Conquering the silent killer – Hypertension

Pet's have it too

High blood pressure, also called hypertension, affects pets as well as people. Pet owners are often unaware that their pets may be at risk for this condition, and that it can be very dangerous if not treated.

Dr. John N. Stallone, a professor at the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences, studies hypertension and other cardiovascular diseases in pets. He discusses the common causes and symptoms of hypertension, as well as the methods used to treat this disease and bring blood pressure down to normal levels.

In people, high blood pressure is usually diagnosed as essential hypertension, which is when the cause of the elevated blood pressure is unknown. In contrast, high blood pressure in pets is most likely a result of other diseases and health conditions.

Most people are unaware that their pet has hypertension until it is detected during a visit to the veterinarian.

"In general, high blood pressure does not have any symptoms, which is why it is often called 'the silent killer' by the American Heart Association," Stallone said.

If symptoms do appear, they are usually during advanced stages of hypertension. He said that in these stages, vital organs such as the kidneys, eyes, brain, and heart may be damaged. Symptoms of organ damage include renal failure, blindness, stroke, and shortness of breath. In extreme cases, paralysis and heart failure may occur.

Additionally, Stallone said that some of the most common causes of high blood pressure in pets are diseases of the kidney, adrenal gland, and thyroid gland. This could include renal failure, renal infections or tumors, adrenal hormone abnormalities, and an overactive or underactive thyroid gland.

If you suspect that your pet has a disease that puts them at risk for high blood pressure, visit a veterinarian for diagnosis and treatment.

"Treatment of high blood pressure in your pet will depend upon the cause of the hypertension, but most commonly, medications would be used to lower blood pressure directly," Stallone said.

Besides direct treatment with anti-hypertensive drugs, veterinarians may also suggest treating the underlying cause of the high blood pressure. For example, drugs may be given to block an overactive thyroid gland, if that was found to be the cause of the hypertension.

"If these underlying problems are treated successfully, then blood pressure can return to normal and anti-hypertensive drugs can be discontinued," he said.

Pets with hypertension will need frequent visits to the veterinarian for blood pressure

Pets with hypertension will need frequent visits to the veterinarian for blood pressure checks and treatment of the underlying disease, but after treatment they should be able to return to a normal routine.

checks and treatment of the underlying disease, but after treatment they should be able to return to a normal routine.

Like with any other medical condition, the first step is visiting a veterinarian to identify the problem and create a treatment plan best suited for your pet's needs.

Transportation coordinator keeps residents moving in the right direction

BY LYNNE KORNECKI

Aaron Witherspoon is a guy who has places to go and people to see every day – or at least he gladly assists those that do. As the transportation coordinator at Continental Nursing & Rehabilitation Center, 5336 N. Western Ave., he oversees the comings-and-goings of residents for whom driving is no longer an option.

You might describe him as a similar to a travel agent – only booking trips that go more around the block than around the globe.

Witherspoon's in-house team of transportation assistants will accompany any resident who needs additional help traveling to-and-from local appointments.

“What I like best about my job is that every day is different,” Witherspoon said.

His job is a bit more complex than just calling a cab. He also needs to coordinate transportation vehicles that may include a Medi-van or even a non-emergency ambulance and also works with insurance companies in cases where the transportation is covered by the resident's insurance plan.

“As soon as the resident tells me that an appointment has been made, I put that on the transportation calendar,” Witherspoon said who prepares these schedules a week in advance. “I can also make their dental appointments for them when they ask me to. Clare residents give back through WITS Chicago

Clare residents always seek ways to give back to and connect with the city.

WITS Chicago allows them to do just that.

Working In The Schools aims to create positive learning communities through volunteer literacy mentor programs for under-served Chicago youth. It also promotes teacher professional development.

“Volunteering with WITS gives residents a sense of community and purpose within Chicago,” says Lori Griffin, director of resident experience at The Clare.

Two Clare residents, in particular – Ginny and Roger Carlson – have been advocates of WITS since its inception. Ginny, a retired teacher, joined WITS in 1991 and was one of the organization’s first volunteers. That same year, she was asked to serve on the WITS Board of Directors, and she recruited Roger to help with finances, as he was a broker and financial adviser with Smith Barney. Both Ginny and Roger were instrumental in establishing the WITS Early Childhood Program.

“It is refreshing to see the world through the eyes of 5-year-olds once a week, and to see them learning as they move through the school year,” Clare resident Dorothy Pirovano says. “Some don’t know all of the letters of the alphabet when we start reading together. By the end of the year, they have progressed to recognizing many words and wanting to read on their own.”

“We have great enthusiasm for WITS Chicago and their mission to help inner-city school children enrich their lives through the joy of learning,” Ginny says.

Since the Carlsons moved to The Clare in 2015, they helped to inspire 28 residents to participate in WITS Chicago. Twenty currently volunteer on a weekly basis, while eight serve as substitutes, filling in when needed.

Those numbers continue to grow.

