City offers to give away Chicago Ave. Bridge over river

City Hall works in secret to plan for ugly new bridge

The city of Chicago is offering to give away a famous North Side bridge at no cost.

The Chicago Dept. of Transportation is proposing the removal and replacement of the handsome and historic bridge that carries Chicago Ave. traffic over the North Branch of the Chicago River... and few people have heard anything about it.

But by some odd loophole in the law, they are first offering to give it away to the state of Illinois since the bridge was determined eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

Their lone public notice states that "Pursuant to Title 23 U.S.C. 144 (o) (4), Chicago must first make the bridge available for free as a donation to the state, local or another responsible entity before moving forward."

Therefore, in that lone public notice placed online last week, the Chicago Dept. of Transportation is offering the Chicago Ave. Bridge to any qualifying state, local or responsible entity, as soon as they agree to enter into an agreement to the following conditions:

1. That they maintain the bridge and the features that give it its historic significance, and
2. Assume all future legal financial responsibility for the bridge, which may include an agreement to hold the City of Chicago harmless in any liability action.

According to Historicbridges.org, this bridge is similar to the nearby Grand Ave. Bridge. Both are examples of the first design of the pony truss bascule bridge that Chicago came up with, often referred to as the second generation bascule bridge design. Additionally, the Chicago Ave. Bridge is historically significant for its unique concrete bridge tender house. This bridge was one of the first Chicago bascule bridges to employ a "permanent" bridge tender building that was constructed of materials more substantial than wood, which had been used previously.

The Chicago Ave. Bridge is historically significant for its unique concrete bridge tender house [green round building on the Northeast side of the bridge].

"We all realize that many of these bridges spanning the Chicago River are aging, but so many of them are suffering from deferred maintenance, to the point where they are deteriorating and in need of expensive repairs and sometimes full replacement," said Ward Miller, Executive Director Preservation Chicago. "It's unfortunate that the City does not have a regular maintenance program in place to address this need, and that even the newest bridges, like the North Ave. Bridge fall into disrepair quickly, with rusted surfaces, broken lighting systems and miscellaneous cords, and loose wiring hanging from the structure."

"It's also tragic that the famous Bascule bridges, an iconic Chicago feature of our City, and an amazing collection of these unique historic structures, are being lost so rapidly in and around the North Branch Corridor."

While Chicago has preserved its historic bridges in the downtown Loop area, there is a clear discrepancy on the North Branch of the Chicago River where the rate of demolition is very high, despite the fact that some of the most historically significant bridges in Chicago are on the North Branch. The city has proven that its historic bascule bridges can be rehabilitated, with parts replicated as needed, and this is perhaps what should instead be done with this bridge since it is historic. The city could look to Cortland St. Bridge, Kinzie St. Bridge, and Wells St. Bridge as examples of the feasibility of preservation.

Ironically, a review of the 1911 Annual Report of the Chicago Dept. of Public Works noted that the city intended to eventually build a subway under Chicago

Hospital construction shuts down Superior St.

The traffic congestion, constrictions and construction tie-ups in Streeterville just keep getting worse these days. Now, as part of the Simpson Querrey Biomedical Research Center construction, Northwestern Univ. will be closing a section of Superior St. between Fairbanks Ct. and 345 E. Superior St. from now through Aug. 18.

This will be done to begin the installation of two new mid-block street crosswalks, which will include complete replacement of the concrete street base, asphalt pavement, curbs, and drainage.

Traffic management efforts will be in place as needed and signage will be posted at relevant street corners. The sidewalk on the north side of Superior St. will remain open during construction. For more information call 312-643-2299 or 847-815-4732.

Cops warn: 'Do not engage in conversation with Flyer Boys in the roadway'

BY CWBCHICAGO.COM

Chicago police have issued a community alert to warn drivers about a series of thefts and robberies in the downtown area that have involved flyer boys.

This newspaper first reported on the phenomenon in February. Police listed six recent cases, but a department source said the number of incidents is much higher.

In each case, motorists who are stuck in traffic have been approached by young men who distract the driver and may try to open the driver-side door, the alert said. The form of the distraction is often a ruse to deliver a handbill or flyer about a fake sports team or charity. Once access to the car's interior has been achieved, the offenders take cellphones—often from window mounts—and other electronics such as GPS devices.

All of the incidents listed in the police alert were reported during afternoon or evening hours, and many were on or near Michigan Ave.

Drivers for ride-hail services are frequently targeted because they often mount their phones on the windshield within easy reach of someone standing outside of the vehicle.

One of recent cases involved an Uber driver who told police that a flyer boy approached her car at Michigan and Randolph around 4:30 p.m. June 3. After pretending to hand the woman a flyer, the thief suddenly displayed a handgun and took the woman's phone, mount, and base from the car, police said.

In an even bolder move, a carload of thieves pulled up to a traffic accident in River North on Saturday evening and proceeded to steal phones from the crashed cars while victims looked on in disbelief. Around 5:40 p.m., police were called to an accident involving two cars in the 1000 block of N. LaSalle. When cops arrived, the drivers reported that an SUV pulled up alongside the crash and three men jumped out to steal the motorists' phones. The thieves then jumped back into their car and sped off.

The police alert said the offenders are African-American males

Serious artists MIA, replaced by fashionable, bourgeoisie suburbanites

Yoga moms and PBR-drinking husbands unite!

