Would-be developers of North Loop hotel sue law firm, demand $120M over sunk Pittsfield tower deal

BY SCOTT HOLLAND
Cook County Record

The would-be developers of a hotel in a North Loop skyscraper have sued their former attorneys seeking up to $120 million in damages because they allegedly advised another client on how to defeat the proposed hotel development.

Brian Scheinblum, owner of Chicago Hotel Partners, filed a complaint in Cook County Circuit Court May 29 against the firm of Schain Banks Kenney & Schwartz. According to the complaint, Scheinblum retained the firm in 2015 to help with the legal work related to his company's plans to install a hotel in the Pittsfield Building, 55 E. Washington St. At the time, Scheinblum and Pittsfield Hotel Holdings sued other ownership entities, Pittsfield Development and Pittsfield Residential II, ultimately resulting in a settlement that led to Pittsfield Hotel Holdings acquiring the rights to floors 2-9 in the tower for the planned hotel.

According to the complaint, the quit claim deeds related to those floors were recorded by Cook County on June 4, 2015. The city issued the related hotel building permits in December. Chicago Hotel Partners removed all income-generating tenants from those floors and began extensive demolition to prepare for renovation.

However, at the same time, Scheinblum said Anthony Casaccio, an attorney with the Schain Banks firm, started advising businessman Adam David Lynd, who was looking to buy an ownership stake in the Pittsfield tower, on how to stop Chicago Hotel Partners "from developing and building their intended hotel at the Pittsfield Building."

Scheinblum said he dealt primarily with attorneys Marty Schwartz and Tyler Manic at Schain Banks, but had retained the entire firm to assist with his hotel project. He further said Schwartz and Casaccio still work for the firm, and alleged the firm's agreement to provide legal representation to Lynd violated the Illinois Rules of Professional Conduct.

Scheinblum alleged Casaccio advised Lynd on how to get the "building downzoned so that the planned hotel could never be developed or operated," a scheme he said was detailed in an email dated Dec. 28, 2015.

Scheinblum said Casaccio, in the email, said the hotel use was permitted under the then-current DX-16 zoning classification and advised reaching out to Ald. Brendan Reilly [42nd] to discuss a possible discrepancy in how many dwelling units the city recognized. Scheinblum further said Lynd was trying to buy a chunk of the building, and although he couldn't get a stake in floors 2-9 for himself, "he was able to convince the alderman to downzone the building and thwart the plaintiffs from developing their hotel."

The City Council adopted an ordinance changing the zoning in March 2016, which "effectively stopped the ongoing development of a hotel on floors 2-9 dead in its tracks," Scheinblum alleged, further saying Reilly rebuffed his attempts at setting up a meeting to discuss reversing the "sudden change in zoning."

Scheinblum said Lynd gave Reilly a campaign donation and essentially followed a blueprint Cassaccio allegedly established for reaching the desired goal. He, along with Pittsfield Hotel Holdings, Pittsfield Development and Pittsfield Residential II now have a pending lawsuit against the city of Chicago in federal court. That suit alleges the push to change the zoning followed a failed attempt by Lynd's company, Adam David Partners I LLC, to buy the building for $36 million. On March 12, U.S. District Judge Charles P. Korcoras rejected City Hall's attempt to dismiss the complaint, finding the city's zoning action could be considered an illegal property taking.

As a result of the zoning change, Scheinblum said, "all financing dried up ... all reputable hotel flagships declined to be associated with the planned hotel." Pittsfield Development filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection on March 26, 2017. All the interests of the Pittsfield entities, including the potential hotel floors, were sold by Aug. 25, 2017.

The complaint seeks at least $30 million in compensatory damages, plus punitive damages worth at least three times the final compensatory award.

Inspector General chastises city for not following TIF reforms

BY JIM VAIL

The City's Inspector General issued a report last week that recommended how to improve the transparency, accountability and efficiency in Chicago's controversial Tax Increment Financing (TIF) program.

The TIF is basically a surcharge - a property tax increase - that feeds a slush fund largely controlled by the Mayor's Office intended to spur development in blighted areas of the city.

However, TIFs have been used broadly by City Hall to finance wealthy developments on the North Side and downtown instead.

Despite protests by residents and activists, the City Council recently approved another $2.4 billion in TIF taxes on the Lincoln Yards and The 78 TIF deals just as Mayor Rahm Emanuel was leaving office. To make matters worse, the City is going to borrow money against those future TIF funds at a high interest rate of around seven percent.

Raise Your Hand and the Grassroots Collaborative have since filed a lawsuit against the Lincoln Yards TIF because they say it violates the IL Civil Rights Act and the "but, for" requirement of the TIF statute.

Thus entered Chicago's Inspector General, who found that the city's economic plan - the TIF - lacks local development goals, does not comprehensively detail funding of city infrastructure needs, does not make many TIF metrics available online, does not

Car thefts plague River North and Near North Side

Car thefts continue to plague the Near North Side. In these incidents, the victim's vehicle was parked, unoccupied, and running with the keys in the ignition when an offender approached after being dropped off nearby.

An offender entered the victim's vehicle and drove away from the scene. During two of these incidents, the victims described the offender's vehicle as being a silver Chevrolet sedan.

Incidents include one on the 300 block of W. Erie St., Friday, April 29, in the afternoon hours; the 1100 block of N. State St., Friday, April 29, in the afternoon hours; 100 block of W. Ontario St., Friday, May 10, in the evening hours; 600 block of N. Clark St., Saturday, May 11, in the morning hours; 700 block of N. Rush St., Tuesday, May 14, in the evening hours; 600 block of N. LaSalle Dr., Wednesday, May 15, in the evening hours; in the 100 block of E. Erie St., Thursday, May 30, in the morning hours; the 200 block of S. LaSalle on May 30; the 600 block of N. Clark St. on June 1, and the 600 block of N. LaSalle on June 2;

Witnesses describe the offenders as one to three male, African American, 5'-6" to 5'-8" tall, 145-160 lbs., 17-25 years of age.

Authorities say young joyriders are in large part to blame for the 22% increase in car thefts in Chicago, but the money behind auto thefts also involves using stolen cars to commit robberies and other crimes - and then dumping the cars once the work is done. Other thefts are blamed on the black market in selling parts stripped off of stolen cars. A term many are familiar with is "chop shop," often connected to organized crime. These 'shops' will pay people to steal cars and deliver them to a building where the cars will be disassembled and the parts sold to local car repair shops, as more people are willing to buy, or turn a blind eye, to using these hot parts, which ultimately drives the market for auto theft.

The peril of American aristocracy

By Thomas J. O’Gorman

Has the scandal been resolved? You know, “college-gate,” the one where people with large amounts of disposable income make it available for their children’s college education? Greasing the skids for them into Harvard, Yale, Princeton or Menlo Valley Community College?

All that drama and cash which investment bankers and actors are willing to shell out, some hundreds of thousands of dollars, each, to squeeze their heirs through the well-oiled door frames of fancy academic institutions. It’s the peril of the commercial class. Having the wear-with-all, but without the pedigree, for fancy academic zip codes. Where do they think they are? Who do they think they are? America’s brahmin?

But seriously, are there no family names on the dorms among the Ivy League? Do chapels, science labs and theaters not carry the aristocratic names of their old boy ruling class elite? It’s an easier journey when your name is carved in stone on buildings of the old ‘Alma Mater.’ Do the alumni of august academia not retain some critical leverage over admissions? It’s the peril of the aristocracy. Having a 24-carat pedigree but smaller trust fund than a rock star, morning TV host or a supermarket heir.

Before you start screaming about the injustice of it all, stop and read the wedding announcements in the Sunday New York Times, that should sprinkle some resolution into the story.

Ivy League wedding.