“Ginny and Roger were very involved and connected with WITS,” Griffin says. “They saw an opportunity to encourage Clare residents to help Chicago Public Schools [CPS] in a much needed way. Since kick-starting the partnership, the WITS-Clare relationship has grown to be extremely important to both organizations.”

Once a week throughout the school year, residents read with nearly 70 kindergarten students at CPS schools. Such intergenerational programming allows residents to become consistent, caring adults in the lives of WITS students. They also provide the children with early, joyful reading experiences.

“It is refreshing to see the world through the eyes of 5-year-olds once a week, and to see them learning as they move through the school year,” Clare resident Dorothy Pirovano says. “Some don’t know all of the letters of the alphabet when we start reading together. By the end of the year, they have progressed to recognizing many words and wanting to read on their own.”

Plus, volunteering with WITS Chicago proves mutually rewarding for residents and students alike. Not only do residents connect with one another, but they also connect with the children with whom they’re reading. And as much as the students benefit from the residents, the residents also grow through the experience.

“There is a wonderful camaraderie among the volunteers on our bus rides to and from the schools as we share ideas we’ve found to work particularly well with the kids,” Pirovano says. “The unifying theme is our desire to help our kids learn and our delight in seeing them master this essential skill. I always tell new volunteers that they will get as much out of volunteering as the kids do – maybe more.”

And the contribution that residents and other volunteers make to Chicago schools is tangible. About 70 percent of WITS students exceed the national average for annual reading level growth, according to the WITS Chicago website. Meanwhile, more than two-thirds of participants have more positive attitudes toward reading by the end of the year.

“By creating welcoming and fun reading experiences for kindergarten students, The Clare residents are fostering a positive reading culture for the entire school,” WITS chief program officer Kristen Strobe said. “The Clare volunteers play an integral part in the schools’ overall literacy initiatives. Those initiatives are successful with the help of community partnerships like WITS and The Clare.”

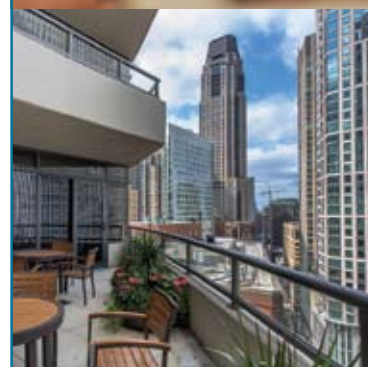

Beyond in-person volunteering through tutoring and reading, Clare residents organized internal community efforts to support Chicago schools. For example, they began a community-wide initiative to collect Box Tops for Education coupons from General Mills products. They then donate the coupons to the WITS schools in Chicago where they volunteer. More recently, they encouraged all residents to save holiday cards, birthday cards and other greeting cards for craft projects in the classrooms.

“To see so many Clare residents volunteer and celebrate the joy of helping a child build a foundation for a productive life is truly wonderful,” Ginny says. “Anyone who says one or two people can’t make a difference have been proven wrong. So many Clare volunteers and hundreds of other WITS volunteers around the city are making the world a better place for the children they work with, and for all of us.”

Of the many Chicago volunteer opportunities available to residents, WITS Chicago remains a preferred organization for The Clare. That’s because it keeps residents involved with the city at large and yields real results for the children.

“It is vital to remain active and engaged as one ages,” Griffin says. “Part of living a life of optimal well-being includes connecting to a greater purpose. Our partnership with WITS allows residents to give back in a meaningful way.”

Police Beat....

Child luring at Alcott School

Detectives are looking into a child luring incident Feb. 27 reported at Alcott College Prep East Elementary, 2625 N. Orchard.

Students told a faculty member that a man stopped his van near the school's playground and athletic field around 1 p.m. and asked a group of female students on recess to "come inside the Uber," according to an email sent to the Alcott community by principal Elias Estrada later in the afternoon.

Police were told that the man spoke with a heavy accent, was dark-skinned, and may be of Indian descent. His vehicle, which may have been an older model, black Chrysler Pacifica, was last seen heading west on Drummond and then north on Orchard, according to the students.

Estrada said students immediately notified a staff member of the incident. No children were injured or successfully lured into the vehicle, according to police.

Detectives were reviewing camera footage in the area and looking for records of similar incidents at other schools in preparation for the issuance of a community alert, Estrada said.

"I also wanted to commend all the students and staff involved in this situation as they acted appropriately and safely," Estrada told parents. "A final thank you to the Chicago Police Dept. for always responding to any incident at school quickly and sincerely."

Career criminal charged with fresh burglary

A career burglar who was charged with eight separate thefts of packages in the Boystown neighborhood at Christmastime was arrested last week and charged with burglary again.

According to court records, a 19th District Town Hall tactical unit was patrolling Wrigleyville around 8:15 p.m. Feb. 28 when they saw Dennis Gordon, 65, walk out of a home in the 3800 block of N. Sheffield.

The officers recognized Gordon because they arrested him in December and they knew he did not live in the house he just walked out of. So, they kept an eye on him as he walked down the street and used a credit card to pry his way into another home, the officers said.

