Trumbull sold

Still no theater groups ID'd to take stage space

Andersonville's Trumbull School building has been sold to Svigos Development for a reported $5.25 million.

BY PATRICK BUTLER

It's official. Svigos Development bought the Trumbull School building late last month, according to Ald. Patrick O'Connor [40th]. Ald. O'Connor said Svigos will continue trying to find a theater to occupy the first floor and is already "working toward developing the residential development" in the rest of the landmark building at 5200 N. Ashland Ave. Svigos came out the top bidder for the massive, 108-year-old Dwight Perkins-designed school that was among 50 closures during the biggest school shut down in American history.

The famed Prairie School architect also designed the Graeme Stewart grade school in Uptown (which was also closed in that shutdown) and Lincoln Park Zoo's award-winning Lion House. [Trumbull, incidentally, was also one of the first Chicago public schools to have washrooms on every floor rather than in the basement.] Svigos had originally struck a deal with TimeLine Theater two years ago, but the deal fell through last year when Svigos and TimeLine were unable to come to terms, reportedly because of landmarking restrictions impacting plans for the theater's stage, which TimeLine planned to put on the first floor. The designation meant no upgrades or updates could be made to the stage to meet modern theatrical standards. Original reuses proposed for the empty school ranged from senior housing, retail stores, nonprofit offices, a charter school and even a distillery. According to Ald. O'Connor, the Board of Education expanded its allowable uses back in May to include a private non-charter school, as well as the original uses including 49 apartments and a theater. The Buffalo Grove-based builder - chosen from a number of prospective developers - was also picked to convert the former Mulligan School in Lincoln Park into 24 market-rate luxury apartments. Those units are just now being marketed. Allaying earlier concerns the historic building could be razed or redesigned beyond recognition, the alderman noted that "at my insistence, it remains Svigos' plan to landmark both the interior and exterior of the building. Although Svigos is currently talking to a number of theater groups, they are open to engaging with additional groups should anyone have any thoughts or ideas in that vein." Ald. O'Connor said interested parties can call his office at 312-744-1244.

The greystone at 1436 W. Berwyn was built in 1908 by two local Swedish immigrant brothers, Christ and John Christiansen. A development corporation wants to demolish or partially demolish the building to build a four-level building that would include six condos. An online petition was signed by close to 600 residents opposing the project.

Greystone saved from the wrecking ball... for now

BY BOB KITSOS

The fate of a 1908 two-story, Andersonville greystone is still to be determined. Most area residents oppose its demolition and a revised plan that calls for a partial demolition with just the façade and west wall remaining intact. A six-unit, four-level building is proposed by the Aidan Development Corp. to take the greystone's place at 1436 W. Berwyn and the open green space next to it. The proposal calls for six condos from approximately 1,500-square feet to approximately 2,300-square feet, coupled with a six-car garage with a roof deck in the rear. A more than century-old elm tree at the back of the property also is in danger of being uprooted. A June 26 community meeting at the Swedish American Museum chaired by Ald. Harry Osterman [48th] attracted a crowd of more than 150 area residents. The developer, Aidan Dunican, drew the ire of many residents by failing to attend the meeting, although he was represented by architect Jack Stoneberg of Stoneberg and Gross Architects and the developer's attorney, Thomas Moore, of Anderson and Moore PC. The general consensus from the majority of those attending was that the proposed plan was too excessive and did not feel right for the low-key residential neighborhood. Plans meet stiff opposition There are a number of organizations standing firm in their opposition to the proposed new condos. They include Edgewater Historical Society [EHS], East Andersonville Resident's Council [EARC], Edgewater Environmental Sustainability, Landmarks Illinois, and Preservation Chicago. LeRoy Blommaert of the EHS said the Society adopted the following resolution in May: "The EHS supports the efforts of the EARC, other East Andersonville residents, and all who have signed their petition in seeking to save the two-flat at 1436 W. Berwyn from demolition and commends Ald. Osterman for responding positively to their concerns, which are those of the Society also." "I want to save the building, I will do everything possible to make sure neither proposal goes through," said Ald. Osterman. Blommaert said the board has not taken a position on the revised plan proposed by the developer as those plans were not available at the time the resolution was discussed. The EARC addressed the community meeting on its website with this comment: "The alderman's meeting regarding 1436 W. Berwyn had a huge showing tonight. It's great to see Andersonville neighbors fighting the good fight. It isn't over yet, but our voices have been heard." The Council also sent two letters to the alderman opposing the demolition of the existing greystone. The letters dealt with Andersonville's green space, historic architecture and locally owned small business. They also cited the need for the preservation of the neighborhood's tree-lined streets, the importance of a greener, more GREYSTONE see p. 12