Before you think I’ve lost my common sense, if you want to see who is being admitted into the halls of America’s Ivy League (Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Duke, Stanford, Cornell and Penn, just to name a few), just read the concise biographical entries about who is being married to whom in the Sunday New York Times’ Style Section. This is where you discover the true rich and textured academic/social stories of America’s elite.

The wedding vignettes are written in an almost “Game of Thrones” language all its own. A cryptic millennial vocabulary that provides the reader with the bride and groom’s cultural rap sheet. Much like an autopsy report, post mortem. It divulges, of course, when and where the nuptials are taking place and who is performing the ceremony. It’s also revealed how the couple met. We are provided a quick snapshot of their academic and professional lives. Profiles are also included about their parents, who they are and what they have done for a living.

This is what I find so fascinating. We get Agatha Christie-worthy clues about what kind of homes these folk grew up in. So we can measure and compare the environments that irrigated the bride and groom.

We can compare the kinds of birdcages these lovebirds were raised in... at least among those focused upon in the New York Times. And if there is one thing we can say about these fancy school grads it is this, it looks like the wedding itself is the only time these over achievers have stopped to catch their breath since preschool.

Here’s what I learned last week from the two dozen or so over achiever’s weddings that appeared in the Times:

First, the weddings are coming just after careers begin. Most brides and grooms are in their late 20s. They have finished college and graduate school. And before heading to their dream job, they have a few minutes for a shindig.

Secondly, most couples descend from hard-working commercial class families. No one’s afraid of hard work. Mom and dad both toiled at great jobs in the media, the State Department, medical practices, investment houses, silk stocking law firms, public schools, fine arts related endeavors, software companies.

One mom is the current governor of Kansas.

One growing trend in all these wedding tales is the use of Universalist Life Ministers. That’s when your sister gets ordained by mail and your local state government extends a one-time recognition of her to marry a couple. Consequently the roll of officiant now offers lots of room for family members and friends to witness the vows for the state.

Religion wanes a bit, unless your uncle’s an Irish Monsignor.

Five were officially Jewish under the eye of a rabbi and four were Catholic with a priest present. Three were Episcopalian. And two were Presbyterian. But the minister for just the day led the way with more than half.

Many of the couples met in college or grad school. Four at Harvard. Two at Duke. Two at Columbia Med. Some were introduced by friends. But two at Coffee Meets Bagel and four met through OK Cupid, representing the huge trend in online dating. Which is important. These people are busy. Really busy. Finishing up studies at Yale-New Haven Hospital, Northwestern School of Journalism, Yale Law, Harvard Law and Stanford. There’s not a lot of time for dating, I’m afraid. Medical careers seem to top the professions of the couples walking down the aisle.

The list is thin however on painters. But that’s another story.

Amazingly we discover that among the hardworking list of brainiacs included last week was Jessica Sargent Kempner, the granddaughter of the late Nan Kempner, one of New York’s dazzling socialites in years past. (Henry Kissinger’s pal.) Jessica’s lovely, but no dilettante. She has her sleeves rolled up to her elbows on her fabulous wedding gown, getting ready to begin her residency in obstetrics and gynecology at Mount Sinai in Manhattan. She married Peter Ginsberg who she met at Yale. And Peter’s grandfather, Joel Pinsky, received permission from the State of Vermont to officiate at the wedding at the family’s home in Stowe.

No one would have loved that more than Nan Kempner, herself, who would have adored riding the trend out front.

Well, as a historian, I am a fan of the “wedding announcements-as-a-cultural understanding” of what we find suits our uses and our loves. It’s fun to see the scripts altered and tweaked to fit the occasion. It does a great job filling-in the picture of a bright reasoned America. The contest of the Ivy Leagues to see who does what with the time spent in study and in career choices. Maybe it won’t prevent wealthy parents with an overblown sense of entitlement from trying to bribe their way in the back door. Tried and true always works. Why not just build something the school really needs? Like a Universalist Life Ministry school that everyone can attend for a day. Or a lab where Coffee Meets Bagel can brew the perfect match and espresso.

Or OK Cupid can provide safe ground so they can shoot their arrows in peace.

North Center crossing guard earns top award

The city, Chicago Public Schools (CPS) and the Archdiocese of Chicago have announced the city's Crossing Guard of the Year Award and this year it went to a North Center crossing guard.

During a ceremony June 10 at St. Benedict School, 3900 N. Levitt, the city of Chicago recognized Roxie Calhoun with the second annual Crossing Guard of the Year Award for the 2018-2019 school year. Calhoun's post is located at the Irving Park Rd. and Leavitt St. intersection, where she safely guides students from Coonley and St. Benedict Elementary Schools during their daily commutes.

And she has her own commute to do every day, taking two trains and a bus every morning from her South Side home to get to her post.

Calhoun started with the City on March 26, 1968 and will retire after 51 years of service in June. She has crossed generations of families, and is well known by students, parents and the community. Roxie received 25% of the nominations received for the award.

"I want to thank Roxie Calhoun and the hundreds of other dedicated crossing guards throughout Chicago who keep a watchful eye on students day after day as they safely travel to and from school," said Mayor Lightfoot. "By working hand-in-hand with our school communities, we'll ensure our children can remain focused on their education and not their safety."

As one nominator stated, "You know the saying, 'It takes a village...?' Well, when you pass by this intersection and watch the children's reaction to seeing Roxie, you know Roxie is an integral part of this village."

"We are pleased to acknowledge the often-overlooked public safety personnel who – rain, sunshine, severe cold or snow – cheerfully ensure families and students throughout the city can travel to and from school safely every day," said OEMC Executive Director Rich Guidice. "We also hope the recognition of Roxie and her colleagues will serve to remind motorists to engage in safe driving behavior near schools, and to heed the direction of crossing guards as they cross children and community members during bell times."

"Crossing guards like Roxie play a vital part in the communities they serve, giving parents peace of mind by keeping our students safe day after day," said CPS Chief of Safety and Security Jadine Chou. "Whether it is sunny, raining or snowing, crossing guards play an invaluable role in ensuring students are safe and able to stay focused on their education."

Nationally, approximately 12% of students walk or bike to school. Crossing guards help students develop safe pedestrian and bicycling habits, such as looking both ways before crossing roads, navigating intersections and using crosswalks.

"I have had the privilege of knowing the compassionate care Roxie shows each child crossing Irving Park Road over the past 16 years since I've been at St. Benedict Prep. We are grateful to our crossing guards like Roxie for ensuring the safety of our student pedestrians," said Chicago Archdiocese rep/Principal Rachel Gemo. "They are a vital part of helping all of us provide our children with the opportunity to lead healthy, happy lives."

Roxie was also presented with a Longevity Award at the event. Her colleague Daisy Williams, who has worked for the City as a crossing guard since December 6, 1965 (53 years), was also presented with the Longevity Award on June 10. Williams is a crossing guard at Whitney Young Elementary School, 2815 S. Komensky.

Are the disappearing two-flat fears legit?

BY PATRICK BUTLER

In what could be the start of an ongoing series of discussions, a group of five local housing experts pondered ways to preserve the reportedly vanishing two-to-four flat buildings on the North Side during a May 30, meeting that drew an estimated 100-plus neighborhood residents to the Sulzer Library, 4455 N. Lincoln Ave.

Newly-elected Ald. Matt Martin [47th], however, made it clear right from the start that this time at least, he'd come more to listen than to offer solutions.

"I'm still trying to find out what people need and want," Martin said, conceding "I'm not an expert, but someone who's trying to learn, then go forward to present our needs to the city."

"I think one of my roles will be seeing what the need will be five or 10 years from now. I'm not going to have my own agenda without first talking to people about their needs and wants," said Martin, adding he's already been appointed to the City Council Housing Committee.