Police detained Gordon inside the second home and allegedly found several bottles of cleaning fluids in his duffle bag. When the cops returned to the first home that they saw Gordon walking out of, they found an empty Amazon box with a receipt for the cleaning products.

Gordon was charged with felony residential burglary and criminal trespass to residence. Judge John Lyke revoked Gordon's recognizance bond in the package theft cases and said Gordon could go free in the new case on a recognizance bond once the earlier matter is cleared up.

Back on Dec. 15, 2018, Gordon was arrested by the same police officers after a witness reported seeing Gordon stealing packages in Boystown. The cops stopped Gordon in the 3400 block of N. Broadway and found him opening a box that contained a woman's fur vest and a woman's green knit sweater. He told officers he stole that box and seven others because he wanted something for Christmas.

In addition to the collection of boxes, police said Gordon was also carrying another man's MasterCard, another person's insurance card, and a set of keys that he said he "found on the street."

Gordon was charged with one felony count and seven misdemeanor counts of theft of lost or mislaid property before being released on a recognizance bond.

According to state records, Gordon has been repeatedly arrested sent to prison 11 times and released early to commit more crimes.

Rookie mistake for thief

A West Ridge man has been arrested and charged with burglarizing a Lincoln Square apartment after he allegedly made one of the most basic criminal mistakes: He sold stolen property at a pawn shop, according to police.

Austin Corrado, 20, was arrested at his home last week after the victim identified him as the person who was seen leaving an apartment in the 4800 block of N. Fairfield in Lincoln Square with the owner's MacBook, Amazon tablet, chargers, and coins, police said. Investigators said that the Amazon tablet had been sold by Corrado to a Rogers Park pawn shop.

Corrado was charged with felony residential burglary. Judge John Lyke released him on a recognizance bond.

Man wanted for Public Indecency near Loyola Univ.

On Feb. 26 between approximately 3:15 and 3:45 p.m., an unknown male driving an older model light colored 4-door Buick sedan exposed and touched himself inappropriately in front of two females walking in the area of Devon and Sheridan near Loyola Univ.

The offender is described as a male black, 20-25 years of age, 5'-8" to 6'-tall, black hair with braids wearing black sweatshirt with hood under a black mid length jacket.

Anyone with information on this incident is asked to call Area North Bureau of Detectives at 312-744-8261, and reference JC166488.

Ten years for beating, robbing man of coat

A man has been sentenced to a pair of concurrent 10-year prison sentences for robbing a Loop department store last year and then beating a 61-year-old man for a coat three days later.

Around 6:20 p.m. Feb. 21, 2018, 21-year-old Clarence Britten, 21, approached a 61-year-old man near State and Jackson, punched the man in the face and mouth, implied that he had a handgun, and then took the victim's jacket, phone, hat, and gloves, prosecutors said. It was about 30 degrees at the time.

Three days earlier, Britten was captured by surveillance cameras at Saks Off Fifth, 6 S. State St., as he brandished a black revolver to ward off two security guards who tried to stop him

Man had half-pound of meth mailed to Roscoe Village home

Federal charges have been filed against a man who allegedly intended to receive a half-pound of methamphetamine by mail last week at his home near Roscoe Village.

The drugs were intercepted by authorities and Steven Besic, 33, was arrested minutes after he retrieved a dummy replacement package planted by investigators in a mailbox outside his home last Friday in the 2100 block of W. Fletcher, according to a federal complaint signed by a U.S. Postal Inspector.

In a 10-page complaint, the postal inspector said authorities at O'Hare International Airport intercepted an Express Mail package addressed to Besic and his company—"Things and Things"—Feb. 20. After determining the return address and associated phone numbers were bogus, postal inspectors received a search warrant for the package which contained a half-pound of suspected meth, according to the complaint.

On Feb. 22, postal inspectors created a package that looked like the confiscated shipment and arranged for an undercover investigator dressed as a mailman to deliver the box to Besic's home. Inside the sham package were two bundles of fake narcotics covered in an invisible layer of dust that would turn purple if touched, a GPS tracker, and a silent alarm that would signal authorities when the package had been opened, a postal inspector said in an affidavit.

Less than an hour after the bogus package was dropped off, covert surveillance officers watched as Besic emerged from the gangway of his home, looked up and down the street, grabbed the shipment, looked up and down the street again, then returned to his residence in the coach house.

Two minutes later, authorities received an alarm that indicated the package had been opened. Two minutes after that, investigators broke down the coach house's front door and "made contact with Besic" inside.

According to court records, Besic's hands were stained purple by the invisible powder that investigators had placed on the dummy narcotics packages. One bundle of fake meth was found in Besic's toilet, and another was in a bathroom trash can, investigators said.

While executing the search warrant inside the home, postal inspectors recovered an ounce of packaged meth that was sitting on a digital scale, $975 cash, four ounces of suspected meth from a nightstand, along with small amounts of MDMA, mushrooms, cocaine base, and several bottles of suspected GHB, according to the affidavit.