By Thomas J. O'Gorman

Have you ever awoken from sleep, disorientated, out of sorts, not sure exactly where you were at?

Well, that's been a growing and familiar experience for me of late after 15 years.

I used to think that our little East Village neighborhood was the Greenwich Village of 312-town. But something has happened. Where is the neighborhood of paint-stained artists and Bohemians who once so freely roamed the streets here wearing nothing but resale shop clothing and mid-century modern eyewear?

Where are all the tattooed hipsters whose moody presence guaranteed a buffer zone between me and the rest of trendy, same as usual Chicago?

How could such a large population of coffee addicts and gender neutrals, infrequent bathers though they be, have disappeared from the wide sidewalks of this once shabby neighborhood, taking their nonchalance of coolness with them? Where are my art student colleagues? My truculent budding sculptors? All the musicians and galleristas?

Where are my genteel painter friends who made it this far from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago? You know, those grateful ones, so happy to be treated to a vegan burger and some beer.

I feel like I should be sending out an "Amber Alert." Who has taken these quiet and serious artists from our midst and replaced them with fashionable, bourgeoisie suburbanites who, as far as I can tell, have abandoned their former country club zip codes for the opportunity to live in the city and make babies and live in a just-built triplex and eat egg ran-cheros. And then push their children around the neighborhood all day in wide load perambulators, showing them off like they were a Rolex watch. Who are these lactose intolerant baby mamas who arrive en mass with their children and their yoga mats to turn the interior of our local coffee shops into a day care center? Frequently they are accompanied by visiting over-doing it grandparents who order their urban coffees and muffins, with one eye on the door, and the other on their purse, on the look out for Chicago gangs and gun-slingers who could jump out at the any moment.

Baby mamas turn the interior of the local coffee shop, Milk & Honey, into a day care center.

While skyrocketing rents and rising beer costs drained the neighborhood of young artists and poets, it relocated them in cheaper places like Humboldt Park and Logan Square. They've been exiled further west, moved from their apartments and studios clutching their humble brown paper bags of possessions and stash of pot. The new urbanites were quick to replace them, backing up their U-Hauls and moving vans. Taking over the neighborhood, they display for everyone the timeless treasures of children, dogs and yoga mats. Hauling bar-b-que grills, smokers and patio furniture from their Volvos, linking up with other nearby college friends.

The arrival of the new urbanite millennials is a short-sighted phenomenon and, ultimately I believe, disingenuous. This is most ardently a wave of "faux-urbanity." They have not relocated to the city to be changed by it, but, rather, to change the character and style of the city instead. With plans, of course, to return to the land of chain restaurants when their prodigies are school age.

It has happened in other parts of the North Side too [like Lincoln Park, North Center and Lincoln Square] and it's all disturbingly phony.

I think of this when I see moms bringing their infants and tots to "Mr. Dave," the local music man. Moms gather at Dave's on Division where little percussion instruments are placed in their tiny tots' hands. All join in a noise fest in the hope that taking early music will develop their children's musical future. That's not how you make a prodigy, no matter what a millennial says. They'd be better off whistling Bach fugues at home while doing yoga.

The emergence of this segment of the population is as cheesy as the things that attract them to the city. The promise of attending more Cubs games. Walks in the neighborhood without fear. Easy access to Mariano's. A 20 minute commute to the office. Good deals on a condo and living in a part of the city their parents can't find. Sadly, they lack the vocabulary, manners and style of true urban dwellers. They couldn't name their alderman. They don't know what a ward committeeman is, and they use Uber for carry-out deliveries.

Many of these issues are easily solved by time, but I am uncomfortable knowing there is this fresh army of new Chicago residents who are not grounded in the wiles of Chicago voting and political life. Will they be patsies for the next mayoral election? Will they support Rahm Emanuel just because he loves triathlons? Will they see beyond the patina of his Washington days with the Clintons and Obamas?

I don't have much confidence in their judgments.

Do they even know State and Madison streets are the crossroads of measuring Chicago's north, south, east and west? Did they ever experience the world before iPhones, computers or social media? Do they see through the need to try to make a fortune? Not many painters, sculptors or poets here; just the consumers of avocado toast and almond milk lattes.

Perhaps over the weeks of the summer some strong, rational, female candidates will start emerging in every slated office with the hopes that females will start being elected in record numbers. It is time for the electorate to turn away from men and the failed experiment of electing them to public office. Perhaps women, then, can lead us into those places that the menfolk have been too frightened to enter. Perhaps this is the time to make a switch. Imagine someone actually working on conserving your taxes. Protecting your safety. Fashioning government that fits our times, not the era of the World's Colombian Exhibition. What if the old guard in the Illinois House actually worked towards securing Illinois' future, instead of presiding over its fatigue and failure. Let's organize the yoga moms and their PBR drinking husbands. Out with the old. In with the new. An avalanche for women would be a victory for reason and intelligence. At least we'd be rid of the self-serving champions of local government. A coalition of women and millennials might be the right formula to rid ourselves of oligarchs who think they have a divine right to governance.

Have you ever awoken from sleep, disorientated, out of sorts, not sure exactly where you were at? We can hope, can't we?

STRIKE THREE: What Chicago Alderman is still looking for freebie tickets to major events around town by having a "nephew" making contacts with producers? This hardly sounds like a House of Lords activity. Apparently the alderman is unfamiliar with the way things work. It's the law.