"We need to know what things we should press for. Putting public housing aside, we haven't really thought about finding ways to use subsidized housing programs. We should be talking about (helping people find) low interest loans," he said.

All five panelists – Sara Duda of DePaul University's Institute for Housing Studies; real estate attorney Paul Shadle; Steven Vance, founder of CEO Chicago Cityscape; Northcenter-based architect John Zachar; and Martin – agreed that time is running out to save the remaining two-flats built between 1880 and 1970 which were important sources of affordable housing throughout the city – including the North Side.

In the 48th Ward, Ald. Harry Osterman says he will continue to require that projects which trigger the Affordable Requirements Ordinance have the 10% affordable units include on-site as part of the project, rather than paying into a fund to build them elsewhere in the city. He also suggests that the city ought to consider upping that percentage of new construction dedicated to affordable units, and to allow for Accessory Dwelling Units -- like allowing for basement units and rear coach houses.

All that has been changing over the past 30 years for a variety of reasons ranging from neglect to conversion into condominiums and single family homes, said Lynsey Sorrell, North Center Neighborhood Assoc. Zoning Committee.

"We want to give our neighbors an opportunity to learn more about the various approaches to preserving these units and the challenges involved," said Sorrell, herself an architect. "It's a citywide issue, but one with special relevance in North Center and other gentrified North Side neighborhoods."

According to Duda, North Center currently has the highest density of any North Side neighborhood at a time when "afford-

Assessment appeals paying off for some property owners

Illinois Property Tax Appeal Board has two-year- backlog, thousands of appeals waiting

Tens of thousands of property owners who got socked with huge real estate tax assessments in the 2018 triennial reassessment of the city of Chicago are starting to see results on their appeals to the Cook County Board of Review.

In 2018, many of the reassessed properties were hit with increases ranging from a manageable 12% to an excessive 112%, according to a spot survey by The Home Front column.

The Home Front
By Don DeBat

Some 65,000 homes, townhomes and small apartment buildings were reassessed in North Township, along with 5,000 condominiums. The assessment level is 10% of market value for residential property.

Early results of the appeals look like a mixed bag. Some Old Town and Lincoln Park property owners who protested the hikes won assessment deductions ranging from about 10% to 22% from the Board of Review. However, others who appealed received zero reductions.

In Old Town, former Cook County Assessor Joseph Berrios hiked the estimated fair market value of a vintage 3-flat an amazing 93% to $1,973,610 from $1,021,100. The property owner filed an appeal at the Board of Review and won a 21.4% decrease, which lowered the estimated fair market value to $1.55 million.

However, the assessment level is still up a whopping 71.6% after the successful appeal. The 2017 real estate tax bill on the building was $21,981. The 2018 first installment of the bill was $12,089. The owner expects bill rise substantially when the second installment is due Aug. 1.

Old Town and Lincoln Park aren't the only neighborhoods that were whacked with sharply higher property tax assessments. Most of the North Side has seen their property taxes dramatically rise.

Similar properties in the Old Town neighborhood received 2018 reassessment increases of only 28% to 34% and could be good comparables.

Michael Griffin, a Chicago real estate tax appeal attorney, said the Old Town property owner may have a case for a further assessment reduction by filing an appeal property reassessment reduction in Old Town. In 2018, former assessor Berrios set the 2018 estimated fair market value on a historic red brick 6-flat near Crilly Court at $1,373,510, up 34% from $1,022,100. The assessed value jumped to $137,351 from $102,210.

The property owner filed an appeal at the Board of Review and won a 10.44% decrease, which lowered the estimated fair market value to $1.23 million. Paid in 2017, the 2016 tax bill on the property was $20,708. Despite the reduction, the owner expects the bill to rise when the second installment is due Aug. 1.

Old Town and Lincoln Park aren't the only neighborhoods that were whacked with sharply higher reassessments.

In 2018, former assessor Berrios raised the fair market value of a Logan Square graystone 3-flat 72.8% to $732,630 from $424,010. The assessed value jumped to $73,263 from $42,401. The property owner filed an appeal at the Board of Review and

Assessor promises swift action on Senior Exemption renewals

House Bill 833 passed both Illinois House and Senate Monday and now heads to Governor's desk for a signature.

Cook County Assessor Fritz Kaegi said he plans swift implementation of HB 833, a bill that requires the automatic renewal of the Senior Citizen Homestead Exemption.

Unanimously passing through both the Illinois House and Senate last week, the bill will amend the Property Tax Code so that a person who has been granted a Senior Citizen Homestead Exemption will not need to reapply for the exemption every year, as is the case now.

"The successful passage of this bill lifts a significant burden from the more than 740,000 seniors in Cook County, who previously had to verify for this exemption every year," said Assessor Kaegi. "It's another step forward in the modernization of operations in our office while also making these annual exemptions more accessible for seniors."

"We heard from many taxpayers during my countywide listening tour about the need for HB 833," said Assessor Kaegi. "I was proud to work in collaboration with legislators on the bill's technological implementation and the safeguards necessary to prevent fraud."

To allow for the automatic renewal of the Senior Homestead Exemption and prevent fraud in its application, the Illinois Dept. of Public Health would be required to send the Cook County Assessor's Office (CCAO) death record information quarterly while the CCAO would access the Social Security Administration's Master Death List and exchange information with the Recorder of Deeds Office on deed transactions of properties with a Senior Homestead Exemption.

The CCAO would be required to conduct an audit on every Senior Citizen Homestead Exemption at least once every three years.

Suburban men charged with climbing 1,100-foot construction tower

Two suburban men have been charged with misdemeanors for allegedly scaling the construction elevator of a Loop skyscraper for more than 72 floors on Saturday evening, police said.

Police say Danial Pierce, 28, of Plainfield and David Gonyea, 28, of Aurora were arrested when they returned to the ground after climbing hundreds of feet into the air on the side of Vista Tower, 345 E. Wacker Dr.

Both men were charged with one count of misdemeanor reckless conduct and one count of criminal trespass to land.

Coincidentally, Pierce and Go-

TimeLine Theatre to get $1.5 M in state aid for new Uptown location

TimeLine Theatre Co. is set to receive a capital fund allocation of $1.5 million in the Illinois General Assembly's capital bill passed on June 1.

The money will help TimeLine Theatre convert a former dormant warehouse, located at 5033-5035 N. Broadway, into a fully repurposed live performing arts facility.

TimeLine hopes that their new home will have a positive impact on Uptown, the surrounding neighborhoods and Chicago's arts community at large.

TimeLine says that this funding is due to the support of Illinois State Sen. Heather Steans and Illinois State House Majority Leader Greg Harris. Both are advocates of the arts as a catalyst for community revitalization by supporting TimeLine's campaign to become a new member of Uptown's arts and entertainment community.

Once the new site is completed, the theater group will vacate their longtime home venue, 615 Wellington Ave., in Lakeview East.

"With their distinguished history as one of Chicago's leading theaters, TimeLine will be a wonderful addition to the cultural vibrancy and economic vitality of the north side of Chicago," said Sen. Steans.

Rep. Harris added, "I'm so pleased that the capital bill could support worthy projects such as TimeLine's new home. Their reputation for artistic excellence will attract thousands of audience members to their exciting new venue in Uptown's expanding entertainment district."

In December, 2018, TimeLine purchased a five-story, 45,120-square-foot moving and storage facility at the corner of Broadway and Argyle, just three blocks north of Uptown Theatre, to be the site of its future home. The project is expected to take three years to complete as the company moves through overlapping design, fundraising and construction phases.