Besic is charged with one federal felony count of attempting to possess methamphetamine with intent to distribute. U.S. Magistrate Judge Sheila Finnegan ordered Besic held without bail.

Twins get probation for Loop mugging

Edwin and Marquise Doyle

Twin brothers Edwin and Marquise Doyle, 19, have each pleaded guilty to one count of robbery in connection with a mugging in the Loop last year. Judge Maura Slattery Boyle sentenced each man to 18 months probation and ordered each to pay a $609 fine.

Prosecutors said the DoYLES approached a man in the 200 block of W. Madison and announced a robbery around 9:30 p.m. March 27, 2018. The victim claimed that they threatened to "stick" him during the hold-up as they took his property.

The DoYLES were stopped in the 100 block of W. Madison minutes after the robbery by officers who said the brothers matched a description of the offenders that had been broadcast on police radio. The victim then identified the brothers as the men who robbed him.

In exchange for their guilty pleas, prosecutors dropped two additional felonies against each brother.

Two charged with beating, stomping Near North bar-goer

Charges have been filed in connection with the violent beating of a Near North bar patron last week and new details about the victim's injuries have been released.

Cameron Polk, 26, of Garfield Park and Jahary Ricks, 26, of Auburn Gresham are each charged with one felony count of aggravated battery causing great bodily harm for their alleged roles in the attack that unfolded in the

Jahary Ricks

1100 block of N. Dearborn at 4:40 a.m. Feb. 17. Prosecutors said Polk and Ricks struck a 26-year-old Naperville man in the head from behind until he fell to the ground at 1141 N. Dearborn. The two continued to hit and kick the man in the head using their fists and feet, causing "substantial injuries."

Multiple 911 callers reported that six men were "stomping" and "kicking" a man who was on the ground.

Police previously said that the victim had been followed by a group of men from a nearby bar where a verbal dispute had taken place.

The victim suffered blunt trauma, a broken orbital socket, a possible broken nose, and a fractured jaw, according to a police report. He was admitted to Northwestern Memorial Hospital where he was to be treated by a facial trauma specialist, police said.

Cameron Polk

Evidence technicians collected the shoes and clothing that Ricks and Polk were wearing when police arrested them about a block from the attack site. Police said both men were identified as being involved in the attack by a witness.

Judge Michael Clancy set bail for Polk at $10,000 and for Ricks at $50,000. The men would need to post a deposit equal to 10% of their bail amount to go free while awaiting trial.

Fresh off a 30-year prison sentence, man accused of violent armed Andersonville robbery

Prosecutors say a man who just completed a 30-year sentence for robbery and home invasion is responsible for the violent mugging and pistol-whipping of a woman in Lincoln Square last week. But a helpful neighbor and quick-acting cops brought the horrifying ordeal to a positive conclusion.

The 30-year-old victim told police that she had just parked near her home in the 5200 block of N. Wolcott around 12:45 a.m. Feb. 28 when she was approached by a gunman who wore a surgical mask. The man demanded money, she said, but she did not have any cash to give him.

Police said the offender then forced the woman face-first into the exterior wall of her home and held even they will be broken. Especially as we currently witness the disintegration of the last vestiges of the old machine that outlived its original pragmatic usefulness. Younger, less self-obsessed politicians appear to be ready to launch Chicago into a new political age. They don't want to be in office for half a century. Or see the necessity of tormenting the federal task forces with wire taps and hidden spies. They just understand the absurdity of running for an office they have no true desire to serve. Perhaps we really are witnessing the prophetic rise of previously disenfranchised minorities. Maybe the door to power and leadership is opening.

The more I think about it, the more I see the wisdom to historic plaques pointing out who lived where.

A suggestion to the new mayor: Why not put plaques on all the homes in which convicted aldermen have lived? Point out to Chicago residents and tourists where such criminals took a pass on taxes. Where their zoning fraud occurred. Where special rebates on their property took place. Where their families were given special treatment in neighborhood opportunities. Where local merchants were pick-pocketed and local urban law was convoluted for the sake of political clout and historic personal gain. Give us the map.

Congratulations to Lightfoot and Peckwinkle. I know you are both realists. That's important because you can't kid yourself on the fifth floor of City Hall. Even if they did once ride horses in the City Council chambers, the day the rodeo came to play. Thanks to Mayor Big Bill Thompson, "The pioneer in corruption." Giddy-up!

Property Owners, Annual Tax Sale Schedule,
and Delinquent Real Estate Tax List*

This legal notice includes a list of properties of real estate on which 2017 property taxes (due in 2018) are delinquent and subject to sale as of February 13, 2019.
NOTE: This list may include some properties on which the taxes were paid after the list's preparation on February 13, 2019. It is the property owner's responsibility to verify the current status of payment. This list does not include all the properties in Cook County that are delinquent and subject to sale. For a complete listing of the properties in your neighborhood that are subject to sale, please visit www.cookcountytreasurer.com.

