WE BELIEVE THAT COMMUNITY IS IMPORTANT.
SO IS SAVING MONEY*

As a true community bank built for this area, we know this city is as vibrant and unique as the people who live here. But, for as many differences as we may have, we also have one thing in common: we're all striving for a financially healthy future. Now, we've got the perfect tool to help you get there.

WINTRUST
COMMUNITY BANKS

CELEBRATING 25 YEARS
BANKING!

WE'RE PROUD TO BRING IT HOME. As a company made in this area, for this area, Wintrust and its family of true community banks is dedicated to the unique neighborhoods each serves. For 25 years, we've been banks that invest in, give back to, and get to really know our communities and the people living in them. When you bank with a Wintrust Community Bank, you can be confident your money is going back into the things that matter most to you.

1. New money is defined as money not currently held at any Wintrust Community Bank. Personal accounts only. Fees may reduce earnings. A maintenance fee of $10.00 will be imposed every quarter if the daily balance on any day of the quarter falls below $200.00. Annual Percentage Yield (APY) is accurate as of 5/6/17. The APY of 1.00% will be guaranteed for 12 months from the date account is opened on all balances. After 12 months, the rates are variable and subject to change at bank's discretion. Transaction limitations may apply. Offer expires 9/30/17. 2. MasterCard is a registered trademark of MasterCard International Incorporated. The North Side

2017 Summer Activity Guide

Inside Our North Side Neighborhoods

ANDERSONVILLE

Originally a Swedish neighborhood, Andersonville preserves those influences in its Swedish American Museum, restaurants, and delicatessens, testimony to one of the city's true "melting pots." Now Clark St., which runs up its center from Lawrence to Bryn Mawr avenues, is the site of restaurants of a dozen different ethnicities, including several excellent Middle Eastern eateries and groceries.

EDGEWATER

Located seven miles north of downtown, Edgewater is bordered by Foster, Ravenswood, and Devon avenues as well as the lake. Annexed to the city in 1889, the neighborhood boasts several beaches and striking lakefront views especially along Sheridan Road at notable buildings such as Hollywood Towers, The Malibu, Malibu East, Eastpoint Tower, The Tiara, El Lago, Granville Beach, Granville Tower, Shoreline Towers and Sheridan Point.

GOLD COAST/ NEAR NORTH

Home to many of the city's movers and shakers as well as landmarks like the Chicago Water Tower and the giant John Hancock Center, the Gold Coast blossoms up from the Streeterville and River North areas along the Chicago River. It's anchored on the south by N. Michigan Ave.'s "Magnificent Mile" and Oak St. shopping areas and hugs the Lake Michigan shoreline and its famous Oak St. Beach up to North Ave. "The Gardens of Chicago's Magnificent Mile" is a self-guided tour; call (312) 409-5560 or visit themagnificentmile.com. The area is also home to Rush and Division streets' watering holes and restaurants, as well as the historic row houses of the Astor Street Historic District. History and modernity are married in this neighborhood, from the gracious Drake Hotel to the Museum of Contemporary Art.

LAKEVIEW

North of Lincoln Park, Lakeview is more than Wrigley Field and the Chicago Cubs, though it's hard to imagine summer without them. A heritage of its immigrant past, a wide selection of culinary delights — from North African to Thai — can be experienced in Lakeview's many restaurants. Belmont Ave. is popular for its informal night life and theaters. The Music Box revival movie theater and Mercury and Athenaeum theaters anchor the N. Southport portion of the neighborhood. Its Halsted St. area is known as "Boys Town" because of its large gay population and numerous gay clubs.

LINCOLN PARK

The gracious, historic Lincoln Park neighborhood draws its name from the beautiful lakefront park, once the city's cemetery, that now includes the Lincoln Park Zoo, Chicago Historical Society, Peggy Notebaert Nature Museum, and Lincoln Park Conservatory. The neighborhood's landmark, architecturally interesting townhouses and brownstones were mostly built after the Great Fire of 1871. DePaul University, the nation's largest Catholic school, nurtures the neighborhood's "life of the mind," while its many off-Loop theaters — including the Tony Award-winning Steppenwolf and Victory Gardens — provide its cultural backbone.

Lincoln Park is also home to many of the city's fine restaurants, happening clubs, and charming stores. It is, indeed, a shopper's paradise, from Armitage Avenue's unique boutiques to the Clybourn Corridor's home and garden superstores.

LINCOLN SQUARE

A standing sculpture of Abraham Lincoln at Lawrence Ave. gazes south down Lincoln Ave., the heart of the North Side's old German neighborhood which retains many landmark German businesses and preserves "a Touch of Europe" in its other shops and restaurants. At the heart of the neighborhood is the Lincoln Square mall, anchored by Giddings Plaza, one of the city's most charming outdoor spots. At Leland and Lincoln avenues there is a beautiful, large mural paying homage to Germany, painted by Lothar Speer and local students. Farther south along Lincoln Ave. are the performance and teaching home of the Old Town School of Folk Music as well as the popular Sulzer Regional Library. The annual German American Fest brings the old country to life with brass "oompah" bands, fresh pretzels, and, of course, plenty of beer.

NORTH CENTER

North Center is a vibrant and eclectic neighborhood providing a hub of commercial activity that stems from retailers, restaurants, and many service-oriented businesses. In fact, more traffic flows through the middle of North Center (where Lincoln Avenue, Irving Park Road and Damen Avenue meet) than most any intersection in Chicago. The history and heritage of North Center is just as rich and diverse as its stores and restaurants. The neighborhood is deeply rooted in German, Irish, Polish, Romanian, Russian, Swedish, Adriatic, Hispanic and Asian cultures. The North Center community's appeal is that of a small-town feel within the city, where families of all varieties have enjoyed living and working for generations. North Center's blend of retail, service, manufacturing, art, theater, and technology offers residents true quality of life.

OLD TOWN

Though considered part of Lincoln Park, Old Town has its own unique identity. The N. Wells St. and North Ave. shopping and dining areas are its heart. During the 1960s and 1970s it was a popular place for the city's "hippies," and it has long had a strong artistic bent that lives on in the Old Town Art Fair. The Second City improvisational theater — where John Belushi, Dan Aykroyd, and other stars of

"Saturday Night Live" got their start — thrives on Wells St.