TAINTED ART: The tragedy of great art seized by the Nazis during World War II is still a ghost that haunts. Recently, a painting by the Impressionist Albert Sisley, entitled "First Day of Spring," was sold by Christie's in 2008 for over $350,000. The buyer says that they did not adequately search out the paintings history. It was clearly confiscated by the Nazis. Now the heirs want it back. And the buyer wants Christie's to refund his purchase price. It's a huge kettle of misery. But an indefensible position, publicly, for Christie's. Give it back!

THE BIRTH OF THE MOSCOW MULE:
In a story that is now legend, in 1941, Jack Morgan of Cock and Bull Ginger Beer was sitting with John G. Martin of Hublein and Rudolph Kunett, the President of Smirnoff. Small apartment building values are rising on the hot North Side

The Home Front By Don DeBat

Chicago is a city of neighborhoods, but not all residential enclaves are created equally.

According to S&P Core Logic Case-Shiller Indices, Avondale's average single-family home price rose 11.7% in 2017. In contrast, the average price of a single-family home in Englewood on the South Side in 2017 was $20,550, a decline of 6% from $22,000 in 2016.

"Three-flat and four-flat apartment values also are on the rise in the hot North Side neighborhoods of Old Town, Lincoln Park, Lakeview, Bucktown, Wicker Park, Ukrainian Village, Logan Square and Avondale," noted Realtor Sara E. Benson, president of Benson Stanley Realty based in Chicago.

"Well located three-unit and four-unit income properties are highly attractive to small investors," Benson said. "It's about scarcity and demand. At any point in time, there typically are less than 3,000 small income properties listed for sale in Northern Illinois. At the same time there usually are about 40,000 single-family home listings and 15,000 condos for sale."

X-Plus Real Estate, specialists in marketing two-unit to 12-unit properties, compiled the following analysis of 2017 three-unit and four-unit building sales by zip codes on Chicago's North Side:

- 60614: In this zip code, encompassing Old Town and Lincoln Park, 21 three-unit properties were sold in 2017 for an average price of $1,014,952. Average market time was 118 days.
- 60618: In Logan Square, 46 three-unit properties were sold in 2017 for an average price of $582,050. Average market time was 83 days. Twenty-six four-flats in the 60647 zip code sold for an average price of $774,230 in 2017 with an average market time of only 50 days.
- 60618: This zip code includes West Roscoe Village, Avondale

Well located three-unit and four-unit income properties on the North Side are now highly attractive to small investors and hard to find.

Ukrainian Village. Thirty-four three-unit properties were sold in 2017 for an average price of $750,956. Average market time was 74 days. Eighteen four-flats in the 60622 zip code sold for an average price of $978,993 in 2017 with an average market time of 64 days.

- 60647: In Lakeview, 20 three-unit properties were sold in 2017 for an average price of $968,646. Average market time was 73 days. Fifteen four-flats in the 60657 zip code sold for an average price of $1,267,308 in 2017 with an average market time of only 56 days.
- 60622: This zip code includes Bucktown, Wicker Park and and Albany Park. Sixty-eight three-unit properties were sold in 2017 for an average price of $557,491. Average market time was 64 days. Twenty-three four-flats in the 60618 zip code sold for an average price of $693,768 in 2017 with an average market time of only 33 days.

Despite reports of strong investment-property sales in key North Side neighborhoods, all is not rosy in the Chicago-area market. S&P Core Logic Case-Shiller Indices indicate that Chicago ranks 20th among the nation's biggest metropolitan areas with only a 2.6% rise in home values last year.

Chicago-area home appreciation is low because of lackluster job growth, soaring real estate taxes and an exodus of residents to other states, experts say.

Nationwide in 2017, home values rose 6.3%. The Seattle market led the nation with a 12.7% price rise, followed by Las Vegas with 11.1% gain in home value.

The Chicago area also leads the nation with 253,725 underwater homes—those on which the owner owes more on the mortgage than the property is worth, according to Zillow's 2017 Q4 Negative Equity report. That total is more than all the underwater homes in both New York and Los Angeles combined.

Local businesses can now pay city taxes online

Mayor Rahm Emanuel has announced that WebTax has been replaced by Chicago Business Direct [CBD], which is the City's new platform that combines all city tax and license needs in one place. Business owners, and/or their legal representatives, may now apply for City of Chicago business licenses, renew business licenses, file tax returns, and make tax payments online.

To file and pay your taxes using CBD, a business owner or officer of a business must set up an active user profile and account under the Chicago Business License Application System.

If your business is not required to be licensed and/or you are a new user, you must create a new user profile to log in to CBD. Account numbers and PINs will no longer be used to file tax returns and make tax payments online. As a business owner you may also grant another person the ability to pay and file taxes on your behalf, provided they have an approved user profile. For more information call 311.

pain of losing Connie, Pozniak started running.

She was 58 at the time, yet she took her mission one step further. After searching the Internet, Pozniak found the Bonnie J. Addario Lung Cancer Foundation online and discovered the “amazing” organization was having a 5K run to raise funds. Before long, Pozniak started traveling around the country, running in the organization’s 5Ks, in Connie’s honor.

“That was my motivation to keep me going,” said Pozniak, now 64.

The pair had met way back in 1978, when Pozniak started teaching at St. Fidelis, a Catholic School in Humboldt Park. Connie’s son, Randy, was in Pozniak’s first eighth grade class. During her half-dozen years of working at the school, Pozniak always had one of Connie’s three boys in her social studies class, and the two formed a strong bond.

