Shootout in Wrigleyville

More violence could be coming to North Side as splinter groups break away from established gangs

BY CWBCHICAGO.COM

A 19-year-old Evanston man is charged with one felony count of aggravated discharge of a firearm in connection with Sunday morning's gun battle in Wrigleyville. It is the second time the man has faced firearms charges this year.

Ralph Banks was arrested by police who pursued him from the shooting scene on foot. He was taken into custody near the Wrigleyville McDonald's drive-thru minutes after dozens of shots were fired near Patterson and Racine.

A .40 caliber loaded handgun was also recovered, according to police.

In January, Banks was charged with aggravated use of a loaded firearm, reckless discharge of a firearm, possession of ammunition, two counts of resisting police, and one count of reckless conduct in connection with an incident in Chicago's Englewood neighborhood, police records show.

On Sunday one man was shot when 86 rounds were fired during a wild gunfight less than a block from Wrigley Field. One shot was fired by police who were already on-scene handling a report of a large group making noise on the street.

At least three firearms were recovered at various locations along the 1100 block of W.

Rising North Side violence

The Wrigleyville shootout is believed to be part of an increasingly violent conflict between splinter groups that have broken away from established Chicago gangs such as the Gangster Disciples.

These splinter groups, with innocuous names like Day Day World, Pooh Bear Gang, L4M, and GetRich, are re-drawing old alliances and reigniting old rivalries according to law enforcement.

Also new is the groups' reasons for turning to violence. Whereas established street gangs often used violence to claim new territories or as enforcement, the new groups often act out after they feel "dissed" by the content of an online music video or a taunt from an opposing gang member on social media.

Following the Wrigleyville shootout, police supervisors have ordered officers to conduct a "post-shooting mission" in the Uptown neighborhood and along Howard St. in Rogers Park in anticipation of retaliatory strikes by rival gang factions.

Patterson Ave. following the incident.

Police chased several people who fled the shooting on foot. Banks was caught and is in custody for questioning.

The shots rang out at 3:07 a.m. Sunday near the intersection of Racine and Patterson in Wrigleyville. A witness told this newspaper that some individuals involved had been attending a party in the area.

Changes coming to Pensacola Place as new owner takes over

Ald. James Cappleman [46th] said he'll support new plans for additional townhouses and apartments at Pensacola Place, 4334 N. Hazel, as requested by the property's new owners.

The 34-year-old, 18-story, 264-unit Stanley Tigerman-designed building was bought earlier this year by Waterton Associates for $65.8 million at a time when much of the eastern end of the Uptown area has been undergoing serious gentrification.

Nevertheless, the approximately 30 affordable housing units will remain, a Waterton executive promised. Waterton representatives told DNAinfo there are no plans to raise rents in the affordable units. "They can stay as long as they want," promised Waterton Vice President Mark Stern.

The new owners also plan to renovate the common areas and amenities, such as the "dated"

Plans also call for replacing a tennis court with cabanas and barbeque pits, according to Crain's. Also planned are workout facilities (there's already a World Gym in the building), laundry room and business center, and possibly more apartment units.

"We're just not sure what or how many yet," Stern said.

The building also includes a Jewel/Osco supermarket.

Signed, sealed, delivered... solving Chicago's receiving dilemma

Medill News Service

Package receiving services are in hot demand, something LT Distributing owner Thomas Demme quickly discovered after becoming the first U.S. company to sell lockable parcel delivery boxes, called iBins, designed to thwart package thieves.

Within a matter of weeks, Demme's St. Charles-based business expanded to include a receiving center that can hold customers' packages for them, and then deliver them to their homes when it's convenient.

The service is handling almost 90 packages per day and has been particularly popular with young working couples and families in Chicago's Bucktown, Lakeview and Roscoe Village neighborhoods.

"People don't want their packages left outside for three reasons: theft, missed delivery, and protection against the elements," Demme said.

Roughly 10% of Americans — approximately 23 million people — have had a package stolen, according to a November InsuranceQuotes.com survey conducted by Princeton Survey Research Associate International.

It's a problem that's expected to grow this holiday season, after a record-breaking online cyber shopping.

Demme understood this dilemma. Besides his distribution business, founded in 2010, he also owned the franchise rights to a pressure-washing company that did residential work. He noticed that many houses in the city had packages and dry cleaning left on their doorsteps.

After searching for a solution, he eventually found the iBin, manufactured in the U.K., and decided to bring that product to the U.S.

The iBin, which costs $899 with shipping anywhere in the U.S., is designed for people who are not at their homes during the day, but frequently need to have packages, groceries or dry cleaning delivered. Each delivery service can have its own digital code, which can be changed at any time.

Chicago’s first riot

The Great Beer Riot was a fight for immigrant rights

BY PATRICK BUTLER

Chicago’s first real riot is almost forgotten, but East Lakeview residents John Hogan and Judy Brady hope to change that.

After all, the 1855 Lager Beer Riot was as much a blow for liberty and equal treatment as any other civil rights protest before or since, Hogan said before signing copies of his third book, The Great Chicago Beer Riot, (History Press, 112 pages, $21.99) last weekend at DANK Haus, 4740 N. Western Ave.

Shortly after his election as Chicago’s 17th mayor in 1855, Levi Day Boone [Daniel Boone’s grand-nephew] closed the saloons on Sunday and raised tavern owners’ yearly taxes sixfold (from $50 to $300) ostensibly to discourage drinking on the Sabbath.