RAVENSWOOD

Straddling north-south Ravenswood Ave., this "unofficial" neighborhood is nestled amongst, and shares portions of, the Lincoln Square, Uptown, and Edgewater neighborhoods. The housing mix includes apartment buildings and an amazing array of Victorian single-family homes, while businesses thrive in a long-time manufacturing corridor along Ravenswood Ave. and the Chicago Northwestern Railroad. The community's love of nature is evident in its large and fragrant gardens.

ROGERS PARK

A neighborhood known for the independent spirit of its residents, Rogers Park holds down the Far North Side of the city bordered by the lake, Western Ave., Evanston and Devon Ave. The Jarvis Square shopping and entertainment district offers a prime destination while Warren Park offers a fieldhouse, skateboard park, and a golf course. Founded in 1870, the 15,000- student Jesuit Roman Catholic Loyola University Chicago offers a thriving university life with students from more than 80 countries enrolled in more than 70 different majors.

UPTOWN

Long a port of entry for diverse immigrant groups, most recently for Southeast Asians, Uptown was once a neighborhood of great gentility and one of the city's entertainment centers. Its Broadway/ Lawrence Ave. intersection, with the Green Mill lounge, the Riviera, the Aragon Ballroom and the historic but idle Uptown Theatre, shows promise as a renewed entertainment district. Along Argyle St. and nearby portions of Broadway you'll find a host of Asian restaurants and shops.

WICKER PARK/BUCKTOWN

Here's the neighborhood where great writers like Nelson Algren and Saul Bellow once walked. In recent years it's been a "hot" artistic neighborhood, yet a walk through the community's historic district — roughly surrounding Damen Ave., between North Ave. and Augusta Blvd. — offers a peek at Victorian mansions built in the late 1800s. The six-cornered intersection of Damen, North, and Milwaukee avenues offers a mix of trendy and upscale bars, clubs, restaurants and shopping. The intersection also features the historic Flat Iron Building, which now serves as home to local artists and actors.

At StarEvents, our passion is creating extraordinary experiences that bring communities together. Our neighborhood festivals are carefully curated to engage and inspire our guests while raising much needed money for local causes. In fact, we've raised more than $10 million for neighborhood non-profits over the past 20 years. We are proud to announce our 2017 Festival Series which will once again connect vendors to customers, sponsors to audiences and people within their communities to each other and to those in-need.

Memorial Day Parade

Chicago's Memorial Day Parade honors all men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice in defense of our country.

The Wreath Laying Ceremony will begin May 27 at 11 a.m. at the Eternal Flame on Daley Plaza, Dearborn and Washington streets. The parade will step off at noon and proceed south on State St. from Lake St. to Van Buren St.

The Chicago parade is considered one of the largest Memorial Day parades in the nation. Since 1870, Memorial Day parades have graced the streets of Chicago.

Summer, anyone?

By Thomas J. O'Gorman

Are you ready for the Summer? Do you have a bucket list? You know, that delightful list of things you want to do and places you want to go before you “kick the bucket?”

Anything left over from last year? Is there somewhere local you did not go? Is there some food you did not eat, or book you did not read? A trip you did not take? Is this the Summer you're going to learn French? And the Jitter-bug?

The turn of the seasons is always a reminder that we have great adventure not far away. But sometimes we can have our focus turned too high. Maybe all we need is a fresh new aperitif, not a canoe trip up the Amazon.

But lists are good. Reminders of what can lie ahead. And writing suggestions down can be a big help. Try it this summer.

Maybe a new bookstore has opened. Or a new Latvian restaurant. Or a place that the Sun-Times recommends. Don't try to remember. Just write it out in longhand.

We asked some interesting Chicagoans to share their bucket lists with our readers for this summer column. You will be intrigued in their wholesome and intelligent replies.

The Art Institute's Nora Gainer (Doherty) is noted for her creativity and whimsy. She said, “My summer bucket (list) has a lot of ice and a lot of rosé! We just opened our new patio at Farm Bar on a lovely, leafy block in Lakeview and that will be my summer afternoon go-to.” She identifies the best of list items, great wines to stretch out over the season. Spoken like a true restaurateur partner. She stretches out further summer list details really utilizing the strength of the Chicago metropolis.

“Saturday mornings start with coffee at Heritage, and then we bring the kids to the Sprouts Club at Green City Market. Next we bike down to see the jazz at the 31st Street beach—it's like going on vacation. This summer, the Art Institute is presenting Gauguin: Artist as Alchemist and retailers all along Mag Mile and around town will be competing in the Project Windows display contest inspired by the exhibition. I will spend a day checking out the windows, popping into the fabulous Beacon Tavern for lunch and then to Eataly for the world's greatest summer coffee drink – the Espresso Shakerato. I'll also defi-again, and attempt growing asparagus for the 10th time.” Love the way in which Lynda has herself woven into the life and texture of her country place. She sees beyond the horizon and has made lovely plans for it.

Ashley Barkema, a Wicker Park neighbor, with a soft spot for Italian food, has lakefront living at the top of her list. “Millennium Park Music is my very favorite thing to do in the city,” say the Iowa-raised fashion industry personal stylist. “There's nothing like a great evening of music with the skyline shimmering in the background. We always bring along enough wine and cheese.” Ashley is at home, of course, finding a soft spot in which to just hang out. “Paddle boarding at North Ave. Beach is the perfect way to spend Fridays, with the skyline as the backdrop. And just escape.”

Ashley hears the call to travel as well. “Cuba is at the top of my travel goals. I guess I'm a sucker for anything vintage,” she notes. “I'm also a huge Hemingway fan so I am anxious to go. I am also planning a run on the ‘606,’ the reclaimed Bucktown rail line. What better way to spend a Saturday than running the 606? And I will also have lots of Redhead tea on hand. It's a super cherry rich brew that I love.”

Veteran Chicago antiques dealer Mark Steinke of Revival, says he is always working his bucket list.

“Somehow I seem to always be engaged in the process of ‘bucketing;’ it feels like I am always adding or subtracting items on the list. I will definitely be getting coffee from LaColombe, the coffeehouse under the Blue line at Six Corners on Damen. It's the most flavorful. And, of course, fish tacos from Big Star will be a must. And some cocktails on the rooftop at Robey will be a summer must.”