Under Illinois law, the Cook County Treasurer's Office must offer properties having delinquent real estate taxes and special assessments for sale. IF YOUR PROPERTY IS LISTED IN THIS NOTICE FOR SALE OF DELINQUENT REAL ESTATE TAXES, IT IS IMPORTANT FOR YOU TO TAKE ACTION SO THAT YOUR TAXES ARE NOT SOLD. The tax sale is scheduled to begin FRIDAY, MAY 3, 2019. The sale of taxes will result in a lien against the property that will add, at a minimum, hundreds of dollars in fees to the amount currently due. Sale of the tax and continued failure by the owner to redeem (pay) may result in the owner's loss of legal title to the property.

Prior to sale, delinquent taxes may be paid online from your bank account or credit card by visiting cookcountytreasurer.com. Personal, company, and business checks will be accepted only through April 12, 2019. After April 12, 2019, all payments must be made by certified check, cashier's check, money order, cash, or credit card. Please note that under Illinois law, the Treasurer's Office cannot accept payments of delinquent taxes tendered after the close of the business day immediately preceding the date on which such taxes are to be offered for sale. For questions about submitting a payment or to verify the precise delinquent amount, you may contact the Cook County Treasurer's Office by phone at (312) 443-5100 or by e-mail through our web-site at www.cookcountytreasurer.com (click on "CONTACT US BY EMAIL").

LEGAL NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

*Cook County Annual Tax Sale Notice to Property Owners, Annual Tax Sale Schedule,
and Delinquent Real Estate Tax List*

This legal notice includes a list of properties of real estate on which 2017 property taxes (due in 2018) are delinquent and subject to sale as of February 13, 2019.
NOTE: This list may include some properties on which the taxes were paid after the list's preparation on February 13, 2019. It is the property owner's responsibility to verify the current status of payment. This list does not include all the properties in Cook County that are delinquent and subject to sale. For a complete listing of the properties in your neighborhood that are subject to sale, please visit www.cookcountytreasurer.com.

Under Illinois law, the Cook County Treasurer's Office must offer properties having delinquent real estate taxes and special assessments for sale. IF YOUR PROPERTY IS LISTED IN THIS NOTICE FOR SALE OF DELINQUENT REAL ESTATE TAXES, IT IS IMPORTANT FOR YOU TO TAKE ACTION SO THAT YOUR TAXES ARE NOT SOLD. The tax sale is scheduled to begin FRIDAY, MAY 3, 2019. The sale of taxes will result in a lien against the property that will add, at a minimum, hundreds of dollars in fees to the amount currently due. Sale of the tax and continued failure by the owner to redeem (pay) may result in the owner's loss of legal title to the property.

Prior to sale, delinquent taxes may be paid online from your bank account or credit card by visiting cookcountytreasurer.com. Personal, company, and business checks will be accepted only through April 12, 2019. After April 12, 2019, all payments must be made by certified check, cashier's check, money order, cash, or credit card. Please note that under Illinois law, the Treasurer's Office cannot accept payments of delinquent taxes tendered after the close of the business day immediately preceding the date on which such taxes are to be offered for sale. For questions about submitting a payment or to verify the precise delinquent amount, you may contact the Cook County Treasurer's Office by phone at (312) 443-5100 or by e-mail through our web-site at www.cookcountytreasurer.com (click on "CONTACT US BY EMAIL").

COOK COUNTY DELINQUENT REAL ESTATE TAX LIST

*OFFICE OF THE TREASURER
AND EX-OFFICIO COLLECTOR OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.*

Advertisement and Notice by Collector of Cook County of Application for Judgment and Order of Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots for General Taxes for the years indicated, for order of sales thereof, as provided by law.

COUNTY OF COOK, STATE OF ILLINOIS March 6-7, 2019

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County, Illinois, will apply to the County Division of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois on Monday, April 1, 2019, for judgment against all lands and lots, hereinafter described as being delinquent, upon which taxes (together with any accrued interest and costs) remain due and unpaid, for an order for sale of said lands and lots for satisfaction thereof, fixing the correct amount due. Final entry of said order will be sought on Monday, April 29, 2019.

NOTICE is further given that beginning on the 3rd day of May, 2019, A.D., at the hour of 8:30 A.M., all said lands and lots, hereinafter described for sale for which an order shall be made, or has been made and not executed as noted, will be subject to public sale at 118 N. Clark St, Room 112 (Randolph Street entrance), in Chicago, Illinois, for the amount of taxes, interest and costs due thereon, respectively.

The following is a list of the delinquent properties in Cook County upon which the taxes or any part thereof for the 2017 tax year remain due and unpaid; the name(s) of the owners, if known; the property location; the total amount due on 2017 tax warrants (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised); and the year or years for which the taxes are due.

In lieu of legal description, each parcel of land or lot is designated by a property index number (PIN). Comparison of the 14-digit PIN with the legal description of any parcel may be made by referring to the cross-indices in the various Cook County offices.