What he was really trying to do was make life even more miserable than it often was for the Germans and Irish. To both those immigrant communities, Boone’s actions seemed a “deliberate provocation” by the militantly anti-immigrant Know Nothing Party, whose politics “sounded a lot like one of today’s presidential candidates whose name I won’t mention here,” Hogan winked.

Boone not only shut down the German bierstubes and Irish pubs, while allowing booze to continue flowing freely at WASP hangouts like Tremont House, he fired every Irish and German cop on the force and promptly replaced them only with men who could prove they were born in the United States.

While he was at it, Dr. Boone (he was also a practicing MD) delivered a sermon in a major church at least once on how the Bible endorsed slavery and often fulminated against the influx of Catholics coming into Chicago.

By April 21, Chicago’s immigrants had had enough. Armed mobs – mostly from the German and Irish North Side neighborhoods – stormed City Hall. Before it was over, a German rioter was dead, 19 were injured and 60 were locked up.

Germans organized to resist the $300 license ordinance, raising defense funds for tavern owners arrested for noncompliance. Prosecutions clogged the city courts and attorneys scheduled a test case for April 21. This, in effect, scheduled the riot.

A huge crowd assembled to support the defendants. Mayor Boone ordered police to clear the courthouse area, which resulted in nine arrests. An armed group from the North Side German community decided to rescue the prisoners, but Boone held them off by keeping the Clark St. drawbridge raised until he was able to assemble more than 200 policemen. When the bridge was lowered and North Siders surged across, shooting began. Boone called in the militia, and the riot ended in minutes.

Although Boone claimed victory, Chicago was never the same, said Hogan, noting that

Boone not only shut down the German bierstubes and Irish pubs, while allowing booze to continue flowing freely at WASP hangouts like Tremont House, he fired every Irish and German cop on the force and promptly replaced them only with men who could prove they were born in the United States.

Boone was not only defeated in the next election, but saw the creation of a professionalized police department.

The aftermath also included development of a national network of political alliances that helped put Abraham Lincoln in as the nominee of the newly created Republican party, said Hogan, a retired WGN TV/radio reporter and author of books on the Chicago Stock Yards Fire, Forgotten Fires of Chicago, and the 1937 Republic Steel strike (all published by History Press). His wife and co-author Judy Brady has produced plays for Rotary International and has for years been an anti-discrimination activist.

Court says red light camera program constitutional, tosses class action vs city, vendors

BY JONATHAN BILYK
Cook County Record

A federal judge has slapped a permanent stop sign on a class action lawsuit against the city of Chicago and the vendors it uses to administer its red light camera program, saying the city should be allowed under state law and the Illinois and U.S. constitutions to delegate the task of reviewing potential red light citations to administrators and technicians hired by the vendors.

On Wednesday, Dec. 9, U.S. District Judge Amy St. Eve dismissed the lawsuit brought by plaintiff Matthew Falkner, who had argued the city and its vendors should pay back the amounts improperly collected from people forced to pay the fines under the allegedly illegal traffic citation program.

“The relevant statutes detail a thorough framework governing the red light violation, the automated red light traffic system, and, specifically, the two-layer-technician-review process, leaving no room for the traffic compliance administrator or technicians to ‘make the law,’” St. Eve wrote. “The Act merely enables the technicians to review recorded images and determine whether a driver was crossing a particular landmark at the time the street light displayed a red signal, thereby violating red light statutes.”

“In other words, the Act simply confers the ‘authority or discretion as to [the Act’s] execution’ to the administrator and technicians, which is ‘unobjectionable.’”

The dismissal marked Falkner’s likely final try at overturning the red light camera program and securing refunds for himself and others who ran afoul of the city’s red light camera enforcement program.

In spring 2014, Falkner had first filed a class action, arguing the city’s selected red light camera program vendor, Redflex, should be forced to pay back a large portion of the more than $100 million it had collected as its administrative share of the $520 million the city had collected in red light camera traffic fines since 2003.

In that initial complaint, Falkner had argued the court should invalidate and order refunded the portion of the fines dedicated to Redflex because the vendor had stood accused of bribing Chicago city officials to secure and hold its contract to administer the red light camera program.

The bribery scandal launched lawsuits and administrative actions against Redflex and its executives. Chicago hired Xerox in 2013 to replace Redflex as the administrator of the red light camera program. IBM has served since 2003 as the city’s selected vendor to review the red light camera tickets issued by the city and its primary vendors. IBM during that time has reviewed about 500,000 potential red light violations annually.

PARScore fine-tuned to better evaluate condo association, HOAs

BY DON DeBAT

Is your condominium, or the one you are planning to buy, up to PAR?

With the condominium market now reviving in Chicago, the Private Association Rating report, or PARScore®—a high-tech data-driven analytics process that helps condo buyers evaluate their home purchase in advance—is becoming more and more popular among consumers.

“The PARScore is similar to a credit score for condominium and homeowners associations, or a CARFAX® for condos,” said Michael Reilly, Chief Operations Officer for Association Evaluation LLC, a Chicago-based real estate data-analysis firm that created PARScore.

“Through our proprietary algorithm, we provide a standardized rating between 400 and 900,” said Sara E. Benson, CEO of the company. Financially healthy and well-run associations receive higher ratings while risky associations plagued with low bank balances, non-paying owners, special assessments and lawsuits receive lower ratings, Benson explained.

Every association is assigned a unique Permanent Identification Code (PIC). More than 140 data sets are analyzed and scored against the coded individual associations by using their patent-pending point system.