Steinke is a walker and lives in East Village. His daily walks to the office unveil a neighborhood of magic and delight. The redesign and expansion of the tall flat iron building at Milwaukee, North and Damen has transformed that small patch of Chicago.

“The views from the Hotel Robey are matchless,” he points out, “looking from the west down [to] the lake. I want to shop groceries at Olivia, Chicago's most elegant shop for vittles at Wabansia and Damen. And of course, Brunch at Hot Chocolate and dinner on the patio of the Winchester at Augusta and Winchester. In the afternoon, some weekend, I want pizza at Coalfire on Chicago Ave. When summer's banging on the door, I am one of those guys who think you should be ready. So we have to find time to root through all the treasures at the Ark on lower Milwaukee Ave. and then travel west and peruse the stacks (2nd hand) at Myopic Books. And then go across the street to the Walgreens flagship store for something from the pharmacy, maybe some vitamins from the vault.”

But summer does release the travel bug. Ethan Schramm, general manager at Via Carducci on Division St., says that he has it bad for Ireland and Spain. And is looking forward to going with nately hit RMH Design in Beverly (my ‘hood growing up!) for some earrings – all one-of-a-kind pieces made locally.

Local PR Maven Lynda Silverman has her eye on the ground hoping for a garden miracle. Her list is a catalogue to transform her beach house into a place of victorious summer living. “Love my country house in the summer. I just want to be able to outsmart the raccoons, protecting the vegetable garden there. I will start

And now a word from our sponsors - the life blood of Chicago's Summer games

The Home Front

By Don DeBat

Where would classic 16" Chicago-style softball be without a loyal sponsor—your local saloon?

Softball team managers might tell you losing a good sponsor is worse than losing a wife. And while that's probably not true, thousands of teams go courting sponsors every season at the corner saloon, the neighborhood funeral home, auto agency, realty office or the pizza parlor down the block.

Celebrating at the sponsor's saloon or bowling alley after a good game is part of the legend of Chicago softball. Every softball team is looking for the sports-minded businessman who would like a little promotional exposure and doesn't mind parting with a few hundred dollars for a league entry fee and some lettered cotton T-shirts.

Often, the saloon owner/sponsor played on a competitive softball team as a youth and still has a love for the game.

Here are some of my favorites:

Tripoli Tap

Steve Nicoli, 52, owner of Tripoli Tap in Lincoln Park, is a former 16" pitcher and outfielder for The Store saloon, which sponsored teams at Lake Shore Park, Oz Park and Hamlin Park.

Now, Nicoli's Tripoli Tap sponsors the Vintage Risk softball team which plays Wednesday nights at nearby Trebes Park, at Webster and Racine, and Stocks & Jocks, a co-ed team at Seward Park on Division St. "Sponsoring a softball team is good for business," said Nicoli.

Vintage Risk won championships at Trebes Park 2014, 2015 and 2016, spent a chunk of its $1,800 in jackpot winnings on a season ending party at Tripoli Tap, and a jacket party in early spring, he said.

Tripoli Tap attracts all types of sports fans who watch games on eight 50" TVs while enjoying cold brews, burgers and some of the best charcoal-barbequed jumbo chicken wings on the North Side. On balmy summer evenings, the establishment's beer garden is filled with neighborhood patrons drinking and dining.

The Burwood Tap

A good softball sponsor even can last longer than a good marriage. Back in 1979, when the Burwood Tap first started sponsoring Solidarity at Trebes Park, Vintage Risk softball team's victory celebration at Chicago Joe's.

the manager of the team met Polish-American saloonkeeper Al Rompza while playing handball at the Irving Park YMCA.

Rompza asked the manager why his team was named Solidarity, and the answer was the roster was filled with Polish-American players with names like Placek, Skowronski, Sortal, Wysocki, Dudek, Oleksy and Gorzynski.

In the early-1980s, when Rompza opened the Ultimate Sports Bar on Armitage and Sedgwick in Old Town his partner, Jimmy Rittenberg, owned Juke Box Saturday Night on the Lincoln Ave. saloon strip. With Solidarity playing at Oz Park, it made sense to hold the post-game festivities, including Jitter Bug and Twist contests while platters were spun in the interior of a 1957 Chevy convertible at Juke Box Saturday Night, just around the corner from Oz Park.

Chicago Joe's

Before Rompza purchased the old Grover's Oyster Bar on Irving Park Road in 1988, just east of Western, and renamed it Chicago Joe's Saloon, he made sure to offer softball team sponsorships to his teams, including Solidarity, which recently had won a championship in the tough Kosciuszko Park league, and now was expanding under the name Risk.

Chicago Joe's will celebrate its 30th anniversary in business in 2018, noted owner A.J. Rompza, Al's son, who also manages The Burwood Tap. The sports-bar restaurant has sponsored the Vintage Risk softball team, a mix of young and older guys, for 29 years.

Vintage Risk won six championships at Horner Park and Trebes Park—a rare six-peat run not repeated by many Chicago 16" softball teams. Teammates held their victory party washing down buckets of jumbo chicken wings with pitchers of beer in Chicago Joe's outdoor garden.

Chicago Joe's once was such a softball mecca it sponsored teams virtually every week night. Years ago one of its female bartenders played softball on five teams.

Billy Goat Saloon

Perhaps one of the most genuine softball bars in Chicago is the legendary Billy Goat saloon on lower-level Kinzie St. near Michigan Avenue's wealthy "Magnificent Mile."

On the door is a sign, "Butt in Anytime," and once you step through this immortal portal you'll find yourself in a newspaper and sports museum.

Dozens of photos of long-gone newspaper reporters, columnists and editors line the greasy walls of this establishment, made famous by John Belushi's "Cheezeborger, cheezeborger—Pepsi, No Coke," quip, which was a parody of Billy Goat's Greek owner and proprietor Sam Sianis.

The Billy Goat features three rooms—a long, L-shaped bar on the right side is highlighted by the "Wise-Guy's Corner." A small "VIP Room" is toward the back, just to the right of the large greasy grill where Sam and his crew prepare such delicacies as the famed double-cheese burger, or the egg-and-cheese sandwich. Condiments, including fresh sliced pickles, onions, relish, ketchup and mustard are nearby.