“I had one of the Gonzalez boys all six

When Edgewater resident Kathy Pozniak lost her bosom buddy, Connie Gonzalez, to lung cancer in 2012, she wanted to not only honor her dear friend, but also somehow keep her memory alive. To do that and also ease the years,” said Pozniak, who spent 10 years teaching in the Catholic Schools system before heading to CPS for the next 24 years. “It wasn’t so much while I was teaching her sons that we were friends, but after two graduated, we started socializing a little bit. After the third son graduated, we really became friends.”

After nurturing, teaching and watching the Gonzalez brothers grow into young adults, the friendship blossomed and Pozniak and Connie set off on many wonderful adventures together. They traveled to places like Mexico, where they saw the Mayan ruins in Chichen Itza. They visited Puerto Vallarta and Oaxaca. And with both of them loving road trips, they drove to the East Coast, Texas, Florida and “fell in love with Savannah,” said Pozniak.

“Connie hated driving and I love driving,” laughed Pozniak. “I had no problem doing all the driving while Connie read the tabloids and did lottery scratch offs.”

Last Sunday she was in Lincoln Park participating in her 13th 5K in Connie’s honor and once again raising funds for the Bonnie J. Addario Lung Cancer Foundation. Monies from the event help empower and educate patients, fund cutting-edge research, build strategic collaborations and raise public awareness, said founder, Bonnie Addario, a 14-year lung cancer survivor.

Every $100 dollars raised allows ALCF to deliver the patient handbook, “Navigating Lung Cancer 360 Degrees of Hope,” to a lung cancer patient and their family in need. The book comes in English, Spanish and Mandarin. For every $500 raised, ALCF is able to provide a lung cancer patient access to diagnostic kits that will allow their physician to personalize effective treatment to their specific genomic cancer type, Addario said.

"When people give to or raise money for the ALCF, they can be assured that their donations are being used to help patients live longer and to turn lung cancer into a chronically-managed disease," said Addario.

Lung cancer takes more lives than breast, prostate and colon cancers combined. It invaded my life in 1998, when my mom, a 30-year CPS teacher, was diagnosed. Although my mother lived 10 years with the disease, the five-year lung cancer survival rate is not promising and has changed little in nearly 40 years – from 12% in 1970 to 18.6% today, Addario said.

Moreover, approximately 234,030 new lung cancer cases will be diagnosed in the U.S. in 2018. It accounts for 25% of all cancer deaths and is the second leading cause of death in the U.S. Since 1987, lung cancer has killed more women every year than breast cancer, Addario said.

While the understanding of lung cancer's diagnosis and treatment has improved, additional work is still needed to advance treatment options and survival statistics, said Addario. Pozniak said she hopes that we will reach a day when no one will have to lose their best friend to lung cancer. It's important to keep pushing for funding, for her buddy and all the others out there fighting the fight, she said.

"How many people never have the friendship like I had with Connie?" said Pozniak. "A lot of people go through life and never have something like that. So that's what I always try to remind myself."

Congrats to Coleman on his award!

Twenty-five and going strong... this Father's Day weekend marks the 25th anniversary of a wonderful community event, the Artists of the Wall Festival (AOTW), which brings neighbors of all ages and backgrounds together to paint a 600' seawall at Loyola Park Beach in East Rogers Park. This year's theme is "Legends of the Wall," and the fest features two days of free music with performances by an eclectic bunch including Hinda Hoffman and Soul Message Band; Stann Champion and the Propaganda

Machine; Roy McGrath Quartet; and Lucy Smith.

The idea of the fest rose 25-years ago as a neighbors' response to gangs who would continually graffiti the wall to the point where the park district couldn't keep up maintenance. Now, instead of graffiti, there's fun artwork, which remain on display until the following year, when the wall is again prepped, whitewashed and readied with 160 spaces for the next eager participants, including my family!

Local artist Luis Rios created this year's artwork for the Artists of the Wall Fest.

The AOTW fest is the main fundraiser for the Loyola Park Advisory Council. Artist fees and sponsor donations help support a variety of public programming at Loyola Park. Look for the kid's tent with activities including Father's Day card making, arts and crafts, and a live performance by Barrel of Monkeys at 3 p.m. Sunday.

And kudos to artist and former Loyola Park coach Luis Rios, who did a great job creating the painting on this year's fest posters, banners and t-shirts!

Abenezer Makete

Woo-hoo, Ivy Leaguer! ... Chicago Math and Science Academy's (CMSA) Abenezer Makete, will be heading to Cornell Univ. this fall, where he plans on majoring in Computer Science and Science and Economic, with a minor in Business. Way to go Abenezer!

The brainy Mekete has been a student at CMSA since the sixth grade and he was accepted at Northwestern Univ. as well.

"I have achieved one of the biggest goals of my life," said Mekete. "There's more work and even more challenges coming my way; however, I am now even more motivated and know that I can achieve anything. This opportunity to attend one of the top universities in the world, will give me the resources and support to successfully attain my goals of finding solutions to prominent issues around the world."

Frances Xavier Cabrini: Lincoln Park's Saint

Lincoln Park Community Research Initiative Spring 2018 Program

DePaul University's Lincoln Park Community Research Initiative (LPCRI) will host its spring 2018 program, "Frances Xavier Cabrini: Lincoln Park's Saint" by Lincoln Park filmmakers Lucia Mauro and Joe Orlandino 7 p.m. Monday, June 18, at the DePaul Univ. Student Center, 2250 N. Sheffield Room 120.