For now, TimeLine will continue to maintain its operations and present the majority of its productions at its current home leased within the Wellington Avenue United Church of Christ essential now. Lonnie G. Bunch III is just that kind of historian of American realism. He knows its the story that matters. He will guarantee that the unbroken lived history of the American nation is gathered and synthesized into a whole substantive expression of truth. No corner cuts and no drama falling through the cracks. No chance at cohesion left undone. Un-promised.

Is it any wonder Chicago is proud.

His work as president of the Chicago History Museum, from 2000 to 2005, stands on its own integrity and professional excellence. When he moved to become the first director of the National Museum of African American History and Culture, he reset the contours for scholarship and public education. To visit that institution is to embrace something deep and inescapable to history. Lonny G. Bunch III knows what he is about in the profession of history and in the mirky waters of American life. So he now takes on the largest role of influence and reason at the Smithsonian. To bring it to ever more truthfulness and reason, while lifting our nation's self awareness to new heights that are real.

City Hall ethics reform moves forward with two North Side aldermen

The City Council will be meeting today, Wednesday, June 12, and you can view the meeting via www.chicityclerk.com/city-council-news-central.

The City Council will also begin the process of livestreaming city council committee meetings once the funding is allocated to provide the public service.

Mayor Lightfoot, along with several Aldermen, and led by the new Ethics Committee Chairwoman Ald. Michele Smith [43rd], will be introducing several new ethics reforms at today's City Council meeting. These reforms have been discussed for years and may finally be coming to fruition.

If passed by City Council, the ethics reforms will amend the City's Ethics Code and include:

- Restricted outside employment: Aldermen will be banned from certain outside employment that poses a potential liability or a conflict of interest with City of Chicago business.

- Expanded Inspector General oversight: To ensure consistency across city government, Aldermen would be subject to same oversight as city employees. The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) would also have the authority to audit council administrative procedures.

- Increased fines for ethics violations: The reforms would raise fines for Ethics Ordinance violations from $500 to $1,000 for low-level violations, and $2,000 to $5,000 for high-level violations.

- Broadened definition of lobbyists: This proposal expands the definition of lobbyists to include non-profits that lobby the city. Non-profit lobbyists would be required to register and provide quarterly reports, but their registration fees would be waived. (This issue is still being debated in committees and the proposal will likely be amended.)

These proposals were created with input and ideas by the City Council, the Lightfoot transition team and the Board of Ethics. This includes proposals that have been made in recent years but that have not been implemented, including expanded OIG oversight for the City Council.

"The Ethics Reforms amendment proposed today will increase transparency and oversight of all programs, committees, and members of the City Council in order to hold our elected officials to the same high standards we hold city employees," said Ald. Smith. "I am proud to champion these reforms that will make our government more open and accessible for the residents of Chicago." These reforms, along with changes we will be implementing in the Committee on Finance, will help transform the city council and executive branches of local government.

Garden and coach units not a solution

No one should be shoehorned into a dwelling space which was not designed for this use. That's what these basement [called "garden" because residents have a worm's-eye view of the garden] apartments, attic lofts, coach houses and above-garage units which Don DeBat [May 29] advocates, are.

I attended the forum at Sulzer Library on the preservation of two-flat and three-flat apartment buildings, after reading your article [on the meeting]. Sarah Duda said that the most important way to support the affordability aspect is to preserve and maintain these buildings. Another panelist pointed out that there is a big problem with dwellings built on top of garages: getting enough fire trucks there through the alley. Even with all building code requirements met, the conversion dwelling units on the list would present the same problems for firefighters: You can't shoehorn a fire truck or enough firefighter access.

Several years ago I talked with someone regarding getting permission to convert part of the basement in an old two- or three-flat building into an apartment. I was able to look at the floor plans and thought it was a good, feasible idea and believe the owner got permission. But I don't think this should be a general rule. Basements are also vulnerable to flooding.

After the 1871 fire, Chicago banned "wooden houses" – but not wood-frame houses. Most garages and small multi-family buildings in Chicago have wood frames. If a fire starts in one unit, it may spread to all the others before it's put out. If there is an explosion in a wood-frame garage, it could quickly destroy the wood-frame dwelling unit built on top of it. A relatively new high-end housing development in a majority-Jewish neighborhood has sukkahs on top of the garages. The sukkahs are used for the holiday of Sukkot. Many other flat-roofed garages have been enhanced by patios and plants. But no one sleeps there normally.

The standard 25'-wide Chicago home lot is part of the problem. It makes it hard for firefighters to get equipment to conversion dwelling units. It also makes it hard to design handicapped-accessible dwellings with enough width to make the wider halls and rooms comfortable in the plan. If the lot width were at least doubled, there could be room for your dwelling above the garage not framed in wood – and a driveway from the street big enough for a fire truck. The main home could have sensible, accessible floor plans.

But the first solution to the "affordable housing" problem should really be to get everyone's income high enough so that no one needs "affordable" housing. Ask everyone who needs it: Why? Everyone can give his answer. Unemployed people need jobs. People with low-paying jobs need higher pay – but raising the minimum wage won't do enough for people not working 40 hours a week. The minimum wage laws should be set per month, not per hour. Solve people's low-income causes, and throw away the housing shoehorns.

Driver rear-ended, pistol-whipped, robbed in River North; Police terminate pursuit of offender

A man told police that he was pistol-whipped and robbed by an offender who rear-ended his vehicle in the River North neighborhood early Sunday. No one is in custody.

Police said the 38-year-old victim was driving in the 300 block of W. Locust when a man in another vehicle slammed into his car's rear end around 4:35 a.m.

When the victim and his passenger stepped out of their car to look at the damage, the offender approached with a handgun drawn and struck the male driver in the face with it.

The robber then demanded property from the victims and drove away eastbound on Locust, according to a CPD spokesperson.

Patrol officers later encountered the offender's vehicle, a black Volkswagen SUV with its hazard lights on, near the intersection of Chicago and Orleans. Police pursued the car onto the Kennedy Expy. and continued the chase until supervisors ordered the pursuit to be terminated. The robber's SUV was last seen heading southbound on Lake Shore Dr. from the Stevenson Expy., officers said.

The victim declined medical attention.

Old Town: Charges filed in Friday shooting on North Ave.

An Edgewater man is charged with firing a handgun in the middle of North Ave. on June 7, striking an 18-year-old man in what police described as a "personal dispute."

Juan Foster, 36, was arrested less than two hours after the 7:30 p.m. shooting by a 19th Town Hall District tactical team that had staked out the Lakeview registration address of his alleged getaway car, according to multiple sources. Police said Foster was identified as the man who fired shots from a Silver Jeep Cherokee, striking an 18-year-old man as the victim walked out of a convenience store in the 200 block of W. North Ave. The victim suffered two gunshot wounds to his torso and graze wounds to his shoulder and elbow, CPD said. He was listed in serious condition at Northwestern Memorial Hospital.

Juan Foster

Officials previously said the victim was the passenger in an eastbound vehicle when he was shot.

Multiple witnesses provided police with the license plate of the Jeep Cherokee and a tactical team from the Wrigleyville-based 19th District was dispatched to stake out its registration address near Barry and Broadway. Foster and another person were detained when they arrived in the 400 block of W. Barry at 9:15 p.m., according to police and sources.

The second person was later released without charges.

Prosecutors have charged Foster with one felony count of aggravated battery by discharge of a firearm.

100-person mob action ends with four arrests near Mag Mile

Four juveniles were arrested Saturday evening in a short-lived "large group" incident near the Magnificent Mile, police said.

About 100 teens arrived in the area via Red Line CTA trains around 8 p.m., according to police. Their arrival marked the first "large group" incident in the downtown area since April 21 when 11 juveniles and two adults were arrested in the downtown area.