The big room to the left of the door is where Mike Royko's Hall-of-Fame Daily News-Sun-Times softball team held some of its greatest parties following hundreds of games played at Grant Park, including the famed "Royko at the Goat" post-game party immortalized on U-Tube.

A window sill in this room is lined with a dozen softball trophies—awards of some of the newspaper team's championships in the 1970s and 1980s, an era that included the infamous party that was highlighted by Royko feeding Sam's goat a $5 bill while the barnyard creature was wearing a Daily News softball team shirt. Moments later, the goat bleated and relieved himself. In the words of Sam Sianis, "Mike! He give you change!"

Over a 35-year history, The Daily News/Sun-Times 16" softball team won over 30 championships and more than 500 of games at Grant Park, Lincoln Park and Lake Shore Park and in tournaments, including the Grant Park Old Style Tournament in 1993-1994, and the Grant Park Tournament of Champions in 1999.

Don DeBat currently is writing, "Chicago's Game," a book on the history of 16-inch softball. For more housing news, visit www.dondebat.biz. DeBat is co-author of "Escaping Condo Jail," the ultimate survival guide for condominium living. Visit www.escapingcondojail.com.

SEA Blue Prostate Cancer Walk & Run

Sept. 10
SEA Blue attracts approximately 1,500 participants each year to run the 5K race or walk the one-mile course along the shores of Lake Michigan. The event has grown within the prostate cancer community to mean different things to different people and inspired thousands of participants to walk or run a total of more than 30,000 kilometers over the past nine years. Rain or shine, a crowd sporting positive attitudes and determined spirits will gather again this year for the 10th anniversary of the event to carry a team flag on the walk, or race to the finish. Museums & Sights to See

360° Chicago

Formerly John Hancock Observatory, 875 N. Michigan Ave., Open daily, 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. See the city from the renovated observatory on the 94th floor. Multimedia audio tours, interactive activities, extend out and over The Magnificent Mile. Admission is free for children under age 3. Parking available in John Hancock Center garage. Call 312-654-2892 or visit www.360chicago.com/plan-your-visit/.

Adler Planetarium

1300 S. Lake Shore Dr., America's first planetarium, Adler is a museum, laboratory, classroom and community exploring the universe together. Each year, more than 550,000 visitors experience the museum's interactive exhibitions, planetarium shows, hands-on and minds-on STEM education programs, and collections. Open seven days a week the museum is open from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Memorial Day weekend, the planetarium is open until 6 p.m. Call for admission prices. Call 312-922-7827, email guestservices@adlerplanetarium.org or visit www.adlerplanetarium.org.

American Science and Surplus

5316 N. Milwaukee Ave. Their mission is narrow: they only accept surplus items that are - in some way - related to science. As their manifesto says, "we are fascinated by discovery and invention" and their ever-changing inventory reflects that. Chicago middle-school science teachers love this place.

Though the inventory changes, the gems are always there. Kits - from boats to hearts - can be found for curious 12-year olds. They usually have some sort of binoculars, telescope or microscope available. Looking for a DC analog dial ammeter? A Boy-Scout-in-a-bottle? An induction motor?

Art Institute of Chicago

111 S. Michigan Ave. Open daily from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. On Thursdays, the museum is open until 8 p.m. The museum's collection comprises 300,000 works of art - ranging from ancient art through work being created by today's foremost artists. Visitors number 1.5 million annually. Children under 14 years of age are free. Illinois residents are admitted free from 5-8 p.m. Thursdays. Call 312-443-3600 or go online to www.artic.edu for information.

Beer Baron Row

1420 N. Hoyne Ave., pockets of stunning late-19th century mansions that survived through the "bad old days." Several such mansions face Wicker Park, and others may be viewed nearby. The so-called "Beer Baron Row" of elaborate single-family homes, for about two blocks on Hoyne Ave. north from Pierce, provides insight into a genteel, vanished way of city living. Many of the mansions were built by German emigrants who made their fortunes in the brewing business.

Bloomingdale Trail, The 606

1419 W. Blackhawk St., the eastern most entrance is at Ashland. It is an abandoned railway line that is now an elevated public park. What makes it unique is its position running through and over the historic Bucktown neighborhood. Hikers and bikers will share overhead urban views.

Busy Beaver Button Co. and Museum

3279 W. Armitage Ave. 773-645-3359, an outgrowth of the button-making company, this museum, in the factory building, is devoted to more than a century's worth of pinback buttons. The museum has on display thousands that serve as advertising, marketing vehicles, "social lubricators," meaning they are meant to provoke a response. Wearable, shareable and accessible expression of buttons. While the collection does include some truly historic buttons (an 1864 pre-button for Abraham Lincoln is the museum's crown jewel), the emphasis is less on value and more on how well the button represents a moment in time.

Buckingham Fountain

Located in Grant Park at Congress Parkway and Columbus Drive. The fountain features a water show daily from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m., with major water displays lasting for 20 minutes

Chicago Children's Museum

Navy Pier, 700 E. Grand Ave., Summer hours are: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday through Sunday. It is a place where families and caregivers with infants and children can create, explore and discover together through play. The museum features three floors of exhibits and activities that provide sensory experiences and educational content focusing on literacy, science, math, visual and performing arts, and health. Admission charge for children, adults and seniors. Children under age one are free. The first Sunday of every month is free admission all day for children age 15 and under. Free Family Night provides free admission to everyone from 5-8 p.m. Thursdays. Groups of 18 or more must register by calling 312-464-8249. For information, call 312-527-1000 or go to chicagochildrensmuseum.org.

Chicago Cultural Center

78 E. Washington St., open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The city's old central library, with its stained glass domes, is home to art exhibitions, music, dance and theater events, films, lectures and family events. Call 312-744-3316 for information.

Chicago History Museum

1601 N. Clark St. Open daily from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sundays from noon to 5 p.m. The museum showcases and interprets millions of authentic pieces of Chicago and U.S. history. Admission includes an audio tour. Admission is free for children age 12 and younger. July 4 will be a free admission day for all Illinois residents. Call 312-642-4600 or go to www.chicagohistory.org for information.

Daley Plaza

Between Randolph and Washington streets and between Dearborn and Clark streets, home to "the Picasso," an icon of the city; site of political protests, farmers' markets and "Under the Picasso," free cultural programming at noon weekdays. For tours of the Daley Center building, call 312-603-1928.