The LPCRI spring 2018 program will screen Mauro and Orlandino's documentary, "Frances Xavier Cabrini: The People's Saint." The featured filmmakers will present the story of how The National Shrine of St. Frances Xavier Cabrini rose from the demolition of Columbus Hospital, to its recognition of "the saint among our skyscrapers." The film shows Mother Cabrini's spiritual legacy in Chicago where she ministered to newly arriving immigrants at the turn of the 20th century.

The film, made during Mother Cabrini's Centenary year, presents a living portrait of the Italian born saint that showcases her relevance in an ever-changing world. The Patron Saint of Immigrants and Hospital Administrators is explored as a fearless, roll-up-her-sleeves woman who, despite frail health, traveled the world at the turn of the 20th century to serve the less fortunate. It shows the environment in Lombardy, Italy, that shaped her compassionate vision and includes interviews with individuals from all walks of life who carry on Mother Cabrini's work today, as the needs of immigrants and other populations continue to evolve.

A reception will begin at 6:30 p.m., which will include light refreshments, and the program will begin at 7 p.m.

Though admission is free, interested attendees must RSVP by visiting the event site at <https://tinyurl.com/Spring2018LPCRI> or by emailing cgr@depaul.edu.

Frances Xavier Cabrini

The event is easily accessible by public transportation and parking is available at the Sheffield Garage, 2331 N. Sheffield, for $7.25.

Muddy Waters wrote the songs of Chicago's blues legacy

BY JEFF JOHNSON

Chicago Sun-Times*

Since June 2017, Muddy Waters' image has beamed down from a 10-story mural at 17 N. State St. in Chicago. But the king bee of Chicago blues looms even larger over the city with his out-sized musical and cultural legacy.

The Mississippi Delta native, born McKinley Morganfield in 1913, followed the Great Migration to Chicago in 1943, where he found stardom with his groundbreaking electric guitar sound and classic bands. He died at age 70 in 1983, but new generations of artists often cite the influence of the six-time Grammy winner and Rock and Roll Hall of Famer, and Waters' songs such as "I'm Your Hoochie Coochie Man" and "Rollin' Stone" are used frequently by filmmakers and advertisers.

International tourists visit Chicago to bathe in Waters' lore, including a visit to his longtime home at 4339 S. Lake Park. There's not much to see, though, because the house that Tim Samuelson, Chicago's cultural historian, has called Chicago's most historic home has stood vacant and in a state of disrepair for many years. Plans are stalled to convert the Kenwood two-flat into a museum or other attraction.

Waters' bluesman son Larry "Mud" Morganfield, who like his dad is a singer-songwriter-guitarist, spent time at the house, but never lived there. But he quickly rattles off the names of blues stars who did.

"James Cotton, Pinetop Perkins, Otis Spann and Little Walter all stayed there, and everyone from Paul Butterfield to Keith Richards went there," Morganfield said. "I don't care to have that house. What I care about is the house standing and representing Chicago as the real house of the blues. ... Chicago needs to keep this man's legacy alive."

Muddy Waters found stardom with his groundbreaking electric guitar sound and classic bands.

Sun-Times Files

Morganfield admitted that being the son of a blues immortal can be a double-edged sword from a career standpoint.

"It's both a curse and a blessing," he said. "You have people who say, 'He sounds like his dad, but he ain't Muddy.' Of course I'm not. But I have other people come up and tell me, 'I had a lump in my throat because you remind me so much of your daddy.'"

Others who want to walk in Waters' footprints may visit the Chess Studios (www.bluesheaven.com/historic-chess-studios.html) at 2120 S. Michigan, where the bluesman recorded many of his best-known records and rock 'n' roll icon Chuck Berry strutted his stuff. Family members of the late Willie Dixon, who penned some of the biggest hits of Waters and fellow Chess artists such as Howlin' Wolf, operate the studios with their nonprofit Blues Heaven Foundation.

Pet loss support group

The loss of a pet hits hard, but it is important to know that however you are feeling is completely normal. Not everyone grieves the same way, and one of the best ways to work through the grieving process is to discuss your emotions with a trained professional.

The Anti-Cruelty Society, 510 N. LaSalle St., offers a free group program called "Working Through Pet Loss" to help those who are having a difficult time with the passing of their pet. This group meets on the first Tuesday of every month from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and is facilitated by Yvette Camacho, a licensed professional counselor.

To most pet owners, the pet is considered a member of the family. There are several stages of grief (denial, anger or guilt, bargaining, depression, and acceptance), but not everyone experiences all of them or in the same order. There is no right or wrong way to grieve; there is only your way. It is very important to remember that some people with the best of intentions may say some inappropriate things in an effort to help.

Currently Camacho is partnering with Chicago Public Schools to facilitate groups focused on mindfulness and social-emotional well being for children kindergarten through second grade. One of her current ambitions is to expand her line of work into animal-assisted therapy and in 2013, received a certification in animal-assisted activities.