Launched in November of 2012, Association Evaluation currently has more than 70,000 homeowner associations in their proprietary database and has run scores and processed reports across the U.S. from coast to coast. Call 844-727-7267, or visit: www.AssociationEvaluation.com.

The newly designed, consumer friendly 2015 PARScore report now features a comparison algorithm: “How does your association compare?” The technology also utilizes geo-coding with longitude and latitude satellite reporting.

“Just because you live in the Gold Coast doesn’t mean your building will have a 24-karat gold PARScore,” noted Benson. “Wealthy neighborhoods can be an asset due to the walkability, proximity to recreation, and quality of life, but there may also be individual buildings representing high risk to a new buyer.”

Some vintage Gold Coast buildings have had lower scores due to low reserves balances, lawsuits, and deferred maintenance. Life safety compliance is also an issue in many older buildings.

“Always remember condominium and homeowner association boards are run by volunteer homeowners with different backgrounds, experience and goals,” Reilly said. These boards of directors have a major impact on the financial health of an association. That fiscal (and physical) health will directly impact their score.

Some condo boards make decisions that may negatively impact the other owners: for example, instead of investing in the future mechanicals and infrastructures, the board may choose to spend money on redecorating the lobbies or outfitting the workout room with new equipment, leaving few to no dollars left for critical infrastructure maintenance.

“Following a professionally prepared reserve-study plan should rule the investment dollars spent from the association’s reserve fund,” Benson said.

Imagine two identical buildings standing side-by-side on the North Side. Both are six-unit 1920s walk-up buildings. One building has $60,000 in the reserve fund and 100% owner occupancy, with a strong condo board. The other building has no money in the reserve fund, less than 50% owner occupancy, and a condo board with no leadership.

“Although the location, age, and materials of construction may be identical, owners in the first building may expect their sale prices to be nearly double than those in the second building,” Benson explained. “PARScore will reflect that.”

The highest achievable rating is 900 and indicates the most creditworthy and healthy associations. Lower ratings reflect associations with high assessment delinquencies, excessive foreclosures, high non-owner occupancy, pending lawsuits, low financial reserves, and known unabated health hazards such as mold and radon, for example.

Association Evaluation recently conducted a survey to analyze scores condominium associations have posted in popular Chicago neighborhoods. The results of the survey follow:

- Loop, East Loop & River North. With a mix of vintage rehabs and newer high-rise buildings, the PARScore range runs from 640 to 800. The area is bounded by Congress St. on the south, Lake Michigan on the east, Chicago Ave. on the north, and the Kennedy Expressway on the west.
- South Loop. This area, with many newer high-rise buildings, has an average score of 770. The area is bounded by Roosevelt Rd. on north, Cermak Rd. on the south, the lake on the east and the Chicago River on the west.
- West Loop. Scores range from 660 to 810 depending on whether the project was new construction or a conversion of an older loft building—and the extent of the developer’s rehabilitation of the building. The area is bounded by Halsted St. on the east, Lake St. on the north, Ashland Ave. on the west, and Congress St. on the south.
- Gold Coast & Streeterville. Scores run from 700 to 830. The Gold Coast is bounded by Oak St. on the south, North Ave. on the north, the lake on the east and LaSalle St. on the west. Streeterville is bounded by the Chicago River on the south, the lake on the east, Michigan Ave. on the west and East Lake Shore Dr. on the north.

- Lincoln Park & Old Town. Scores vary dramatically and range from 570 to 880. The area is bounded by Lincoln Park and LaSalle St. on the east, Division St. on the south, Diversey Pkwy. on the north, and the Chicago River on the west.
- “The wide range in scores reflects rental ratios, building maintenance, association-loan balances, insurance, lawsuits, whether the association has conducted (and is following) a recent reserve study, and if an association recently levied a special assessment,” Benson said. Some newer, well-funded luxury owner-occupied buildings enjoyed exceedingly high scores.
- Lakeview & Wrigleyville. Scores average around 720. Some buildings had building-code violations which affected their score. The area is bounded by the lake on the east, Diversey Pkwy. on the south, Irving Park Rd. on the north and the Chicago River on the west.
- Uptown, Edgewater & Rogers Park. The average score for the area is 710. Scores vary widely based on the age and type of building. “Many high-rise buildings constructed and/or converted during the condo boom of the 1970s are now in need of substantial renovation of mechanical systems—elevators, roofs, masonry and balconies,” Benson noted.

Some older, walk-up buildings have experienced higher scores depending on the amount of reserves compared to the number of units in the association. The area is bounded by the lake on the east, Irving Park Rd. on the south, Howard St. on the north and Ashland Ave. on the west.

- Outlying Chicago neighborhoods. Scores range as high as 875 and as low as 405.

Depending on the size of the association, or number of units, pricing—including a site visit and PARScore rating—ranges from $300 to $850.

“Collected data includes direct investigations with association directors and/or property managers, and on-site inspections of the communities,” said Reilly. “Additional data sources include monitoring corporate filings such as lawsuits, judgments, bankruptcies, and the certificate of good standing with the Secretary of State’s office.”

Financial reporting includes verification of operating and reserve-account monies. Board minutes are examined for adherence to standard accepted business protocol procedures and to ensure against unexpected and costly special assessments that have been discussed by the association’s directors, but not yet levied at the time of sale.

Lincoln Park goes to the birds

100 Feathered flyers take turns landing on Happy Play owner Una Lutin to investigate the snack stick that she brought into the Bird room to entice them with.