Driehaus Museum

40 E. Erie St., Steps away from Chicago's Magnificent Mile, the museum offers visitors a view of one of the few remaining palatial homes erected by the wealthy of America's Gilded Age. The galleries, furnished with period pieces selected from the Driehaus collection, are presented in harmony with the interiors and surviving furnishings, immersing visitors in the original late 19th-century home. The museum is open for self-guided visitation during regular hours of operation, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays. Discounted parking is available at ROW Self-Park, 50 E. Ohio St. Request a validated parking sticker at Museum Admissions. Call 312-482-8933 for information.

Edgewater Historical Society

5358 N. Ashland Ave. The Historical Society and Museum is open from 1-4 p.m. weekends. The Edgewater Historical Society was founded in January 1988 to involve the community in the research, documentation, collection and preservation of Edgewater history. The impetus to form the Society was the 1986 celebration of the Edgewater Centennial, during which the Edgewater Community Council conducted an oral history project. From that project grew interest in researching and documenting neighborhood streets and structures. Call 773-506-4849 or go to www.edgewaterhistory.org/ehs for information.

Essanay Studio

1345 W. Argyle St. A landmark of Chicago's silent film era. The studio produced silent films by many of the greatest stars of its day, including Charlie Chaplin, Gloria Swanson, and Gilbert "Broncho Billy" Anderson, who went on to win honorary Academy Awards for his time at the studio.

The Field Museum

1400 S. Lake Shore Drive. Open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily every day except Christmas. Last admission is at 4 p.m. Founded in 1893, it is one of the world's top natural history museums, with a scientific staff and collections of more than 30 million specimens, including "Sue," the world's most complete Tyrannosaurus rex ever found. Chicago residents save $5 on ticket prices. Call 312-922-9410 or go online to www.fieldmuseum.org for information.

Garfield Park Conservatory

300 N. Central Park Ave. One of the largest conservatories in the nation. It is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday. Admission is free, but a suggested donation is asked for at the door. Call 312-746-5100 or go to www.garfieldconservatory.org for information.

The Garfield-Clarendon Model Railroad Club

4501 N. Clarendon Ave. in the Clarendon Community Center contains the sprawling landscape created by the rail enthusiast demi-gods of the Model Railroad Club. The massive miniature world features an entire railway ecosystem ranging from passenger travel to coal transport. The winding, looping tracks are actually the fifth such project undertaken by the club which has been painstakingly recreating tiny worlds since 1947. Visitors are welcome to drop by during their Friday night "operating hours," however all other times of the week are seen as work time, since maintaining it takes a great deal of oversight.

Goethe-Institute Chicago

150 N. Michigan Ave., Suite 200. Offers German language classes, hosts German literary readings and other events, and has a reading room on German society, politics and culture. Call 312-263-0472 or go to www.goethe.de/ins/us/chi/ for information.

Graceland Cemetery

4001 N. Clark St., enormous park-like oasis renowned for its many well-known inhabitants including Allan Pinkerton, John Root, Daniel Burnham, Louis Sullivan, Potter Palmer, Marshall Field, Howard Van Doren Shaw and George Pullman. It is also home to several intriguing monuments, including the Inez Clarke Monument and Eternal Silence – also known as The Statue of Death. Tombs range from the magnificent to the opulent.

Haitian Museum

4654 N. Racine Ave. Home of Haitian history, culture and art in Chicago. Call 773-213-1869 or visit www.hmoc.org.

Harold Washington Library Center

400 S. State St., open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 1-5 p.m. Sunday. Central library features a top-floor, glassed-roof winter garden and various programs daily. Admission is free. Call 312-747-4300 or go to www.chipublib.org for information.

Intuit: The Center for Intuitive and Outsider Art

766 N. Milwaukee Ave. The only non-profit in the U.S. that is focused entirely on the work of self-taught and outsider artists. The exhibitions display a rotating assortment of more than 1,100 works of art. One of the more well known outsider artists Henry Darger, lived in a one-room apartment in Chicago for most of his life, writing and illustrating a 15,000-page saga detailing the adventures of the mythical 'Vivian Girls,' which was discovered after his death. Call 312-243-9088.

Latvian Community Center

4146 N. Elston Ave. Soon after the founding of the Chicago Latvian Club (later to become the Chicago Latvian Association) in 1935, its members began to work on the dream of a center for the community. The large hall on the second floor of the center features the painting "Tauta pie juras (People by the Sea)" by prominent Latvian painter Augusts Annus. For information, call 773-343-7599 or go to www.chicagolatvianassociation.com.

Leather Archives & Museum

6418 N. Greenview Ave. Cataloguing the history of both the BDSM and leather culture through artifacts, equipment, and a massive library of literature. The museum is more than just a collection of handcuffs, whips, and chains, treating the history of fetish subculture as a serious movement worth preserving. Covers all manner of niche sexuality from straight fetishism to LGBT interests, displays of bondage equipment, leather apparel, and the sort of underground artifacts one might expect from a leather museum. There are antique sexual devices as well as a dungeon in the basement complete with spanking apparatus.

Lincoln Park Conservatory

Visit Lincoln Square

In a city well-known for its neighborhoods, Lincoln Square stands out for its vibrant cultural crossroads. The community is host to many one-of-a-kind shops, restaurants, cafés and arts centers that reflect the neighborhood’s wide appeal. It is a great place to shop, eat, visit, live, or work.

Annual events like the Summer Concert Series, Square Roots craft beer & music festival, and the German-American Fest draw crowds of people from all over the Midwest and beyond to experience this unique neighborhood.

The neighborhood is as cosmopolitan as it is down-to-earth, with its rich public art, gourmet restaurants, European-style café’s, delis, and specialty stores. It’s not hard to shop locally, because you can get virtually any product or service you need within the neighborhood. A great mix of independently-owned stores sell everything from toys to tools, art to armchairs, albums to cappuccinos.

Explore the rich tapestry of culture that Lincoln Square has to offer.

A standing sculpture of Abraham Lincoln at Lawrence Ave. gazes south down Lincoln Ave., the heart of the North Side's old German neighborhood which retains many landmark German businesses and preserves "a Touch of Europe" in its other shops and restaurants.

