

Alderman calls for review of nighttime access to lakefront trail

On Monday, aldermen advanced a plan proposed by Ald. Brendan Reilly [42nd] to close access to the lakefront trail at Ohio St. between midnight and 5 a.m. from April through October. His proposal passed the Finance Committee and stands ready to go before the mayor and entire city council for a vote. He explains his reasoning below.

We are all disturbed by the fatal shooting that occurred in Streeterville during the early morning hours of Father's Day.

At approximately 2:40 a.m. June 18, a 25 year-old woman was shot while standing with a friend on the 500-block of E. Ohio St. Suffering from a gunshot wound to the head, she was transported to Northwestern Memorial Hospital where she was later died.

We are fortunate that violent incidents like this are incredibly rare in the Central Business District. That said, we take any criminal incident very seriously.

When this shooting occurred, Cmdr. Bauer (18th District) notified me immediately. We started discussing the incident and possible leads shortly after 4:00 a.m. and I remained engaged with residents and the police throughout the day.

This stretch of Ohio St. is proximate to the underpass entry to the Lakefront Trail and is used for access to Navy Pier. The underpass remains open at all times.

I have requested the Dept. of Transportation and the Chicago Park District consider gating this underpass overnight (and oth-

Community welcomes back Whispers Cafe

Whispers Cafe has now reopened in Mariano Park, 1031 N. State St., which was its former -- and again now current -- home of 13 years. Above, cafe owner Nemer "Tiger" Alia [in white shirt] helps serve up their popular Black Dog Gelato at a grand-reopening party June 22.

around their beloved Gold Coast gelato vendor, crepe maker and coffee shop after the Chicago Park District removed the previous tenant for non-payment of rent. Aldermen Brian Hopkins [2nd] and Brendan Reilly [42nd] got behind community efforts to return Whispers to their location and helped to celebrate the reopening.

The Chicago Riverwalk is up for a few awards but none, arguably, mean as much as approval from its closest neighbor. Friends of the Chicago River gave its top award of the year to the $108 million, 1.25-mile walkway at a fundraising event on June 13.

"The Chicago Riverwalk has redefined how people interact with the Chicago River," said Mayor Rahm Emanuel, "creating stunning new spaces that feature a variety of opportunities for recreation, education, and entertainment. The city is grateful for the recognition and continued partnership of [Friends of the Chicago River] in our efforts to revitalize the Chicago River."

The tower, said the nonprofit, "exemplifies how big projects can incorporate amenities for people, plants, and animals."

Friends of the Chicago River says the Riverwalk "features unparalleled design and creativity that connects people with the water and with the plants and animals of the region" and "has positively changed the conversation about what river-edge development can and should be."

The city will share the Blue Ribbon Award with Ross Barney Architects, Alfred Benesch & Company, Collins Engineers, Jacobs/Ryan Associates, Rausch Construction Company, Sasaki, and Walsh Construction Co.

Wolf Point West, the $160 million, 48-story, 509-unit luxury rental property that officially opened on June 15, 2016, received a Silver Ribbon Award. Friends

The city is hosting an official presentation Monday, July 10, 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., regarding two development proposals at Lakeshore East that hope to build four new high rises in the shadow of the new 94-story Vista Tower going up along the river.

The meetings will be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, Regency Ballroom, West Tower A, 151 E. Upper Wacker Dr. The proposed developments include:

- Magellan Development Group wants to build three towers on parcels I, J, K, and L located at the corner of upper Wacker Dr. and Lake Shore Dr., 197-301 N. Harbor Dr. and 452-500 E. Waterside Dr., which will be developed by Lendlease Development Inc. and Lakeshore East LLC.

- Parcel O is located at 195 N. Columbus Dr., just south of the 82-story Aqua Tower and will be developed by Lakeshore East LLC.

Representatives of both the Lendlease Development Inc. and the Lakeshore East development teams will present their plans and answer any questions.

At 28 acres, Lakeshore East is one of the largest urban developments sites in the country, with zoning for 4,950 homes, 1,500 hotel rooms and some 700,000 square feet of retail space.

What is proposed for parcels I, J, K, and L located at 197-301 N. Harbor Dr. and 452-500 E. Waterside Dr. will include three buildings containing a total of up to 1,400 residential dwelling units, 300 hotel rooms, and 30,000 square feet of retail.

Parcel O located at 195 N. Columbus Dr. will include up to 640 residential dwelling units and two hotels with up to 626 units.

Of winners and losers

By Thomas J. O’Gorman

*“And Summer’s lease hath all too short a date.”
Shakespeare, Sonnet XVIII*

For Chicagoans things intensify, especially in the Summer. It’s not easy reaching that count of 300 murders in less than six months. It is a rat’s race. And as with any race, there are winners and losers. It’s a Chicago thing, so keeping track of winners and losers becomes an essential part of life here on the southern shores of Lake Michigan. They don’t do this in Cleveland.

Murder and mayhem have pushed other newsworthy items from the headlines. Illinois’ limping stumble to bankruptcy being just one of them. As the weekend farmers markets organize their produce and we get nearer and nearer to the perfect tomato, the Chicago Public Schools, the re-organizing of the Chicago Police Department, filling the pot holes, the Illinois Governor’s race with one Kennedy and hunting out the new realignment of scandals at City Hall, all churns up fresh perspectives on who’s winning and who’s losing.

There’s a lot to keep track of in this city. Especially during the Summer, shots fired on Lake Shore Drive, gangs taking control of lakefront beaches. There’s a lot to squeeze in. Sometimes information needs to be fast-tracked. Chicago invented its own quick Chicago-speak language long ago to ensure that the facts and figures we need to survive winning and losing are close at hand. Sun-Times or Tribune? Northside or Southside? PBR or Miller Lite? What parish are you from? Cubs or Sox? Catholic school or public? What high school did you go to? What ward do you live in? Who’s your alderman? Who was your first grade nun? Who’s your cardiologist? Is your dad a cop?

Chicago’s a city where it’s crucial to know the score. It can’t be ignored if you want to understand the context and character of everyone you are dealing with. You have to know who’s winning all the time. And losing. Maybe it’s a Northside/Southside thing. In Chicago you can’t make the mistake of being connected to a loser. And there are so many elements involved in staying a winner that it can be overpowering at times. Do you own a car? Foreign or domestic? Do you park on the street? Do you live near the “El”?