Happy Play offers avian therapy

Una Lutin is just covered in birds. She has three on her head and several others are in constant motion on her arms and shoulders. In fact the entire room is filled with 100-some brightly colored, loudly chirping parakeets who are flocking to any human landing strip in sight.

It isn't a scene from an Alfred Hitchcock movie. It's the bird room at a brand new store in Lincoln Park called Happy Play, 2346 N. Clark St., and since it faces out onto Clark St., it's causing quite a visual sensation.

Created by Una Lutin and her sister Elya, the store is a bird pet store, a rescue shelter for wayward bunnies and an elaborate indoor play center for pre-school children.

You can go into the bird room with a snack stick and be greeted by many of the dozens of cage-free flyers who have become quickly sociable to visitors and can't wait to nestle on the top of your head or any other available body part they can land on.

Or you can go down the hall to the bunny room and spend some quality time with one of the three current white hares.

According to their website, playing with a furry or feathered friend can elevate your levels of serotonin and dopamine and create a sense of calmness and relaxation. Perfect for the pre-holidays.

"It's a brand new concept," says Luin. "My sister and I both have children and we realize that there are so many benefits to having animals and children together."

Edgewater holiday hunt

The Edgewater Chamber of Commerce is "hiding" 75 bags filled with local goodies – gift certificates, gifts and Edgewater swag – in stores along the Broadway business corridor over the next few weeks. Each bag will contain items valued at over $40. When a shopper finds a bag, they'll find instructions encouraging them to post about the bag on social media and tag it #shopedgewater. For more information call 773-561-6000.

Kids' winter gear drive

North Siders can celebrate the spirit of giving this holiday season by donating new or gently used coats, hats, scarves, gloves, boots or snowsuits for boys and girls to the Community Counseling Centers of Chicago (C4) who will place them with families in need.

All sizes from infant to teens are welcome and will be distributed. Drop-off sites: Monday-Friday at C4 Clark: 4740 N. Clark St. (8:30 a.m.-7 p.m.); C4 North: 2542 W. North Ave. (8:30 a.m.-8 p.m.); C4 Peterson: 2525 N. Peterson Ave., (8:30 am-7 p.m., note: 5 p.m. on Fridays). For more information email events@c4chicago.org.

CTA Red Line disruptions this weekend

The CTA's Red Line service will see disruptions Friday through Monday as Red Line northbound trains will run express form Sheridan to Howard.

The northbound (to Howard) Red Line trains will bypass the Wilson, Lawrence, Argyle, Berwyn, Bryn Mawr, Thorndale, Granville, Loyola, Morse and Jarvis stations beginning at 10 p.m. Friday until 4 a.m. Monday.

The stations will remain open. Customers who want to travel northbound (to Howard) from the affected stations need first to travel south to Sheridan and transfer to a northbound (to Howard) train. Northbound (to Howard) customers who want to exit at the affected stations will need to travel to Howard and transfer to a southbound (to 95th/Dan Ryan) train.

Southbound trains will serve all stations during this time. Customers are advised to allow extra travel time.

Neighbors at a Nov. 16 meeting called by Ald. Capplemann.

The new plans don't require a zoning change, but do need the adlerman's approval. Waterton executives expect the renovation to take up to two years, starting next spring, Ald. Capplemann said earlier this month.

Rents in Pensacola Place's "non-affordable" units currently run from $1,249 a month for a studio to $1,800 for a two-bedroom unit. But Waterton reportedly expects to increase those rents as a growing number of tenants fleeing increasingly more pricey housing in Lincoln Park and Lakeview are already pouring north into neighborhoods like Edgewater and Uptown, real estate sources note.

Other nearby properties including the former Cuneo Hospital site at Montrose and Clarendon and a "Tower Block" at Broadway and Sheridan are already being developed or at least in play, according to those sources.

The purchase was funded with the help of a $61.2 million loan from J.P. Morgan Chase Bank.

However, in April, St. Eve dismissed that action, saying Falkner had not demonstrated the bribery actually harmed him in any way, as, whether Redflex had paid off city officials or not, he still would have been compelled to pay $100 for running a red light at an intersection with a red light camera in 2013.

The judge allowed Falkner to file an amended complaint, which he did in May, changing his legal tact to focus his arguments on the city's alleged unconstitutional delegation of power to its contracted red light camera vendors to issue and review the $100 tickets issued to those caught running red lights by the cameras mounted at various intersections throughout the city.

St. Eve, however, said she believes the city acted within its constitutional bounds, as she said the city not only had the authority to create a red light camera enforcement program, to also delegate to others - even private contractors - the power to execute the program, as well.

Since state law requires motorists to stop at red lights, and state law gave the city the authority to establish the camera program to enforce the red light laws, the city, by hiring contractors to administer the program and review the tickets, did not unconstitutionally delegate its "sovereign power... to the public traffic compliance administrator or private review-technicians."

"Rather, it is constitutionally delegating 'the authority to execute the law,'" St. Eve said.

The judge also brushed aside Falkner's assertions the technicians, working for private companies, were serving "private interests," rather than those of the city, noting contracts indicate the vendors' pay is not linked to the number of tickets issued.

In her dismissal of Falkner's action in April, St. Eve had warned Falkner he would only be allowed one more opportunity to find a line of legal reasoning to support his legal contentions against the red light program. After dismissing his most recent complaint, St. Eve said Falkner's efforts had run out of fuel, as she dismissed his amended complaint with prejudice, meaning he cannot attempt to file a similar action against the city and its red light camera vendors again.