Apparently of late, staff had rather blatantly started working commando-style in efforts to sabotage part of their management group. Peace and sensible drawers have returned. ory) the French doors on the RL patio were wide open. The interior of the grill was fresh and cozy with a whole new sense of itself. I think it was less noisy. This is one change I agree with. Now, stop calling the Perch "Fish Sticks" on the menu. Ridiculous. Don't forget morning coffee everyday in the RL Cafe from 7 to 11 a.m.

BONJOUR MA CHER: Husband told wife that his law firm was sending him to Berlin for five days of client centered work. Wife told husband she would be going to Oslo at the same time to give a talk on early Norse settlements in America. Try as they wanted, they just could not find an easy way to connect in Europe. So that must explain why they were so surprised to literally bump into each other in the lobby bar of the fabulous Bristol Hotel in Paris. Apparently they remained civil, even though each had a significant other nearby. The upshot was that each had a same sex companion. Now everyone needs time to think. Me too. I'm overwhelmed.

Police Beat....

Bogus Uber leads to Lakeview robbery

A 26-year-old Logan Square man was robbed early Saturday after he got into a car that he mistakenly believed was his Uber ride. Police said he got into a dark-colored sedan in the 800 block of W. Diversey around 2 a.m. and was confronted by two men inside who demanded his valuables. The victim said he complied with their demands and jumped out of the moving vehicle as it approached a stop sign in the 2800 block of N. Sheffield. Police said the victim was able to grab some of his property back before he jumped from the car, but the two men still managed to get away with his credit cards.

YEOWW! Woman charged with attacking groins of two security guards and a cop

You may want to sit down for this, gentlemen. A North Side woman has been charged with busting two male security guards and a Chicago police sergeant in their groins while she was being escorted from the DePaul Univ. campus, according to court records. It happened around 7:30 p.m. May 26 in the 1100 block of W. Belden on the school's Lincoln Park campus. Prosecutors said Laura Harris, 22, was being escorted from DePaul grounds by uniformed security when she cracked a 30-year-old guard in his groin with her knee causing "blunt force injury." The guard "performed an emergency take-down" and placed Harris into custody, according to court records. When a second uniformed security guard arrived to help, Harris struck him in the groin with a knee, too, prosecutors said. The 32-year-old guard also experienced a "blunt force injury," according to police records. Cops were called in. As Harris was being walked to a squad car she back-kicked a 48-year-old police sergeant in the groin, again causing "blunt force injury." Harris is charged with three felony counts of aggravated battery of a peace officer. Judge David Navarro released her on a recognizance bond.

Attempted murder charge filed in Belmont Red Line attack; Accused is 7-time convicted felon

A Wicker Park man has been charged with attempted murder and aggravated battery for allegedly knocking a woman onto the Belmont Red Line tracks on June 2. State records show the man has a significant criminal history, including four convictions for robbery. Melvin Doss, 46, was taken into custody at the Kimball Brown Line CTA station last Tuesday afternoon when a CTA worker recognized him on a train and alerted police. After noticing Doss, the transit worker ordered the train to stay in the station until police arrived. A source said Doss was wearing the same hat and jacket seen in a photo of the suspect that was taken moments before Friday's incident. Doss' Facebook page includes a profile photo that appears to show him wearing the same olive green Chicago Cubs hat that the suspect wore. Doss is riding a CTA train in the profile photo. Record show that Doss has served a string of prison sentences since 1992, including four separate terms for robberies. Most recently, he completed parole in Oct. 2014 after receiving a 10-year sentence for aggravated robbery. His prison sentences include 10 years for aggravated robbery in 2006; eight years for armed robbery-firearm in 2001; 30 months for theft of more than $100,000 in 2000; three years for narcotics in 2000; four years for attempted robbery in 1997; four years for robbery in 1992; three years for receiving-possessing a stolen vehicle in 1992.

After being paroled in 2014, Doss was arrested four times in Chicago that year, according to CPD records. He has not been arrested in the city since. Just after 4 p.m. June 2, a 48-year-old woman was punched in the head and onto the northbound

Melvin Doss

Red Line CTA train tracks at Belmont by a man she had asked to stop urinating on the platform. Police said the woman's head struck a train rail and she broke her arm by trying to cushion her fall. The victim had eight staples placed in her head and a soft cast put on her hand and forearm. In an interview the next day, the victim told this newspaper that she took a photo of the man after he threatened her during a confrontation. Seconds later, he hit her in the back of the head, causing her to fall from the platform and onto the tracks, the woman said. Doss has been ordered held without bail.

Career burglar charged with 11 West Loop business break-ins

Prosecutors have charged a career burglar with breaking into 11 businesses across the West Loop and Near North Side to steal jewelry, computers and personal property. Robert E. Payne, 58, has been sentenced to a combined 56 years in prison for burglary. Despite being sentenced to a combined 30 years since 1998—that's only 20 years ago—Payne was off of parole and walking free when he allegedly burglarized a string of companies this Spring. Cops went to the West Loop June 4 to pick up a copy of surveillance video from a data recovery business that recently reported an attempted break-in. As the officers were walking into the building, Payne was walking out. The officers say they immediately recognized him as the offender seen in surveillance footage from other burglarized businesses. They ran after Payne and arrested him at a bus stop in the 1300 block of W. Van Buren. Payne was carrying a cordless grinder, two pry bars, two watches, 17 gold rings, three silver rings, 16 metal rings, and a West Loop attorney's concealed carry licenses from three different states, according to police records. Prosecutors have charged Payne with 10 counts of felony burglary and one count of felony attempted burglary. Judge John Lyke ordered him held without bail. Among the businesses Payne is accused of burglarizing in the West Loop are: a computer-aided design shop; a day care center; a shared office space; a construction company; a freelance talent agency; a law firm; a cloud migration company; a trophy shop, a data recovery firm; and a school that specializes in social justice-based education. A video production company in River North is also listed as one of his victims. State records show Payne has received the following sentences for burglary: 11 years in 2009; nine years in 2007; 10 years in 1998; a concurrent seven years in 1998; five years in 1992; another five years in 1992; six years in 1981, and three years in 1978