Perhaps identifying some Chicago winners and losers will better clarify what we mean. Mayor Richard J. Daley. Huge winner. Bill Veeck also a winner. So too, Ron Santo, Luis Aparicio, Bert Weinman, Jim Moran, the “CourtesyMan,” Orlando Wilson, Ralph Metcalfe, Mrs. Catherine O’Leary, Ike Sewell (Due’s), Mayor Harold Washington, Butch McGuire, Ray Meyer, Bozo, The

Bill Veeck

Ricketts, Steve Lombardo, Jane Addams, Northwestern Basketball team, Karen Jennings Lewis, Ronnie Woo Woo, Rocky Wirtz, the Chicago Police Department, Dennis Rodman, Wally Philips, Mary Ann Childers and Mother Cabrini.

Former Governor Rod Blagojevich, catastrophic loser; so too Cardinal John Cody, Al Capone, Leopold and Loeb, Mayor “Big Bill” Thompson, Governor George Ryan, Sammy Sosa, Mike Madigan, Miriam Santos, Jon Burge, Richard Speck, Jay Cutler, Drew Petersen, Barbara Byrd-Bennett, Dorothy Brown, Eulalia, the Infanta of Spain, and Mayor Rahm Emanuel.

Winning is about engaging the world with presence and verve. It’s always appropriate - and appreciated in Chicago. It’s going out of your way for another. Their need. Their hunger. Their thirst.

Losers hold hands with the jerks of creation, fearful that they might trip into the abyss of an inconsequential life. They take no risk for another.

Winners do not really win anything in Chicago, except the enlivening respect and admiration of people like themselves trying to live with wholeness and integrity. With reason and intelligence. With kindness and hope.

Perhaps we really do need more winners in Chicago. People who know the score. Keep track of the innings. Stay tuned-in to the frequencies in which people matter. And their well-being is actually a critical part of everyday decision making. No one would ever have had to explain that to Mayor Richard J. Daley.

CHI-WHAT? Eleven people were killed in Chicago over the Fathers Day weekend. And we recorded the 300th murder in Chicago for 2017 over the week end too. Just like last year, Rahm.

BANQUETTE FOR ONE: Ralph Lauren’s Bar and Grill maitre d’ Anthony Issa may look like a movie star but he understands completely the organization of the Ralph Lauren starship eatery. You might know his face from Fig and Olive where he managed guest relations. He lives on the Gold Coast and works well under pressure. But his secret passion is baking, which he studied seriously at Kendall College and which he practiced that art at the Peninsula Hotel; now, with considerably less flour dusting him, he’s making a name for himself at RL but still admits he loves travel to his family’s Southern Italian homeland. What a nice addition to RL.

RL BEAT: When I went to the cardiologist on Friday I slipped into RL for lunch only to find out that top server Peter Axelsen had undergone his spinal surgery. All his fans send prayers and best wishes for a most successful recovery. And get well wishes are also in order to mixologist Russell Schulman, who is also recovering from surgery.

There were several small graduation lunches going on while I ate. Not least of which was one in which ABC television reporter Geraldo Rivera was front and center with his huge choppers. I was not surprised that several millennial employees did not have a clue who he was. And as I tried to explain, I only made it worse. I thought he was subdued in comparison to other sightings I have had over the years.

CHEAT AT WRIGLEY: It’s the old story. You shouldn’t be with people you can’t be seen with. Especially at MLB games that are televised. Could land you in D-I-V-O-R-C-E Court. But a successful Chicago business guy did just that. He had the use of a friend’s primo tickets for the Cubs that proved just the thing to play “grabby.” Anyway, he was in the process of a pat-down when he was picked up on by the cameras. When he realized his goose was cooked, he made a joke out of it. His wife was traveling and most likely never saw the evidence or the face of her hubby’s playmate. But many others did see it and those who dislike the guy can’t wait to rat him out now that his wife has returned.

THUNDER ON FIVE: City Hall insiders are grinding their teeth when it comes to resolving the shredding of Chicago’s reputation for safety that some corporate leaders say is making relocation to our city a no-go for corporate executives. They can’t sell Chicago. Between chaos in the schools and blood flowing in the streets the city’s reputation is in tatters. Just like it was 20-plus years ago when the Daley Dream Team was introduced.

OUCH! OUCH! Hard to imagine big-time old-timers at the County like George Dunne, Seymour Simon, or Dick Phelan or Richard Ogilvie sitting still for a nipple piercing. But apparently that’s what one County official has done. And it has been under the Official Secrets Act now for quite a while. Glad no one has lost their sense of humor. Mmmm...who could it be?

ADIEU MON CHER: In 1968 Edit DeAk fled the Communist oppression in her native Budapest as a 21-year-old idealist with a defensive sense for championing artists outside the mainstream. She wound up as a student of art at Columbia where she founded ART-RITE, an important publication in support of artists. Someone once said that her whole life should be in quotation marks, from fashion to artistic aesthetic. She was also a supporter of alternative galleries and wrote brilliantly in many art journals. As a writer, she blurred all the boundaries between art, society, politics and fashion. Thank God our nation can still produce such aesthetic snobs and critics. It means we are on the right path. Edit died last week in Soho at 68. Just when we needed her most.

EIEI-O: Who’s the Gold Coast heiress who has fallen head-over-heels for a twenty-something farm-boy who sells produce every Saturday? Word is that she can’t buy farm-to-table goods fast enough. She should get him his own cable show. He’s bright, hardworking, well-read and very presentable. Many shoppers who know of the connection have also been supporting the lad by shopping. He’s becoming a celebutante.

FAME’S PRICE: Pierce Brosnan’s 41-year-old daughter, Charlotte, died of ovarian cancer in 2013 just like his late wife,

Happy campers and then some at “I Am Me” camp

Heart of the ‘Hood

By Felicia Dechter

“She has a lot of outside scars,” said Taylor’s mom, Traci Gamble.

Taylor has sort of a double whammy, as besides being a burn survivor whose scars have remained, she was also born a little person, a dwarf. We all know how cruel children -- and adults -- can be, and how hard we can all be on ourselves, so sometimes things get a little rough for Taylor.

“She has a little difficulty with her looks and her burns on her face,” said Traci. “But we’re working on it.”

For the last three years, Taylor has attended a life changing camp, where she is surrounded by other burn survivors, people just like her.