Correction to story on Clarendon-Montrose JDL Development

Clarendon Municipal bathing beach pavilion, circa 1920s.

Clarendon Beach was once one of city's most popular destinations

BY DAN R. LAYMAN
Special to Inside

Thanks so much for your December 9 articles informing your readers of progress on this long-delayed [Uptown] development [at Montrose and Clarendon] on this large and sadly abandoned site.

It should be noted that Clarendon Beach was one of the first municipal projects that involved women, including Women's Suffrage leader and neighborhood resident Mrs. Edwin L. Stillman, to participate in the planning of the beach.

Just a slight point of correction. The last day of swimming and public use of this beach was on Labor Day weekend of 1929, as landfill for Montrose Harbor and Lake Shore Dr. extension had already begun by 1926 and was quite far along by 1929. The LSD extension and new Montrose Harbor opened around 1935.

Clarendon Beach was touted as Chicago's first "public" beach - there had been private membership beaches previous to the 1915 opening of Clarendon Beach (a privately owned membership beach at Wilson Ave. in fact remained for many years and its "exclusive" membership policies provided some of the impetus for creating a truly public beach just south of it at Clarendon).

Clarendon Beach was so successful that a Chicago Tribune article said that it was changing Chicagoan's vacationing habits - causing more people to stay in the city for summer recreation and drawing more tourists from throughout the Chicago area and even from neighboring states and had the potential to increase the trolley and road access to Clarendon Beach [Chicago Tribune, May 8, 1916 - "Chicago Faces Big Season as Summer Resort".]

The Alderman of the 25th Ward, which then included Buena Park and part of Uptown, was Henry D. Capitain, who became known as the "father of Clarendon Beach" and truly pushed for the initial $150,000 to build Clarendon and other beaches on Chicago's North Side.

The beach was immediately popular and mobbed and deemed a success for the city, so much so that Chicago Mayor Carter H. Harrison, II, listed its opening as one of the "55 Reasons" he should be re-elected.

A few in the then conservative and staid Buena Park area objected to the co-ed bathing and swim attire, but Clarendon Beach gained popularity in spite of complaints.

Experimental aircraft Air shows were soon given over the Clarendon Beach to the thrill of beach goers and those strolling along the Clarendon Boardwalk along the Clarendon entrance to the beach houses there.

It should be noted that Clarendon Beach was one of the first municipal projects that involved women, including Women's Suffrage leader and neighborhood resident Mrs. Edwin L. Stillman, to participate in the planning of the beach.

When landfill replaced Clarendon Beach, some business interests and the new alderman of the area (John Massan) pushed to locate a city college on the site

Lincoln Park's $30 M toilet

So, the Park District created 5.8 acres of sod in Lincoln Park. As Jim Matusik observed in his December 2-8 column, this is exactly the habitat that Canadian geese prefer. That non-migrating Canadian geese are there is no surprise and neither is the fact that they defecate. What is surprising is that the Chicago Park District [CPD] did not foresee the obvious.

As noted in numerous web sites, Canadian geese love manicured lawns, and there are ways to deter them. Geese will go elsewhere if the CPD replaces its sod with areas of native shrubs and trees and prairie flowers and grasses.

Native plantings provide people with benefits including shade in the summer and colorful, seasonal beauty. Native plantings also provide butterflies with host plants upon which to lay eggs and reproduce, and habitat for birds including migrating warblers and stay at home chickadees and cardinals.

Charlotte Adelman

instead of parkland. This disastrous idea was averted because city officials and school board members decided that the views of the beach from classrooms would deter students from being serious about their studies.

Lots of photos of Clarendon Beach and its buildings and the crowds that visited can be seen in the Chicago History Museum photo archives.

Police Beat.....

Bar crawl attendee faces sex charge

A 23-year-old Roscoe Village man is charged with criminal sexual abuse in connection with an incident during the annual Twelve Bars of Xmas [TBOX] bar crawl in Wrigleyville on December 12.

Sudhanshu Agrawal is accused of putting his hand into a woman’s pants outside of the Red Ivy bar around 1:35 p.m. Prosecutors say the 24-year-old victim had become separated from her friends in the event crowd and screamed for Agrawal not to touch her as he allegedly committed the abuse.

Bail for Agrawal, who lives in the 2300 block of W. School St., is set at $100,000.

Police warn citizens about Lincoln Park robberies

Police have issued a warning to Lincoln Park residents of robbery related incidents during the month of November/December. In these incidents, 2-3 armed offenders exited a vehicle, approached victims on the street and demanded their cash.

These incidents have generally occurred in the late evening hours. One robbery occurred on the 600 block of W. Kemper Pl. 11:30 p.m. November 18. A second occurred on the 2100 block of N. Lincoln Park West 11 p.m. December 10.

The offenders have been described as a 2-3 male, Hispanics, 24-26 years of age, 5’-9” to 5’-11” tall, 150-160 lbs.

The offenders may be driving in a blue or silver, 4 door Chrysler.

Police are asking anyone with information on these crimes to call the Bureau of Detectives at 312-747-8382.

Attempted luring of youths at public library on Division

A 13 year old female and a 14 year old female were in the children’s section of the Near North Branch of the Chicago Public Library 5 p.m. December 10 on the 300 block of W. Division where an offender approached them and engaged them in conversation. The offender then asked the victims to come to his house.

The offender mentioned he lived in the Cabrini Row Houses when speaking to the victims.

The offender is described as a male black male, approximately 21-25 years of age, with brown eyes, black hair and a dark complexion. He wore a red and white baseball cap, red Starter Jacket and black pants.