19-year-old DePaul student running for a Cook County board seat

BY BENJAMIN CONBOY
The DePaulia

A 19-year-old DePaul student in Lincoln Park isn't waiting to graduate college before she forays into political life. Bushra Amiwala has announced that she is running as a Democrat for a seat on the Cook County Board of Commissioners held by long-time incumbent Larry Suffredin. Amiwala is running for commissioner in the 13th District, which includes Rogers Park and Evanston among other northern communities. As commissioner, she would be responsible for close to 300,000 constituents, which is about three times more than members of the Illinois House of Representatives serve. The Cook County Board of Commissioners is the legislative and governing body for the second largest county in the U.S., and crafts policy on everything from public health services, criminal prosecution to a variety of tax issues and rates. In Amiwala's announcement of her candidacy, she laid out the principles on which she is going to run. "[I] believe in keeping the county financially responsible while increasing transparency, lowering unemployment, and giving low income people the opportunity to change their life," she said. Improving transparency within the Cook County government is high on Amiwala's to-do list if elected. She said that a lot of the county's website is old and dilapidated, and several pages are entirely defunct. She added that information regarding where tax dollars are raised and allocated to should be easily accessible, not buried in a confusing website. Increasing vocational and educational opportunities is also high on her list of priorities. She said there are "40,000 youth [sic] who reside in Cook County who choose not to further their education or get a job," and she wants to create a support system that gives them the tools to succeed in life. Amiwala has been critical of the board's decision to pass a tax on sugary beverages, an ordinance that was co-sponsored by her opponent, Suffredin, and championed by ex-candidate for Mayor of Chicago and 7th District STUDENT see p. 12

City again taking on human trafficking

Yes, there really are captives as sex slaves in Chicago

BY MAUREEN COWHEY

The violent death of 16-year-old Desiree Robinson who police say was killed by a man who had answered an online sex ad placed by the South Side teen's pimp brings the issue of human trafficking once again out into the open.

During court proceedings last Thursday the prosecution described defendant Joseph Hazley, 33, as a calculating predator who lured recent run-away Robinson into his South Side apartment, where he allegedly groomed her to be his sex slave and then sold her to adult men around Chicagoland.

Human trafficking is an issue that often seems far from home and irrelevant but has been well established in Chicago for a long time. In February the Chicago Police swept through 61 massage businesses asking for proper licensing and looking for prostitution, making multiple arrests. They wrote up 178 violations and issued 11 cease and desist orders. More recently massage parlor busts have been made on the 3100 block of Lawrence Ave. and 3000 block of North Ave.

Most people don't think about it happening in their own backyard, but human trafficking affects every country in the world and according to Charles Hounmenou, an assistant professor at the Univ. of Illinois Chicago Jane Addams College of Social Work, Chicago is actually a center for human trafficking. This is due in part because of its high volume of incoming immigrants - many coming in daily at O'Hare Airport - our central location and established meeting and convention business. Indeed a 2003 New York Times article labeled Chicago as a national hub for human trafficking.

According to the Human Trafficking in Illinois Fact Sheet by Hounmenou, human trafficking includes sex trafficking; child sex trafficking; forced labor; forced child labor; bonded labor or debt bondage; domestic servitude; and unlawful recruitment and use of child soldiers.

For many, like Robinson, this forced servitude ends badly. The Cook County Coroner autopsy report determined she had been beaten and strangled and that her throat had been slit.

The International Labour Organization estimates 20.9 million people are victims of forced labor worldwide, and 16,000-25,000 of them are women and girls forced into the sex trade in metropolitan Chicago. This number is based on estimates due to the illegal nature of human trafficking.

Young women and girls are trafficked and held captive as sex slaves in Chicago. Teenage girls like Robinson are exploited and "pimped" on the streets of Chicago to an estimated 175,000 different johns, according to the fact sheet. Over 60% report being drawn into the sex trade before the age of 18. With the large number of girls and women at risk, "it is easy for a Cook County resident to become a victim of sex trafficking without ever leaving the county," the sheet states.

Efforts on several different fronts are underway to address the problem of human trafficking in Illinois.

In Cook County, massage parlors and strip clubs often are fronts for trafficking and the people who work there are victims of the sex trade. Chicago Police and city officials have been cracking down on massage parlors in what is being called 'Operation Hot Towel.' Undercover officers go into the parlors and ask for a "hot towel" after they are offered sex, signaling police to interfere. The operation has led to six parlors being closed due to prostitution.

Ald. Matt O'Shea [19th] on the city's Southwest Side introduced a new ordinance with the help of the Chicago Police, the Chicago Dept. of Business Affairs and Consumer Protection, and advocates against human trafficking to crack down on massage parlors in the city. The proposal will increase fines to $5,000 for each licensing violation and will introduce more regulations to help police close down institutions that may be participating in human trafficking.

In addition, the ordinance would raise the massage therapist age from 15 to 18 and require workers to have a license. "Direct passageways" from the main parlor to a private residence will be prohibited. Just about all wards have this type of active prostitution operations and there are likely dozens of sex trafficking massage parlors located on the North Side.

On another front, actor and producer Ric Morgan is working to raise awareness on the subject through his new Indie film entitled IMAGO. The movie, which is being filmed

Community members can do their part in helping to end human trafficking by going through human trafficking awareness training to learn how to identify potential victims, being an informed consumer by researching where their products come from and putting pressure on companies to research and release how their products are made, donating to anti-trafficking organizations such as the Chicago Alliance Against Sexual Exploitation, and educating themselves on human trafficking in the world and their own cities.

New public park proposed for Erie/Milwaukee

A new public park would be developed on City-owned land on the southwest corner of the Milwaukee Ave. and Erie St. through a financial proposal introduced late last month in City Council.

Planned as passive open space, the nearly one-acre park would be designed and constructed through $643,000 in Open Space Impact Fees. The funds would be equally split toward environmental cleanup and landscaping costs. The site, located near an Ontario St. feeder ramp to I-90/94, would be transferred to the Chicago Park District following the completion of the work.

Open Space Impact Fees are generated by new residential development projects to accommodate open space needs in neighborhoods outside of the downtown area.