“She’s more outgoing,” said Traci. “She likes meeting the people who’ve experienced the things she has. She keeps in touch with the counselors and friends she met there. So she’s created a friendship with people there.”

Taylor has been one very happy camper attending Camp “I Am Me,” hosted by the nonprofit, Mount Prospect-based Illinois Fire Safety Alliance (IFSA). This year, 61 burn-injured children from throughout the state ages eight to 16 spent a week at YMCA Camp Duncan, in Ingleside, IL. The 27th annual week-long camp is free thanks to donations from various groups statewide, which fully fund the camp cost of approximately $2,500 per camper.

It makes Taylor feel good to see people like herself, she said.

“It helped me see that I’m not the only person that goes through problems,” said Taylor, who lives in West Pullman. “I’ve met people who’ve been burnt worse than me. That also helped me. It’s comforting to be around people who have been burned too.

“It shows me that I can do things that others can do,” she added. “The counselors love all the kids and treat everybody the same way. You can go to the counselors for help if you need to talk to them. I will be going until I’m a counselor because I love helping the people that helped me.”

Camp “I Am Me,” provides a safe, judgment-free environment for child burn survivors, offering healing and building self-esteem opportunities. Campers participate in nearly 50 activities, including horseback riding, swimming and archery. Yet the activities that may have the biggest impact are those designed specifically for emotional healing. Through character development, journaling, and therapeutic sessions that help build self-esteem, they are able to take advantage of resources often not available in their hometowns.

The challenge, said IFSA director Philip Zaleski, is finding new and different ways to spread awareness about the camp and find campers to attend. “We need to be aggressive in trying to identify them,” he said.

The IFSA works with hospital burn units, the State Fire Marshal’s office, and fire departments statewide to try and reach all burn-injured Illinois children so they can benefit from the free camp, where buses can even pick them up and bring them home, said Zaleski. In addition to lodging, food and fun, the camp brings in outside presenters and activities, “To really make it the week of their lives,” he said.

“Some of the kids have had 40 or 50 surgeries in their young lives,” said Zaleski.

“They may look different but they’re no different than you or I.”

Members of the fire service and medical community, as well as educators and private sector folks, volunteer their time for a total of nearly one volunteer for each camper. Thirty-four percent of the camp’s 60 volunteers are former campers. “They believe in the program and know it helps,” said Zaleski. “Who better to talk to than someone who has gone through it? That’s one of the major reasons this camp is here.

“When the children attend camp, they find that they are not alone,” said Zaleski. “The physical and emotional recovery from their burns is taken on from a community approach in which everyone helps and learns from each other.

“They don’t have to hide or be afraid to be themselves,” said Zaleski. “They learn how to become more confident and bring that confidence back home.”

One camper who will attest to that is Otis Culpepper-Draw. At the age of one, Otis was placed into scalding hot water in a bathtub, receiving third-degree burns to his lower body and part of his back. He has attended camp for two years since he was eight-years-old, and has made great friends with other burn survivors.

Otis has a blast at camp, especially when playing basketball and swimming.

“I feel happy and excited, because there are so many fun activities to do - the Fun Fair, the pool parties, and other stuff that I really like,” said Otis, who lives in the Chatham neighborhood on the city’s South Side. “Camp has helped me feel like I’m not alone and that there are more people that were burned like me. At camp I don’t feel like I’m different from everybody else.”

The community spirit ... was at its best last Sunday thanks to a few people, including Bill Morton, president of the Rogers Park Chamber of Commerce, who donated a garbage can (purchased in the neighborhood from Devon Hardware) to the Glenwood Sunday Market. It arrived, delivered by Andrew Nathan, at 9 a.m. Sunday morning and by the end of the day it was full. During the week, the can will remain by Morse Gyros, 1335 W. Morse Ave., thanks to their generosity in sharing space. And who will lug the can over there each week? Last Sunday it was my son-in-law Liam, who will do it whenever he can and when he can’t, some other caring neighborhood soul will take over. Awesome teamwork!

Charlie’s angel ... This newspaper’s talented art director, Sheila Swann, has created

State’s Attorney to deliver keynote address at history museum Independence Day festivities

Gather your friends and family for a Chicago tradition at the 58th Annual Fourth of July Celebration at the Chicago History Museum, 1601 N. Clark St. The days events are free and open to the public from 10 a.m. to noon Tuesday, July 4.

Cook County state’s attorney Kimberly M. Foxx will deliver the keynote address during the official program that begins at 11 a.m.

Additional highlights include opening remarks from Chicago History Museum President Gary T. Johnson, the presenting of the colors and the Pledge of Allegiance, and a reading of the Declaration of Independence by art and architectural historian Rolf Achilles.

Foxx is the first African American woman to lead the Cook County State’s Attorney’s Office. She was elected to the top prosecutor post after claiming victory in a historic election, during an embarrassing time for the criminal justice in Chicago.

Kids and caregivers are invited to celebrate with face painting, patriotic crafts, a juggler and a children’s parade led by the World’s Tallest Uncle Sam.

Following the event, the Museum is open from noon until 4:30 p.m. with free admission for Illinois residents.

Visitors are encouraged to explore the Museum’s newest exhibition, “Spies, Traitors and Saboteurs: Fear and Freedom in America.” The exhibition provides historical perspective on nine major events when the nation felt threatened by those within its borders and invites each of us to consider how to strike the right balance between security and freedom in the 21st century.

Bargain home and condo prices fade as multiple bids drive market

The Home Front

By Don DeBat

The era of bargain home prices in Chicago—caused by underwater selling and a rash of foreclosures during the Great Recession—may at last be over, experts say.

The median price of a home in the city of Chicago hit a whopping $306,750 in May, reported a new survey by Illinois Realtors. That’s a solid 5.5% gain over May 2016 when the median price was $290,750.

Apparently prices are being driven higher because of multiple-bid offers sparked by a shortage of listings. Despite the price boost, Chicago saw a 0.2% year-over-year home sales decline in May of 2017 with 2,973 sales, down from 2,980 in May of 2016.

“We’re in an interesting, sophisticated market at present, wherein inventory is restricting what’s available for those who are looking to buy,” said Matt Silver, president of the Chicago Assoc. of Realtors.

“Sellers are having to price their properties appropriately,” Silver said. “Educated buyers are prepared to be flexible on their wants and needs in a new home. Or they have to be willing wait for the perfect home to come on the market and pay accordingly.”