The offender left the Library after being confronted by a witness but not before he spoke with a small boy as he grabbed his arm. The small boy’s mother retrieved her son and left. Police are asking anyone with information about this incident to call the Area Central Detective Division at 312-747-8380 and refer to case #HY532967.

Mother blames city for son's death in high-speed chase

A Cook County woman is suing Chicago, alleging negligence for her son’s death during a high-speed chase.

Deborah Branch Bear, special administrator of the estate of Kirk Branch, filed a lawsuit Dec. 9 in Cook County Circuit Court against the city of Chicago, alleging liability for personal injury.

According to the complaint, on Jan. 25, Kirk Branch apparently violated a traffic law while driving in Chicago. As Chicago police officers chased him at high speeds of more than 90 m.p.h., the suit says, Branch lost control of the vehicle, crashing into a light pole in the 100 block of S. Ashland Ave. He later died of his injuries.

Man sues hospital for involuntary admittance

An unnamed Cook County man is suing a n Uptown hospital, alleging it involuntarily admitted him, initially denying him access to family or his attorney, when he came to the emergency room with suicidal thoughts.

John Doe filed a lawsuit Dec. 7 in Cook County Circuit Court against Signature Healthcare Services LLC, doing business as Chicago Lakeshore Hospital, 4840 N. Marine Dr., Dr. M.P. Nguyen, and licensed practical nurse Erin Hoffman, alleging false imprisonment and infliction of emotional distress.

According to the complaint, on Dec. 6, 2013, Doe came to Lakeshore on the advice of his clinical psychologist for a mental health evaluation. After a registered nurse and others evaluated him, the suit says, he was admitted against his wishes and held for the next three days.

The suit states after Nguyen evaluated the plaintiff with his attorney present, she ruled he was not a danger to himself or others, but ordered him held until his release Dec. 9, 2013.

Elementary schooler threatened with knife

A 10-year-old walking home from Kilmer Elementary School in Rogers Park said two older boys menaced him with a butcher’s knife and threatened to hurt him and his sister.

The boy’s mother took him to the 24th District station the afternoon of Dec. 2 to report the incident. According to her, the boy was in the 6600 block of N. Greenview Ave. when two older boys he did not know approached him holding the large knife.

One of the boys told the victim he wasn’t as tough as he thought he was and that he and his brother would “beat” both he and his sister if he was not careful. The victim claimed he did not know what the threat was about but continued walking and told them that he “was not scared.”

The pair with the knife walked away and the victim walked home, police said. No arrests were made in connection with the incident.

Road rage threat

In a road-rage incident Nov. 28 in Rogers Park, a woman got out of her vehicle and threatened to kill a man with a folding knife, according to the victim of the attack.

The man, 30, said he had pulled to a stop sign in the 7300 block of N. Paulina St. when the woman in front of him jumped out of her car and began shouting at him. According to the victim, she believed he had been following her and wanted him to stop. The victim said he had not been following the woman, according to a Chicago Police report of the incident.

“I will f—ing cut you!” the woman shouted, according to the victim. “Go back to your country!”

The victim shouted back at her until she returned to her vehicle and drove away, police said. Officers toured the area but did not make any arrests.

Student says she was followed, groped

A 21-year-old Loyola Student told police she was groped and assaulted on the street Nov. 28 after a man followed her off a CTA train car and began tailing her home.

An unidentified man had squeezed her buttocks and put his hand inside the waistband of her yoga pants in the 6300 block of N. Winthrop Ave. while telling her he was going to take her home, according to police. The man eventually fled without taking the incident further, the woman told police.

The victim said she had taken the “L” from Fullerton and noticed the man board the train approximately three stops later. When she left the line at the Granville station about 10:30 p.m. the man followed her without her noticing, trailing her east and then north onto Winthrop Ave. while she listened to music on her headphones.

In the 6300 block of Winthrop, the victim said she felt someone squeeze her buttocks over her three-quarter length coat. She had pulled out her headphones and turned

Uptown Bank Robbed

Police are looking for a woman who robbed the Uptown TCF Bank at 4355 N. Sheridan Rd. 5:20 p.m. December 10.

Investigators say the offender approached a teller at the bank and demanded cash. She then fled southbound from the bank, which is located inside a Jewel-Osco store. No weapon was seen during the hold-up.

An FBI alert describes suspect as a white female in her early 20’s to early 30’s. She is 5’-2” to 5’-7” tall and has a slender to medium build.

around when she saw the same man from the train, according to police.

He asked her for directions to Howard St. before claiming he was from Jacksonville, FL, and was going to take her home, according to police. The woman said she moved away from the man, telling him to stay out of her space, when he reached and got his hand inside the waist of her stretch pants. She pulled way and shouted at him, which caused him to talk away.

Police toured the area but made no arrests. Officers were attempting to review CTA footage of the woman’s train car in order to identify the man at the time the report was made.

Man smoking hit with paintballs

A 36-year-old man smoking a cigarette on the sidewalk outside Touche bar was pelted with multiple paintballs during a drive-by splattering in Rogers Park.

The victim, who lives in Libertyville, was in the 6400 block of N. Clark St. about 10 p.m. when a silver Chevrolet Malibu with two occupants sped toward him. He was taking a drag from a cigarette when the passenger stuck the paintball gun out the window and unloaded on him, striking him once and leaving five splats on the wall of the gay/leather bar behind him.

Officers said the man had a large welt that already was bruising on his stomach from one of the paintballs that hit home. The bar owner was looking into possible video of the incident.