The four detained teens were all charged with misdemeanors, police said. Two of them were arrested in the 100 block of E. Chicago at 8:05 p.m.

- A 15-year-old girl was charged with reckless conduct after she approached a passer-by in an aggressive manner with her fists clenched, scaring the victim.

- A 16-year-old boy was charged with reckless conduct for being part of a large group that was fighting and running in and out of traffic, police said. He tried to escape when police approached him, but officers were able to make the arrest, a CPD spokesman said.

Also at 8:05 p.m., a 14-year-old boy was arrested nearby in the 800 block of N. State St. for being part of a large group that "refused to obey a lawful order to disperse." He's charged with disorderly conduct.

Another 15-year-old girl was arrested in the 800 block of N. State at 9:55 p.m. for jumping the Chicago-State Red Line station's turnstile and then resisting arrest. She is charged with theft of services and resisting police.

Teens armed with scissors rob T-mobile store and its customers in North Center

A Chicago Fire Dept. ambulance crew helped cops get the jump on a robbery crew that stole phones and robbed customers inside a North Center T-Mobile store on Saturday afternoon. Two juvenile offenders are in custody.

Paramedics riding in CFD Ambulance #61 notified cops when they noticed a group of armed and masked men was robbing the store at 1958 W. Irving Park Rd. around 4:45 p.m.

Police said three offenders covered their faces and used scissors to cut three phones from the store's display racks.

Three more phones were taken from a 60-year-old man and a 59-year-old woman who were trading in their devices when the robbery went down, said police.

After collecting six phones, a member of the crew threatened the employees, and all three offenders ran from the store.

Two of the robbers were arrested near the intersection of Rockwell and Eastwood at 5 p.m. The third offender remains at large. Police recovered two hoodies that the robbers discarded as they ran from the robbery scene. Also recovered were three of the stolen phones. Three other phones remain missing, according to police.

Two male juveniles are in custody. Robbery charges are under review.

Battery charge filed in case that preceded bar's "NO RAP" policy

Battery charges have been filed against a man in connection with one of at least two incidents that preceded a recent (and brief) banning of rap music by a Boystown bar.

Ismael Quinones, 21, of the South Chicago neighborhood is charged with battering another patron shortly before closing time on May 26 at Progress Bar, 3359 N. Halsted.

Prosecutors said Quinones and a 28-year-old man were involved in a fight around 2:45 a.m. when Quinones struck the other man repeatedly in the face with his fists and a drinking glass.

Lakeview burglar gives surveillance camera the "thumbs up"

A wisecracking Lakeview burglar took time to give the "thumbs up" to a surveillance camera as he made his way toward his next break-in last weekend. But the camera may get the last laugh as it captured crystal-clear images of the thief's face and caught a glimpse of his distinctive baby blue hi-tops.

Video of the prowler was sent to this reporter by the victim who said she was out of town when the burglar struck her condo near Sheffield and Barry.

The man kicked in the back door of the woman's home at 6:08 Sunday morning and left nine minutes later, the victim said.

"Every drawer, dresser, and closet was ransacked and valuables were stolen, including all my jewelry," she told

CPD closed the bar's dance floor and a restroom as crime scenes following the incident.

The victim was transported to Advocate Illinois Masonic Medical Center for treatment of a cut above his eye.

Quinones had lacerations on the fingers of his right hand, but he refused medical treatment, according to police.

Quinones is charged with one count of misdemeanor battery. He was released on a recognizance bond without appearing before a judge. His next court date is July 5.

Later that same day, another man punched out a plate glass window in a "fit of rage" that was captured on video.

Three days later, on May 29, Progress owner Justin Romme sent an email to staff in which he "implemented a NO RAP rule effective immediately."

Images of the email that quickly circulated on social media raised claims of racism and Romme reversed the music policy in less than a day.

"The email... did not reflect the values of Progress Bar," Romme said in a press release issued on May 30. "It should have never been written or sent."

Romme never drew a direct connection between the weekend violence at Progress and his short-lived rap ban, but online commenters drew the relationship for him.

Bicyclist shoots Lakeview woman in random attack

A 27-year-old Lakeview woman was shot for no apparent reason as she walked in the 600 block of W. Surf early Saturday morning, police said. No one is in custody.

The woman, who is a server at a nearby restaurant, told police that she was walking on the sidewalk around 1:30 a.m. when an unknown man passed by on a bicycle and fired one shot, striking her under her right breast.

Police said the man, described only as white, then continued biking eastbound on Surf.

The victim was transported to Advocate Illinois Masonic Medical Center where her condition was stabilized, police said.

A nearby resident was the first to call the police, saying that he heard a shot behind his home in the 2800 block of N. Clark followed by the sounds of someone screaming.

The woman's own call for help came seconds later, saying she had been shot by a man on a bike.

Police said the woman was not robbed or assaulted by the offender and there is no known motive for the attack.

us. "Please help me find this subject or at least help others that might run into him so they know they should protect themselves."

Man robbed by three gunmen as drug deal goes bad

A Lakeview man found himself at the wrong end of three guns Friday evening when he met with a group of strangers to buy drugs. No one is in custody.

The victim, 36, met up with three men in the 400 block of W. Wellington around 7:25 p.m. to make a "pre-arranged purchase," police said. He told investigators that as soon as he settled into the back seat of their white Jeep Liberty to make the transaction, the three men pulled out two pistols and a rifle. Then, they patted him down and collected his valuables.

Police said the victim was able to escape the Jeep and run to a nearby drug store for help. He was not physically harmed.

The offenders sped out of the area and later dumped the man's phone on the 200 block of E. Huron in Streeter-ville. Police recovered it for the victim.

According to the victim, the robbers are three black men in the 20's in a white Jeep Liberty that has orange tape or stickers on its rear window.

Burglars break into Heritage bike shop AGAIN

"Running a business ain't easy... stuff like this just kills you," said the owner of Heritage Bike. Three weeks after a crook broke out Heritage Bicycle's window to steal a custom-made ride, the same shop has been burglarized again. This time, two burglars carried out the crime. And, unlike the first time, no one is in custody for the June 6 break-in.

Surveillance video shows two men outside the location at 2959 N. Lincoln around 3:20 a.m. Suddenly, an enormous crash is heard as the front glass pane is broken and the two men reach in to steal the bikes.

One of the thieves hops on a bike and immediately crashes into a nearby dumpster before continuing on his way. The second thief preferred to run with his stolen bike.

Witnesses said the offenders were two black males, one of whom is very tall and wore a red hoodie with black leggings. They were last seen heading east in the alley next to Heritage and then westbound on Barry Ave.

Back on May 19, Ronald Hartley, 46, was charged with felony burglary after police said they caught him riding a stolen Heritage bike just minutes after a man was seen breaking through the store's display window. Hartley has an alibi for Thursday's burglary: He was in the Cook County Jail.

Heritage asked their followers to give them a heads up if anyone tries to sell one of their unique retro-style bikes on the black market. The shop says their hand-crafted rides almost never get sold that way legitimately.

"We lost two great bikes tonight and another window, but we'll live to sell more with the help from all of our customers."

Robbery victim breaks leg chasing robbery offender at Belmont Red Line

A robbery victim fell down the stairs and broke her leg as she pursued the man who took her property at the Belmont Red Line CTA station on Thursday morning. No one is in custody.

Police said the 37-year-old victim was on the platform around 9 a.m. June 6 when a man approached her, wrestled away property, and then fled down the stairs.

The woman gave chase, but lost her footing and fell down a flight of stairs, fracturing her left leg, police said. She was treated at Presence St. Joseph Hospital.

Police said the victim was unable to provide any description of the offender other than he is male.

Thursday's mugging was the second to be reported at the bustling station since Wednesday evening.