TIF money approved for ADA improvements at three North Side schools

The Chicago Board of Education will receive Tax Increment Financing (TIF) assistance for accessibility improvements at four Chicago Public Schools buildings under plans approved today by City Council.

Roald Amundsen High School, 5110 N. Damen Ave., in Lincoln Square will be reimbursed $1.1 million in TIF for recently completed ADA-compliant improvements including parking, automatic doors, accessibility ramps, and classroom doors. The balance of the $3.1 million project is being paid by the Board of Education.

Carl Schurz High School, 3601 N. Milwaukee Ave., will receive $2.8 million in TIF for recently completed improvements including new elevators, wheelchair ramp, doors, washrooms, sidewalks, assisted listening devices, and locker room upgrades. A partial payment of $2.1 million was previously issued in 2016 for the $4.9 million project.

Eliza Chappell Elementary School, 2135 W. Foster Ave., in Lincoln Square will receive $760,000 in TIF for recently completed improvements including a new elevator, lift at gymnasium stage, ADA-compliant restrooms, classroom doors, lockers, student stations, fire alarm and security system, and drinking fountains. A partial payment of $1.5 million in TIF was previously issued in 2016. The balance of the $2.3 million project is being paid by the Board of Education.

Majority of downtown condos now priced at $700+ per square foot

The Home Front

By Don DeBat

If you are shopping for a new downtown Chicago condominium this summer better bring a wheel barrel of cash to the deal, experts advise.

Seventy-nine percent of the unsold new-construction condo inventory units are in buildings priced at an average of $700-plus per square foot, reports notes the "Downtown Chicago Benchmark Report," the latest analysis of the condo market by Appraisal Research Counselors Ltd.

"This is considered to be the ultra-luxury segment of the market, targeted to a rather thin group of affluent buyers," noted Gail Lissner, vice president of Appraisal Research.

The top of the ultra-high end of the market downtown is the 94-story Wanda Vista Tower hotel and condominium complex now under construction at 363 E. Wacker Dr. The tower will have 406 condo units and 191 hotel rooms. The tower's 21 penthouses are priced in the $8 million to $10 million range, according to Magellan Development Group, co-developer with China's Dalian Wanda Group.

Also under construction is One Bennett Park, a 68-story mixed-use project at 451 E. Grand Ave., which will feature 279 rental apartments and 69 ultra-luxury condos.

Despite lofty price tags, developers managed to market 107 new luxury condo and townhome units downtown in the first quarter of

The Loop is considered to be the ultra-luxury segment of the market, targeted to a rather thin group of affluent buyers, says Gail Lissner, vice president of Appraisal Research.

2017, and closed sales on 62 units. A total of 486 units were sold downtown in all of 2016, up from 415 units in 2015.

At the end of the first quarter of 2017, there were 845 unsold new construction condo and townhome being marketed for sale downtown. Here are the neighborhoods, and the number of unsold units in each: Loop (271), West Loop (120), South Loop (10), River North (208), Streeterville (63), and Gold Coast (142).

The unsold new-construction condo and townhome inventory downtown totaled 663 units at the end of the first quarter of 2016. Inventory totaled 471 units in the first quarter of 2015.

By targeting first-time buyers, The Guild, a 14-story condo at 1555 S. Wabash, sold out in the first quarter of 2017. Rebranded after the Great Recession, the 176-unit building's prices were set in the affordable mid-$300 per-square-foot bracket.

Originally built in 2009, developers sold 35 units then got caught in the economic downturn. Remaining units were rented, then extensively renovated five years later making the project comparable with new construction, noted Ron DeVries, vice president of Appraisal Research.

- Boutique condos popular. Five luxury boutique condo projects with a total of 129 units were launched in early 2017, Appraisal Research reported. The smaller 9-story to 14-story developments range in size from 10 to 38 residences. Average unit sizes range from 2,100 to 3,400 square feet and prices run from $690 to $913 per square foot.

- Existing condo bargains. Buyers hunting for an affordable condo downtown should shop existing buildings for condo bargains, experts advise.

An Appraisal Research survey of 65 existing downtown buildings with a total of 20,895 units found that prices have risen from an average of $338 per square foot in 2012 to an average of $420 per square foot in 2016.

"Overall, prices in these 65 buildings have risen 25% since 2011, while the sales volume for 2016 was up over 50% from the low point in 2011," said Lissner.

Floating garden on North Branch will provide much-needed habitat

BY STEVEN DAHLMAN

With water quality improving, the only thing keeping the Chicago River from having healthy, optimal fish and wildlife populations is lack of habitat, says a nonprofit team that has installed a 166-square-foot floating garden on the east side of Goose Island on the North Branch of the Chicago River.

Urban Rivers says the garden, installed June 10-11, will provide habitat to wildlife and serve as a destination for kayakers.

Aquatic wildlife needs structure and cover to survive and currently, says Urban Rivers, the Chicago River offers neither.

"We want to provide the fish and wildlife of the Chicago River the habitat they need to thrive," says Josh Yellin, co-founder of Urban Rivers. "The primary goal of this project is to create effective and sustainable habitat for native plants and animals."

In addition to installing the floating garden, Urban Rivers, with the help of more than 50 volunteers, planted more than 1,500 plants of 40 different species, creating habitat for plants and wildlife above and below the surface of the river.