In the nine-county Chicago area, single-family home and condominium transactions in May totaled 12,491 units sold, up 5.1% from May 2016 when 11,884 units were marketed.

The median price in May was $246,900 in the Chicago area, an increase of 5.6% from $233,900 in May of 2016. The median is a typical market price where half the homes sold for more and half sold for less.

“Sellers are having to price their properties appropriately,” Silver said. “Educated buyers are prepared to be flexible on their wants and needs in a new home. Or they have to be willing wait for the perfect home to come on the market and pay accordingly.”

Sales and price information are generated by Multiple Listing Service closed sales reported by 28 participating Illinois Realtor local boards and associations, including Midwest Real Estate Data, LLC.

Statewide sales of single-family homes and condominiums totaled 17,077 units in May, up 3.8% from 16,450 units in May 2016.

“Buyers in 2017 are running headlong into a tight market, with nearly 10,000 fewer homes on the market statewide than there were in May of 2016,” said Doug Carpenter, president of Illinois Realtors President Doug Carpenter.

The statewide median price in May was $209,000, up a hefty 8.3% from May 2016, when the median price was $193,000.

“Buyers in 2017 are running headlong into a tight market, with nearly 10,000 fewer homes on the market statewide than there were in May of 2016,” said Doug Carpenter, president of Illinois Realtors President Doug Carpenter.

“Rising prices show sellers are being rewarded for listing in a market that in many areas has been marked by multiple offer situations,” Carpenter observed.

The time it took to sell a home in May averaged 52 days, down from 59 days a year ago. Available housing inventory totaled 56,535 homes for sale, a 14.9% decline from May 2016 when there were 66,424 homes on the market.

Another bonus for home buyers is relatively low mortgage rates. Benchmark 30-year fixed mortgage rates continuing to hold at year-to-date lows amidst ongoing economic uncertainty, reported Freddie Mac’s Primary Mortgage Market Survey.

The 30-year fixed loan rate averaged 3.90% for the week ending June 22, down from 3.91% a week earlier. A year ago at this time, the 30-year fixed loan averaged 3.56%.

“The housing market appears to be in a ‘wait-and-see’ mode in both Illinois and Chicago” said economist Geoffrey J.D. Hewings of the Univ. of Illinois. “The state’s economy has stuttered and the fiscal cloud hanging over the state has seen enhanced net out-migration that has contributed to a dampening of demand.”

Help a hero

There are reportedly hundreds of homeless veterans who live either unsheltered or in shelters throughout the City of Chicago. Operation Help a Hero is underway now which hopes to collect basic household items and toiletries to help the hundreds of Chicagoland veterans who are homeless.

BAIRD & WARNER

Due to the Independence Day holiday, the Inside Publications deadline for the July 5 newspaper has been moved up to noon Friday, June 30.

Letters to the Editor

Let us all be proud

The Chicago Pride Parade provides outstanding opportunities to demonstrate that all people want more than anything to feel valued. After air, water, food, and similar life requirements, life's operative concept is to feel valued.

The parade and the sexual orientation issues associated with it have countless supporters and detractors. Regardless, everyone should have a chance to be who they wish to be, even though we know that simply presenting oneself in any way can touch off in others a response that can often be negative, unpleasant, and occasionally even cruel.

In our challenged world perhaps we may yet be able to salvage, even reclaim, some of the stature that we have lost.

LGBTQ matters are but one element in our planetary mess. Nevertheless, perhaps they can serve as a catalyst to get people everywhere to realize that we are all in this world together, but briefly. Let us act in a way that we can be proud of.

Today the issues may be related to sexual orientation. Tomorrow, who knows what will be humankind's hurdle. Perhaps climate—another great homogenizer. Let us celebrate and embrace the paramount goal of helping everyone to feel significant. Then we can all be proud.

Pharmacy no longer, but medical supply business changes hands

Following-up on your article in the June 7 edition, wherein it was reported that pharmacist Alvin C. Klein retired. Both my husband and I have been customers there for many years, and we received a letter toward the latter part of May, announcing his retirement.

During one of my visits, Mr. Klein advised me of his retirement and that he wanted to be sure to pass on the torch of the Medical Supply part of the business to a "well-known and very respected professional in the field." Now we know that it is none other than Dawn Barker who has a very impressive background. She is also the owner of Home Care Plus, Inc., which has been in business for over 40 years. She looks forward to helping people with their medical equipment and supply needs and "will go the extra mile to be sure they have what they need to help them. She took over Becker Pharmacy, 4744 N. Western Ave. on June 1.

Mrs. Barker informed me that the original Home Care Plus, Inc.,

The length of his article notwithstanding, Don De Bat's June 14 article on proposed Financial Choice Act about changes to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act omits any reference to the single biggest cause of the mortgage crisis of 2008. Because the key players in the collapse of the mortgage market was the U.S. Government's Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae. Liberals and other big government supporters are hesitant to tell the truth about what happened to the mortgage market.

There were and still are three players in the mortgage market: the loan originators, the government, and "Wall Street." Most mortgages originate with banks and originators whose sole reason for existence is to create mortgages that they turn around and sell to the government. Banks also originate mortgages - some of which they keep and service themselves and others they sell to the FHA [Fannie and Freddie]. The FHA bought mortgages from originators, and sold them to "Wall Street" which in turn mixed different grades of mortgages and sold them to investors. Obviously, it was more complicated than that, but that was the basic chain of mortgage buying and selling.

Fannie and Freddie bought mortgages and then made a profit on selling them to "Wall Street." There was so much profit in this activity that in 2006 Franklin was located at 2740 W. Foster Ave. Mr. Nicholas Portokalis was a Pathologist at Swedish Covenant Hospital and opened the store to sell physician supplies. Time passed, and his son took over and brought in medical equipment and supplies, later adding motorized equipment and repairs. As the business grew, they opened a second store at 6337 N. Pulaski Rd. When insurance changes came along, the Foster Ave. store was closed, but the Pulaski store remained open.

Two grandsons (third generation) still help out when available. "Many memories and more memories to make," Barker told me. The Pulaski location will now move into the Western Ave. location where two great companies will continue to help people. They offer same or next day delivery service of medical equipment such as hospital beds, wheelchairs, bathroom equipment and grab bar installation, all done by experienced personnel. The store carries many important medical products.