In the earlier case, a man told police that two men battered him and took his valuables as their train neared the Belmont stop around 6:25 p.m. June 5.

The offenders got off the train at Belmont and then slipped out the "emergency exit" that leads to Fletcher St. The two then ran east toward Clark, police said.

According to the victim, the offenders are two black men: one stood about 5'7" tall and wore a red hoodie; the other is 18-25 years old, has long dreads, and was wearing a dark blue t-shirt.

Lincoln Square altercation escalates to shooting

A 22-year-old man was in good condition after being shot during an altercation in Lincoln Square on June 5. No one is in custody.

Police said the victim was involved in an argument with three men on the sidewalk in the 5200 block of N. Damen around 9:40 p.m. when the dispute turned physical. During the fight, one of the three men pulled out a gun and opened fire, striking the victim in the left knee and mouth, police said. Witnesses reported hearing six or seven shots fired.

All three offenders then ran south on Damen, according to CPD.

Police said they "know" the victim, who was transported to St. Francis Hospital in Evanston for treatment.

The offenders were described only as Hispanic men.

Robbery alert issued for Streeter-ville after five women mugged

Chicago police have issued a robbery alert for Streeter-ville after at least five women have been mugged in the lakefront neighborhood since May 28.

Police said one or two offenders are approaching women from behind and taking purses or phones by using force. Some of the women have reported being punched in the face.

The robbers then fled in a white car with tinted windows or a gray Ford, police said.

All of the attacks have been reported in the late afternoon or early evening hours. Several specific cases have been connected with the team, according to police: in the 200 block of E. Pearson on May 28; in the 800 block of N. Lake Shore Dr. on May 31; and three muggings on June 3—in the 100 block of E. Oak, the 200 block of E. Chestnut and the 800 block of N. Lake Shore Dr.

Police said the robbery crew includes one or two black males between 14- and 18-years-old who stand 5'-5" to 5'-10" tall and weigh

Former owner of Uptown clinic sentenced to more than six years for selling Opioid prescriptions

Despite the well know gang problems in Uptown, the biggest drug pusher in the neighborhood was in fact an outwardly legitimate medical practice run out of a medical clinic on Sheridan Rd.

The former owner of that medical clinic was sentenced May 30 to more than six years in federal prison for selling opioid prescriptions to patients whom he knew lacked a legitimate medical need for the drugs.

Mohammed Shariff, who owned Midtown Medical Center, 4527 N. Sheridan Rd., conspired with a physician to sell oxycodone, hydrocodone, and other medications to patients whom they knew lacked a medical reason for taking the drugs. At Shariff’s direction, the physician, Dr. Theodore Galvani, wrote prescriptions for the powerful opioids without conducting an appropriate physical examination or performing any medical tests. Dr. Galvani often met with more than 70 patients per day, sometimes seeing them in groups of two or more at the same time. At Shariff’s direction, a “crew leader” organized groups of people to obtain opioid prescriptions from Dr. Galvani, often leading to long lines that stretched beyond the clinic’s door.

According to Shariff’s plea agreement, individuals paid $100 to $200 in cash to Shariff and Galvani in exchange for the improper prescriptions. For individuals insured by Medicare, Shariff and Dr. Galvani prescribed the opioids and then submitted or caused others to submit false claims to Medicare, seeking reimbursement for purported office visits with those individuals, the plea agreement states. From February 2012 to March 2013, Shariff and Dr. Galvani received a total of at least $584,188 through the improper prescription scheme. During the same period, the pair was responsible for prescribing more than two kilograms of oxycodone, more than 595,000 hydrocodone pills, and more than 190,000 alprazolam pills (commonly known as Xanax), to individuals whom they knew had no legitimate medical need for those drugs.

Shariff, 68, of Lincolnwood, pleaded guilty last year to one count of conspiracy to knowingly dispense controlled substances outside the usual course of professional practice and without a legitimate medical purpose. U.S. District Judge Harry D. Leinenweber imposed a 75-month sentence in federal court in Chicago. Dr. Galvani previously pleaded guilty to drug conspiracy charges. He is awaiting sentencing.

“The defendant chose to make his living in a vitally important industry,” Assistant U.S. Attorney Peter M. Flanagan argued in the government’s sentencing memorandum. “Rather than devote himself to people in need of fundamental care, however, he showed an abject disregard of patients and perverted his companies into engines of unlawful profit.”

Mohammed Shariff and Dr. Theodore Galvani are responsible for prescribing more than two kilograms of oxycodone, more than 595,000 hydrocodone pills, and more than 190,000 alprazolam pills (commonly known as Xanax.

“This announcement sends a clear message to the medical professionals who exploit their power, prey on the vulnerable, and violate controlled substance laws: you will be investigated and held accountable to the fullest extent,” said DEA SAC McKnight. “It also highlights the significance of federal law enforcement and prosecutors working together.”

In addition to the improper prescriptions, Shariff attempted to carry out a separate fraud scheme involving a home health care company that he owned, Elgin-based Home Health Resource LLC. In a May 2016 meeting in Chicago, Shariff offered to pay a physician $500 each time the doctor certified a Medicare beneficiary as eligible for home health care and referred the patient to Shariff’s company. Unbeknownst to Shariff, the physician was cooperating with law enforcement, and their conversation was surreptitiously recorded. Shariff told the cooperating physician that Shariff instructed nurses at the company to “tell the patient you are homebound,” and that “when the doctor come, don’t say that you go out and drive and this and that. Don’t tell anybody you drive, don’t tell anybody you’re taking the bus, even going to the groceries. If anybody asks, ‘I stay home. I’m homebound.’”

COOK COUNTY DELINQUENT REAL ESTATE TAX LIST

OFFICE OF THE COOK COUNTY TREASURER AND EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR OF COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS.

Advertisement and Notice by Collector of Cook County of Application for Judgment and Order of Sale of Lands and Lots upon which All or a Part of the General Taxes for 3 or More Years are Delinquent, as provided by law.

COUNTY OF COOK, STATE OF ILLINOIS June 12 – June 13, 2019.

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County, Illinois, will apply to the County Division of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois on Thursday, June 27, 2019, for judgment against all lands and lots hereinafter described as being parcels upon which 3 or more years of general real estate taxes remain due and unpaid along with interest and costs, and for an order of sale of said lands and lots in accordance with law. Final entry of said order will be sought on Friday, July 5, 2019.

NOTICE is further given that in the event an order of sale is entered as provided above, on the 11th day of July, 2019, at the hour of 8:00 a.m., all said lands and lots hereinafter described for sale for which an order shall have been made, will be exposed to public sale at 69 W. Washington Street Lower Level Conference Room B, in Chicago, Illinois, for the amount of taxes, interest, and costs due thereon, respectively.

The following is a list of delinquent properties in Cook County upon which the general taxes or any part thereof for 3 or more years remain due and unpaid; the name(s) of the owners, if known; the property location; the total amount due thereon; and the years for which the taxes are due.

Please note, where an “E” indicator appears immediately before a PIN in the column marked “CUR”, the real estate corresponding to said PIN may currently not be subject to taxation or may currently be owned by a governmental agency whose interest in the property may not be defeated by a tax deed. With respect to parcels bearing an “E” (may be currently exempt) indicator, tax purchasers are encouraged to further investigate the taxable status of such a parcel before purchasing the delinquent taxes at the sale. When the tax sale of a currently exempt parcel is vacated, the final result may be a refund without interest.

Where an asterisk appears immediately before a PIN in the column marked “CUR”, the real estate corresponding to said PIN may have been sold at a previous sale of delinquent taxes.

In lieu of a legal description, each parcel of land or lot is designated by a Property Index Number (PIN). Comparison of the 14-digit PIN with the legal description of any parcel may be made by referring to records that are maintained in the various Cook County offices.