The plan is to rehabilitate the entire east side of Goose Island to serve as the Chicago River's first urban wildlife sanctuary and extend the habitat to more than 2,000'.

Investigators eye three North Side fires

BY CWBCHICAGO.COM

Fire investigators are reviewing two recent early morning blazes in Lakeview and one in Andersonville. None of the cases had been classified as arson at press time.

Early Saturday morning more than 100 firemen responded to a fire that broke out on the third floor of a building on the 5100 block of N. Paulina. Neighbors believe it may have been caused by a charcoal barbecue being left unattended. The blaze was reported around 12:30 a.m., and spread to the two-story house next door. Four families were displaced as a result of the fire.

The second fire broke out in a parking garage beneath a Lakeview apartment complex early on June 29.

The fire spread quickly, destroying at least five cars and causing smoke damage to adjoining rental units in the building at 510 W. Briar. No one was injured in the blaze, which was reported around 1:30 a.m.

Investigators were looking at one of the destroyed vehicles and a set of dumpsters as possible points of ignition, according to a witness.

Then, on July 2, a trash can fire spread to a nearby coach house in the 1200 block of W. Fletcher around 3 a.m.

No one was injured, but a woman who lived in the building was

Questioning our numbers

Regarding your June 21 Heart of the 'Hood column where you cite statistics for the Unions League Boys & Girls Club. Too bad you didn't do some real fact checking on the numbers.

The Union League Boys & Girls Club organization utilizes a system of taking the total attendance

In addition, the club in the Humboldt Park area — the Miquel Barretto Club has serious problems with the community gangs and the staff does not have control of the facility. The problems with the gangs and the club can be confirmed with the 14th District Police Station who have visited the facility and spoken with the management.

I am a big reader of stories relating to positive programs, especially when they are provided by private organizations and during a time when government funds are being slashed with no regard to the future of thousands of individuals who will suffer with a loss of programs, but I am also a believer of the truth being printed.

Correction

Ya, we messed up

In our July 5-11 newspapers we ran a page one story headlined "Can vague promises about bringing technology to Chicago change hearts?" that was supposed to be coverage of a Civic Technology Forum hosted by Comcast held June 15 at Studio XFINTY, 901 W. Weed St.

We'd like to apologize to our readers, and Comcast, for publishing a story that was not ready for print.

Unfortunately we allowed a story to be published that in hindsight we now know was slanted and biased against Comcast and their Internet Essentials program. Our reporter did not attend the forum, did not talk to any of the participants or attendees and did not have first-hand information about what transpired in that forum. The story also included other, non-related, and negative information that questioned the motives of Comcast regarding their Internet Essentials programs, information that we recognize was irresponsible and unfortunate.

This newspaper did not properly edit or fact check that story and plans to correct the record in a re-write of the story to be published in our July 19 newspapers.

Police Beat....

Four muggings have police issuing alert

Area North detectives were working on a community alert after two robberies were reported early Sunday in Southeast Lakeview and nearby Lincoln Park.

The muggings follow similar attacks in the same area late Wednesday into early Thursday.

Most recently, a woman was beaten up and robbed by two men this morning in the 500 block of W. Briar near Broadway.

Residents called 911 after hearing the woman's screams for help as the offenders attacked her and stole her purse around 1:50 a.m.

Both robbers are black men who wore hoodies. One stood about 6'-2" tall, and the other was shorter. They fled southbound on Broadway.

Less than an hour before she was robbed, a man reported that two individuals tried to rob him at gunpoint in the 600 block of W. De-ming in Lincoln Park. The attempt failed.

The offenders are described as two black men between 18-25 years old dressed in dark clothing.

The gunman stood 6'2" to 6-5" tall, weighed about 210 lbs., and had a black hoodie pulled over his head. The second stands about 5'-10" tall. He had an Afro and was described as "sloppily dressed."

At least two similar robberies were reported in the same area earlier in the week.

- Around 11:50 p.m. July 5, a man was kicked in the head, punched and robbed by two attackers near Clark and Arlington in Lincoln Park. The offenders took the man's iPhone and a backpack that contained a Macbook before they ran southbound on Orchard, police said.

Both robbers were black men wearing black hoodies who stand between 5'-10" and 6' tall. One offender wore black shorts and the other wore black Adidas track pants, the man said. The victim was treated at Presence St. Joseph Hospital and released.

- At 1:05 a.m. July 6, a witness reported seeing two men beating up a third person in the 700 block of W. Briar—just east of the Briar Street Theater. Officers later determined that the witness was actually seeing the third man get robbed.

Similar to the nearby robbery on Arlington, the man was approached on the street by two black men wearing hoodies who stood between 5'-10" and 6' tall. The offenders beat their victim, took his wallet, phone and backpack, then fled eastbound on foot.

The victim was treated by an ambulance crew for cuts and abrasions suffered in the attack.

More shots fired at Wilson and Racine — third incident in two weeks

Police found six shell casings after shots were fired in Uptown Saturday evening.

Witnesses reported seeing a large group of men running southbound from Magnolia and Wilson after shots rang out at 9:55 p.m.

Saturday's incident was at least the third shooting or attempted shooting near Wilson and Racine since June 22.

A 27-year-old Uptown gang member was shot in the leg outside of Truman College late Thursday night. The incident was the second shooting attempt at the intersection in recent weeks.

The man was on the street near Wilson and Racine around 11:55 p.m. when someone fired shots from a blue Chevy Spark that then fled north on Clark St., witnesses said.