Felon busted in Uptown with loaded gun, ski mask and latex gloves Chicago police are celebrating the "great arrest" of an allegedly armed felon in Uptown on Friday evening. In addition to a loaded handgun, officers recovered a ski mask, hoodie, and latex gloves from the suspect's car, according to the police department's Office of News Affairs. Shortly after 10 p.m., 19th District Town Hall officers pulled over William

William Groves

Groves, 24, in the 4500 block of N. Clarendon because his car did not have a front license plate. Officers who approached Groves' car say they saw a gun case sticking out from under his seat. A search of the car turned up a .40-caliber handgun and multiple loaded magazines, a police spokesman said. In a tweet on Saturday, the district's community policing office called the Groves arrest "great" and said he had been charged with unlawful possession of a firearm by a felon, unlawful possession of a firearm near a park, and failure to have a Firearm Owner's ID (FOID) card.

Another Uptown gun grabbed

Groves' gun was at least the second that Town Hall cops removed from the streets of Uptown last week. Around 7 p.m. June 4, police pulled over Matthew Lee, 27, for traffic violations near Montrose Beach, according to an arrest report. Cops say two children were in Lee's back seat and two adults were in the front. When Lee opened his glove compartment to get proof of insurance, police allegedly saw two large green cloth bags inside. Lee admitted to officers that the bags contained a handgun. Officers recovered two green Crown Royal bags from the glove compartment—one contained a loaded 9-millimeter handgun and the other contained 65 rounds of ammunition, according to prosecutors. Lee allegedly told police that he left his FOID cards at home. Lee is charged with possessing a firearm without a valid FOID and possessing ammunition without a valid FOID. He was released on a recognizance bond by Judge Peter Gonzalez.

Wieners Circle employee arrested in dispute over tips

Anyone who's been to The Wieners Circle knows this: They take tips seriously. A 200-decibel "TIPI!" scream from manager Poochie is the hot dog joint's equivalent of a diner waitress putting a smiley face on your check. Now, it appears, the restaurant staff takes their tips seriously amongst themselves, too. Police were called to the restaurant at 2622 N. Clark around 5 a.m. on Sunday after a 31-year-old employee allegedly ripped out a cash register and took the cash drawer in a dispute over gratuities. Staff members got the cash drawer back from Demetrius Smith and he left before cops arrived, according to a police report, but the register's wires were damaged. He returned while cops were gathering information for their report. They took him into custody. Prosecutors charged Smith with criminal damage to property. He was released on a recognizance bond. In a 2013 personal injury lawsuit against the long-running dive restaurant, an attorney alleged that The Wieners Circle "staff encourages hooliganism amongst its customers." A 2016 Chicago Daily Law Bulletin entry about the case is a delightful mix of legal mumbo-jumbo and late-night shenanigans.

Loop man who armed himself with Jack Daniel's is among three recent robbery arrests

A man who allegedly tried to mug four people while armed with a Jack Daniel's bottle is among three men who've been charged with robbery in the Loop recently. Prosecutors said Marlon Brandon, 36, approached a couple as they walked in the 700 block of S. Plymouth on the evening of June 2. He allegedly raised the bottle of Old No. 7 over his head and twice yelled out, "Give me your money!" The man, 54, and woman, 36, ran away. Brandon followed the couple and then broke off to threaten two more people in the same fashion, police said. Cops found Brandon a few minutes later as he stood in the doorway of a closed retail shop in the 500 block of S. Dearborn. Prosecutors charged him with two counts of armed robbery and Judge John Lyke ordered him held without bail. Brandon was only charged with trying to rob the first couple because police could not find the other pair. • An Auburn-Gresham man has already pleaded guilty to robbing a 27-year-old woman of her phone in the Loop on May 28. Darion Gayden, 19, received 18-months probation and five days of community service from Judge Marvin Luckman in exchange for the quick guilty plea. Gayden struck the woman's arm to gain control of her phone near the Roosevelt Red Line CTA station and then fled the scene on a nearby bus, police said. Cops tracked the victim's phone and eventually pulled the bus over in the 400 block of N. Michigan. A witness identified Gayden on the bus and the victim's phone was recovered from his pants pocket, police said. • Demarkus Harris, who served four years for a 2013 robbery, is back behind bars after being accused of robbing a woman at a Loop CTA station. Prosecutors say he reached

A 10-story mural of blues music legend Muddy Waters by artist Eduardo Kobra was completed in 2017 at the corner of State and Washington in Chicago. Ashlee Rezin/Sun-Times

MUDDY from p. 7

Keith Nelson, Dixon's grandson, conducts the tours and serves on the Blues Heaven board of directors. He said tours, which cost $10, are given hourly from noon to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday. He said between 100 and 350 people tour Chess weekly, and many ask about Waters.