The delinquent taxes on the parcels offered for sale are described solely by their Property Index Number (PIN), and NOT the common street address. Street addresses and classifications of the property listed on the sale list as of the date of sale are not guaranteed to be accurate. The Treasurer’s Office does not guarantee or assume responsibility of any kind, implied or otherwise, as to the accuracy of street addresses or property classifications, or as to the legal status or physical condition of the properties. It is the responsibility of each tax buyer to perform proper research to determine the property location, classification, nature, and condition of any property or improvements prior to the sale. ALL SALES ARE FINAL.

Advertisement and Notice by Collector of Cook County of Application for Judgment and Order of Sale of Lands and Lots upon which All or a Part of the General Taxes for 3 or More Years are Delinquent, as provided by law.

NOTICE is hereby given that the said Collector of Cook County, Illinois, will apply to the County Division of the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois on Thursday, June 27, 2019, for judgment against all lands and lots hereinafter described as being parcels upon which 3 or more years of general real estate taxes remain due and unpaid along with interest and costs, and for an order of sale of said lands and lots in accordance with law. Final entry of said order will be sought on Friday, July 5, 2019.

NOTICE is further given that in the event an order of sale is entered as provided above, on the 11th day of July, 2019, at the hour of 8:00 a.m., all said lands and lots hereinafter described for sale for which an order shall have been made, will be exposed to public sale at 69 W. Washington Street Lower Level Conference Room B, in Chicago, Illinois, for the amount of taxes, interest, and costs due thereon, respectively.

The following is a list of delinquent properties in Cook County upon which the general taxes or any part thereof for 3 or more years remain due and unpaid; the name(s) of the owners, if known; the property location; the total amount due thereon; and the years for which the taxes are due.

Please note, where an "E" indicator appears immediately before a PIN in the column marked "CUR", the real estate corresponding to said PIN may currently not be subject to taxation or may currently be owned by a governmental agency whose interest in the property may not be defeated by a tax deed. With respect to parcels bearing an "E" (may be currently exempt) indicator, tax purchasers are encouraged to further investigate the taxable status of such a parcel before purchasing the delinquent taxes at the sale. When the tax sale of a currently exempt parcel is vacated, the final result may be a refund without interest.

Where an asterisk appears immediately before a PIN in the column marked "CUR", the real estate corresponding to said PIN may have been sold at a previous sale of delinquent taxes.

In lieu of a legal description, each parcel of land or lot is designated by a Property Index Number (PIN). Comparison of the 14-digit PIN with the legal description of any parcel may be made by referring to records that are maintained in the various Cook County offices.

The delinquent taxes on the parcels offered for sale are described solely by their Property Index Number (PIN), and NOT the common street address. Street addresses and classifications of the property listed on the sale list as of the date of sale are not guaranteed to be accurate. The Treasurer's Office does not guarantee or assume responsibility of any kind, implied or otherwise, as to the accuracy of street addresses or property classifications, or as to the legal status or physical condition of the properties. It is the responsibility of each tax buyer to perform proper research to determine the property location, classification, nature, and condition of any property or improvements prior to the sale. ALL SALES ARE FINAL.

NO TAX BUYER IS ELIGIBLE TO OBTAIN A TAX DEED FOR ANY PROPERTY OWNED BY A UNIT OF GOVERNMENT. IF AND WHEN THE TAX SALE OF SUCH PROPERTY IS VACATED, THE RESULT MAY BE A REFUND WITHOUT INTEREST.

In Chicago, the 2018 expected property tax bill increases will come on Aug. 1, when the second installment of the bill arrives. “The property tax bill is determined by four factors: the assessment, the equalization factor, or ‘multiplier,’ the tax rate and the exemptions,” said Griffin.

Homeowners also should review their exemptions because they can reduce their tax bill if they have the proper exemptions, Griffin noted. The three main exemptions are the Homeown-

The main engine that drives up property tax bills is the amount of money spent by local government, we all saw last week in Springfield how much governmental bodies in Illinois like to spend money. For example, homeowners who read their 2018 tax bills will see the continued increased spending for schools and police, firefighter and teacher pensions.

The Homeowner's exemption recently was increased to $10,000 from $7,000, and the Senior Exemption was hiked to $8,000 from $5,000. Those amounts are deducted from equalized assessed value of a home to which tax rates are applied to determine individual tax bills.

Also, more seniors are qualified for the Senior Freeze because "Every homeowner should review their last tax bill to see if they received the proper exemptions and contact the assessor if the exemptions are wrong," Griffin advised.

However, predicting a hefty property tax increase really centers on two wild cards—the tax rate and the state equalization factor, which can't be challenged by taxpayers.

The equalization factor, or “multiplier,” is established each year for Cook County to bring property tax assessments in line with other parts of Illinois. The value is determined by the Illinois Dept. of Revenue.

Property owners who think they are over-assessed should file an appeal, Griffin advises.

To start the appeal process, visit the assessor's website: www.cookcountyassessor.com, or call 312-443-7550 to find comparable properties. Please note, where an "E" indicator appears immediately before a PIN in the column marked "CUR", the real estate corresponding to said PIN may currently not be subject to taxation or may currently be owned by a governmental agency whose interest in the property may not be defeated by a tax deed. With respect to parcels bearing an "E" (may be currently exempt) indicator, tax purchasers are encouraged to further investigate the taxable status of such a parcel before purchasing the delinquent taxes at the sale. When the tax sale of a currently exempt parcel is vacated, the final result may be a refund without interest.

Where an asterisk appears immediately before a PIN in the column marked "CUR", the real estate corresponding to said PIN may have been sold at a previous sale of delinquent taxes.

In lieu of a legal description, each parcel of land or lot is designated by a Property Index Number (PIN). Comparison of the 14-digit PIN with the legal description of any parcel may be made by referring to records that are maintained in the various Cook County offices.

The delinquent taxes on the parcels offered for sale are described solely by their Property Index Number (PIN), and NOT the common street address. Street addresses and classifications of the property listed on the sale list as of the date of sale are not guaranteed to be accurate. The Treasurer's Office does not guarantee or assume responsibility of any kind, implied or otherwise, as to the accuracy of street addresses or property classifications, or as to the legal status or physical condition of the properties. It is the responsibility of each tax buyer to perform proper research to determine the property location, classification, nature, and condition of any property or improvements prior to the sale. ALL SALES ARE FINAL.

Three women robbed on Mag Mile within 10 minutes

Three women were robbed in less than 10 minutes June 3 near the Mag-nificent Mile and Streeterville. The spree is similar to a wave of robberies that unfolded on the afternoon of June 7.

• A woman walked up to a patrol officer outside the Drake Hotel around 7:40 p.m. and reported that she had been struck in the face and robbed of her phone. The woman said a black male teenager got out of a Ford Fusion and attacked her near Oak St. and Lake Shore Dr. The teen, who stands about 5’-7” tall and weighs 120-130 lbs, then returned to the vehicle and fled.

• At 7:42 p.m., two women were robbed within steps of each other nearby. One woman was in the 800 block of N. Lake Shore Dr. and the other was in the 200 block of E. Chestnut when they were robbed by two men who escaped in a gray Ford Focus or Ford Fusion that bears an Illinois li-cense plate beginning with 971. The vehicle, police said, is stolen.

A similar series of crimes were re-ported June 7 in Streeterville and Old Town:

• A 12-year-old boy was jumped and robbed by a man who took his phone in the 1600 block of N. Sedg-wick around 4:30 p.m., police said. The offender, described as a black male in his teens who stands 6’-3” tall, was wearing a black t-shirt. He fled east-bound on Eugenie after robbing the boy.