He was taken to Advocate Illinois Masonic Medical Center where his condition was stabilized.

On June 22, shots were fired from a blue Hyundai just before 3 p.m., according to police.

A bullet struck a man's phone which was in his pants pocket, according to a source. The 29-year-old was seen limping away from the scene due to the bullet's impact, but the shot did not pierce his skin, and no report was taken.

Lincoln Square pair arrested for damage to Trump Tower

Lincoln Square residents Jessica Bryant, 31, and Shirley Sexton, 54, were both part of a July 7 protest that now finds each facing a misdemeanor charge of reckless condition, according to police. They and four other defendants claimed to be part of a Greenpeace protest that found them unfurling a banner off the 16th floor of Trump Tower that caused approximately $20,000 in damages to the iconic and symbolic building named after the 45th president.

Around 2:30 p.m. July 7 traffic on the Chicago river was halted so the banner could be secured and cut down. This was after it had already damaged the railings and windows located below the 16th floor. Both women live on the 4900 block of N. Western Ave.

LSD-packin' skater took stolen City golf cart on CPD Half-Pipe, prosecutors say

A Franklin Park skater who got bored with his board is accused of taking a stolen city golf cart on the half-pipe at Wilson Skate Park near Montrose Beach.

Tony Tarasiuk, 26, stole the golf cart from Sydney Marovitz golf course around 5 p.m. June 25 and then raced it to the skate park for a little fun, prosecutors say.

And police say he was carrying two tabs of LSD, too, according to charges.

A golf course employee saw Tarasiuk take the cart and directed responding officers to the skateboard course at Wilson moments later.

Cops arrested Tarasiuk and gave the E-Z-GO cart back to the golf worker for safe keeping.

Tarasiuk is charged with theft of over $500 and possession of a controlled substance.

Attempted robbery near Paulina Market

A Lakeview man reported that he escaped a would-be robbery near Paulina Market, 3501 N. Lincoln, around 11 p.m. July 5.

He told police that he noticed a white SUV with large brake lights circling the area before the driver parked his car and the two occupants ran up to him.

The men implied that they had a weapon, but the victim managed to slip away and run home before they could get anything. Both suspects were black men who stood about 5'-8" tall. One wore a white hoodie, one wore a red hoodie, and one of them had dreadlocks, the victim said.

In other Lakeview hold-ups:

- A woman was approached from behind and robbed by a man who claimed to have a gun near the Sheridan Red Line CTA station around 4:15 a.m. July 4. The woman was in the 3900 block of N. Sheridan when the man placed an object in her back and took her purse, the woman said. She was unable to offer a description of the offender.

- A man was robbed at almost exactly the same spot on Sheridan around 1:45 a.m. on July 3. In that case, the victim was confronted by two men who displayed a handgun and took his backpack, Timex sports watch, phone, and wallet, according to police.

Both offenders were described as black men in their late 20's between 6' and 6'-2" tall. One had long dreadlocks and wore a bomber jacket. The other had a short buzz haircut, the victim said.

- A victim was robbed by three offenders near Halsted and Welling-ton around 4 a.m. July 1. The victim offered few details about the robbers, except to say that there were three of them.

- A thief made off with a woman's cellphone at Roscoe and Halsted around 1 a.m. July 1. The offender grabbed the woman's phone and ran down the west alley of Halsted behind Roscoe's Tavern, the victim said.

She described the thief as a slim black man with a buzz cut who stands about 5'-6" tall. He was wearing a maroon or red v-neck shirt with khaki pants. Inside the victim's phone case were her credit cards and attorney ID card.

Motorist accused of pulling gun on "Critical Mass" bikers

You've probably seen -- or gotten stuck behind -- Chicago's Critical Mass bicycle tours... the seemingly mile-long stretch of bike riders who pedal their way through the streets on the last Friday of every month.

The June 30 ride, dubbed a "14-mile ride & dance party," went swim-mingly as it rolled up the Magnificent Mile then turned south in Old Town.

As the bikers headed south on Halsted at Jackson around 7:50 p.m., one motorist was allegedly not too pleased with the event.

Alexander Doty, 25, of the Chatham neighborhood is accused of displaying a handgun—either to get bike riders off of his car or to get the bike ride to let him through, depending on whose version of the story you're hearing.

A police strike team just happened to be directly behind Doty's car, and they immediately executed an arrest, the department said.

Doty is charged with one count of aggravated unlawful use of a loaded weapon without a firearms owner identification card.

"I saw the four officers jump out of a vehicle and remove the weapon from his hand, eject the rounds from the magazine and handcuff him," a bicyclist said.

Another biker said some riders "just got out of control and sat on the [Doty's] hood. That's when he put the car in park and went to the trunk of his auto to fetch the gun."

"Have you ever been shot?" Paroled again and again and again, man now charged with Blue Line robbery

Since 1993, he's been to prison for, among other things, attempted murder, armed robbery, narcotics (twice), and aggravated discharge of a firearm.

The K9 — dedicated to "Friends Of The Town Hall District" — has been decorated by students of The Nettelhorst School, 3252 N. Broadway.

Town Hall neighbors raise $3,300 for fallen officers

BY CWBCHICAGO.COM

Fifty-five Lakeview-area residents and businesses have teamed up to raise $3,325 for families of Chicago police officers who have been killed or critically injured in the line of duty.