At the heart of the neighborhood is the Lincoln Square mall, anchored by Giddings Plaza, one of the city's most charming outdoor spots.

The Rolling Stones at Navy Pier

The Rolling Stones' first ever major exhibition, Exhibitionism, will run a four-month engagement at Navy Pier through July 30.

Over the past 50 years, The Rolling Stones became, and have remained, one of the most culturally important acts in history.

Exhibitionism is the largest touring experience of its kind ever to be staged, and the first time in history the band has unlocked their vast private archive exploring the very beginning of their history to The Stones' superstardom of today. Exhibitionism tells the story of the most influential rock 'n' roll band in history, allowing visitors to experience first-hand their incredible journey from early days living together in a tiny flat to headlining the biggest stages in the world.

This highly immersive and interactive exhibition explores the Stones' extraordinary career featuring over 500 rare and original items from their archive. From their most cherished instruments, onstage and offstage clothes, valuable works of art and handwritten lyric books to personal diaries, recordings, unseen film and photos, a screening cinema and interactive recording studio that all culminate in an exciting and powerful backstage-to-onstage 3D concert experience.

Tickets are available at StonesExhibitionism.com.

PRESENTS

THE HISTORY OF LAKE VIEW'S BOYSTOWN

— ART JOHNSTON AND TIM DRAKE —

Thursday, June 8

7 p.m. at Ann Sather Restaurant

909 W. Belmont Avenue

Parking is available in the rear of the building

Art Johnston, co-owner of the bar "Sidetrack" on Halsted Street, is a long-time activist on LGBTQ and HIV awareness. In 2016, Johnston became the first LGBTQ person to receive the Jane Addams Making History Award for that effort.

Tim Drake, a former Republican 'gay' rights activist beginning in the 1970's, is currently an affordable housing advocate with Metropolitan Tenants Organization.

MUSEUMS, SIGHTS from p. 19

concerts, exhibitions, tours and family activities. In the park, you'll find a kind of town square – a gathering spot located in the heart of the city and a destination for Chicagoans and visitors alike. Call 312-742-1168 for information.

Money Museum

230 S. LaSalle St. in the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. The museum is free and open to the public year-round from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, except on holidays. All visitors must show a photo ID, walk through a metal detector and have their bags x-rayed before entering. Guided tours lasting roughly 45 minutes are available at 1 p.m. on Monday through Friday, or by appointment. Visit the Money Museum on your own at any time during open hours. Includes a free kiosk, which takes your picture in front of a million dollars in $100 bills. Also, a million dollars in $1 as well as $20 is on display. The museum has been known for giving out bags of shredded money as souvenirs. Call 312-322-2400.

Museum of Broadcast Communications

360 N. State St. The museum offers an array of broadcast memorabilia and information, including a searchable database of television, radio, commercial and Chicago news archives. It is one of only three museums dedicated to broadcast history in the nation and is home to the only National Radio Hall of Fame Gallery. Open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday-Saturday. Call 312-245-8200 for information.

Museum of Contemporary Art

220 E. Chicago Ave. One of the nation's largest facilities devoted to contemporary art, the museum offers exhibitions of painting, sculpture, video, film and performance created since 1945. The museum is open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. Admission is free for Illinois residents on Tuesdays. Admission is free for members of the military and police and fire departments, veterans, and children 12 years of age and younger. For information, call 312-280-2660 or go to mcachicago.org /Home. June 1st all youth 18 and under will have free admission.

Museum of Contemporary Photography

600 S. Michigan Ave. Located at Columbia College, Chicago, the museum collaborates with artists, photographers communities and institutions locally, nationally and internationally. It presents projects and exhibitions and acquires works that embrace a range of contemporary aesthetics and techniques. The museum is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday, and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free. For information, call 312-663-5554 or go to www.mocp.org.

National Hellenic Museum

333 S. Halsted St. The museum shares the legacy of Hellenism and preserves the stories, and honors the contributions of Greek immigrants to the United States and Americans of Greek heritage. The museum is open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and until 8 p.m. Thursday. Youth under age 3 are free. For information, call 312-655-1234 or go to www.nationalhellenicmuseum.org.

National Vietnam Veterans Art Museum

4041 N. Milwaukee Ave. This small museum brings new light to the effects of the Vietnam War on our veterans. By focusing on art, the museum attempts to make something huge and distant into something highly moving and personal by displaying artworks made by veterans. The centerpiece of the museum is a stunning ceiling installation composed of more than 58,000 glittering silver dog tags, which each memorialize a fallen US soldier. The museum is kept afloat by a handful of dedicated artist vets who regularly ship pieces out for exhibition, and also restore pieces. Many of the pieces easily stand on their own, but within the context of the museum, they are quite overpowering. For information call 312-326-0270.

National Museum of Mexican Art

1852 W. 19th St. The museum showcases 3,000 years of creativity from both sides of the border, connecting visitors to the diversity of Mexican culture. In the heart of the city's Mexican community, the museum has a 8,500-piece permanent collection including an impressive array of Day of the Dead memorabilia. Admission is free. The museum is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. For information call 312-738-1503 or go to www.nationalmuseumofmexicanart.org.

Navy Pier

600 E. Grand Ave. The pier has 50 acres of parks, gardens, shops, restaurants, family attractions and exhibition facilities. The Newberry Library

60 W. Walton St., a perfect spot for the bibliophiles. Independent research library with a focus on the humanities, privately funded, but free and open to the public. For those who swoon over First Folios of Shakespeare and postcards Jack Kerouac wrote, or get weak-kneed seeing 14th-century Aztec almanacs printed on bark. Exhibits rotate yellowed manuscripts and tattered first editions from the library's extensive collection. The shop continues the theme, with Jane Austen action dolls and Mark Twain-scented candles among its stock.

The Park at Wrigley

On the east side of Clark St. between Addison St. and Waveland. The Park at Wrigley offers a beautiful open-air destination for farmers markets, community events, festivals, movies, dining and more. The Park at Wrigley serves as Wrigleyville's town square — a year-round gathering place for neighbors, families, fans and visitors. From well-known headliners to local treasures, the Park offers space for concerts and musical events. The Park at Wrigley hosts an array of artists the entire community can enjoy — from pop to folk bands, classical musicians and every sound in between. www.parkatwrigley.com

Peggy Notebaert Nature Museum

2430 N. Cannon Dr. The museum is dedicated to expanding the public's knowledge of nature and environmental science and to promote greater understanding of Midwestern environmental issues. It is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and weekends from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursdays are suggested donation days for Illinois residents. opened its doors in 1954 as a polka bar and though the musical stylings have changed with the times the interior retains much of the original charm.