Vehicle shot at, no one hurt

A vehicle in the 1200 block of W. North Shore Ave. was shot up Nov. 28 but all three occupants avoided being hit, according to Chicago Police.

Patrol officers driving south on Sheridan Rd. near Morse Ave. heard gunshots about 2 a.m. and spotted a white vehicle turning north onto Sheridan from North Shore but driving in the south-bound lane.

After pulling the vehicle to the curb, officers encountered two men in their middle-20s and a woman in her early 30s. All of the victims said they had been dropping off a friend on North Shore when a man on foot came out of the shadows and began firing at their vehicle.

The driver said he had reversed down North Shore before reaching Sheridan Rd. and heading north. They did not want to file a police report because they feared possible future “retribution,” police said.

Officers found two bullet holes in the vehicle’s front bumper. Later, they recovered three, .380 caliber shell casings near where the shots had come from. No one was injured during the shooting and no arrests were made that night.

Man and woman robbed in vehicle

A man and woman were robbed by armed men Nov. 27 while they sat inside their vehicle on the border of West Ridge and Rogers Park.

During the robbery the 40-year-old man and 26-year-old woman were ordered out of the vehicle by the gunmen, who told them they would park the vehicle on Ridge Blvd., where they could reclaim it. Police later recovered the vehicle in the 7400 block of Ridge with one of the victim’s cell-phones and a wallet inside.

The vehicle was sealed and an evidence technician was ordered to process the car before it was returned, according to a Chicago Police report of the incident.

The victims had been parked behind a building on Ridge Blvd. about 10:30 p.m. when the men approached from each side and opened the vehicle’s doors. With handguns drawn they forced the victims out of the vehicle and searched their pockets. The men took wallets, cash, and two iPhones before telling the victims they were leaving in the vehicle but would leave it parked on Ridge, police said.

Woman has purse taken on Metra Platform

Police said a woman was robbed of her purse while she stood on a Metra platform near the 1700 block of W. Lunt Ave. waiting to take the train to work.

The 36-year-old told police she had been on the east side of the platform when two men in their early 20s attacked her, ripped her purse from her shoulder and ran. They escaped on foot headed north on Ravenswood Ave., police said.

One of the woman’s credit cards was used at a nearby Walgreens while police were taking her report. Officers went to the pharmacy but the men had left. The manager was preparing a video of the men using her card at the time the report was made.

Officers later arrested a pair of men matching the woman’s description, but the woman said they were not the men who had robbed her and they were released. No further arrests were made.

Man pistol whipped, shot at during robbery attempt

A man was hit in the head with the butt-end of a handgun and shot at during a Nov. 27 attempted robbery in Rogers Park.

The 31-year-old victim and a 27-year-old friend were outdoors in the 6500 block of N. Fairfield Ave. just after midnight, police said. An unidentified man approached them with what appeared to be a handgun and demanded their money.

The victim said he shoved the offender when the man swung with the gun and hit him in the head. Both victims then ran while the gunman fired several shots, missing them completely.

Officers did not recover any shell casings near the scene and the victim declined medical treatment to his head. No arrests were made.

Pastor robbed in Rogers Park

Over $8,000 worth of cash and checks were taken from the pastor of St. Margaret Mary Parish in Rogers Park in broad daylight December 8 mere feet from the entrance to Devon Bank, 6445 N. Western Ave., where he was going to deposit the funds.

Police say that the offender tackled the pastor in the bank’s parking lot and took a bag containing the deposit, fleeing down a nearby alley. Multiple police cruisers responded to the scene and a video of the robbery was turned over to police.

BIRDS from p. 5

And it’s a win-win situation for man and animal because the interaction is fun for the kids and it helps to socialize the birds and bunnies so that they will become the perfect pet as all animals are available for sale.

Each bird is $30 and it is recommended that you get a pair,

As daylight arrived, numerous bullet holes were discovered in parked cars and homes.

A 26-year-old aspiring North Side rapper was shot in the left shoulder during the incident, according to a police source. The man’s brother drove him to St. Francis Hospital in Evanston where the victim’s condition was stabilized. At press time, he remains there under police guard. Investigators have yet to determine who shot the man. We are withholding the man’s name as he is not currently charged with a crime.

Witnesses said that two cars fled the scene and one of the vehicles—a stolen 2006 Dodge Charger—lost its license plate as it crashed into parked cars.

The Charger was located about and the adoption fee for a rabbit is $100.

“We are a bunny rescue and anyone can come in and bring us one that is unwanted,” says Lutin. “Likewise, we will be happy to take back any of our animals that don’t work out in your home.”

They initially considered dogs and cats but a lot of management companies don’t allow these two hours after the shootout in the 1400 block of W. Montrose by an officer who stopped at Dunkin’ Donuts on his way to work the security detail at Mayor Rahm Emanuel’s home in Ravenswood.

The car, with heavy front-end damage and a missing plate, was sitting right out front. No one was in the vehicle, but a witness reported that five “teens” left it there.

Back at the shooting scene, police tape and evidence markers stretched the length of a city block. Some 86 police evidence markers dotted the area, most marking the locations of spent shell casings as officers put together a description of one gunman: a skinny male black who stands about 5’7” tall wearing blue jeans and a black hoodie.

animals in apartments. Rabbits and birds are usually a different story. They are more low maintenance as you don’t have to take them out hopping or flying, and are less likely to cause allergic reactions.