Raines, head of FHA, was forced by regulators trying to recover some or all of the $90 million in payments made to Raines, based on the overstated earnings, and for aggressively selling sub-prime mortgages to Wall Street.

[Raines and two other FHA executives maintained their denial of the charges but agreed to the payment of fines totaling about $3 million, which were paid by Fannie's insurance policies. An editorial in The Wall Street Journal called it a "paltry settlement" which allowed Raines and the other two executives to keep the bulk of their riches.]

Fannie and Freddie were and are semi-private corporations in which the stock holders get all the profits and the government assumes all the risk. That's why the mortgage market collapsed.

On the originator's end were the appraisals for re-financing that were far in excess of a home's value. Likewise with some new mortgages. Soon it become standard operating practice [SOP] for people to lie about their incomes and ability to service the debt. These were the "liar loans." There were the "no doc loans" for which it was not necessary to produce any documentation on a homes value or the applicant's financial status. These were the sub-prime and Alt-A loans which the credit rating agencies, S&P and Moody's gave prime ratings to.

The Bush administration, and others, of course, knew the games that were being played and when the Controller of the Currency testified before Rep. Barney Frank's Banking Committee and talked about these practices, Rep. Frank, said "I'm willing to roll the dice on Fannie and Freddie."

Well, he did and subsequently the mortgage crisis was on us.

The government is central in creating this problem because it, (the FHA) knew what was SOP in mortgage origination, but it did nothing to stop them. The FHA continued to buy most of the mortgages, regardless of quality, and sell them to Wall Street where they were put together in "tranches" of different grades, given Prime ratings by the ratings services and sold to the public as investments.

The tragic sadness of all the post mortems and alleged cures is that few if any of them zero in on the FHA (Fannie and Freddie) as being the central marketplace for buying mortgages from the originators and selling them, regardless of quality of the loans, to Wall Street which in turn sold them to investors.

Congress' alleged cure and solution was the Dodd-Frank Act in 2010. Like most of Congress' rushed solutions to long term problems, the goal was to rush through solutions that often have little relevance to the problem itself and hurt those they claim to be trying to help.

In this case, small and local banks had to follow the same rules as the big city banks and Wall Street. Consequently, these small and local banks were hiring more compliance officers than loan offers. The added cost of compliance caused several thousand to close and those that survived found it too expensive to make the small loans to small businesses that they had made before. As a result, many small businesses either couldn't get financing or had to do without.

Remember, all this was because of mis-diagnosed problem and a mis-directed solution. All this gives reality to the old joke about "I'm from the government and I'm here to help you." When you hear this, buy your survival provisions, head for the hills and take cover.

Where to see fireworks on North Side

Leave fireworks to the professionals

Independence Day and fireworks go hand in hand, but fireworks shouldn't go in consumers' hands. That's the message the National Fire Protection Assn. (NFPA) is reinforcing this Fourth of July. Fireworks annually cause devastating burns, injuries, fires, and even death, making them too dangerous to be used safely by consumers.

For North Siders, Navy Pier is the destination for spectacular fireworks synchronized to music. Their biweekly Summer Fireworks shows occur on Wednesdays and Saturdays throughout the summer, from Memorial Day through Labor Day. Shows will be performed 9:30 p.m. tonight, 10:15 p.m. July 1 and 9:30 p.m. July 4.

The best views are from the lake for those with access to a boat, but the fireworks can also seen from spots up and down the lakefront.

In Evanston, the Palatine Concert Band pipes out patriotic and popular music from 7:30–9 p.m. which will be simulcast on 90.5 FM, so pack a portable radio. The heart of this free firework frenzy is at Clark St. Beach, 1811 Sheridan Rd. at 9:30 p.m., July 4.

The Saddle & Cycle Club, 900 W. Foster, will present its annual fireworks show at dusk on July 4. The club is open only to members and guests but the fireworks can be seen for miles around. Best viewing is at Margate Park or one of the surrounding beaches.

"Each year, thousands of people are injured from using consumer fireworks," said Lorraine Carli, NFPA's vice president of Outreach and Advocacy. "Even sparklers, which are often thought of as harmless enough for children to hold, burn at 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit and can cause significant injuries."

On Independence Day in a typical year, fireworks account for two out of five of all reported U.S. fires, more than any other cause of fire. On average each year, fireworks start 18,500 fires, including 1,300 structure fires, 300 vehicle fires, and 16,900 outside and other fires. These fires cause an annual average of three deaths, 40 civilian injuries, and $43 million in direct property damage.

However, the vast majority of fireworks injuries occur without a fire starting. U.S. hospital emergency rooms treated an estimated 11,900 people for fireworks-related injuries; 51% of those injuries were to the extremities and 41% were to the head. Two-thirds (65%) of the injuries were burns. Children younger than 15 years of age accounted for one-quarter (26%) of the estimated injuries. Sparklers were the leading cause of fireworks injuries. More than half of the fireworks injuries incurred by children under five years of age were caused by sparklers.

mission. So that K9 turned into a statue honoring him. I think it was fitting that I finished painting that K9 on Memorial Day - that was when I finished painting the police vest with the 'space' design. It truly made him 'Cosmic Charlie,' the words of which you can see on the blue police star on the vest.

"Cosmic Charlie" also has a swath of white on the top, back of his head, which Charlie had, too. After Charlie passed away, I turned that white swath into a white feather, as a nod to the Egyptian mythology of the Weighing of the Heart. The Egyptians believed that if you were good while on earth, that your soul was as light as a feather. So after death, when your soul was weighed and was indeed lighter than a feather, you would go to a 'good place.'"

PAWS' "It's Great To Be Alive:."

"PAWS Chicago asked me to paint a K9 for them, which is quite an honor."

"As we all know, PAWS Chicago is a no-kill animal adoption center, so this PAWS K9 is covered in images of cats and dogs that have been at PAWS and adopted out."

"Painted with the colors and markings of a Shepherd dog, the dark marking areas are made up of a mosaic of teeny tiny cats and dogs, which you see when you get up close."

"The police vest has larger images of PAWS cats and dogs, with the theme of 'It's Great To Be Alive.' Pippen, the Fasseas family's dog that inspired the creation of PAWS Chicago, has his place of honor on the blue police star on the vest. You can't pay tribute to PAWS' animals without including Pippen."