The citywide campaign, K9s for Cops, is an effort to raise money for the Chicago Police Memorial Foundation and the PAWS Chicago no-kill animal shelter by sponsoring giant police K9 statues that will be displayed along the Magnificent Mile starting July 23.

The K9 — dedicated to "Friends Of The Town Hall District" — has been decorated by students of The Nettelhorst School, 3252 N. Broadway.

Nettelhorst teachers used the project as an opportunity for students to learn more about police work, K9 patrols, and the 32 Chicago officers who have fallen in service to the Town Hall police district since 1894.

Students brainstormed designs and personally completed the K9 statue, which they named "Savior." The piece is now being prepared for its Mag Mile debut.

Fallen 19th District Officer Richard Francis.

After public display ends on Labor Day, the Town Hall K9 will return to Nettelhorst School.

News of the successful drive came on the ninth anniversary of the line-of-duty death of 19th District Officer Richard Francis.

Francis was a 60-year-old, 27-year veteran of the department when he responded solo to a seemingly routine call of a CTA bus disturbance at 1:45 a.m. July 2, 2008.

As he arrived on-scene, just a block from the police station at 2452 W. Belmont, Francis recognized the unruly passenger. Robin Johnson was a familiar face for him and other officers in the district.

As Francis stood near Johnson, she disarmed and shot him. Francis fell to the ground and laid motionless as Johnson shot him two more times. He died at the scene.

Johnson then shot at responding officers who returned fire — 20 shots fired in seven seconds, according to reports.

She survived and is serving a life sentence.

Francis is survived by his wife Deborah; and two step-daughters.

Now Donnie Ray Fisher is charged with robbery. Again.

Around 2 a.m. June 25, with his left hand concealed in his jacket pocket, Fisher offered some idle conversation to a man on the Blue Line: "Have you ever been shot?"

"Can you imagine the pain?" Standing up, Fisher leaned on the man with his forearm, according to the police account. "Don't do it. Don't do it," he warned, grabbing away the man's cellphone and then jumping off at the Damen station.

The victim followed him and reported the robbery to a station attendant. Police say they found Fisher nearby with not one, not two, not three, but four phones in his pocket.

Fisher claimed that he owned three of them and that he had just "found" the fourth at the Damen stop. The fourth one, of course, belonged to the Streeter-ville man.

Cops say Fisher is a New Breed gang member. His bail is set at $200,000.

According to state records, Fisher has received the following prison sentences:

- 6 years for manufacture-delivery of cocaine in 2013
- 25 years for aggravated discharge of a firearm in 1999
- 5 years for being a felon in possession of a firearm in 1999
- 4 years for violating the controlled substances act in 1993
- 10 years for attempted murder in 1993
- 10 years for armed robbery in 1993

Kathy O'Malley Piconne and Dick Duchossois

AND THEY'RE OFF: Yes, that was Kathy O'Malley Piconne, Myra Reilly, Cookie Cohen and members of the Service Club of Chicago's "Day at the Races" honoring Dick Duchossois at his Arlington Racetrack.

LOYOLA'S FIRST LADY: Lovely Dori Wilson was front and center at Loyola University's President's Dinner celebrating Dr. Jo Ann Rooney, Loyola's first female president, with 400 guests in the transformed university gym, along with TV guest speaker politico Cokie Roberts.

BIRTHDAY HONORS: The Queen, Elizabeth II, disburses honors to her subjects on New Year's Day and on her birthday, June 10th each year... this year American actress Olivia De Havilland (100) was made a Dame of the British Empire; the outrageous Scottish comedian Bill Connelly was given a knighthood; Harry Potter's creator J.K. Rowling was given the Order of the British Empire, and celebrity cook Delia Smith was made a Commander of the British Empire. And in the past weeks, angry over Brexit, Irish rock star Bob Geldof announced he would be returning his knighthood as a protest.

WHO'S WHERE: Cynthia Olson returning from foreign travels celebrating at the DuSable Museum Gala and the stunning CSO concert with Maestro Riccardo Muti and the Children's Chorus... the Drake Hotel's Shaun Rajah air-bound and on his way to Tokyo, Kuala Lumpur, Bangkok and Bali... Steve and Elizabeth Dargan Gardner and Family feeling the cool ocean breezes in Bar Harbor and munching on lobster sandwiches... Chicago DJ Madrid Perry in Santorini, Greece... Jonathan Doria Pamphij and his sweet family have checked in at Paloma Plage in Cap Ferrat on the Riviera... Bruce DuMont from the Broadcast Museum across the street to the House of Blues for John Bohannon... Eileen and John Chambers have returned from their Rhine Cruise that was jammed with magic and Rhine music with some needed R&R at Lake Como at the end... Mark O'Malley in Dublin at the Irish Derby with Rose O'Neill... Bill Babcock and John Vespo lunching with friends from the Gold Coast at Greek Islands... congrats to WTTW's Paris Alexander Schutz for his stirring rendition of "America the Beautiful"... former TV newsie Mary Laney tossed yet another fabulous Independence Day soiree at her Evanston manse... Lisa Smyth visiting Park City, UT, for the Kenny Wayne Shepherd concert... Buddy Guy making joy at Ravinia... Shelly MacArthur Farley was hostess with the mostest in Kennebunkport.

THEY DO: Chicago society is jumpin' for joy as its darlings Kipper Lance and Bud Hendrick have decided to tie the knot and their engagement announcement at the Breakers in Palm Beach was so fitting. All are sending their quick approval, no finer couple is there.