The Cook County Collector does not guarantee the accuracy of common street addresses or property classification codes at the time of sale. Tax buyers should verify all common street addresses, PINs, classifications, and ownership by personal inspection and investigation of said properties and legal descriptions prior to purchasing general taxes offered at the sale.

NO TAX BUYER WILL BE PERMITTED TO OBTAIN A TAX DEED WITH RESPECT TO ANY PROPERTY OWNED BY A TAXING DISTRICT OR OTHER UNIT OF GOVERNMENT. WHEN AN ORDER TO VACATE THE TAX SALE OF ANY SUCH PROPERTY IS ENTERED, THE FINAL RESULT MAY BE A REFUND WITHOUT INTEREST.

LEGAL NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

Cook County Annual Tax Sale Notice to Property Owners, Annual Tax Sale Schedule, and Delinquent Real Estate Tax List

This legal notice includes a list of properties of real estate on which 2017 property taxes (due in 2018) are delinquent and subject to sale as of February 13, 2019.
NOTE: This list may include some properties on which the taxes were paid after the list's preparation on February 13, 2019. It is the property owner's responsibility to verify the current status of payment. This list does not include all the properties in Cook County that are delinquent and subject to sale. For a complete listing of the properties in your neighborhood that are subject to sale, please visit www.cookcountytreasurer.com.

Under Illinois law, the Cook County Treasurer's Office must offer properties having delinquent real estate taxes and special assessments for sale. IF YOUR PROPERTY IS LISTED IN THIS NOTICE FOR SALE OF DELINQUENT REAL ESTATE TAXES, IT IS IMPORTANT FOR YOU TO TAKE ACTION SO THAT YOUR TAXES ARE NOT SOLD. The tax sale is scheduled to begin FRIDAY, MAY 3, 2019. The sale of taxes will result in a lien against the property that will add, at a minimum, hundreds of dollars in fees to the amount currently due. Sale of the tax and continued failure by the owner to redeem (pay) may result in the owner's loss of legal title to the property.

Prior to sale, delinquent taxes may be paid online from your bank account or credit card by visiting cookcountytreasurer.com. Personal, company, and business checks will be accepted only through April 12, 2019. After April 12, 2019, all payments must be made by certified check, cashier's check, money order, cash, or credit card. Please note that under Illinois law, the Treasurer's Office cannot accept payments of delinquent taxes tendered after the close of the business day immediately preceding the date on which such taxes are to be offered for sale. For questions about submitting a payment or to verify the precise delinquent amount, you may contact the Cook County Treasurer's Office by phone at (312) 443-5100 or by e-mail through our website at www.cookcountytreasurer.com (click on "CONTACT US BY EMAIL").

COOK COUNTY DELINQUENT REAL ESTATE TAX LIST

OFFICE OF THE TREASURER
AND EX-OFFICIO COLLECTOR
OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Advertisement and Notice by Collector of Cook County of Application for Judgment and Order of Sale of Delinquent Lands and Lots for General Taxes for the years indicated, for order of sales thereof, as provided by law.

COUNTY OF COOK, STATE OF ILLINOIS March 6-7, 2019

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County, Illinois, will apply to the County Division of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois on Monday, April 1, 2019, for judgment against all lands and lots, hereinafter described as being delinquent, upon which taxes (together with any accrued interest and costs) remain due and unpaid, for an order for sale of said lands and lots for satisfaction thereof, fixing the correct amount due. Final entry of said order will be sought on Monday, April 29, 2019.

NOTICE is further given that beginning on the 3rd day of May, 2019, A.D., at the hour of 8:30 A.M., all said lands and lots, hereinafter described for sale for which an order shall be made, or has been made and not executed as noted, will be subject to public sale at 118 N. Clark St, Room 112 (Randolph Street entrance), in Chicago, Illinois, for the amount of taxes, interest and costs due thereon, respectively.

The following is a list of the delinquent properties in Cook County upon which the taxes or any part thereof for the 2017 tax year remain due and unpaid; the name(s) of the owners, if known; the property location; the total amount due on 2017 tax warrants (excluding delinquent special assessments separately advertised); and the year or years for which the taxes are due.

In lieu of legal description, each parcel of land or lot is designated by a property index number (PIN). Comparison of the 14-digit PIN with the legal description of any parcel may be made by referring to the cross-indices in the various Cook County offices.

The Cook County Collector does not guarantee the accuracy of common street addresses or property classification codes at the time of sale. Tax buyers should verify all common street addresses, PINs, classifications, and ownership by personal inspection and investigation of said properties and legal descriptions prior to purchasing general taxes offered at the sale.

NO TAX BUYER WILL BE PERMITTED TO OBTAIN A TAX DEED WITH RESPECT TO ANY PROPERTY OWNED BY A TAXING DISTRICT OR OTHER UNIT OF GOVERNMENT. WHEN AN ORDER TO VACATE THE TAX SALE OF ANY SUCH PROPERTY IS ENTERED, THE FINAL RESULT MAY BE A REFUND WITHOUT INTEREST.