The Polish Museum of America
984 N. Milwaukee Ave. One of the nation's first ethnic museums, the staff collects, preserves, interprets and promotes materials, artifacts and history that chronicle Polish history and the Polish-American experience. The museum is open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday through Tuesday, and 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday. Call 773-384-3352 or go to www.polishmuseumofamerica.org for information.

The Violet Hour Speakeasy
1520 N. Damen, introduced speakeasy style and the nascent

"cocktail culture" to this hard-drinking town. Exquisite high-end cocktails were designed by acclaimed NYC mixologist Toby Maloney, and its employees have gone on to open numerous posh establishments throughout the city. The lack of clear signage is a Violet Hour trademark, as is the long line to get in at most times.

Riverwalk and Gateway
Lake Shore Drive & Wacker Dr. Riverwalk Gateway by Ellen Lanyon charts the rise of Chicago and the significance of the Chicago River. The 336-foot-long wall installation consists of 16 narrative panels and 12 decorative panels. Also fishing, boating, music, art, architecture and puppetry. Visit www.chicagoriverwalk.us.

Green Music Fest

Green Music Fest returns for its ninth summer, an award-winning festival that brings together high-energy live performances and eco-minded lifestyles in Wicker Park, June 10 and 11, from 12-10 p.m. daily.

Green Music Fest educates and encourages its 30,000+ annual attendees to embrace green initiatives, transportation and products while promoting sustainable living by leaving a smaller footprint.

Green Music Fest is held in the heart of Wicker Park on Damen Ave. between Schiller St. and North Ave. A $5 donation is suggested for admission while a $10 donation awards you the "Refill Don't Landfill" reusable stainless steel cup to enjoy at the festival. For more information visit www.greenmusicfestchicago.com.

The Fest embraces environmentally conscious and green technologies like its pedal-powered stage, where attendees pedal stationary bicycles to power amps, guitars, spotlights and more. A variety of Lagunitas brews, the festival showcases innovative green vendors and products. The community tables will include more green-minded folks sharing their passion for zero-waste lifestyles, organic benefits and sustainable ways to improve the home. Attendees can adopt a tree at the festival to take home with them!

SUMMER from p. 10

his fiancée. While he is well traveled in Italy, he says it takes a long time to learn how to travel and shop there. "Becoming an accomplished Italian shopper is at the top of my list," he notes. Improving his talents in the kitchen also ranks high up on the list. "Someday I want to own my own restaurant and knowing the inside secrets is the beginning. I want to learn how to make wine too. And I want to cook really well. All, after I learn to sky-dive."

Lucy Sharkey of the London House is hoping to manage a way to Ireland, Cape Cod and Quebec. All destinations at the top of her list.

Artist/sculptor David Cook has been fast at work through the winter creating larger than life flowers which can be inserted into the soil, helping to create massive colorful gardens. He refers to each as a flower bomb. They are at the top of his bucket list. David is seeking to flower bomb across historic RTE 66 at the same time he is looking for country lakes into which he can jump. He is also excited about eating a picnic lunch without ever having to go on a picnic.

Love these bright ideas. They flow right out of people's experiences and remain their edgy additions until complete.

This columnist has several items on his own bucket list. First, I have lots of weight to dump this summer. So anything that moves me along in that direction is tops. Learning to cook more calorie smart is critical. But there must always be exquisite blueberry pie. Lots of painting with an eye to a huge exhibition in August. I want to go to the Hamptons. And take the train to New York City. Summer dinners with friends. I want to see Klimt's "Woman in Gold" at the Lauder's New Museum in New York.

Well it looks like everyone's Bucket List is ready and my final word to readers is get your list in order. You never know when you will need to grab it and go. I am on the look out for Oysters! Oysters! and more Oysters! And I want to eat them on the RMS Queen Mary crossing the ocean. If not, I want to experience the refurbished London House.

Here's a few more of my favorite things...

NAVY PIER FIREWORKS:

When are the Navy Pier fireworks? The fireworks begin Memorial Day weekend and end Labor Day weekend. They take place every Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. and Saturday at 10:15 p.m.

DO DIVISION: JUNE 2-4: Well the gangs all here from East Village, Wicker Park, Bucktown and the Ukrainian Village for the start of the summer season. It's all very street conscious and very much a buyers market. Market tents down the center of Division St., shopkeepers have their stalls at the ready on the sidewalks. The well-respected food fair is a must from Milk & Honey to Smoke Daddy to Via Carducci. No street can match the care given to the food department, and there are lots of great bargains from the merchants from beads to books, from Spanish Tapas to new sushi, it's all here. Division St. east to Wood St.

ENGLISH SPEAKING UNION: The Ascot Ball. The aristocracy rolls up their sleeves to help preserve, protect and defend the English language. To do so they put on their most fashionable attire, gar-denias in their button holes and then retire to the city's most sophisticated and exclusive club, the Casino to sip gin of extra ordinary variety. At its best is the unabashed Ascot Ball, the colonial affection with which the landed eccentric class reaches out to liberate the linguistically confining classes as if they had been concocted by George Bernard Shaw. But we need everyone.

The 2017 Ascot Ball in "the Spirit of High Society" will be held 6:30 p.m., June 16. Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres. Dinner follows at 8 p.m. The dress is Black Tie. Dancing to the cool tunes of Lester Lanin Orchestra. Vonita Reescer, Chairman.

SUMMER MOVIES IN THE PARK: Take a seat at the Pritzker Pavillion or the great lawn. FREE

A Chicago Tour de Force, Tuesday after Tuesday, June 13 to September 5 in Millennium Park, 201 E. Randolph. At 6:30 p.m. The Blues Brothers. Caddyshack. Julie and Julia. El Norte. LaLa Land. Network. Bend It Like Beckham. (August 8th full moon double feature) Ghost and The Shining. Hidden Figures. Five Heartbeats. Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. The Princess Bride. Wayne's World.