WEDDING BELLS AND BUBBLY: Margaret McNulty and Kevin O'Brien were wed in an elegant liturgical celebration in Lake Forest with a crowd of relatives and friends from across the country filling the earth with cheer and romance and lots of very cold bubbly. The couple are planning to live in that city where Tony Bennett left his heart.

WHO'S AFRAID? Artists face a strange dilemma as they face death. If they are hard workers they write and paint and compose right up to the end. But what happens to the works left unfinished? What becomes of an incomplete painting or tune or play? America's great playwright, Edward Albee, who helped recreate theater here, had his own answer leading up to his death last year. Works left undone were to be destroyed. Of course, it's hugely controversial. There are those who believe that such extreme measures are too extreme. But the author of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," "Three Tall Women," "A Delicate Balance," and so much more, Albee held tight reins on his finished works when alive. His unfinished work perplexed him. His executors have now said they will follow his final wishes. Art looks very different to many people. No one more so than the artist. His will be done!

IN THE LIBRARY WITH A CANDLESTICK: What famous library noted for valuable manuscripts and erudite readers doubled as the Tunnel of Love when a visiting celebrity was given a very intimate insiders' tour of the rarest of the collections. Seems that while attempting to retrieve a first edition copy of Joyce's "Ulysses," a student employee discovered the celebrity and a gentleman staffer engaged in their own library research amid the stacks. Joyce would have been proud. Staffer kept their trap shut but did get front of the house tickets to a concert.

Kevin O'Brien and Margaret McNulty

BOOKGATE: What local alderman was irate when they attempted to take out some children's literature for their grandchildren, from their local Chicago Public Library, only to be told that they had overdue fines and books that badly needed returning? I'm told the moral outrage was horrific. People's jobs threatened. Accusations of incompetence levied against staffers and warnings of financial repercussions against the library by the elected official who was demanding amnesty and an apology. Apparently the alderman believes that the library is an extension of their office and the rules don't apply to them. Seems the superintendent's people extinguished the flames of outrage and did provide cancelation of all fines, provided the books are returned. Rumors say that the alderman is stating that there was a break-in at their office in which the books went missing.

BOOK 'EM DANN: What local Democratic boss managed to get his new girlfriend a job at the Chicago Public Library because the soon-to-retire librarian there was herself a former plaything for the party leader back in the 1990s? The boss's demands for love and attention were way too cruel.

BIBLIO-FILE: What local cultural center is suddenly a battleground among rival factions from the old country and the new? While some fresh immigrants see the facility as a comfort and educational prize, other newer arrivals want to be more thoroughly Americanized. Must be why there is so much competition among the rival groups trying to pull a fast one and sell the very valuable property. It's generational and cultural warfare as the rivals deny what's happening and some internal scandals are festering enough to make the hardliners fearful over their scandalous behavior, which is said to keep local ethnic churchmen and politicians at arms length in the dispute.

Another man found dead at Boystown bath house; second death of the year

A 31-year-old man has been pronounced dead after being found unresponsive in Steamworks Baths, 3246 N. Halsted, early Tuesday morning. Police are conducting a death investigation.

The incident is the second death since January at Steamworks Baths. Town Hall police responded to a call of an unresponsive man around 5:10 a.m., according to Chicago police spokesman Jose Estrada. The man was transported to Advocate Illinois Masonic Medical Center where he was pronounced dead.

The cause of death has not been determined and Area North detectives are conducting a death investigation, Estrada said.

A police source said the man was found in or near room 308 of the sprawling bath house facility. Evidence of GHB drug use was found, the source said.

Steamworks Baths, 3246 N. Halsted

GHB is a common club drug that is used to increase sex drive but is also used to facilitate date rape.

This is the second death investigation of the year for homicide detectives and evidence technicians. On Jan. 23, a 36-year-old suburban man was found dead in the bath house's jacuzzi and sauna area.

Robbery report

A Lincoln Park man was robbed early June 28 while walking in the 2400 block of N. Lakeview, police said. The victim was approached by a man and a woman—both wearing masks—who pulled out a gun and went through his pockets around 12:40 a.m.

Both offenders then fled eastbound on Fullerton in a silver vehicle, the victim said. The man's credit cards were used about an hour after the hold-up near Armitage and Sheffield and again near North Ave. and Elston. But the duo slipped away.

Two muggers punched a man in the face and robbed him near Sheffield and School on Saturday afternoon.

The man said both offenders fled westbound on the 1000 block of W. School after robbing him around 2:40 p.m.

He said both offenders were black men—one wearing a maroon shirt and the other dressed in a striped t-shirt. The second man was shorter than the first.

A North Center woman reported being robbed by three men on the corner of Belmont and Leavitt early on June 24.

The muggers took the woman's purse and iPhone then fled northbound on Leavitt around 2:40 a.m. She said the three offenders were black men in their late teens to early 20's. One is 6' tall and he wore a white t-shirt with jeans. The other two were between 5'-7" and 5'-10" tall and weighed 150-160 lbs.

Prosecutors: felon brandished handgun after Pride Parade

Police have identified a man who allegedly brandished a firearm after this year's Chicago Pride Parade. Phillip Cruz, 24, of Elgin displayed a firearm while asking another man for his gang affiliation as crowds left Boystown around 5:30 p.m. June 24, police said.