Incidents have occurred on the 0-100 block of E. Chestnut St. March 1; 900 block of N. State St. March 1, and the 0-100 block of E. Oak St. on March 1.

During one reported incident, the offenders fled in a silver Ford Escape vehicle. When confronted by the victim, the offender produced a blue semi-automatic handgun and threatened to shoot the victim.

The offenders have been described as four Males, African Americans, 20-22 years of age, and one Female, African American, 20-22 years of age.

Car thefts in Bowmanville

Residents have been warned about two recent motor vehicle thefts that have occurred in Bowmanville. These motor vehicle thefts occurred in the area from Foster to Lawrence and California to Western. In these incidents, unknown offender(s) stole vehicles by unknown means that were legally parked on the street.

Incidents include on the 5000 block of N. Western on Feb. 11-12, between 6 p.m. – 10:30 a.m.; the 5000 block of N. Western on Feb. 15, between 4 p.m. – 7 p.m., and the 2400 block of W. Winnemac on Feb. 18-19, between 6:30 p.m. – 5:30 a.m.

10 years for Lakeview armed robbery

A convicted felon who's been sentenced to 22 years in prison since 2009 has now been sentenced to serve another 10 years for pistol-whipping a man and robbing the man's girlfriend in Lakeview two years ago.

Terrance Porter, 33, pleaded guilty Monday to Class X felony armed robbery with a firearm in a plea deal approved by Judge Timothy Joyce. Porter was subsequently sentenced to serve at least 85% of a ten-year prison term with 729 days credit given for time served awaiting trial. Prosecutors dropped four other felonies in the agreement.

Porter and then-30-year-old Ashley White approached a couple on the 3300 block of N. Seminary at 11 p.m. Feb. 12, 2017.

Prosecutors said Porter struck the man in the back of the head and took the man's wallet and cellphone as well as the woman's purse, according to prosecutors.

Police later recovered the man's phone outside of a liquor store in the 3200 block of W. Montrose.

Investigators identified White as the woman who used the female victim's credit card shortly after the robbery, prosecutors said.

Prior to this conviction, Porter was handed an eight-year prison sentence for burglary in 2009; three years for aggravated unlawful use of a weapon in a vehicle in 2010; four years for possession of electronic paraphernalia in a penal institution in 2010; and seven years for burglary in 2010.

Yet, he was released early from prison in 2015.

Joyce previously sentenced White to two years in prison for her role in the robbery.

Man accused of helping juvenile rob woman in Loop CTA station

A Garfield Park man is accused of pretending to be a police officer in order to help a juvenile escape after the younger male robbed a woman in a Loop CTA station, police said.

Police responded to the LaSalle Blue Line station around 6 p.m. Feb. 27 after callers re-

Delmas Gibson Jr.

I'm the police."The primary offender managed to escape from the station before police arrived.

Gibson was arrested and charged with felony robbery. Judge John Lyke ordered him held in lieu of $5,000 bail.

The victim, a 31-year-old Edgewater woman, suffered lacerations to her wrist, police said. As of Monday evening, the juvenile offender had been identified by police, but it was not clear if he had been arrested or charged.

Limo drivers targeted in Old Town carjackings

A suspect is in custody after armed men carjacked one limo driver and then tried to carjack a second limo driver in the Old Town neighborhood on Monday morning. Other suspects remain at large, according to a police department source.

Around 5 a.m., a livery driver was carjacked of their Lincoln sedan in the 400 block of W. Wisconsin by three men, including one who displayed a handgun.

At about the same time, another livery driver told police that three men approached him as he sat in his vehicle in the 2000 block of N. Cleveland. One of the men knocked on the driver's window and displayed a handgun in a carjacking attempt that failed, the main said.

A silver Mercedes was seen in the area of both carjackings and is believed to be involved in the crimes.

Police tracked GPS signals from the stolen Lincoln and eventually found the vehicle crashed near the intersection of Cornell Dr. and Hayes Dr. in Jackson Park.

A gun was recovered from the Lincoln's driver's side door panel, and the driver was taken into custody at the crash scene, police said.

A suspected passenger of the stolen car managed to escape the wreckage and was seen getting into the silver Mercedes which sped from the area. Police are searching South Side hospitals for that individual because they expect that he or she was seriously injured in the crash.

should only be used to fund infrastructure, public parks and schools, while Ald. Smith fought to include a park in the Lincoln Yards development. She said she will vote against the TIF.

Lindblom says his priority is dealing with the city's massive debt load and said he helped to negotiate pension reform between the city and labor groups - even though unfunded pension liabilities are still suffocating the city. He also suggested consolidating government agencies (cutting jobs) to cut costs.

ward to challenge Cappleman. However, CTU endorsed mayoral candidate Toni Preckwinkle, who donated $10,000 to Cappleman as well, illustrating his strong ties to the democrat machine with union support.

Cappleman opposes charter schools in his ward so he was not challenged by the teachers union in the last election.

But the problem for most of Cappleman's opponents is that they are young and relatively new to the ward. Lalonde and Wozniak have lived in the ward only three years.