Besides the animal sections, Happy Play is also a toddler paradise that features a large padded playroom, and pretend play room with kid sized houses and tee pee’s and a giant train track room with marble races.

The admission price is $15 per child and this includes one adult. An extra adult, or a single adult is $7. Finally, a place where it costs less to be an adult. The good part is that you can stay and play as long as you want and that includes unlimited bird & bunny time.

It all may sound a little over the top until you realize that there is method to this madness because these ambitious sister also own and operate a dynasty of pre school daycare facilities in Lincoln Park and Lakeview called L & L Academy and Pre School. “We are kind of everywhere, you name it and we are there,” says Lutin.

They have one space in the Landmark Reebie Storage building just down the street and another just north of Happy Play. In fact, they are in the process of taking over the recently shuttered NEO nightclub that had been the late night hangout for Chicago’s misfits since 1979.

Up in Lakeview they have a facility on the corner of Belmont and Seminary and farther west, they have the entire building at Belmont and Racine. Their total enrollment is over 300 kids with dozens of teachers and staff to keep it all running smoothly.

“We just have a passion for children,” says Lutin, of her and her sister. “We are moms on a mission to give kids a great and interesting education here in Chicago.”

Like a pet store run wild, Happy Play is a brand new spin on child care with free flying animals adding a new dimension to the feathered furry fun and it is a lively addition to Clark St.

“We wanted to create a place where you could step in and leave your problems outside the door,” says Lutin.

Just head up Clark St. and look for the window with 100 brightly colored birds perched and waiting for you to drop in.

inquiries from all over the U.S. — a natural growth made possible by the Internet.

“If it wasn’t for online sales and the Internet, I would not be doing this,” Demme said. “And if it wasn’t for social media, I wouldn’t have gotten the word out so fast. So to me, what a wonderful thing the Internet is!”

Demme soon discovered that many of his customers needed a way to handle large package deliveries, so he started to offer receiving services.

It turned out that these receiving services had an even larger market, appealing to customers who don’t frequently have deliveries and those who live in apartment or condo buildings that can’t accommodate an iBin and don’t have their own receiving rooms.

LT Distributing customer Pat Nelson has had only smooth experiences with the company after it was recommended to him by a friend.

“I’ve had issues in the past where I had something shipped, it would be missed, and I would have to go to UPS or the post office to get it,” Nelson said. “With [LTD’s receiving service], as soon as I know there’s a package coming, I just contact them.”

LT Distributing charges $3.99 to receive and deliver packages under 40 lbs. and has been receiving around 87 packages per day, Demme said. He delivers most of the packages over the weekend when customers are at home using two full-time and two part-time employees.

“It’s adding volume,” Demme said. “Right now, I’m turning dollars. I’m paying my employees; I’m paying the rent. The profits will rise.”

The company currently uses four trucks: two in its fleet and two that it rents to cover a 40-mile radius in Chicago and the surrounding area.

“I was able to find permanent part-time delivery persons,”

Beware of the delivery scam

Everyone loves a surprise present... except when it’s a scam. The Better Business Bureau is warning residents to be on the lookout for scammers who are taking advantage of the holiday season. This con seems like you are receiving a package, but it’s really a way to steal your credit or debit card information, so beware of strangers bearing gifts.

In this con your phone rings, and it’s a delivery company saying that you have a package on the way. A short while later, the door bell rings. Sure enough, it’s a delivery person holding a gift basket. You ask who sent the gift, but the deliverer doesn’t know. He or she may claim the card was sent separately.

So you decide to accept the “gift” anyway. Before the delivery person can leave it, he or she says you need to pay a nominal “verification fee.” In one version of the scam, the amount allegedly confirms that the basket, which contains a bottle of wine, was given to a person of legal drinking age. The delivery person claims he or she can only accept credit or debit cards, and produces a hand held card scanner. This may all seem totally normal, but it’s a set up. The “card scanner” is actually a device that collects the credit/debit card number, PIN and/or security code. The delivery man plugs the info into a handheld scanner and the scam is complete. Con artists then use this to make unauthorized charges or commit identity theft.

The BBB advises to be suspicious of a package from an unrecognized delivery service or source. If a friend or family member wants to surprise you, they will likely send a gift using an established service.

Do not give your credit or debit card to someone at your door. Unless you requested the package and expected to pay something, you shouldn’t have a fee at delivery. Asking for ID is OK, but not your credit card. It is not out of the ordinary to ask for identification when alcohol is delivered, but the receiver would not be required to pay a fee to receive a gift.

Demme said. “These part-time employees were looking for weekend and evening jobs, so this works well into my plans.”

As volume increases Demme hopes to grow to seven to 10 trucks to improve efficiency.

“Logistically, it’s a lot to plan the trucks out, but as it grows, we’ll have a more condensed area [that each truck] will deliver to,” Demme said. “Almost like UPS.”

LT Distributing’s facility is protected with a multi-pronged security system, Demme said. For security reasons, he declined to allow pictures of the facility to be taken for publication.

Each delivery truck has two workers for deliveries in the city so that the truck is always monitored and packages are never left unattended — an essential part of the system since Demme provides night delivery when customers need it.

Major companies like UPS and the U.S. Postal Service, Demme said, are his main competitors, but they don’t have flexible delivery options for customers.

Local companies like Shurpa, Doorman, and ShipBob have receiving centers, but none offer a product similar to LTD’s iBin.

“There are other services to help people, but the majority requires [customers] to leave the house and pick up packages at a drop-off location,” Demme said. “That more or less negates shopping online, if you can’t have packages delivered to your house.”