CHICAGO SUMMER DANCE FESTS: Fridays-Sundays, June 23-September 10, in Grant Park, Spirit of the Music Garden. Saturdays & Thursdays, July 13-Sept. 14, in eight neighborhood parks throughout the city.

CHICAGO'S 57TH STREET ART FAIR: in Hyde Park on 57TH Street between Kimbark and Kenwood. June 3 & 4.

2017 OLD TOWN ART FAIR: The 69th Old Town Art Fair, voted #1 in America and named one of Chicago's favorite festivals, takes place on Saturday, June 10 and Sunday, June 11, in the heart of the charming Old Town Triangle Historic District. There will be 250 nationally acclaimed artists, an estimated 30,000 art lovers, a Garden Walk, Live Music, Food Court and Children's Corner. Gates open Saturday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., rain or shine.

Old Town Triangle Historic District (Not to be confused with our neighbors just south of North Ave. on Wells St. Yes, there are TWO DIFFERENT FAIRS happening in Old Town on the same weekend.) The Old Town Art Fair is centered at the Old Town Triangle Association building, 1763 N. North Park Ave.

WELLS STREET ART FESTIVAL: June 10 & 11, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Wells St. & North Ave.

GOLD COAST ART FAIR AT GRANT PARK: June 17 & 18, 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

WHO'S WHERE? Christie's Steve Zick flown to New York where interesting things in the art world are afoot... Roseanne Barr is definitely bringing back her TV family to sitcom land... Former NBC reporter Mary Laney is off to the Danon Gallery in Evanston to see work by Fran Joy and Sarah Kizer... just saw photos of Hector Gustavo Cardenas looking pretty banged up in hospital and in pain, but we have not been able to get to the bottom of it... prayers and best wishes.

I have a total irreverence for anything connected with society except that which makes the roads safer, the beer stronger, the food cheaper and the old men and old women warmer in the winter and happier in the summer.

Hollywood on the lake, Summer/Fall productions abound

Look around town this Summer and you may see some movie stars milling about. Projects that will be filming this Summer and Fall in Chicago and across Illinois include big-budget and independent films, and network, cable and streaming television. Illinois continues to attract film, television, non-scripted, digital and commercial production from across the country - remaining a home for a myriad of creative content and production infrastructure.

NBC and FOX announced their 2017 fall seasons with the renewal of primetime hits "Chicago Fire," "Chicago PD" and "Chicago Med" (NBC), while Season 4 of "Empire" (FOX) was ordered in January. Off-season pickups include the anthology series "Electric Dreams" (Sony/Amazon) and "The Chi" (20th Century Fox/Showtime), which are currently in production through the summer.

Media juggernaut The Onion will premier "The AV Club with John Tedi" (Fusion), which continues production though Fall 2017, "Patriot" (Amazon) ordered for Season 2 and created by local writer/director/producer, Steve Conrad, and "Easy" (Netflix) created by Chicagoan, Joe Swanberg, currently in production on Season 2; all written and produced here in Chicago.

Illinois is also hosting some big names in movies. "Widows" from Oscar-winning Director Steve McQueen and Illinois-based writer Gillian Flynn began filming this month. The much-anticipated film stars Viola Davis, André Holland, Robert DuVall, Liam Neeson and Colin Farrell. John Goodman and Vera Farmiga were recently in town filming the sci-fi thriller "Captive State." And Illinois continues to be a bastion for indie film making, with "What They Had," starring Hilary Swank, Blythe Danner and Michael Shannon, which recently wrapped production.

A strong talent pool of cast and crew members, diverse shooting locations and a competitive incentive program keeps the local film industry growing. In 2016, Illinois' film industry generated $499 million in estimated Illinois spending, a 51% increase over 2015.

Memorial Day weekend more than parties and picnics

BY LEON J. HOFFMAN

Memorial Day gives us a chance to remember, honor, and value those courageous souls (mostly young people) who sacrificed their lives to protect our beloved country, thereby ensuring the safety of its citizens. Who among us is not the beneficiary of the priceless legacy that they bestowed upon us?

Politics should play no role in the sincere recognition of the significance of this important day. Here in Chicago, the Memorial Day Parade allows all of Chicago to remember those who've fallen and those soldiers who continue to fight. It commemorates the incredible work our soldiers do to protect this country as well as maintain our freedom. This year U.S. Marine Corps, Lieutenant General Robert S. Walsh, Commanding General, Marine Corps Combat Development Command and Deputy Commandant, Combat Development and Integration, will serve as the Grand Marshal. The ceremony will begin May 27 at 11 a.m. at the Eternal Flame on Daley Plaza, This year make a point of attending. During the Wreath Laying Ceremony and Parade Chicago honors fallen heroes and Gold Star family members who have lost a loved one in the U.S. Armed Forces to combat operations or while on active duty. Approved by Congress beginning in 1947, Gold Star Lapel Pins and the Next of Kin Lapel Pins are presented to families not as an award, but as symbols of honor worn by family members in remembrance of their fallen loved ones and their ultimate sacrifice. Our beleaguered country's present struggles must not be permitted to prevent people of character and integrity from recognizing this day's noble symbolism. We Chicagoans might use this occasion to recognize and applaud the efforts of our Chicago Police Dept. officers, who help keep us safe. The daily risks that these men and women take are not unnoticed and should not be taken for granted. We should all be aware of who is on duty and what those officers do to keep us safe. Chicago's pathetic violence is rife. It includes the lamentable gang-related activity we have experienced downtown as well as in diverse neighborhoods and cannot be accepted. Regardless of our differences, most of us have a chance to make something out of the relatively few years that we are all given. Safety of one's charges is the primary goal of all effective leaders; that includes parents as well as politicians. If they, and we, don't take that mission seriously, our chances of success are about as likely as is the return of cursive. One is reminded of the State of the Union address given in Jan. 1941 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, known as the Four Freedoms speech. In it he proclaimed that there are four freedoms to which all Americans are entitled: freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from fear, and freedom from want. The legendary artist Norman Rockwell commemorated those four freedoms by creating a painting of each in 1943. Let us celebrate Memorial Day and embrace the meaning it has for all Americans. It is foremost a national day of remembrance, we can apply those noble concepts locally as well. Please remember that we are here only because of the valor of those who made it so.