One teacher at the Uptown Uplift High School told this reporter that while she was against Cappleman because of the excessive loss of affordable housing, the alderman was active in the ward for years before getting elected so people know who he is.

Wozniak and Clay earned 16% of the vote. Clay was born and raised in Uptown and said former Ald. Helen Shiller was her hero. However, she is young and not as crafty as Shiller, a street activist who knew

All the candidates agreed that it is difficult to deal with the parking woes in Lincoln Park. None advocated issuing more residential permits, though one would be hard pressed to find a part of that ward that does not already have residents only permit parking.

Ald. Smith made crime and punishment a top issue in her ward as car jackings, shootings and burglaries made headlines.

While his demeanor is quite pleasant, Lindblom's rhetoric is reminiscent of his former boss Mayor Emanuel who stormed into Chicago with a mission to remake the city.

how to play politics and enlist the support of many of her down and out constituents to hit the ground to get votes. Many ward residents in those years thought Shiller - a hard leftist - was holding back the 46th Ward by encouraging the homeless, disaffected, substance abusers, and a criminal element to establish a foothold in the community. After leaving office, she and her son frequently took sides with and supported the street gangs and worked against local police efforts to fight the gangs.

It remains to be seen if the five challengers will work together to support Lalonde in the runoff.

Wozniak told her supporters in an email that she would.

"Yesterday, I called to congratulate Marianne Lalonde, and told her that I will be supporting her in her run against incumbent James Cappleman," she wrote.

Cappleman's challengers differed slightly in their plans to save affordable housing in Uptown, although they did state that new developments should demand that 30% of the units be preserved as affordable units.

Cappleman, on the other hand, said he

"The 43rd Ward runoff presents a stark choice between a status quo alderman who thinks she can tax her way out of the city's problems and a challenger who is ready to dismantle the City Council culture of side jobs and financial neglect," he told the media. "Reform is finally coming to City Council and it's starting in the 43rd Ward."

Each candidate raised significant money to challenge the alderman.

Smith raised more than $350,000, while Lindblom raised almost $328,000.

The well-developed ward encompasses Lincoln Park, Old Town and part of the Gold Coast, and is one of the most politically active wards areas in the city, home to the 'lakefront liberals' as well as a strong contingent of conservative republicans.

Smith ran in a tight race in 2015 in which she won by less than 100 votes.

The alderman touted her record to improve the ward infrastructure, champion top public schools and bring more police into the area.

Lindblom campaigned on cutting red tape and using technology to make city government run more effectively.

According to NBC, 84% of the ward is white, and 71% voted for Emanuel in the last mayor election.

is a friend of the homeless, noting Uptown has the greatest number of subsidized housing, while at the same time on his watch the ward lost over a thousand units of affordable housing, much of it was admittedly substandard housing of the last resort.

"We are way, way, way, above all the community areas in providing affordable housing and I am still asking for more," Cappleman said during the campaign.

before the election, the race wasn't really close in a year that saw several other incumbent aldermen lose their jobs or be forced into runoff elections.

Tunney likely won the race easier and earlier than he was willing to believe due to his sky-high name recognition and high favorability ratings in the community.

or lives, includes parts of Ravenswood, Lincoln Square and North Center neighborhoods.

According to IL Sunshine, Martin had raised about $90,000 in January, with a lot of individual small donations and about $8,000 from SEIU Healthcare and SEIU Local 73. Negrón, on the other hand, raised almost three times that amount, with $287,266 cash on hand in January.

According to the website that tracks political donations, Negrón's top donors included Mayor Emanuel ($45,000), the Chicagoland Operators Joint Labor Management PAC ($15,000) and the Chicago Laborers District Council PAC ($15,000).

All the 47th Ward candidates praised the outgoing Ald. Pawar at the last aldermanic forum in January, though many residents saw him as a no-show alderman who - according to WBEZ - only showed up 49% of the time to required meetings at City Hall.

Clay noted in an earlier aldermanic forum that 70% of Uptown residents are renters, and just like in other North Lakefront wards, many are getting priced out of their homes.

Cappleman took office in 2011, succeeding longtime former Ald. Shiller in a ward that includes most of Uptown and parts of North Lakeview.

"Words cannot express how grateful I am for all of your support throughout this campaign," said Tunney after the election. "This victory would not have been possible without the hard work put in by our staff, volunteers and supporters like you. Despite the efforts of dark-money donors working against our campaign, we showed them that Lakeview can't be bought and that this neighborhood belongs to everyone."

All the 47th Ward candidates praised the outgoing Ald. Pawar at the last aldermanic forum, though many residents saw him as a no-show alderman who only showed up 49% of the time to required meetings at City Hall.

When asked what would be your top three priorities for the first 90 days in office, Martin said No. 1 - Increase from 10% to 25% affordable housing mandate, No. 2 - Elected School Board, and No. 3 - Police oversight committee.

Negrón said No. 1 a Master zoning plan, No. 2 - Monitor school inventory and No. 3 - Work with police and aldermen on safety.