[The PAWS facility on Clybourn and Racine in Lincoln Park is named after Pippen, who was a stray dog the family rescued off a Greek island while on vacation and brought back to America.]

"While working on these K9s, some of my neighbors would stop by to check them out, seeing their reactions to the K9s when they got up close was really fun to watch."

Police warn: Armed robbers posing as ride-share drivers in River North, Lincoln Park entertainment areas

Robbery victims are being targeted in Near North and Lincoln Park entertainment districts by robbers who sometimes pose as ride-hailing service drivers, police said in a community alert today.

Since May 28, four people have been robbed after either being approached on the street or getting into what the victim thought was their Uber or Lyft ride, police said.

In most cases, the offenders threatened the victim with a weapon and took the victim's property.

The alert offered only a vague description of the offenders: a black female between 20-40 years of age and several black males.

- Four robberies are tied to the latest pattern:
- Sunday, May 28 in the 2000 block of N. Halsted
 - Sunday, June 4 in the 500 block of N. Dearborn
 - Sunday, June 4 in the 1100 block of N. State
 - Saturday, June 17 in the first block of W. Illinois
- All of the hold-ups took place during the early morning hours, police said.

Anyone with information about the robberies is asked to call Area Central detectives at 312-747-8380.

Bump 'n' Run auto theft pattern in Lincoln Park

Cops have issued yet another warning about Bump 'n' Run auto thefts. While 2017's hottest crime sensation has been reported across the North Side, the latest alert focuses on incidents reported in the

Overnight burglaries hitting North Side shops

Burglars have once again been targeting area businesses during overnight hours, according to a new community alert issued by Chicago police on Sunday afternoon.

At least three shops have been targeted since June 11 by the thieves who use a brick to bust through front doors and then steal merchandise.

The alert connects three cases to the pattern:

- A break-in in the 3000 block of N. Sheffield at 5:05 a.m. June 11. A source identified the business as an eyeglass boutique that lost designer sunglasses to the burglar.
- A burglary in the 1100 block of W. Wilson at 12:10 a.m. June 15. The source said a Boost Mobile store was targeted in this case.
- A burglary in the 2100 block of W. Roscoe between 7 p.m. June 15 and 7 a.m. June 16. No further information was available about his incident.

Police do not offer a description of suspects in their alert.

A source reported that two offenders were seen running from the Boost Mobile break-in: a 6'-5"-tall, 180-lbs., black male who was wearing a black shirt with black shorts and a 5'-8"-tall 185-lbs., black male who was wearing a black shirt with black cargo shorts. Both men ran eastbound on Wilson after the burglary, the source said, citing witness accounts.

The source also identified two other possibly related incidents:

- The burglary of Pelly's Liquors, 3444 N. Lincoln, at 3:08 a.m. June 8: Two men in hoodies were seen breaking through the front door with a crowbar and then fleeing in either a black Audi SUV or a black Toyota minivan with merchandise.
- Monday's 3:15 a.m. break-in at Chicken Hut, 3200 N. Broadway. A passer-by found the restaurant's window broken and the cash register in disarray.

Lincoln Park man “beaten for 20 minutes” in Near North garage

A 59-year-old Lincoln Park man sustained a 20-minute-long beating at the hands of a would-be robber in a Near North Side parking garage last Tuesday, police said.

A suspect has been charged.

Aaron Williams of Crete, IL, confronted the victim and tried to take away his computer bag in the parking garage above Dave & Busters, 1030 N. Clark St. around 6 p.m., police said.

Aaron Williams

Williams then knocked the man to the ground and “viciously and brutally beat and kicked the victim about the face and head with fists and feet for approximately 20 minutes,” according to prosecutors.

Surveillance video captured images of Williams going through the victim’s pants pockets and taking the man’s laptop—which Williams then used to further beat the man, prosecutors said.

Cops reported that while they were speaking with firemen, Williams—wearing a “blood-soaked white t-shirt and blue denim jeans” approached them and blurted out, “I beat him with my fists.”

The admission was captured on police body and in-car cameras, the officers said.

Williams is charged with two counts of aggravated battery and criminal damage to property. Bail is set at $100,000.

Police said the victim was hospitalized with severe head trauma and internal bleeding.

Carload of shooting victims flagged down cops in Lakeview

A confusing scene unfolded after three people were shot in a car near the North Side lakefront the evening of June 21. The victims were sitting in an SUV around 10:50 p.m. when another vehicle pulled up and opened fire, police said. No one is in custody.

The victims, all riding in a Chevy Silverado SUV, drove off in search of a hospital and eventually waved down a passing police car at Cornelia and Lake Shore Dr. at 10:53 p.m. Police gave them an escort to Thorek Hospital in Uptown.

But Thorek is a basic services facility that only had one doctor and three nurses on duty. Ambulances transferred the two more seriously wounded victims to Advocate Illinois Masonic Medical Center.

A 19-year-old woman was shot in the side; a 22-year-old man was shot in the left thigh; and a 19-year-old man suffered a graze wound to his right arm, police said. All were reported in good condition. They hail from the West Lawn neighborhood, on Chicago’s Southwest Side, according to a source.

Police supervisors initially believed the victims were involved in a shooting incident near Foster Beach further north on the lakefront.

A careful search of roadways in the park from Foster to Wilson turned up no evidence of a shooting. Cops eventually determined that the three had been shot in a separate incident in the 4700 block of N. Simmonds Dr. near Montrose Beach.

The victims’ Silverado was seen sitting outside of Thorek Hospital’s emergency entrance. Crime scene tape was draped from its mirror and trailer hitch. A hand-painted sign in the rear window read, “Congrats 2017 Linda.”

Man severely injured in baseball bat attack outside Boystown club

A suburban man suffered massive head trauma after being beaten with a baseball bat outside of a Boystown nightclub.

Cory J. Fulton-Miles, 23, of Calumet City, is charged with three counts of aggravated battery and two counts of reckless conduct in the case. Bail is set at $200,000.

Officers on patrol say they saw Fulton-Miles standing with a 28” metal baseball bat outside of Hydrate Nightclub, 3458 N. Halsted around 3:45 a.m. June 13.

Police intervened after seeing Fulton-Miles strike a 28-year-old man in the head several times, causing the victim to fall to the ground, according to prosecutors.

Fulton-Miles dumped the bat as he ran west on Cornelia with police on his heels. He was caught and arrested moments later in the 3500 block of N. Reta, police said.