• Police said a 29-year-old woman was battered and robbed by two men who took her property in the 1700 block of N. Wells around 6:40 p.m. One of the offenders was a 6’-3” tall black male in his teens who was wearing a black t-shirt. The other robber was a black male who stands about 5’-8” tall. He wore a blue t-shirt, the woman said.

The third robbery Friday was re-ported in Streeterville:

• A 55-year-old woman was walking in the 800 block of N. Lake Shore Dr. when two men battered her and took her property. The men then jumped into a nearby vehicle—possibly a gray Hyundai Sonata—that was occupied by four other people and fled south on LSD. Police said the two offenders

Woman sexually assaulted at knifepoint in Old Town; Cops catch alleged offender on the run

An armed man confronted a wom-an at knifepoint and sexually assaulted her in an Old Town gangway the night of June 5, police said. Charges have been filed.

The woman was walking in the 200 block of W. Evergreen around 11:27 p.m. when the man threatened her with the knife and forced her into a passageway where he sexually as-saulted her, police said.

A neighbor who heard the woman scream called 911 after looking out a window and seeing the victim’s purse lying unattended nearby. That phone call gave police a few precious extra moments that would later allow them to catch the alleged offender as he ran from the scene.

Police arrived in the area quickly enough to see Floyd Stewart, 34, run-ning through an alley. Stewart was taken into custody in the 300 block of W. Schiller after a brief foot chase. Pol-ice said they recovered a knife and the victim identified him as the attacker.

One police officer suffered minor in-juries while taking Stewart into custo-dy. The victim was treated at Advocate Illinois Masonic Medical Center.

Prosecutors charged Stewart with felony aggravated criminal sexual as-sault while armed with a weapon, four counts of resisting police, and three counts of aggravated battery of a po-lice officer. He has been ordered held without bail.

Near North burglaries

Police are warning businesses on the Near North Side of recently report-ed burglary related incidents. In each incident, the offender forces entry into commercial businesses through rear doors. Once inside, the offender removes computer equipment and exits.

Incidents include one on the 200 block of E. Ohio St., Monday, May 27, during the morning hours; the 200 block of W. Hubbard St., Saturday, May 25, in the evening hours; 200 block of W. Hubbard St., Friday, May 31, in the early evening hours, and one on the 200 block of W. Hubbard St., Saturday, June 1, in the evening hours.

More cell phone thefts downtown

Cell phones continue to be swiped from distracted owners downtown.

Police say the suspects entered res-taurants and service businesses under the guise of soliciting funds for a non-for-profit program. They distracted the victim by waving fliers in front of them, and then placing the flier over the victim’s cell phone or wallet that was lying unattended on the table or counter.

The suspect then retrieved the fli-ers, along with the victim’s visibly obstructed cell phone or wallet, and departed the location. These incidents have occurred during the day and evening business hours in the general geographical locations including the 200 block of S. LaSalle St. on June 5, at 1 p.m.; 100 block of N. Michigan Ave. on June 5, 6 p.m.; 0-100 block of E. Jackson Blvd. on June 6, 12:50 p.m.; 200 block of W. Jackson Blvd. on June 6, 5:05 p.m., and the 800 block of S. Clark St. on June 6, 5:55 p.m.

Police describe the offenders as five male African Americans, ranging in age from 17-25.

Robberies on Near North Side

Residents of the Near North Side are being warned by the police to be on the lookout for robberies.

residents of the 18th District of recently reported robberies. In each incident, the offenders approached the victims from behind and forcibly grabbed cell phones or purses from their hands. The offenders then fled the scene in a white vehicle with tinted windows or a gray Ford vehicle. These incidents include one on the 200 block of E. Pearson St., Tuesday, May 28, 2019 in the evening hours; 800 block of N. Lake Shore Dr., Friday, May 31, in the evening hours; 100 block of E. Oak St., Monday, June 3, in the evening hours; 200 block of E. Chestnut St., Monday, June 3, in the evening hours; 800 block of N. Lake Shore Dr., Monday, June 3, and 0-100 block of E. Oak St., Thursday, June 6.

The offenders are described as one to two male, African Americans, 5’-5” to 5’10”, 130-160 lbs, 14-18 years of age, and two female, African Ameri-cans, 5’-3” to 5’-6”, 130-160 lbs, 17-21 years of age.

publish thorough justifications to support the conclusion that private development would not occur without TIF funding, and lacks accountability.

"TIF is a tool designed to eradicate blight, improve infrastructure, and foster economic development, which can also serve as an important mechanism for promoting equitable development of affordable housing, expanding the City's job base, and putting vacant land to productive use," Inspector General Joe Ferguson said in a press statement. "Unfortunately, this potentially important redevelopment tool is as often regarded as an engine for perpetuating inequity as it is for eradicating it. With a number of considerable, highly controversial TIF projects on the drawing board, we strongly urge the incoming administration to move swiftly to ensure the TIF Reform Panel's recommendations are fully implemented."

One Chicago activist who has been educating the public about TIFs found the city's inspector general report laughable.

"Talk about closing the barn door after the horses bolt," said Tom Tresser, a local activist who founded the TIF Illumination Project. "Where were these guys while the two super TIFs were being rammed down our throats?"

Tresser, who calls himself a public defender and fought successfully against Chicago hosting the 2016 Olympic Games and privatizing a public park, summarized TIFs at a talk last week.

Tresser has been leading the Illumination Project since 2013 and has been invited to present at 75 public meetings all over the city.

"We're in the middle of an attack on the public commons," he said. "Money is being taken out of our wards by a TIF and the people deserve to know where it goes."

Tresser noted that Cook County generated a record $1 billion in TIFs in 2017, up 18% from 2016. But most of the TIF districts that generated the most revenue were on the North Side or in or around the Loop.

"We're in the middle of an attack on the public commons," he said. "Money is being taken out of our wards by a TIF and the people deserve to know where it goes."
"We have to say, who blighted who," Tresser said in his presentation. "The people got blighted."

TIFs are supposed to be used to help build things and so the local construction industry and trade unions are tightly connected to them. But the TIFs take money mostly from school budgets that can't collect the extra tax dollars generated in a TIF for 23 years. That means that the taxpayers not located within a TIF district then pay more in property taxes to make up for lost funds syphoned out by TIFs.

Also, Tresser noted, TIFs were supposed to be used where they are collected, but that's not true as well. He said an example was using TIF money from the highly controversial McCormick Place to build a basketball arena for DePaul Univ. that was diverted to Navy Pier.

The TIF program began in 1986 by Mayor Harold Washington to spur development in the neighborhoods. Former mayor Richard J. Daley then went wild on TIFs that have totaled over $9 billion to date. Tresser displayed a Godzilla with TIF printed across his green chest to highlight how they've terrorized the city.

He said there are today about 16,000 TIFs holding about $40 billion across the country. There are now 146 TIF zones in Chicago, including the city's largest, the Red Line Super TIF that is a mile wide and runs from North Ave. to Devon Ave.

TIFs also paid out about $450 million in finance fees.

"It's an act of economic warfare on the black communities," Tresser said.

He said aldermen Brian Hopkins (2nd), Danny Solis (25th), Walter Burnett (27th) and Carrie Austin (34th) have gotten donations from TIF recipients.

Several black aldermen on the South Side, who voted in favor of the recent Lincoln Yards development, said it was about jobs.

Tresser said these developments on the North Side don't need taxpayer dollars, thus the lawsuit which contends, the "but, for" clause which stipulates that nothing would be built if the TIF was not provided. Indeed the Lincoln Yards TIF seems to reward perhaps the hottest, most desirable real estate in the entire Midwest.

"It's not about economic development," Tresser said. "It's about power and clout."

Tresser said there are school districts suing their mayors in other cities over the TIF.