"He's always a huge part of the legacy," Nelson said. "Muddy would be your most popular artist. He was your face. I'm a big comic book fan, and if you had a blues comic book, Muddy would be your Superman."

Musicians seeking to capture the Waters mojo may soon have their choice of two recording studios at Chess. "We're planning to put older recording equipment from 1961 upstairs and modern recording equipment in a new studio downstairs," Keith Nelson said. "Hopefully this project will be done by the end of 2018 or early 2019."

Carrying on the legacy of Waters and other postwar Chicago blues greats is the mission of current Chicago blues kingpin Buddy Guy, who once operated the late, lamented Checkerboard Lounge on a section of East 43rd Street renamed Muddy Waters Boulevard. Guy moved Downtown in 1989 with his Buddy Guy's Legends, 700 S. Wabash Ave. (www.buddyguy.com).

While sweet home Chicago takes pride in its reputation as "the home of the blues," with a lakefront festival that has drawn hundreds of thousands of music lovers yearly since 1984, the city also is a cornerstone of modern jazz. In fact, Chicago's jazz fest predates its blues bash by a decade.

King Oliver and Jelly Roll Morton were early stars on the jazz scene, and the immortal Louis Armstrong further popularized the New Orleans sound in Chicago in the 1920s. Later Benny Goodman and a host of fellow big-band leaders swung at ballrooms such as the elegant Trianon in the Woodlawn neighborhood and the Aragon in Uptown.

Today the Association for the Advancement of Creative Musicians (www.aacm-chicago.org) guides Chicago jazz in adventurous new directions, and the Green Mill Cocktail Lounge, 4802 N. Broadway,

School kids among victims in Lakeview, Lincoln Square robbery pattern

Police on Saturday issued a community alert about a robbery pattern in Lakeview and Lincoln Square. Community alerts are generally issued when investigators believe the same offenders are responsible for a series of crimes.

Three times between May 22 and May 29, people have been battered or choked and robbed while walking alone, police said. Two of the victims in the pattern were juveniles who were walking to school, according to the alert.

Police gave the following dates, times, and locations for the linked incidents:

- May 22 at 7:30 a.m. in the 3800 block of N. Ashland

- May 22 between 9 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. in the 800 block of W. Irving Park
 - May 29 between 6 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. in the 2400 block of W. Montrose

Loop artist says he was tied up, robbed of sculptures

A Loop resident told police that a group of men that he invited to view artwork in his apartment suddenly pulled out guns and robbed him of his sculptures on Thursday afternoon. No one is in custody.

Police said the victim and two friends invited three others to an apartment in the 70 block of S. State to view glass sculptures around 2:30 p.m. The viewing turned sour when the guests pulled out a gun, restrained their hosts with duct tape, and then escaped with an estimated $22,000 worth of art.

The victim said the offenders are three men—two white and one black—all of whom are about 27-years-old and of average height and weight.

Boystown alley fire under investigation

An early morning fire in a Boys-town alley on Friday is under investigation by Chicago police, according to the department's Office of News Affairs. No one was injured in the fire. There have been no arrests.

Police said a 61-year-old man was lying in bed when he heard a popping sound from his window around 4:40 a.m. in the 800 block of W. Waveland. He looked outside and saw a garbage can on fire in the alley.

The fire spread across a row of garbage cans to burn wooden portions of a nearby garage. Also burned were a discarded recliner and a car, according to a nearby resident.

Another Loop mugging

A woman was pushed to the ground and robbed of her phone at 77 W. Jackson 3 p.m. June 6. The victim was walking when four male teenagers jumped her.

POLICE BEAT from p. 14

open with a sledgehammer and an undetermined amount of inventory was taken, police said.

One offender was described as a 5'-10" tall black man with a brown hoodie pulled up and a scarf covering his face. He wore sunglasses, a cam-ouflage baseball hat, had a mustache, and wore one red glove on his right hand.

Lincoln Square hold-up

A woman was robbed at gunpoint in the Lincoln Square neighborhood late Wednesday night, police said. The woman was in the 4400 block of N. Campbell when a gunman approached and demanded her property around 11:30 p.m. He took the victim's wedding rings, wallet, and phone.

The suspect was described as a white man who stands about 5'-8" tall. He was wearing a mask, a tight-fitting blue hoodie, blue jeans, and a baseball hat. The victim said he was last seen running northbound on Campbell and then westbound on Sunnyside.

Robbers targeting CTA train passengers Downtown and on North Side

Police on Thursday morning warned about a series of robber-ies against CTA train passengers in the Loop, River North, and Lincoln Square. Detectives generally issue a community alert when they believe a series of crimes are connected to a single offender or group of offenders who are working together.

Investigators say a group of young men is approaching victims on CTA trains, platforms, and sidewalks near stations. The robbers then use force to remove valuables from their victims' pockets and bags. Four specific cases are listed in the community alert: the first block of South State at 3 a.m. on May 28; the first block of N. State at 2:30 a.m. on May 29; the 500 block of N. State at 2:40 a.m. on May 29, and the 2400 block of W. Montrose at 6 a.m. on May 29.

The alert describes the suspects as African-American men between 17- and 20-years-old.

This newspaper previously learned details of the May 28 case: A man and his cousin reported that a group of six offenders beat them up and robbed them near State and Madison. The robbers took the victims' money and phone, then ran eastbound on Madison.

Anyone with information about the robbery pattern is asked to call Area Central investigators at 312-747-8384.