The victim suffered blunt force trauma, a depressed skull fracture, brain hemorrhage, and a lacerated forehead. He was taken to Advocate Illinois Masonic Medical Center in critical condition.

Fulton-Miles, who was blasted with a bystander’s pepper spray during the attack, was treated and released from Thorek Hospital. He is a convicted robbery offender, according to state records.

Hydrate holds a late liquor license that allows it to stay open until 4 a.m. on weekdays.

Career felon charged with firing gun at CTA station

A career felon, most recently released from parole on April 22, is accused of shooting a gun during an argument at the Clark/Division Red Line station early on June 17.

Eric Minor, 40, of the East Garfield

Park neighborhood got into an argument with another man on the south-west stairs that lead to the turnstiles around 3 a.m., police said.

At one point, Minor pulled out a gun and fired two shots before bolting into the station and running up the tracks on foot. Cops found a 9-millimeter handgun in his possession when they took him into custody at the North/Clybourn station, officers said.

He is charged with aggravated discharge of a firearm in an occupied building; possession of 43 Ecstasy pills; armed violence; and being an armed habitual criminal.

State records show that Minor was discharged from parole on April 22 after completing a 4-1/2 year sentence for narcotics. Police say he is a member of the Four Corner Hustlers street gang.

A judge ordered him held without bond.

North Center stabbing brings attempted murder charge

Attempted murder charges have been filed in connection with a brutal stabbing on a North Center street.

Emanuel Smith

Emanuel Smith, 18, of West Ridge, repeatedly stabbed a 19-year-old acquaintance during a fight that spilled into the traffic lanes at 4200 N. Lincoln around 3 p.m. June 13, prosecutors said.

He’s charged with attempted first-degree murder; aggravated battery-deadly weapon; and aggravated battery-great bodily harm. Bail is set at $50,000.

Police said the victim suffered multiple stab wounds to his chest and a slashed face. He was taken to Advocate Illinois Masonic Medical Center in serious condition.

The fight erupted outside of the Thresholds service agency and a physical therapy clinic. Officers arrived in time to take Smith into custody at the scene, officers said.

Boystown man robbed while walking dog

A Boystown man was robbed at knifepoint while walking his dog shortly after 5 p.m. June 21.

The victim and his dog were walking in the 800 block of W. Buckingham’s south alley when a woman armed with a knife approached him and demanded his valuables. After getting about $200 cash, the woman fled northbound in the east alley of Clark St., the victim said.

He described the woman as a skinny, black female who stands about 5’-7” tall. She was wearing a white tank top, a black bra, blue jean shorts, and she had dreadlocks.

Robbery reported on sleepy North Center street; two purse snatching in Lakeview

A 57-year-old man was mugged on a quiet North Center street on June 19, police said.

The victim was near the United Church of Christ, 2008 W. Bradley, around 6 a.m. when an unknown offender attacked him, causing a head injury.

Police said the offender was a possibly-intoxicated, bald, black man in his mid-40’s who wore black clothing. He was last seen heading southbound on Damen.

Purse snatch party

Two women lost their purses during separate incidents just minutes apart in Lakeview early on June 19. No one is in custody.

• Around 2:20 a.m., a man armed with a knife took a woman’s purse near George and Sheffield, police said. The offender—a black man who was wearing a Blackhawks shirt and jeans—was last seen running through the alley between Halsted and Mildred.

• About 20 minutes later, a similarly-described man stole a woman’s black clutch near George and Ashland. The offender was last seen walking eastbound on George.

Cops issue second warning about Big-Boned Bandit

For the second time in a month, Chicago police are warning businesses about a filthy clothes-loving, heavy-set robber who is targeting stores and restaurants in a streak of hold-ups.

Cops first warned about the guy on May 31 after he held up shops in Lakeview and Uptown, including a Subway restaurant near the Sheridan Red Line CTA station.

The new alert is coming after the suspect held up three more stores on Wednesday—one each in Bucktown, Austin, and Humboldt Park.

Cops say the man enters businesses and demands cash, sometimes while displaying a knife or implying that he has a gun.

They say he’s white or Hispanic, 30-40 years old, 5’-5” to 5’-11” and 200-280 lbs. He typically wears a sports-related baseball hat and—from our own observation—disgustingly dirty clothing.

Seven robberies have been connected to the man, police said today:

- in the 2800 block of N. Ashland on May 12 at 1:50 a.m.
- in the 3900 block of N. Sheridan on May 13 at 3:00 a.m.
- in the 2800 block of N. Ashland on May 30 at 2:34 a.m.
- in the 2400 block of N. Milwaukee on May 30 at 10:53 p.m.
- in the 4400 block of W. Grand on Jun 21 at 9:37 a.m.
- in the 4700 block of W. North on Jun 21 at 9:52 a.m.
- in the 1900 block of W. Fullerton on Jun 21 at 7:33 p.m.

Anyone with information about the suspect or these robberies is asked to call Area North detectives at 312-744-8263.

Three more Boystown robberies

Three more robberies have been reported in the Boystown area since last Thursday morning. This month’s robbery total, which includes the manic Pride Parade weekend, the neighborhood has already exceeded June’s full-month totals in 2016 and 2015.

The two latest robberies happened Friday morning:

• Around 3:30 a.m., two offenders attacked and robbed an intoxicated man in the alley behind Hydrate Nightclub, 3458 N. Halsted, police said. Two men took the victim’s wallet and cellphone before running south in the alley. The offenders are described as two black men. One had dreadlocks and wore a red hoodie; the other is bald, according to the victim.

• Around 2:15 a.m., a man jumped out of a car, threw a woman to the ground, and ripped away her purse near the intersection of Clark and School, police said. The woman described the offender as a Hispanic man who was wearing a black shirt and long gray shorts. He got into a red 4-door BMW that was driven southbound on Clark St. by an accomplice, she said.

• Almost exactly 24 hours earlier, a man was also mugged at Clark and School. The victim sprained his ankle as two offenders—one armed with a knife—jumped him and took his wallet around 2:10 a.m. He described the robbers as two black men who were wearing hoodies. One of them wore a Cubs hat. Both offenders were last seen running southbound in the west alley of Clark St.

Last Thursday, Chicago police issued a warning after they determined that four of the area’s recent robberies were connected.