Cruz ran when officers tried to conduct a field interview, but he was quickly captured in the 3100 block of N. Broadway, a spokesman said, adding that a weapon was recovered from the scene. Prosecutors said Cruz claimed that he was holding the gun for a girl.

Cruz is charged with being a felon in possession of a firearm, aggravated assault, and resisting-obstructing arrest. His bail is set at $100,000.

Court records show that Cruz was sentenced to prison for possessing a stolen motor vehicle in 2012.

Still pending this morning were charges against a woman who was arrested after brandishing a handgun near Oakdale and Sheffield June 24 and a man who robbed a woman near the Belmont Red Line station during the parade.

Police warn of Lincoln Square residential burglaries

Police are warning residents of residential burglaries that occurred in the Lincoln Square neighborhood. In these burglaries, the unknown offender(s) gained entry into the residence through an unlocked door or window and removed property from Construction on the inbound platform of the Ravenswood Metra Station is set to start now that the Metra Board of Directors has approved the contracts to build the inbound half of the Ravenswood Station.

The contracts involves the replacement of 11 bridges on the Union Pacific North Line in Chicago, from Grace to Balmoral streets. The scope of work includes, but is not limited to, replacement of existing stone abutments, retaining wall construction, steel spans and decks. Also, all new track work will be accomplished between the bridges, including the replacement of wood ties with concrete ties. The Ravenswood Station will be rebuilt making the station platforms ADA accessible.

The cost of this phase of the project is $32.7 million: $17.2 million for bridge replacement and $15.5 million for the inbound half of the station, which is now is reportedly the busiest on the UP North Line outside of downtown.

Start to finish, construction is expected to last for two or more years. Metra says that the existing bridges are more than a century old and can no longer be economically repaired and maintained. When done the new Ravenswood inboard covered platform will be longer, offer warming shelters, new lighting, ramps and vendor space.

Metra also announced a plan to repair the bridges that carry the UP North Line over Webster Ave. and the North Branch of the Chicago River (known as the Deering Bridge). This project, costing $15.5 million, will take place concurrently with the Ravenswood construction and is expected to last a year.

Food of America’s immigrants served up at St. Ita’s

St. Ita’s Catholic Church in Edgewater, 5500 N. Broadway, will become the North Side’s international food center when its Tastes of Summer returns Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. when immigrant chefs and local parishioners will serve up specialties from across the globe.

St. Ita’s is considered one of Chicago’s most ethnically diverse church with about 40 languages spoken by over 1,000 parishioners. Proceeds will benefit the church’s programs and outreach to the neighborhood and entertainment will be included with live ethnic music, dancing and organized children’s activities throughout the day.

Food tickets are $5, for more information call 773-484-7455.

“Our immigrant chefs are truly excited about showcasing their ethnic specialties. We feature food from Central America, Columbia, Venezuela, Burma, Vietnam, the Philippines, Nigeria, Poland and Mexico. American favorites like hotdogs and burgers, along with Philly cheesesteaks are also available,” said Mike Magada, co-chair of the event. “This is a great example of how different immigrant groups working together celebrate what makes America great - its cultural diversity.”

attractive city and increased property values.

Rezoning of the area would be needed for the developer’s project and would require the alderman’s stamp of approval. A show of hands for an informational vote was taken at the community meeting, and the proposed plan was overwhelmingly rejected by a majority of the large crowd. Ald. Osterman supported the majority vote and vowed that he wouldn’t push for the upgraded zoning at the present time.

“I want to save the building, I will do everything possible to make sure neither proposal goes through.”

The Aidan Development Corporation is a Chicago-based company that specializes in commercial and business property. It was founded in 2008. Another community meeting is planned, although no date has been set.

Commissioner Jesús “Chuy” García. That new tax goes into affect this Saturday. She thinks people in her area will be negatively affected by the penny-per-ounce tax, and that realization was what drove her towards running for the seat.

“The beverage tax disproportionately affects people in poor and marginalized communities. Those communities are more inclined to buy sugary beverages because they cannot afford natural fruit juice,” Amiwala said. “That was when I realized the perspective of someone who has worked in marginalized communities is needed because it became clear their voices were not being heard.”

While her parents emigrated from Pakistan 20 years ago, Amiwala grew up in Skokie. As a young Muslim woman, she was aware at an early age of both the “privileges and oppressors” that marginalized people encounter.

“I feel like growing up a Muslim woman, people hold certain stereotypes in regards to how I should act and the way they viewed

Roof caves in on Thorndale

Police sealed off the entrance to the alley next to 1128 N. Thorndale following the collapse of a garage roof behind that building. The Fire Dept., the City Building Dept. and gas and electrical utilities responded to the 8:05 a.m. call on July 4. There were no injuries, and the garage that housed an auto repair facility has been demolished.

me was almost discouraging. I did not want to fit the stereotype of Muslim women being shy, timid and passive.”

Shy, timid and passive Amiwala is not. On a mission to smash the stereotypes about Muslim women, she is campaigning to win, but running against a 15 year incumbent is already proving to be a challenge. Suffredin “already has the benefit of name recognition, support within the community, and connections throughout it,” she says, but Amiwala is ready for a fight. She is already in the preliminary stages of fundraising and gathering the 500 signatures required to run for the position.

Though she is young and inexperienced, her candidacy is as much symbolic as it is real.

“Running [for the position] would mean a lot more, it serves a greater purpose. I’m a firm believer of be the change you want to see and this is my way of embodying that,” Amiwala said.