Man charged with urinating on Boystown nacho stand

Two men have been charged with relieving themselves in some strange places last weekend around Boystown:

Lezzerick Webster, 22, walked into the Boystown 7-Eleven store at 3407 N. Halsted around 1:30 a.m. on June 17 and “began urinating near and on the nacho station... food stand and food without permission of the owner,” according to prosecutors.

Webster then ran from the store and pushed two Northalsted security guards who tried to approach him, police said.

He’s charged with two counts of battery and criminal damage to property.

In similar fashion, Timothy DelValle, 47, of Uptown is accused of “urinating on the wall and floor” of the Subway restaurant, 3952 N. Sheridan, around 5 p.m. on June 17.

His actions “caused residue to splash onto chip bags, rendering them unsellable,” according to the owner’s complaint.

DelValle is charged with criminal damage to property.

Man charged with robbing Lincoln Square Verizon store; 20 iPhones and $20,000 taken

A Calumet City man, already charged with robbing a Verizon store in Oak Park, is now accused of also taking 20 iPhones and $20,000 cash in a robbery of the Lincoln Square Verizon store last month.

Jerry L. Jackson, 28, was one of four men who barged into the North Side store and forced an employee to the floor around 11:25 a.m. May 22, prosecutors said.

The crew then marched into the rear storage area where the shop’s inventory is stored and took handfuls of still-boxed phones as well as cash, according to the prosecution’s filings.

No one was seriously injured in the hold-up.

Detectives identified Jackson this week through a latent print left at the scene, according to police records. He is charged with robbery. Bail has been set at $100,000.

Two days after the Lincoln Square heist, Jackson and three other men were arrested and charged with a similar robbery of the Oak Park Verizon store.

In that case, four men rushed into the store and took off with a “large quantity of cellphones.”

The men sped away in a car but soon crashed in suburban Alsip with police hot on their heels.

Charged with robbery and kidnapping in the Oak Park case are Jackson; Demetrius Chairse, 22, of Chicago; Quovadis Agnew, 22, of Chicago; and Marko Cowens, 26, of Harvey.

Man pulled from river Saturday dies

A young man died after Chicago Police Dept. divers pulled him out of the Chicago River near Trump Tower early Saturday.

The police department’s marine unit pulled the man out after responding to a call of a person in the water at 2:04 a.m. in the 400 block of N. Wabash Ave.

The man was taken to Northwestern Memorial Hospital, where he died a short time later.

The man was identified as Timothy Ermon, 24, of the 2300 block of W. 103rd St. Police are treating the incident as a death investigation.

Lake Shore Park Field damaged by MCA, improvements underway

As part of the plan to improve Lake Shore Park, the Chicago Park District [CPD] has started installing new sod. The CPD will erect a fence around the park to ensure proper installation and maintenance.

The Museum of Contemporary Art held its 50th Annual Gala June 10, and it caused significant damage to the fields. As such, the MCA will now cover a substantial portion of the restoration costs.

Lake Shore Park will be closed to the public while the sod takes root.

The contractor began restoring the field June 12, and this will include leveling of the field and removal of current surface material.

Concurrently, CPD employees have begun the installation of new irrigation systems.

For more information about the park restoration project, call 312-742-7529.

City Hall clears second Wolf Point tower to rise

The second of three-skyscrapers going up at Wolf Point secured its first building permit last week. This one will be a 60-story, 660’-tall rental apartment tower known as Wolf Point East.

Developed by the Kennedy family and Hines Interests -- with financing from the AFL-CIO union workers’ pension plans -- and located at the confluence of the Chicago River’s three branches, the tower will occupy one of the city’s most visible downtown sites. With City Hall approval now granted, the relatively compact 4.5-acre peninsula will soon be swarming with work crews as it is expected to break ground shortly.

The tower’s overall cost is reportedly $360 million and will contain 698 rental apartments. The next phase of the project, Wolf Point South, the third and final high-rise, is expected to contain an office component and will rise to at least 950’ in height.

ers, if appropriate) to eliminate access between midnight and 6 a.m. during the warm weather months. I have also requested that Bureau of Electricity conduct a field survey of the existing lighting in the area, to determine if any upgrades can be made to improve safety and visibility.

We are tasking the Office of Emergency Management with surveying this stretch of Ohio St., the Inner Drive and the Ohio St. underpass for potential (discreetly placed) Police Dept. cameras to ensure monitoring here on a consistent basis.

I recently met with Mayor Rahm Emanuel and his staff to make an urgent request for a significant increase in police visibility and beat patrols on this block, the Lakefront Trail, Riverwalk and greater Streeterville between 11 p.m. and 6 a.m., especially on weekends.

Since the shooting I have received a number of helpful tips and leads from neighborhood residents about this incident. I am forwarding all of this information to the 18th Police District - please feel free to contact Area Central, Detective Division at 312-747-8380 and reference RD#: JA311863 to share a lead.

We will report back to you, as soon as possible, with a status update regarding the various requests I have made of city departments to evaluate potential public safety improvements in Streeterville. My office will also be working to facilitate improved, direct communication between homeowner associations and police personnel.

I take any crime committed in downtown Chicago very seriously and my office works diligently to secure more resources to preserve and improve public safety.

I promise to keep fighting for additional police officers and patrols to better secure our downtown neighborhoods. I am committed to leveraging all available city resources to improve local safety, like more police cameras, improved lighting, underpass gates or other options.

Please make sure to report any issues requiring immediate Police attention in real-time by calling 911.

Another important way to resolve ongoing neighborhood safety issues is to report them at your monthly CAPS meetings. CAPS meetings offer city residents an opportunity to address crime and safety issues directly with the beat cops who patrol their neighborhood, as well as to provide ongoing feedback, which helps the police to monitor crime.

The police beat for the location where the incident occurred is 1834, and the CAPS meetings for this beat are held on the first Tuesday of every odd month at 6 p.m. at the Latin School of Chicago, 59 W. North Blvd. The next meeting date has been scheduled for July 5.

of the Chicago River noted the building’s open green space and access to the river. The tower, said the nonprofit, “exemplifies how big projects can incorporate amenities for people, plants, and animals.”

Receiving a Green Ribbon Award was Perkins + Will for Riverline, a residential development being constructed along the south branch of the Chicago River.

500 people attended the Big Fish Ball this year. Friends of the Chicago River says more than $260,000 was raised at the event.
